CHINA PEACE CALL SENT

America Moves to End War

Stimson Gets Co-operation of Numerous Powers in New Amity Effort

Notes Sent Belligerents in Which They Get Plea to Utilize Arbitration

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—A mobilization of world public opinion to halt the hostilities in Manchuria between China and the soviet has been initiated by the United States.

In the most comprehensive move for peace that ever has been made in the history of American, and probably world, diplomacy, Secretary Stimson has appealed to fifty-three nations, signatories of the general pact for the renunciation of war, to urge on China and the soviet a cessation of hostilities.

Simultaneously the United States has addressed to the Nanking and Moscow governments its second plea for peace since the troubles between the two countries began last summer, when the Chinese took over control of the Chinese Eastern Railway.

CO-OPERATION ASKED

Throughout the world discussions were held today between American diplomatic representatives and foreign ministers, in conformity with the Secretary's instructions that the view of the American government that war must be averted should be laid before all foreign powers. In these discussions co-operation was asked in a world move for peace in the Far East.

The response to the steps for peace under the leadership of the United States was prompt, several nations immediately indicating their readiness to initiate antiwar moves similar to that of America.

The American message to Moscow was communicated through the French government, as was a similar communication addressed to the soviet by the United States in like terms on the situation July 18, last. The communication to China was handed to the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs by the American legation in Peiping.

FIRM TERMS

Secretary Stimson's move was predicated on the knowledge that open hostilities have taken place between the two nations in Manchuria. A statement by the Secretary accompanying the publication of the messages to Moscow and Nanking emphasized that no pacific means have been resorted to for settlement of the dispute.

The message to the two governments was couched in firm and pacific terms, concluding with the admonition that the respect with which China and Russia will be held in world opinion will depend

BYRD DESCRIBES CONQUEST OF MAJESTIC MOUNTAINS

Precious Food Stores Dumped When Plane Reached Altitude Limit in Climb Through Pass

In yesterday's issue of The Times, Commander Byrd related the preparations for, and the actual take-off on his history-making flight across the South Pole Thanksgiving Day. He told of the many thrills in the first hours of flight. In today's article, the explorer tells of the hazardous flight over the Queen Maud Range, the highest point his plane had to reach during the entire perilous journey.

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—We headed for Axel Heiberg Glacier. We knew that Amundsen had reported the highest point of the pass there 10,500 feet high with towering peaks on each side but would they be so close together that air currents would dash us to the ground, hovering as we would be with our heavy load near the absolute ceiling of the plane—near the altitude where the controls of the plane no longer function.

To the right was another great glacier we had seen on our base-laying flight. It looked passable, but was it wide enough? Were there mountains beyond that would block us—over which we could not fly? The top of the pass was partly cloud covered. Would Axel Heiberg Glacier be entirely cloud-covered.

Clouds so frequently hover around the tops of these mountains even on the clearest days. The sun on the bare vertical rocks sent up warm currents which, striking the cold above, formed fog while Bernt and I conferred. Would we choose the unknown glacier? If we should fail to get over and have to turn back down the glacier to select another pass we could not reach the Pole. The gas would be too low. We would have to turn back to Little America. It seemed a flip of the coin. We decided to stake success on the unknown glacier to the right.

PEAKS AHEAD

The white clouds around the mountains that bounded the top of the pass to the right and left merged with white in the center of the pass. Was it snow or clouds, and if clouds could we fly above them? Would the clouds stretch over the plateau to the South Pole, making flying impossible?

We would have to keep out of clouds while dodging around amongst the mountains, for in the clouds we would almost certainly collide with a peak. Soon we had passed near our little cache of food and gasoline more than a mile above it. It was, of course, too tiny to be seen from our altitude. When we had landed at that base the mountain ridge running in an easterly and westerly direction about four miles south of it loomed above us from the snow as a very large mountain. Now we could see behind it and to the south, southeast and southwest were great towering peaks that made our base mountain look like a pygmy. e realized forcefully then how very little indeed the foot traveler sees.

Now below us was the ice line of the great glacier. For a distance it was terribly crevassed, cracks running parallel, looking like a great washboard—not a good landing-place. The mountain peaks and formations that were in our view now were awe-inspiring in their majesty, terrible in the colossal shapes that had been carved into extraordinary jagged and rounded forms by ice cutting through them for untold years that the bottom of the world has been in the clutches of an ice age.

AIRPLANE BUSY

As we eagerly looked around we felt very insignificant and small among these lofty and eternal peaks which since the childhood of mankind have symbolized its aspiration. Everywhere we looked was some formation probably no living thing ever had before seen, for this area, the coldest on the earth, is dead.

But there was little time for such thoughts. Our plane was a busy plane, a great contrast to our lifeless surroundings.

There was Mac with his great aerial camera, elated at his opportunity to record for geography the unknown things about him, snapping picture after picture and panting from his strenuous efforts in the rarefied air of our high altitude—the air bumps throwing him about as he aimed his fifty-pound camera through the window. But all of it didn't prevent him from looking around and smiling at us occasionally. Good old Mac, an invincible, straight-shooting fellow to whom one can't help becoming attached.

There was Harold cranking away at his moving-picture camera to get a panorama of the mountains or dashing over to the radio to report

Saugus Hold-up Suspect Held

Man Arrested in Oklahoma Denies Wyoming Charge; Trial Here Likely

Letters to Women Friends Said to Have Resulted in ex-Convict's Seizure

PAWNEE (Okla.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Sheriff Jones of Pawnee county announced tonight that Tom Vernon, former rodeo rider, who was arrested here last night in connection with the robbery of a train in California, and another, later, in Wyoming, has confessed to wrecking and robbing the train in California.

Vernon, Sheriff Jones said, denied any part in the train hold-up last Monday near Cheyenne, Wyo., however, and said he will fight extradition to Wyoming on that charge. He told the Sheriff he is willing to go to California to face a charge of robbing a train near Saugus November 10 and will not oppose extradition to that State.

In his confession Vernon told the Sheriff he robbed the train because

This session is also to relieve the farmer again; relieve him of any encouragement that he might have received during the last one.

One thing, Mr. Hoover is not responsible for the holding of this session. Got to blame the founders of the Constitution for it. Can't lay this one on him. That last one cured him.

BYRD EXPLOIT CRITICISED

Norwegian Explorer Gran Doubts Authenticity of Polar Mountains Discovery

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Criticism of Richard E. Byrd's south polar flight was expressed today by Maj. Tryggve Gran, Norwegian, who accompanied Capt. Robert Scott on his tragic South Pole expedition in 1910. Maj. Gran arrived in Copenhagen today and was interviewed by the newspaper Ekstrabladet. According to this paper Maj. Gran said:

"I have no right to say that Commander Byrd has not been above the South Pole. It may be possible, but the whole expedition appears to me to be misleading because it is speculating in sensations. The American way of Arctic exploring makes it no longer an honor to be an Arctic explorer. They do not need scientific experience and years of preparation. They are explorers as soon as sufficient money is collected.

DOUBTS MOUNTAINS

"The polar region mountains, which were reported by Byrd, are a fantasy," Maj. Gran added.

He said he could not help feeling that there had been some mistake either in the radio report or in the stylistic manner of its composition.

There are mountain ranges about 250 miles from the pole, he said, and it is possible that further south giant mountains are to be found between the routes followed by Capt. Scott and Roald Amundsen, but he declared it is certain that further south than 88 deg. there are no mountainous formations to be found in the great tableland.

"It is curious that after seventeen years Commander Byrd should be able to observe from the air traces of the camps of Amundsen and Capt. Scott," Maj. Gran said. "The huts were built of snow, and snow crumbles away."

TERRITORY CLAIM

Regarding the United States' claim to suzerainty over the Antarctic region Maj. Gran declared that if there is any claim at all to the suzerainty of the South Pole Norway certainly should have to be taken into consideration, as it was Norway that first planted a national flag on the pole itself.

"All territory from 88 deg., 20 min. south — the point reached by Sir Ernest Shackleton—right to the pole, must be regarded as Norwegian," he said. "It was this territory that Roald Amundsen has given the name Haakon VII Land. If a second country should raise any claim over any part of the Antarctic it is England, because of the work of Capt. Scott."

FLYER LOST IN AVIATORS' GRAVEYARD

Mail Plane Pilot Believed Down in Snow-Covered Hills of Pennsylvania

FRANKLIN (Pa.) Dec. 2. (AP)—An air-mail pilot is missing tonight in "the graveyard of aviators," the mountainous section of Central and Western Pennsylvania that has taken a heavy toll in airmen and their craft.

Pilot Thomas P. Nelson of Plainfield, N. J., is believed forced down in the bleak, snow-covered hills that keeps his whereabouts secret, while fellow-aviators scout the air-mail route between Brookville, Pa., and Cleveland, for some trace of his ship. Hunters, in the woods for the opening of the deer season, likewise have been searching for the missing man and his plane, news of his plight having been broadcast.

Nelson encountered a blinding snowstorm as he winged his way westward early today, and last was reported sighted at Brookville.

Reports from Fertigs, some eight miles from Oil City, that residents had sighted a peculiar glow in the woods near there, followed by a crashing noise, between 2:30 and 3 o'clock this morning, led to the belief that Nelson might have cracked up in that vicinity.

The territory about Fertigs is wooded heavily, rough, and rocky.

ZERO WAVE OF MIDWEST STRAYS OFF

Predicted Temperature Drop Fails to Register; Snow Blankets Country

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—The new zero cold wave that was to have descended upon the Middle West today did not materialize, but temperatures were generally subnormal, being from 10 to 16 above zero. Snow mantled large areas all the way from the Rockies to the Appalachians. Ten inches of snow fell at Galesburg, Ill.

Along the Atlantic seaboard, New York saw its first snow of the season today. The St. Lawrence River was beginning to freeze and to escape becoming ice-bound several steamers took enforced voyages abroad.

The cold wave penetrated as far south as Northern Georgia where rain froze to the trees and the pavements.

Residents of Florida began to breathe easier today as the freezing weather began to retreat and the sky became overcast, thus eliminating the danger of frosts. Jacksonville had a temperature of 30 deg. yesterday and Pensacola and Gainesville each reported the thermometer at 31 early in the day, but the general rise all along the Atlantic seaboard lifted the Floridans out of immediate danger.

Devils Lake, N. D., felt the most severe cold, 14 deg. below zero. At Denver the temperature was 6 below.

Audience Files Out Quietly as Theater Burns

ATLANTIC (Iowa) Dec. 2. (AP)—Fire which broke out in the Atlantic Theater during a performance last night, causing damage estimated at between $50,000 and $65,000, destroyed the building, but did not gain headway until its patrons, numbering around 1000, quietly had left the building.

A panic is believed to have been prevented when Hilton Frost, Des Moines, the first person to notice the blaze, told the crowd the theater was on fire, but urged them to walk quietly to the exits. Clarence Lay, machine operator, continued showing the picture until the screen crumpled. He was partly overcome by smoke.

NEW CONGRESS CONVENES

House Sets Thursday to Consider Tax-Reduction Bill; Vare Issue First Business in Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Confronted with a $160,000,000 income tax-reduction resolution in the early minutes, the first regular session of the Seventy-first Congress quickly dispensed with the formalities of opening today to make ready for the heavy assortment of legislation facing it.

The booming voice of Chairman Hawley of the House Ways and Means Committe gave notice shortly after the gavel fell that the tax-reduction resolution was on its way. He obtained unanimous consent for its consideration on Thursday.

Otherwise the tariff-worn Senate and the restless House confined their first day's activities to handclasping and the routine of convening. Tonight conferences were under way to look to an arrangement of the program which promises to carry well into next summer.

It took the Senate just nine minutes to conclude its session, while the House met for an hour. Both branches adjourned as a mark of respect for the late Senator Warren of Wyoming.

The House applauded vigorously as Representative Moore of Virginia offered a resolution directing the Speaker to convey its congratulations to Commander Richard E. Byrd on his successful flight over the South Pole. It was adopted without debate.

In recess since last June, waiting for the Senate to pass the tariff bill, the membership laughed as a clerk from the Senate interrupted today's meeting to announce the

LOS ANGELES DEFEATED IN FIGHT OVER CARFARE

Supreme Court Rules City Never Had Received Power to Fix Utility Charge

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Los Angeles lost out in the United States Supreme Court today in its fight to knock out the 7-cent street-car fare now prevailing in the city and return to the 5-cent rate.

The high tribunal decided in favor of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation on both major phases of the legal dispute. It held first of all that the city never had been given authority by State statute to enter into binding franchise contracts fixing local car fares. And then it ruled that even if the city had been clothed with such authority, the tolls agreed upon under it had been abrogated by the fact the State Railroad Commission of California had not performed the duty imposed upon it of looking into the situation, either upon its own initiative or in response to complaint, and determining what a fair rate would be.

In the first part of its opinion the Supreme Court said it could be guided only by State legislative enactments and that nowhere could it find that Los Angeles had ever been empowered to enter into contracts for regulation of carfare. The latter part of the decision was, in effect, a finding that the franchises for the 5-cent rate, some seventy odd in number, were abrogated several years ago by the undisputed showing of the railway company that it could not realize a reasonable return on its investment under the 5-cent charge and that this constituted, as the company contended, confiscation of its property.

THREE DISSENTING VOTES

The decision was rendered by a six-to-three majority of the court with Justices Brandeis, Holmes and Stone taking the side of the city and State Railroad Commission with a dissenting opinion.

The majority opinion was read by Justice Butler.

"The sole controversy," it said, "is whether the company is bound by contract with the city to continue to serve for the fares specified in the franchises — it being conceded that the findings below respecting the inadequacy of the 5-cent fare were sustained by evidence. Appellants (State Railroad Commission and city) contend that at all times the city had power to establish rates by agreement and that the franchise provisions constitute binding contracts that are still in force. On the other hand the company maintains that the State never so empowered the city; and it insists that if the power was given and any such contracts made they have abrogated."

Citing two decisions of the court in a Detroit street-car controversy, Butler went on to say that it was possible for a State to authorize a municipality to establish public-service rates by agreement and thereby suspend for a reasonable term of years the power of legislatures to fix fare rates, but that apparently nothing of the kind had occurred in the Los Angeles case.

CHARTER INSUFFICIENT

"This court," he said, "is bound by the decision of the highest court of the States as to the powers of their municipalities. Our attention has not been called to any California decision and we think there is none, which decides that the State Legislature has empowered Los Angeles to establish rates. This court is therefore required to construe the State laws on which the appellants rely.

"The appellants invoke provisions of the city charter. But it requires no discussion to show that they are not sufficient to empower the city by contract to establish rates.

"Appellants have failed to sustain their contention that the city was empowered to make such rate contract."

Taking up the contention of the street railway company that even if the franchises were contracts they had been abrogated, Butler said, "assuming that the fares were established by the franchise contract we are of the opinion that such contracts have been abrogated. The State had power upon the company's application, through its commission or otherwise, to terminate them."

RATES MUST BE JUST

Taking cognizance of the fact that the California Railroad Commission did at least on one occasion (1921) attempt to fix what it thought a fair rate for Los Angeles—a basic fare of 6 cents, from which the company promptly appealed—Justice Butler said that since there was no decision of the California courts construing the proceedings, the Supreme Court necessarily was required to consider only such ap-

FARES FIGHT TO GO ON

City May Seek Rehearing

Werner to Study Dissenting Opinions for Clew to Remedy

Company Silent on Plans for Improvement of Service

Pending the study of the certified copy of the Supreme Court decision, City Attorney Werner said yesterday he has not lost all hope of bringing back the 5-cent fare on the lines of the Los Angeles Railway Company. If any way can be found to upset this victory of the railway company, he said, the fight will go on.

"I have only had the opportunity of reading telegraphic excerpts from the decision," he said. "There was a strong dissenting opinion by Associate Justice Brandeis, in which Associate Justice Stone concurred. This dissenting opinion may indicate some remedy. We may petition the Supreme Court for a rehearing. Possibly the remedy is with the State Supreme Court, in which case we shall go there."

The City Attorney estimated the face value of the receipts for excess fare passed out by the railway company in the thirteen months since the increased fare was put into effect is close to $3,000,000.

PRESIDENT ILL

No estimate was obtainable from subordinate officials of the railway company, who were loath to speak in the absence of George J. Kuhrts, president, who was ill yesterday at his home. Charles A. Henderson, secretary-treasurer of the company, agreed, however, that they probably amount to several million dollars.

No definite statement could be obtained either of the nature of the plans for improvement of service and facilities which the company has long maintained it would put into effect if it were assured of the permanency of the fare increase. Definite statements along that line, it was said, must await the return of Mr. Kuhrts.

IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED

One official of the company, who would not permit the use of his name, pointed out that extensive plans for improvement of service had been submitted to the Railroad Commission together with the application for the fare increases. Since that time, he said, some of the projects included in that statement have been realized, and he promised that the realization of the remainder of them will be the first step in the company's new improvement program.

Other features will undoubtedly be added as a result of the assurance of additional revenue, he said, but they have not been definitely worked out as yet, he added. He denied that any estimate has been made as to the complete cost of the improvement program, but he said that it is certain several million

TREES TELL INDIAN SECRETS

Man's Life in Southwest Centuries Before Columbus Crossed Ocean Learned by Scientists

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Solution of the most baffling question in the study of the pre-Columbian history of the United States—the dating of the scores of important Indian ruins of our Southwest—was announced today by the National Geographic Society.

The answer is given in a unique form, a tree-ring calendar, worked out from the study of more than 5000 cross sections of living trees and timbers from scores of the major Indian settlements of the Southwest.

The quest for the missing dates extended over years. It ranged from astronomical study of sun spots, through geology, archeology and kindred sciences, until it culminated in piecing together the fragmentary clews of timber and tree rings—evidence as conclusive as the study of fingerprints.

Two series of National Geographic Society expeditions were involved in the results. One series, comprising eight expeditions led by Neil M. Judd, explored the world-famous Pueblo Bonito ruins in Chaco Canyon, New Mexico, and patiently dug from tons of earth hundreds of art objects, household utensils and ceremonial appurtenances. The other series, led by Dr. A. E. Douglass, studied tree rings from Pueblo Bonito and dozens of other ruins.

Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic Society, in assessing the value of the findings of the expeditions, says:

"They have pushed back the his-

AMERICA ACTS TO END STRIFE

World Opinion Invoked in Russo-Chinese War

Appeal Sent Belligerents to Cease Hostilities

on the way they carry out their promises under the antiwar pact.

In a subsequent informal discussion of the situation with newspaper men, Mr. Stimson explained today that while there is a basis for criticism by each power of the other, it is not the part of the United States to set up itself as a judge or arbiter of the dispute, but to take all possible measures to mass world opinion against war. He compared the sparks of war in the situation with those igniting a prairie fire, which he said always holds the danger of spreading far beyond its origin. The method of prevention of war in which the United States is interested, he said, is solely by public opinion and not by intervention or the intrusion of the government into the causes of the conflict.

STATEMENT ISSUED

The action of the United States was simply to inform public opinion and give it an opportunity to express itself, the Secretary added. A statement by him tonight summarizing the situation and giving the text of the note sent to China and Russia follows:

"We have been engaged in discussions with the governments of several of the other powers signatory to the pact of Paris in regard to the situation in Manchuria. During the past few days organized Russian forces have been in conflict with organized Chinese forces near Dailinor in Northern Manchuria. It is credibly reported that many casualties occurred and that thousands of the inhabitants of the neighboring towns have been driven from their homes.

"Although the causes of the conflict are in dispute and the accounts are somewhat contradictory, it is clear that serious encounters between military forces of China and Russia have occurred. It also is clear that during the months since this controversy began no effective steps have been taken by the Chinese and Russian governments looking toward an arbitration of the dispute or its settlement through neutral conciliation or other pacific means.

PACT MENTIONED

"The efficacy of the pact of Paris depends upon the sincerity of the governments which are party to it. Its sole sanction lies in the power of public opinion of the countries, constituting substantially the entire civilized world, whose governments have joined in the covenant. If the recent events in Manchuria are allowed to pass without notice or protest by any of these governments the intelligent strength of the public opinion of the world in support of peace cainnot but be impaired.

"We have found in our discussions referred to above community of view with regard to the fundamental principles. There has been in these discussions no suggestion of the intervention of any kind. Discussions have been directed to discovering the best means of expressing the opinion of each of the nations by way of remonstrating against the use of force by either side in this controversy.

TEXT OF NOTE

"The government of the United States has sent to China and Russia the following statement:

"'The government and people of the United States have observed with aprehensive concern the course of events in relations between China and Russia in the phase which has developed in reference to the situation in Northern Manchuria since July 10.

"'On July 18 this government took steps, through conversations between the Secretary of State and the diplomatic representatives at Washington of five powers, to see that the attention of the Chinese and the Russian governments be called to the provisions of the treaty for the renunciation of war, to which both China and Russia were signatories. Both the Russian and the Chinese governments then made formal and public assurances that neither would resort to war unless attacked. Since that time that treaty has been ratified by no less than fifty-five powers, including China and Russia.

TREATY QUOTED

"'The American government desires again to call attention to the provisions of the treaty for the renunciation of war, particularly to Article 2, which reads, "The high contracting parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise, among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means;" and the American government takes occasion to express its earnest hope that China and Russia will refrain or desist from measures of hostility and will find it possible in the near future to come to an agreement between themselves upon a method for resolving by peaceful means the issues over which they are at present in controversy.

"'The American government feels that the respect with which China and Russia will hereafter be held in the good opinion of the world will necessarily in great measure depend upon the way in which they carry out these most sacred promises.'"

GREAT BRITAIN JOINS IN ATTEMPT

LONDON, Dec. 2. (AP)—The British government tonight issued the text of a memorandum to China and Russia, saying that Great Britain has joined the United States in an effort to bring about peaceful settlement of the Manchurian conflict.

Foreign Secretary Henderson announced in the House of Commons that the government agreed to the joint representations at the instance of the American government.

"As to the existence of a state of war, I can only state that as far as I know neither the Chinese nor the soviet government has informed any other government that they consider themselves at war," Mr. Henderson said.

"To the best of my belief, the Chinese government has taken no definite step to bring the dispute before the League of Nations.

"But on November 28 the Chinese Minister informed me that his government contemplated such an appeal and asked for my view.

"I pointed out that there was a difficulty because the soviet union was not a member of the League, and I informed him of the action of the United States government."

Mr. Henderson's statement was called forth by questions from members. Replying to one of these, which suggested that the League covenant covers the situation, Mr. Henderson said that Great Britain and the other powers felt it would be much better to take action under the Kellogg-Briand pact because both Russia and China have signed it.

FRANCE BACKS AMERICA IN RUSSO-CHINESE NOTE

PARIS, Dec. 2. (AP)—In a note that is practically identical with that of the United States, France as co-sponsor of the Kellogg-Briand peace pact expressed her hope that Russia and China will refrain from hostile measures and find a peaceful solution for their controversy in Manchuria.

Early proposals for a collective note were abandoned. Instead, the United States sent a note to China through the American Minister and dispatched a similar note to Russia through the French Foreign Office and the French Ambassador in Moscow.

Then the American diplomatic representatives to more than fifty countries that signed the Kellogg-Briand pact made oral communications to the governments to which they are accredited, describing what the United States had done and urging the different States to support the American action. France was among these countries.

The American initiative, which was practically simultaneous with that of France, aroused profound interest here as indicating the determination of the powers to make the pact a vital force. It was remarked that in this case the pact proved stronger than the League of Nations covenant, Russia and the United States both being signatory to the pact and neither to the covenant.

RUSSIA MAY IGNORE UNITED STATES TENDER

(Copyright, 1929, by New York Times)

MOSCOW, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Obstinate silence was maintained in official circles here regarding Secretary Stimson's communication about Manchurian affairs to the signatories of the Kellogg Pact. So far as Moscow is concerned it might not have been received at all, to judge from the absence of information or comment.

In point of fact, Moscow doubtless considers that the American Secretary's suggestion has become obsolete because it was made prior to Mukden's acceptance of the soviet terms for negotiations now proceeding more or less briskly at Khabarovsk in Eastern Manchuria.

Should a reply be made it will doubtless express the same viewpoint as the reply to the belated—though naively predated November 14—proposition of Nanking to negotiate. In short, it will say that as the soviet is not discussing the Manchurian question directly with the party principally concerned—namely, Mukden, it thanks the Secretary for his good offices but finds them no longer necessary.

Not the least interesting phase of this curious little piece of oriental diplomacy is that all three parties most closely connected with the Manchurian imbroglio, the soviet, Mukden and Japan, have equally good reasons not to wish outside intervention, whether that of Nanking, the United States or the League of Nations.

JAPAN TO KEEP MUM ON WARNING

TOKIO, Dec. 3. (Tuesday) (AP)—An official statement issued today says that Japan does not intend to issue a declaration supporting the American note to China and Russia, warning them of their obligations under the Kellogg antiwar pact, or otherwise to associate herself with the proposal.

The official spokesman said the opinion is held in authoritative quarters of Tokio that the Chinese might interpret such a declaration from Japan as an intervention in their favor, stiffening the Chinese attitude and interfering with prospects of an early peace.

While the Japanese government saw no great objection to the United States and Great Britain sending notes, the spokesman added, it believed that such action no longer is necessary, since direct peace negotiations between Mukden and Moscow already are proceeding.

THERE'S HOLE IN BOTTOM OF SEA

Table Island Ledge Off East Coast Held Missing Since November Earthquake

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—The great ledge that has projected underseas from Sable Island to Nantucket as long as navigators have charted the Atlantic shifted and apparently disappeared in the ocean bottom earthquake of last November 18.

Such is the theory of Capt. David W. Bone, author of expert treatises on navigation and commander of the Anchor liner Transylvania, which arrived here today. Capt. Bone said he lost three leads trying to make soundings over a stretch of fifty miles off Nantucket and never touched bottom.

FIVE-CENT FARE FIGHT TO GO ON

Werner May Seek Remedy in State Courts

Excess Paid by Passengers to Date $3,000,000

dollars will be expended by the company within the next two years in the betterment of service.

Following the receipt of the news of the Supreme Court victory, attorneys and officers of the company went to the home of Mr. Kuhrts and conferred with him there. What transpired at the conference was not stated, but it was decided that the only comment for the company should come from its legal representative, the firm of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, which issued the following statement:

"From reports received it appears that the United States Supreme Court has sustained the decision of the United States District Court in the Los Angeles Railway Corporation fare case. Until we have had an opportunity of digesting the decision, we, of course, can make no detailed statement concerning it. If the reports are correct, it means that the company may now safely use the increased fare which has been collected since October, 1928, in improving its service and facilities to the extent that the needs of the city require. This will unquestionably result in marked benefit both to the city and the car riding public."

The decision of the Supreme Court is the culmination of a fight by the company to receive an increased fare which began in 1918 with an application to the State Railroad Commission to investigate its returns under the 5-cent fare. After a lengthy investigation, the commission in 1921 issued an order permitting the company to raise its fare to 6 cents.

That increase was never put into effect, however, as Henry E. Huntington, who was then the owner of the majority of the company's stock, announced that his "great love for the city of Los Angeles" would not permit him to give up the 5-cent fare without attempting to find some other way out of the situation.

In November of 1926, six months before Mr. Huntington's death, other officials of the company announced that its effort to continue operating at a fair profit without an increase in fare had been unsuccessful, and on the 17th of that month it filed with the Railroad Commission the petition for an increase which led to the court fight that ended yesterday. This petition asked for a raise to 7 cents for single fares and to 6 1-4 cents when the rider purchased four tokens at one time.

INCREASE DENIED

It was more than a year before the Commission handed down its decision on this petition and in the meantime the company asked for an emergency increase to 6 cents pending the outcome of the hearings on the original petition. The company's request for an emergency increase was denied by the Commission on June 21, 1927.

Finally, on March 26, 1928, the commission handed down its decision on the original application, denying the company permission to make any increase. The fight before the commission against the increase was led by Jess E. Stephens, then City Attorney.

Following the lead of utility companies throughout the country which had obtained rate increases by applying to the Federal courts, the company on June 22, 1928, filed a petition for an injunction in the local United States District Court to restrain the Railroad Commission from enforcing its order denying the fare increase. It was asserted in the petition that the 5-cent fare was in effect confiskcatory. Arthur T. George, counsel for the commission, asked City Attorney Stephens to join him in resisting this move by the company and, ever since, the commission and the city have co-operated in waging the 5-cent fare fight.

COMPANY UPHELD

The case was heard on July 24 by three Federal judges sitting en banc, United States Circuit Judge of Appeals William H. Hunt, presiding, and the other two members of the court being United States District Judges James and Sawtelle. Briefs were submitted after the hearing and the decision of the judges was not given until September 11, when they handed down a unanimous opinion holding that the 5-cent rate was confiscatory.

They ordered the issuance of the injunction which had been requested and that the company should be permitted to collect the increased fares as soon as their decree was issued, with the proviso that receipts for the amount of the increase be issued all passengers and that the company post a bond of $50,000 to insure cashing of the receipts if the new fares should be held unlawful on appeal from their decision.

The city and the commission at once announced their intention to appeal to the Supreme Court and when the injunctive decree was issued on October 1, they moved for a stay of execution. They were granted at first a stay of ten days, which was extended subsequently five days more. Meanwhile the preliminary moves were made in Washington and on October 12 the city and the commission filed briefs with Supreme Court Justice Sutherland asking a further stay of execution of the lower court's decree until the appeal against its decision was finally settled by the Supreme Court.

The company filed a brief opposing the granting of any further stay and on October 15, the Supreme Court ruled in favor of the company. Six days later the company put the increased fares into effect and began giving the receipts called for in the court order.

It was a full year before the appeal was heard by the Supreme Court. Meanwhile, the City Council had voted to appropriate $25,000 to retain Samuel Untermeyer, noted New York lawyer, to present its case at Washington, Untermyer having won a case for the city of New York in which somewhat similar issues were raised. Mayor Cryer, however, vetoed the appropriation and the Council did not pass it over his veto. Last September the Council again argued over the hiring of Untermyer, but on this occasion the move was defeated again.

The Supreme Court heard the case on October 22, last. Separate briefs were submitted by the city and the commission. The case for the company was argued by Woodward M. Taylor of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, attorneys for the company. Arthur T. George, for the commission, and Assistant City Attorney Frederick Von Schrader, for the city, divided the time for argument allotted to the appellants. City Attorney Werner aided in the preparation of the city's brief and was present during the hearing before the Supreme Court, but did not make any oral argument.

CITY DEFEATED IN FARE FIGHT

plicable provisions of the local constitution and statutes as were at hand.

"Under the State constitution and the Public Utilities Act," he continued, "the commission has exclusive power to regulate rates. And Paragraph 27 of the act gave to street-railway companies the right to charge more than 5 cents upon showing before the commission that the higher charge is justified. No distinction is made between rates established by franchised contracts and those otherwise fixed. Fares may not be changed without approval of the commission. The policy of the State is that all rates shall be just and reasonable and the commission is directed, whenever after hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint it shall find that rates are unjust or insufficient, to determine the just and reasonable rates thereafter to be observed.

"The proceedings before the commission and its orders clearly show that it twice took jurisdiction to determine just and reasonable rates. Its order of May 31, 1921, by reason of the company's failure to put in the increased rates never became operative and was finally vacated. The report and order of March 26, 1928, found that existing rates were just and reasonable and in legal effect required the company to continue to observe them. The court below found the rate confiscatory and appellants do not here question that finding."

Justice Brandeis in handing down the minority opinion contended that the question of whether Los Angeles had the power to enter into the 5-cent franchise had not been settled, that it should be decided by the State courts and that until it was so decided the Supreme Court should keep hands off. He urged that the order of the Federal District Court for Southern California barring interference with the 7-cent fare be vacated and the entire case sent back to California for further proceedings. He said that pending action on the case from all angles by the courts in California, the Supreme Court should issue its own injunction putting the street-car company back on the 5-cent fare.

DECISION SERIOUS

"It is a serious task for us to construe and apply the written law of California," Brandeis said. "This court is not peculiarly fitted for that work. The subject matter of this litigation is local to California. The parties are all citizens of that State and creatures of its Legislature. Since the railway denies that there ever was a valid contract governing the rate, and asserts that if any such existed they would have been abrogated, the contract clause of the Federal Constitution is not involved. The alleged existence of contracts concerning the rate of fare presents the fundamental issue of the case. Whether such contracts exist or ever existed depends wholly upon the construction to be given to laws of the State. Upon these questions, the decision of the Supreme Court of California presumably would have been accepted by this court if the case had come here on appeal from it."

Justice Brandeis pointed out that the power to regulate street-railway rates was not vested in the State commission until 1915, long after most of the Los Angeles franchises in dispute had been written. He contended that giving this authority to the State commission did not purport to abrogate any existing contracts, nor did it take away from local communities power they theretofore possessed to make contracts concerning rates. The effect, he argued, was merely to make such contracts subject to possible change by the commission and until they were so changed they remained in full force.

The detective, Roy Geach, a former State traffic officer, was slightly injured by a fragment of the bullet.

VERNON ADMITS WRECKING TRAIN

Suspect Taken in Oklahoma Details Confession

Mysterious Derailing Near Saugus Cleared

Prisoner to be Tried Here, Reports Indicate

he was out of work and needed money. He had been promised a job by the railroad company, he said, and "had been disappointed."

Playing a lone hand, Vernon said, he wrecked and robbed the train and, unaided, escaped.

After prolonged questioning by Thomas J. Higgins, deputy sheriff of Los Angeles, Vernon signified that he was "willing to come clean."

With Higgins, Sheriff Jones of Pawnee and Sheriff Romsa of Cheyenne he sat down at a table in the Sheriff's office and taking a pencil wrote and signed his brief confession to the California robbery.

Afterward, he was locked up again. At this time Sheriff Jones said that Vernon probably will be interrogated in detail tomorrow morning concerning the Wyoming robbery. Vernon was arraigned earlier today before County Judge Besly on a charge of being a fugitive from justice in connection with the California robbery. Meanwhile Gov. Emerson of Wyoming telegraphed Gov. Holloway of Oklahoma, asking that Vernon be held for Wyoming authorities until requisition papers can be transmitted. The prisoner is wanted in Wyoming for the wrecking and robbery of the Union Pacific Railroad's Portland Limited near Cheyenne last Monday night.

LEGAL SKIRMISH PROBABILITY REMOVED

The prospect of a legal skirmish between the officers of Los Angeles county and those of Cheyenne, Wyo., for the custody of Tom Vernon, wanted for the wreck and robbery of the Southern Pacific West Coast Limited train near Saugus on November 10, and also for the wreck and robbery of the Portland Limited of the Union Pacific Railroad near Cheyenne on November 24, was removed by Vernon's reported confession last night, according to Capt. Brooks of the Sheriff's robbery squad. Capt. Brooks said Deputy Sheriff Higgins was leaving the Oklahoma city immediately for Los Angeles, Vernon having waived extradition.

Vernon's confession brought an end to elaborate preparations for his extradition to California, which were completed yesterday by Dist.-Atty. Fitts. Fitts said he will go before the county grand jury this morning and ask an indictment with a separate charge of robbery in addition to the charge of train wrecking.

LETTERS TRACED

Capt. Brooks revealed that Vernon's penchant for writing letters to his women friends brought about his captured. The first letter which aroused the suspicions of the Sheriff's deputies was received by Miss Bee Serrano, secretary to E. G. Hewitt, an attorney in the California Building. In the letter to Miss Serrano Vernon said he left Los Angeles suddenly and was going to Cheyenne. Attorney Hewitt had represented Vernon in one of his many tilts with the law in this State and gave the information to Deputy Sheriff Higgins. Hewitt then recalled that he had received a similar letter from Vernon in which he said he suddenly had been called from the city, and that he left Los Angeles on the morning of November 10 at 8:30 o'clock. He underscored the time, apparently hoping that he would be able to build up an alibi for himself.

Deputy Higgins traced Vernon's movements and found that he had visited the Hollywood Hospital on the night of the train wreck to call on a woman friend, Victoria Bonner, and the next morning had visited another friend, Myrtle Gray, at 1335 Angelus avenue.

According to the various letters credited to Vernon and found by the officers, Vernon reached Cheyenne on November 14 and remained there until November 25, one day after the train wreck and robbery there; went to Denver and remained there until November 29, when he left for Pawnee, Okla. Officers said he left his address with a chambermaid in the Manx Hotel in Denver which led to his arrest in the Oklahoma city.

CRIMINAL RECORD

Vernon's criminal record and early life as told by his prison history rival the most melodramatic dime-novel tales. In support of an application for parole from Folsom prison he filed an affidavit signed by John Shawnee Dietman which said that his real name was Tom Averill and that he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Averill who were murdered in Carbon county, Wyoming, in 1889. Mrs. Averill, the affidavit said, was known as "Cattle Kate." According to the story of the affidavit, Tom Averill, then a lad 6 years of age, was found unconscious by the bodies of his parents by the Indian Chief Iron Tail of the Dakotas and adopted by the Indian who raised him as his son. Later on the boy, who took the name of Tom Vernon, worked as a cowboy, rode for a time with the Wild West shows of Buffalo Bill and also with the circus of Pawnee Bill.

Vernon's criminal record indicates that he was convicted of a grand-larceny charge in Pennsylvania in 1905, was sentenced to San Quentin prison on a similar charge from Salinas, Cal., in 1908; served a term in the Ohio State penitentitary for horse stealing in 1915; served another term in San Quentin in 1920 for a grand-larceny conviction in Ventura county in 1920 and was sentenced in 1923 to Folsom on a cattle-stealing charge.

He needs Bottled Sunshine as regularly as milk and orange juice

"IF your baby's bones are to grow strong and straight, if his teeth are to come in sound, even and uncrowded, he must have special protection. Even the breast-fed baby needs it." Authorities are today stressing this fact to mothers.

Scientists say that there are two plentiful sources of protection. Sunshine and good cod-liver oil!

Sunshine could keep your baby safe if he could get enough of it on his bare body. But clothing and bad weather prevent this. Even ordinary window glass filters out the rays that protect.

For this reason physicians have come to depend upon "Bottled Sunshine"—good cod-liver oil—as the sure method of protection.

Thousands of the leading specialists choose Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil. They prefer Squibb's because it tests so high in two essential vitamins. It is very rich in the "sunshine vitamin," Vitamin D, which helps to build good bones and teeth, and in Vitamin A, which promotes normal growth and increases resistance to infection.

Your physician will tell you that Bottled Sunshine is necessary in building the kind of bones and teeth you want your child to have. For your protection insist on Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil, the vitamin-tested, vitamin-protected oil. You can get it at all good drug stores. Plain and Mint-flavored.

John D. III Starts Job in Father's Office

Second Rockefeller Not to Dictate Career

Princeton Graduate Returns from World Tour

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (Exclusive) John D. Rockefeller, the third of that name, followed in his father's footsteps today. His college course completed, his grand tour over, the heir to the largest fortune in the world went to work at 26 Broadway.

That address is comparatively well known in finance. It is, if you don't know, the headquarters of the Standard Oil Company and of the Rockefeller Foundation.

John D. III let the public know about his plans today. It was a simple public announcement that he had gone into his father's employ and that he would later meet newspaper men and tell them about himself.

WILL PROWL A WHILE

The interview took place shortly before the whistle blew this afternoon. The young millionaire had to face a veritable barrage of questions. He was asked if he were engaged to be married. He was asked if he intended to go into politics. His answers to all these were "No."

"For the present," he said, "I don't know just what my duties around here will be. I intend to prowl around under father's supervision trying to familiarize myself with at least the most obvious parts of the business and attempt to find the thing I am best at.

"Of course, I do not know where this will take me. I would be interested in going to the oil fields or to the coal fields, but I don't know whether that will be in the apprenticeship or not."

FATHER EXPLAINS

John D. III sat in a large red easy chair a few feet from his father's antique desk. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., himself sat at the desk and after he had met the newspaper men singly, introducing each to his son, he began the interview with a rather long talk of his own.

He impressed on the reporters his feeling that his son is no different from the son of a man in other circumstances. Nevertheless, he continued, there had been frequent calls for interviews since John returned from the Orient yesterday. He had arranged the mass interview in order that the satisfaction of the press might be assured.

Mr. Rockefeller was asked whether he would dictate the training and the business education of his son. He said: "I want him to do what he is most interested in. I believe that in this way a man may realize to the fullest degree his own possibilities. I don't propose to make John's career for him. He must do that for himself."

SALARY NOT HIGH

His salary will be "just what any other young man would get in his place," said John D., Jr. "We don't know yet, but if you're thinking $5000 or $10,000—that's way too high."

He was asked if he is going to don overalls and learn the oil business from below the ground up.

"That would be darned interesting," said John D. III. "But I doubt if I'll have time."

No pictures were taken of him today.

"He's just like any one else's son," said his father. "There's no reason why a picture should be taken of him. Remember, my children have a hard enough time just as it is, just being my children."

ON WORLD TOUR

Young John is well known and favorably remembered at Princeton. He was graduated there last spring with laudable but not extraordinary scholarship record and left behind him a reputation for modesty, good fellowship and true democracy.

Since that time he has been touring Europe and the Orient. He acted as secretary to J. G. McDonald, chairman of the Foreign Policy Association of America, and attended the September Assembly of the League of Nations.

Following that he went to the Orient and traveled extensively in the Chinese interior with Mr. McDonald. Then he attended the Institute of Pacific Relations Conference at Kioto, Japan.

Fire Menaces Redwood Park

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Threatening the redwoods of the 12,000-acre State-owned Big Basin Park in Santa Cruz county, a forest and brush fire is being battled tonight by from 100 to 150 fire fighters at the northern edge of the famous recreation grounds.

It is burning about four miles north of the Park Lodge, according to W. H. Dool, fire warden for that area, and is sweeping close to the big trees. The fire is blamed on quail hunters.

CLARK MAY BE ENVOY TO MEXICO

Utah Man Considered to be Possible Successor of Ambassador Morrow

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—J. Reuben Clark of Salt Lake City, former Undersecretary of State, is among those prominently mentioned as a possible successor to Dwight W. Morrow as the United States Ambassador to Mexico, who is soon to resign to enter the Senate.

Clark not only has the powerful support of Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, but has had a great deal of experience in the State Department and in Mexico. As a legal adviser to Ambassador Morrow he is credited with having given valuable aid in solving the long-protracted oil and petroleum and other controversies with Mexico.

The appointment of a new Ambassador will not be made until after Mr. Morrow has returned from London after the five-power naval conference. This probably will be some time in February.

Clark was Undersecretary of State under President Coolidge and also has been assistant solicitor and solicitor of the State Department for several years and has been a member of various Federal and international commissions by appointment from several Presidents. He was also in the Department of Justice and has a fine record in the World War.

GILLETT TO RETIRE AS SENATOR

Veteran Massachusetts Statesman Will Not be Candidate in 1931

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Senator Frederick H. Gillett announced late today he will retire at the end of his present term on March 3, 1931.

The question of Senator Gillett's candidacy for re-election next fall has been agitating Massachusetts Republican ranks for some months. In spite of his long service at Washington, first in the House of Representatives, where he was Speaker for many years, and more recently in the Senate, opposition had developed to his renomination.

Former Gov. Alvin T. Fuller, and former President Calvin Coolidge both have been mentioned as Republican nominees capable of meeting the stiff Democratic opposition anticipated.

Senator Gillett has served in public life for more than half a century. He served in the House for thirty years, filling the Speaker's chair at one time, before being elected to the Senate nearly six years ago.

In making the announcement, Gillett said that when he was elected to the Senate at the age of 73 he resolved that at the end of his term he would retire.

SAN JOAQUIN FAVORS STATE WATER PLANS

MODESTO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Testimony offered today at a hearing of the California Joint Legislative Water Committee here indicated that the irrigation interests of the San Joaquin Valley will not oppose a State water conservation program providing no water is taken from this district and providing the cost is shared by sections that will be benefited. The meeting today was preliminary to one of wider scope to be held at Fresno tomorrow when reports from committees in eight counties will be submited to the legislative body.

POLICE DOG FINDS TWO MURDER VICTIMS

YUMA (Ariz.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Two murders were brought to light here today when a police dog owned by Ted Burrows, United States customs officer at San Luis, led his master to the bodies of Albert Goodwin, 50 years of age, and Bill Thieson, 40, employees on a cotton ranch near here.

Authorities expressed the opinion that the two had been victims of Indians during a brawl. A theory that the murders might have resulted from liquor hijacking also was advanced.

"Cheated, Not Defeated" His Comment on Election

Ex-Candidate Plans to Make Los Angeles Home

NOGALES (Ariz.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Jose Vasconcelos, defeated candidate for the Presidency of Mexico in the recent national elections, arrived at the international boundary line here today and crossed into the United States.

Coincident with his appearance, Vasconcelos quieted rumors of a revolution against the successful candidate, President-elect Pascual Ortiz Rubio, but asserted that he was "not defeated, but cheated."

LOS ANGELES-BOUND

Vasconcelos arrived here from Guaymas, Son., where he had been reported in hiding and scheming to go to Mexico City and attempt to gain a vote of confidence from the Mexican Chamber of Deputies. He said he will leave here, possibly tomorrow, for Los Angeles.

His family is living in Los Angeles, where many prominent Mexicans, defeated in politics or revolutions, have fled in recent years. On his trip here, however, Vasconcelos was accorded a military escort by the Mexican government and assured that his departure from the country would not be interfered with. Several attempts have been made on his life recently.

CLAIMS MAJORITY

Vasconcelos described his unsuccessful campaign as the "greatest democratic movement Mexico ever has known" and that despite the official outcome, "95 per cent of the people are in my favor."

He said he is leaving Mexico to relieve his followers of any embarrassment and set them free to adopt whatever policy they saw fit. He said he desired, most of all, peace in Mexico and progress and that he would not return unless summoned.

"I prefer to go far away," Vasconcelos said, "and to forget about politics. I am a man of action and if I cannot act within my country I will leave. I believe that some day the people will call me back."

"I came to this country (the United States) because I was told by some of my partisans that I was standing in their way, as they demand action, and I was a hostage in the hands of the government."

MAY GIVE LECTURES

He was greeted at the border by a large, enthusiastic, but orderly, throng of Mexicans. He said he had no definite plans for his life in America, but that he was considering an offer to lecture in the Republic of Colombia in Central America.

In a signed statement to newspaper men Vasconcelos later stated that he had been "practically in prison" for a week prior to the election. He asserted that "dozens" of his leaders had been killed and hundreds of followers thrown into jail. "I believe there is strength in the Mexican nation sufficient to punish this crime," he wrote.

CRIPPLES RESCUED IN FILM FIRE

Bedridden Children Saved from Fumes as Hospital X-Ray Storage Burns

NEWARK (N. J.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Sixty-nine children, ranging in age from 4 months to 15 years, all bedridden patients at the Hospital and Home for Crippled Children here, were removed safely today when fire was discovered in the X-ray file storeroom.

Although deadly fumes from the burning films filled the corridors of the building, known as the old section, none of the children, attendants or firemen was affected.

None of the patients in the new annex, mostly adults, was aware of what was taking place.

The fire was discovered by Dr. George Osgood, recent University of California graduate and resident interne. He detected the fumes which he traced to the first floor, where three rooms are devoted to X-ray work. After cutting electric wires and using a fire extinguisher he summoned the fire department and aroused the staff.

By the time firemen had arrived the fumes had filled the lower corridors and could be detected half a block away. A second alarm was turned in and a call sent for gas masks.

Has Not Lost a Debate in Six Years

Six years ago Dr. Richardson discarded his glasses, although specialists said it would be impossible. During the past six years Dr. Richardson has been able to improve his vision and strengthen his eyes, making it possible for him to read 31 hours and 12 minutes without glasses and without stopping.

All of this has been accomplished by a method of right living and a few simple eye exercises. Dr. Richardson claims that if eye glasses strengthened the eyes people would wear them for a while and then discard them. The fact that the longer glasses are worn the more helpless people become without them convinced Dr. Richardson that they are a detriment to the human eye, and he challenges any eye specialist in the world to debate this subject.

When you see the Doctor control either eye separately, read the distance chart beyond the normal distance, and read microscopic print just like a child, regardless of the fact that he is past forty and is supposed to have old-age sight, you will understand why no eye specialist ever has won a debate against this man who has astonished thousands with his simple method of correct living and eye exercise. HE WILL TELL YOU HOW!

RIVER AND PORT BUDGET GROWS

First Estimate Sent Congress Totals $55,000,000

This Figure $5,000,000 More Than Last Year

Los Angeles Asks $100,000 for Harbor Work

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—The first big budget of estimates for river and harbor development to be submitted to Congress under the Hoover administration calls for appropriations of $55,000,000, an increase of $5,000,000 over last year.

This sum is fixed by the Chief of Army Engineers in a report today as the amount that can be profitably expended during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1930. Maj.-Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of the Engineers' Corps, estimated that $47,771,132 had been expended on the improvement and maintenance of projects during the year which ended June 30, last, and that unexpended funds, including appropriations for the current year, were $76,599,037 on July 1, this year. The estimates do not include flood-control work on the Mississippi River system.

In his recent speech in Louisville, Ky., outlining a program for waterways development, the President estimated the cost of carrying out his plans would result in increasing the appropriations for river and harbor work by $10,000,000 a year, with additional funds necessary when the St. Lawrence River project was undertaken.

CANAL REQUESTS DOUBLED

Almost twice as much for intracoastal canals and other internal waterways is asked than was spent last year and increased amounts are estimated for the Mississippi River system and lake harbors and channels. Seacoast harbors and channels call for less than expended last year.

For the Mississippi River system a total of $20,812,760 is asked, as compared with $19,201,670 expended last year. On this vast system there was available July 1 for improvements during the current year $27,349,477.

Intracoastal canals and other internal waterways will require $7,230,400, as compared with $3,670,712 expended last year and $6,961,407 available and being expended this year.

Seacoast harbors and channels will require $18,970,510, compared with $19,141,102 expended last year and $33,038,192 available during the current year.

New York harbor and adjacent bays and river channels, including the Hudson, have been listed for $4,430,000 in the aggregate. For the Delaware River from Philadelphia to the sea, $4,250,000 is asked and for Wilmington (Del.) harbor, $150,000. Baltimore harbor would require $525,000; Savannah harbor, $1,200,000; Charleston harbor, $152,000; Norfolk harbor, $100,000; Mobile harbor, $300,000; Brunswick harbor, $157,000, and Galveston harbor and channel, $350,000.

LOS ANGELES ASKS $100,000

On the Pacific Coast, $532,400 would be required for the Columbia River, $395,000 for the San Joaquin River, $500,000 for Coos Bay, $240,000 for Gray's Harbor and entrance, $240,000 for Kahului harbor, Hawaii; $160,000 for Richmond harbor, $100,000 for San Diego harbor and $100,000 for Los Angeles Harbor.

On the Great Lakes, $2,150,000 would be spent on the St. Mary's River, $156,000 on Charlevoix harbor, $109,000 on Waukegan harbor and $125,000 on Toledo harbor.

Largest amounts asked for intracoastal canals and other internal waterways are $1,000,000 each for the Inland Waterway from Delaware River to Chesapeake Bay and that from Beaufort to the Cape Fear River in North Carolina. The Louisiana-Texas intracoastal waterway will require $4,000,000.

For the Mississippi River proper $4,760,000 is asked and for the Missouri River, $10,050,000. For the Ohio River, $3,036,760 would be required and for the Illinois River, $855,000; the Allegheny River, $803,000, and the Monongahela River, $600,000.

COAST STARTS DRIVE FOR $5,000,000 FUND

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—A drive for national legislation, calling for the expenditure of more than $5,000,000 for the improvement of rivers and harbors on the Pacific Coast, was started today by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. Co-operation of other chambers is sought.

Twenty projects from San Diego to Olympia, Wash., embraced in the recommendations of the United States Army engineers, have been under study by the maritime and harbor committee of the San Francisco chamber. These call for an expenditure of $1,284,000 on San Francisco harbor work and $250,000 more on other San Francisco Bay work.

The Portland and Eureka chambers telegraphed co-operation.

Ex-Senator Edge Takes Oath as Envoy to Paris

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Walter E. Edge, former senior Senator from New Jersey, was sworn in today as Ambassador to France at the State Department.

The oath was administered by Miles Shand, also a resident of New Jersey, and former chief of the appointment division.

Ambassador Edge will remain in Washington today and tomorrow discussing the work of the Paris Embassy with Assistant Secretary Castle and members of the State Department who have recently returned from France. He will sail the 6th inst. on the steamship Ile de France.

ROUND-UP FOLLOWS CLASH

FRANKFORT-ON-MAIN (Germany) Dec. 2. (AP)—Two hundred and fifty members of the Steel Helmet organization were arrested today as they stepped from a train which took them from Darmstadt after a clash with civilians there in which Chief of Criminal Police Bach and a detective had been badly wounded.

BEATING IRKS HOUSEWIFE WITH THREE OTHER JOBS

YONKERS, (N. Y.) Dec. 2.—(Exclusive)—In this land where, so the rest of the world believes, women are put on a pedestal, showered with sacrifices and worshiped as goddesses, one wife was found today who challenge the women of any nation to an industry contest.

She holds three jobs, works fifteen hours a day, keeps house and washes for her husband and two children and keeps up a social life. She is Mrs. Mary Marsh, 26 years of age, and good looking, of Yonkers. The record of her prodigious deeds came to light because of one idiosyncracy. When her able-bodied husband, Anthony, who does not work, beat her, she had him summoned to court.

"I don't mind the work," bright-eyed Mrs. Marsh told Police Judge Boote, "but he thinks I should talk to no men except him and I have to talk to men because of my work. He hit me because of this unreasonable jealousy."

Mrs. Marsh explained she works as a housekeeper for one employer from 6 a.m. until 8 a.m., then as book-keeper in a drug store for about seven hours daily, and after that as clerk in a bakery for five hours to round out her day.

Judge Boote lectured Marsh severely and placed him on probation for three months on a charge of assault.

Wyoming Slated for Special Poll

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Gov. Emerson today announced he will call a special election, probably late in January, to select a United States Senator to fill the seat occupied by the late Francis E. Warren. He indicated that a temporary appointment may be made tomorrow.

LASSEN BILL OFFERED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Representative Englebright, California, introduced a bill today to authorize the exchange of certain land in the Lassen Volcanic National Park for certain private lands adjoining the park and to adjust the boundary of the reserve.

CHURCH LOBBY FOE TO TESTIFY

Tinkham Assured of Hearing by Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts today had the way opened for him to testify before the Senate lobby committee about activities of the board of temperance of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Federal Council of Churches, which he has attacked. Chairman Caraway of the committee assured him of an opportunity to be heard later. Meantime, Senator Caraway said, the committee will conclude the inquiry into activities on the tariff and begin the investigation of those interested in the Muscle Shoals legislation.

Tinkham requested the committee to "unmask the indefensible political activities" of the two organizations.

A date for resumption of the lobby investigation had not been decided upon tonight.

RESOURCES OVER 50 MILLION DOLLARS

Business as Usual

Savings receipts growing . . . loan volume growing . . . these significant phases of the Statement of Condition published here mea "business as usual" at Pacific States Savings.

Our savings customers, as for 40 years past, see their faith in the consistent conservatism of this institution abundantly justified.

During the past month savers received their funds promptly on demand just as they have throughout this institution's history.

During the past month this institution, by reason of its strong cash position and liquidity, cared for one of the heaviest volumes of loans in its history. It has abundant funds to serve every applicant whose security meets its regular loaning requirements.

We place our new reduced loan rates, the lowest in our history, at the dispo of owners of residential and income property desiring the benefit of long low interest loans on an easy monthly payment basis. They are available for the financing of newly acquired real estate or for the refinancing of pre loans which bear high interest, or which otherwise fail to meet the borrower's

We solicit the use of our convenient 6% savings facilites by those who see in statement the protection they seek for their funds.

Discriminating People will note these 5 Outstanding Elements of Strength In this Statement of Condition

(1) Strong Cash Position:

Pacific States Savings at all times maintains Cash on Hand of many times the current requirements of customers. It includes a voluntary cash reserve of 2¼ million dollars in interest bearing deposits in banks throughout California. Likewise there is voluntarily maintained a secondary reserve in bonds approved by the Building and Loan Commissioner.

(2) Loans:

Pacific States Savings' funds are loaned in accordance with the strict provisions of the law and the even more rigid restrictions of the company itself. Loans are secured by thoroughly protected first liens on improved real estate in 75 California cities. The appraisal value of this real estate is established by the company's ultraconservative practice. Regular installment payments are required on all loans as a further safety factor.

(3) Liquid Assets:

In order to maintain assets at the maximum of liquidity we have written down Furniture and Fixtures and Real Estate out of surplus to one dollar each.

(4) Bank Credit Free:

Since bank loans would be an obligation coming before its obligation to savers, it is Pacific States Savings' policy not to avail itself of bank credit. It has no bank indebtedness.

(5) Conserved Earnings:

That Pacific States Savings conserves its earnings is demonstrated by the fact that its surplus, reserves and undivided profits are over 3½ times its guarantee capital stock.

AIR MAIL COSTS HIT HIGH MARK

Brown Reports Outlay for Year $11,207,957.07

Deficit Also Touches This Branch of Service

Huge Postal Bill Detailed in Annual Accounting

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—How the romantic duties of the pony express finally have devolved upon the airplane was set forth in cold figures today by Postmaster-General Brown in reporting to President Hoover that almost $11,250,000 had been expended last year in sending mail by air over nearly 10,250,000 flying miles.

But the deficit which has ridden the back of the Postoffice Department for decades also touched this new method of transporting a share of the postal load. Congress had appropriated $12,430,000 for hiring private lines to do the work which was begun several years ago by the government. The expenditure was $11,207,957.07, and the mileage was 10,212,511 up to June 30, last. Nevertheless, it is estimated that the cost of the service was $7,000,000 more than the postage revenue.

NEW ROUTE DEMANDS

Postmaster-General Brown said the demands for new routes were far above the annual appropriations, but that the department had followed a conservative, but progressive policy with regard to this service. He informed the President in his report that while the expenditures for the air mail are above the estimated revenues, steps are being taken to adjust equitably the rates paid air-mail contractors to square with existing legislation on the subject.

The department, on the whole, was far from making both ends meet for the year. In fact, the burden of deficit grew noticeably heavier, the outgo exceeding the income by $85,461,176.24. For the previous year the unfavorable balance was $32,121,095.80. The difference was explained by the Postmaster-General as having been due to expenditures ordered by Congress, such as increased postal pay, free mailing privileges, ocean-mail contracts, and other such items.

RECEIPTS AND OUTLAY

It is shown in the report that the American people bought $527,706,790.28 worth of postage stamps and that other sources of revenue brought the total receipts up to $696,947,577.69. The expenditures were $782,408,753.93.

In the maze of large sums set down in the report, it is disclosed that the department spends annually more than $50,000 in handling free mail for blind persons. This sum is the smallest listed for nonprofitable services. The others, when added, totaled $31,232,906.52, which, if paid for, would reduce the actual deficit to $56,752,934.61.

The Postmaster-General listed other items contributing to the deficit as including handling and transporting second-class matter free within counties of origin, $8,781,530.83, and differentials favoring vessels of American registry under the Merchant Marine Act, $8,787,843.91.

APPROPRIATION URGED

Mr. Brown frankly says that he does not like the idea of having the Postoffice Department charged up with the cost of handling free mail, and recommends that legislation be passed appropriating $9,931,240 to the department to cover such cost.

A total of 276,773,736 pieces of mail, weighing 35,998,676 pounds, was mailed by departments other than the Postoffice Department, on which no postage was paid. The revenue which would have been derived from such mail would have totaled $6,169,170. In addition, members of Congress franked 37,273,270 pieces of mail which would have brought a revenue of $957,964 had postage been paid on it.

Not content with setting down astonishing figures about stamps and deficits the Postmaster-General turns mathematical again and informs President Hoover and Congress there was a total of 17,863,751,272 distributions and redistributions of pieces, exclusive of registered mail, by railway-postal clerks.

The vast extent of the postoffice business has no better yardstick than the fact that the motor-vehicle service purchased more than 10,000,000 gallons of gasoline during the year, to say nothing of oil.

NICARAGUAN QUIZ AIM OF LOBBY HEAD

He Asserts Marines Used to Prevent Formation of Labor Unions There

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Prof. John Dewey, president of the People's Lobby, has announced that the organization will seek an investigation by the Secretary of State into charges that the marines have been used in Nicaragua to prevent organization of labor unions.

Contending "the use of United States marines in Nicaragua to prevent organization of labor unions is a logical sequence to the illegal use of those marines to make Nicaragua safe for American exploitation," Prof. Dewey said the recent deportation from there of a labor organizer "by United States marines" has "served the useful purpose of making the object of American intervention clear to all Central and South American countries."

Saloman De La Selva, the labor organizer to whom Dewey referred, was deported for asserted complicity in a plot to assassinate the President of Nicaragua.

EXPOSURE VICTIM DIES

MADERA, Dec. 2. (AP)—Pneumonia, which developed from exposure when his home in the O'Neals district burned Thursday, proved fatal today to James Monroe, 72 years of age. He came around Cape Horn with his parents when 7, and settled near Stockton. He leaves three sons and two daughters.

WEDDING HELD INVALID SO THEY'LL TRY AGAIN

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—A bride and bridegroom today are en route to Los Angeles, where they plan to be remarried. A wedding ceremony, performed here, was declared invalid by a Brooklyn clergyman in the midst of the wedding feast.

After uniting Edward Tannous of Los Angeles and Miss Basseemie Katibah of Brooklyn, Rev. Lauriston Castleman, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, was informed that the license had been issued under a misrepresentation. The minister said Tannous, who had been married before, was refused a marriage license here Friday, when he said that his divorce papers had been left behind in Los Angeles. On Saturday he applied for the license a second time and obtained it, according to Mr. Castleman, by saying that he had not been previously married.

After performing the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. Castleman departed. One of the wedding guests, who knew of Tannous's divorce, telephoned the information to the minister. He returned to the house and told the couple and the guests what he had learned.

They left last night for Los Angeles, after announcing plans for a second wedding there.

Gang Massacre Suspect Freed

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Jack McGurn, gangster accused of wielding the machine gun that wiped out the lives of seven men in a North Clark-street garage ten months ago, went free today. It was the third time within a week the State was forced to dismiss an important criminal case.

McGurn was the only man under indictment. He is understood to have been identified by secret witnesses as one of the band of executioners that killed seven followers of George "Bugs" Moran, gang chief, in a garage February 14, last.

Representative Injured in Fall

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Representative Hill of Washington was taken to a hospital today after he had been injured by a fall on the ice-covered pavement as he left his home to attend the initial session of Congress.

A pipe Representative Hill was smoking was driven into his throat with such force by the fall that a small artery was broken. He was taken to a hospital where the flow of blood was staunched. Attendants said he is not thought to be seriously injured, but that he will remain at the hospital for several days.

Some Question Arises as to Where Body Is

Estate Divided Between Widow and Daughter

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Charging Hawk, a Sioux chieftain with holdings of nearly $2,000,000 in Oklahoma oil lands, is dead at 72 years of age, and today there was some question as to what had happened to his body.

The aged Indian, a ward of the government, died at the Cook County Hospital where he had been since October. His 18-year-old daughter Inez, named in his will as heiress to half his fortune, is an inmate of the House of the Good Shepherd where she is held as a delinquent. His white widow, known as Ethel Gumbo, is also said to be living somewhere in Chicago. She is bequeathed half the estate, although she has been estranged from Charging Hawk for many years.

The oil lands of the Indian have been held in trust for him. The property was inherited from Charging Hawk's parents to whom it had been allotted by the government.

The Indian's body was claimed by a man known as Silver Bear who represented himself as next of kin. Friends of Charging Hawk notified his attorney, saying Silver Bear was no blood relative.

Charging Hawk served with the United States Army and also was a police officer at the Rosebud (S. D.) reservation.

HAITIEN LEADER PASSES IN PARIS

Dr. Rosalvo Bobo Once Held Provisional Presidency

American Marines' Landing Wrecked Ambitions

Self-Exiled as Popularity Upset Island, He Said

PARIS, Dec. 2. (AP)—Dr. Rosalvo Bobo, 56 years of age, one-time provisional President and revolutionary leader in Haiti, died here today.

Dr. Bobo, one-time Haitien Minister to the Dominican Republic and a Cabinet Minister under President Davilmar Theodore in 1914, was leader of a revolutionary movement against President Vilbrun Guillaume Sam, who was killed by a mob in July, 1915.

American marines took control of Port Au Prince in order to protect the lives of foreigners and to establish order.

In August, 1918, Dr. Bobo resigned as chief executive, dismissed his Cabinet and ordered all his generals in the north to deposit their arms with the American authorities at Cape Haitien. The Haitien Congress met shortly thereafter and elected Gen. Dartiguenave President. Dr. Bobo left Haiti shortly thereafter, saying that he feared his great personal popularity among the people caused disorders.

ROYALTY VISITS POPE THURSDAY

King and Queen of Italy Drop in on Pontiff

Magnificent Pageant Set to Honor Event

Prelate Not Obligated to Return Courtesy

ROME, Dec. 2. (AP)—An official communication today announced that the Italian sovereigns would visit Pope Pius at 11 a.m. Thursday. Their majesties will go to the Vatican with a numerous suite, including the Foreign Minister, prefect of the palace, the court chaplain and others.

The Roman stage is set for the performance of one of the most dramatic spectacles it will ever see—the visit of the King and Queen of Italy to Pope Pius XI.

For months, ever since the signing of the Lateran Treaty, February 11, which hended the Roman question, the ecclesiastical and governmental playwrights have been composing the significant drama.

FOR FIRST TIME

It will be of intense significance for this is the first time a King and Queen of united Italy have visited a Pope. Ever since 1870, when the Pope became the prisoner of the Vatican, no King of Italy has gone to see him or has even seen him.

For days hundreds of thousands of persons have been pouring into Rome to see the great spectacle. Availing themselves of the 50 per cent reduction on railroad fares, pilgrims come from as far north as the Alps and as far south as Sicily. The audience for the spectacle will be enormous. It will reach at least 500,000 people.

The drama will be on a tremendous scale, filled with color and pageantry and will consist of five acts.

ROYAL PROCESSION

The first, entitled "The Journey," embraces the royal procession from the Quirinal Palace to the Vatican. The King and Queen will go in a carriage of state, drawn by four horses. Other carriages will precede and follow them. Dino Grandi, Minister of Foreign Affairs, will be in one. Leading the procession will be the royal bodyguard of mounted cuirassiers.

The procession will follow a route about two miles long. It will cross the Tiber at the Victor Emmanuel bridge, under the shadow of the Castel San Angelo, once a papal fortress. The route will be lined with thousands of troops.

MET AT BOUNDARY

At the boundary line of Vatican City the royal pair will be met by Prince Massimo, Postmaster-General of the city, and by Commendatore Serafini, Governor of the city. The papal gendarmes will give military honors and play the royal march, for the first time in the history of the papal armed bodies.

The royal party will proceed by degrees to the courtyard of San Damasco, where another reception will take place. Prince Ruspoli, master of the papal hospice, will assist the King and Queen to alight from their carriage.

CALL NOT RETURNED

The second act, "The Meeting," embraces the encounter between the Pope and the sovereigns. It will take place in the papal throne room and will be secret. Only the thee personages will be there. The doors will be closed.

It is not necessary that the Pope return the King's visit in person. Although there are two precedents for this, it is considered that for the Pope to return the King's visit would put him under obligations to return similar visits from other kings; which would be awkward. Cardinal Gaspari will pay the return visit for the Pope.

Stolen Goods Ring Suspects Held in Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—The smashing of a ring specializing in stolen goods in New York and Chicago is believed by police to be imminent today.

Five men were arrested yesterday following seizure of a shipment of linens valued at $65,000 being delivered to a storage place owned by Ralph Nakutin. The linens recently were stolen in New York, police say.

Guards were placed at another store owned by Nakutin, and three men were seized there when they drove up with a truckload of goods. These three, all American Railway Express messengers, identified themselves as William Gray of Elgin, Charles Armitage of Maywood and Arnold Russell of Chicago.

They confessed to throwing off goods on their run between Chicago and Cairo, Ill., and estimated the amount stolen in this way to be $100,000.

Missouri State Senator Slain

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 2. (AP)—State Senator Joseph Mogler, 53 years of age, owner of three motion-picture theaters here, was shot through the head and killed today by one of two men who waited for him in the Mogler Theater at Ninth street and Bremen avenue.

Circumstances surrounding the murder caused the police to dismiss a theory of robbery, believing that Mogler was killed by men involved in his relations with gangsters. Mogler frequently signed criminal bail bonds for gangsters and others charged with major crimes.

RULING ON LIABILITY IN BANK CASE STANDS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—The recent decision holding that the personal liability of stockholders in joint stock land banks could be enforced only by the creditors of such banks will not be reconsidered by the Supreme Court. The decision declares that the receivers of failed joint stock land banks could not enforce the stockholders' liabilities.

FLYING LIQUOR CREW PRAISED

Mitchell Impressed by New Enforcement Step

Experienced Lawyers Sent to Aid Prosecutors

Prohibition Penalties Total $7,476,300

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—A flying squadron of prohibition prosecutors, speeding here and there over the country to lend aid to local officials, has impressed Atty.-Gen. Mitchell so much that he reported today to Congress that its creation marked a highly important step in the progres of dry-law enforcement.

Using funds transferred from the prohibition bureau and other sums granted by Congress last March, ten experienced criminal lawyers have been made special assistants to the Attorney-General, to act in the capacity of assistant United States attorneys in places where their services were needed.

SMUGGLING CONTINUES

The flying squadron, which, however, does not generally travel by airplane, already has rendered assistance in trial work in New York, Florida, South Carolina, Tennessee, Colorado, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. It stands ready to aid district attorneys in any place in the country.

The report of the Attorney-General said that liquor smuggling from the high seas and across the Canadian border continued during the past year and that the ocean smugglers had discarded the use of large boats for speedier motor boats. It asserted that St. Pierre-miquelon, French possession, in the mouth of the St. Lawrence River, had been the chief base for the illegal liquor supply of those engaged in smuggling into the United States.

Almost every phase of the prohibition enforcement work increased during 1929. Criminal prohibition prosecutions instituted during the year totaled 56,786, the number of cases terminated were 56,455, while 18,690 were pending at the close last June 30. Of the cases terminated there were 47,100 convictions.

PRISONS CROWDED

The aggregate of fines, forfeitures and penalties imposed under the prohibition law totaled $7,376,300, while a total of $4,200,052 was collected. During the year the government obtained judgments aggregating $465,480 in civil prohibition cases as compared with $382,853 the year before.

Included in the report was a statement by Sanford Bates, superintendent of prisons, who said the problem of coping with the "tremendous increase in the number of persons committed by the Federal criminal courts" had reached a climax.

Bates said the United States Prison Bureau today does not know how many Federal prisoners are in county jails, although he said there were about 1000 of these institutions now housing such prisoners.

Emphasizing the crowded condition of Federal penitentiaries, he said the Atlanta prison, "even with the questionable practice of placing two or more men in a cell, might house comfortably 1712 persons, but that it now has 3777. The Leavenworth prison, with a normal capacity of 1560 has 3723.

R.O.T.C. TO BE BACKED WITH VIGOR

Association Organizes to Promote and Foster It in Schools of Nation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8. (AP)—Organization of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps Association of the United States to promote and foster the R.O.T.C. in educational institutions was announced here with the selection of Maj.-Gen. Amos A. Fries, retired, as president.

Fries said that reserve officers of the future must come almost entirely from the R.O.T.C. units in colleges and high schools and "as there are many organizations having for their purpose the elimination of military training in our schools, it has become necessary that the patriotic citizens of the land organize themselves to assist in the encouragement, and defense, if need be of the R.O.T.C. in our high schools and colleges."

Other officers of the organization announced are Col. Noble B. Judah, Chicago; Col. Paul V. Monutt, Bloomington, Ind.; and Col. Perry W. Weidner, Los Angeles, vice-president; Capt. George F. Unmaghy, Washington, treasurer; Col. Edward A. Harriman, Washington, general counsel; and Lieut.-Col. Orvel Johnson, Washington, executive secretary.

Extradition of Pair Granted

SALEM (Or.) Dec. 2. (AP)—On requisition from the Governor of California, Gov. Patterson today granted the extradition of Alfred Boss and George Davis, who are in custody at Albany, where they were arrested Saturday. They are wanted at Sacramento to answer to a charge of murdering Clifford Carey.

The requisition was taken to Salem by Lee Barker and Frank McAllister, Sacramento officers.

Woman Demurs to Tunney Suit

BRIDGEPORT (Ct.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Frank L. Wilder of this city, counsel for Mrs. Katharine S. Fogarty of New York City and Fort Worth, Tex., in a $500,000 breach-of-promise suit against James J. (Gene) Tunney, retired heavyweight boxing champion, today filed a demurrer to the complaint of Tunney in a cross-suit claiming $10,000 asserted damages for "malicious prosecution," with which an answer was made to the original suit.

The cross-complaint is based upon allegations that she at one time signed releases for any claims she might have against Tunney and that in bringing the present action she violated the terms of those releases.

Fascist Group's Quarters Bombed

KOVNO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—The headquarters of former Dictator Augustinus Waldemar's Fascisti organization, Iron Wolves, was completely demolished tonight by a bomb which also broke every window in the Lithuanian University across the street.

Police suspect the Iron Wolves themselves of preparing an infernal machine which exploded prematurely.

MRS. FRANK J. SCHLINGER

Health Better Than in Twenty Years She Says

When thousands of well known men and women—many of them right here in the State of California—come out in the public press and give unstinted praise for the marvelous benefits they received from this new, scientific medicine, Sargon, there can be no earthly doubt as to its remarkable powers. Sargon's fame is based on actual results, not empty promises. The facts are known and verified, the proof overwhelming and indisputable. A typical example of what the Sargon treatment is accomplishing for suffering men and women in all parts of the country is the case of Mrs. Frank J. Schlinger, who lives at 4016 Albatross St., San Diego. She recently said:

"What a wonderful thing it is to be well again after suffering for nearly twenty years!

"I used to have the most terrible attacks of indigestion you could imagine. Nearly everything I ate soured on my stomach and I'd have heartburn for hours after meals. Then neuritis set in through my knees and hips and sometimes I'd be in such pain at night, I couldn't sleep a wink. I know my circulation was poor, because my hands and feet would get as cold as ice. My whole system was sluggish and I could almost feel the poisons accumulating when I failed to have regular movements.

"When I started taking Sargon I never dreamed it would help me in such a short time! I could feel its marvelous strengthening effects right from the start, and the change it soon brought over my entire system was remarkable! My stomach never bothers me any more, and I can eat whatever is put before me without a thought of any bad after effects. The neuritis pains have left me, and the way I sleep is simply grand! The treatment had a stimulating effect on my circulation and my hands and feet are no longer cold and numb.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills gave me lasting relief from constipation and regulated me perfectly. Their action is thorough, yet so mild there is nothing to remind you that you've taken a laxative.

"These wonderful medicines literally swept the impurities from my system, and I feel as well as I did twenty years ago! It certainly is a pleasure to add my name to the many who have indorsed this splendid treatment."

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores.—[Advertisement.

POOLING TO END WASTAGE OF OIL

Petroleum Institute Plans "Unitization" Policy

Competitive Drilling Will be Eliminated

Sinclair and Stewart Seen at Chicago Meet

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Elimination of competition by oil unitization appears to be one of the chief aims of the American Petroleum Institute at its tenth annual convention tomorrow.

William N. Davis of Bartlesville, Okla., president of the General Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, presented the unit development plan to the institute's board of directors.

Sentiment of the directors was strongly in favor of the plan, E. B. Reeser, Tulsa, Okla., president of the institute, who presided, said, but action was deferred until the meeting of the board tomorrow morning.

POOL ACREAGE

Under the plan, which would affect only new drilling, lease-holders in a given area would pool their acreage so as to eliminate waste and competition and bring about curtailment of production.

Among the directors speaking today were Harry Sinclair of the Sinclair Refining Company, who recently completed a jail sentence for contempt of the Senate, and Col. Robert W. Stewart, who was ousted as chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

STEWART MUM

Col. Stewart refused either to affirm or deny the rumor that he had become connected with the Royal Dutch Shell Company. The presence of Col. Stewart, coupled with the fact that Sir Henri Deterding of London, head of Royal Dutch Shell, will arrive tomorrow, revived the rumor.

Sinclair was cordially received by his oil associates. He would not discuss either himself or the oil business.

"Ask these fellows who haven't been in jail; I've been out of touch with things," was his answer to all questions.

ANGELENOS ELECTED

Three new members of the board were elected to fill vacancies caused by the death of David S. Ewing of Fresno and the resignations of Edward L. Doheny and H. M. Storey, the latter vice-president of the Standard Oil Company of California. They were W. M. Keck, Los Angeles, president of the Superior Oil Company, Oscar Sutro, San Francisco, vice-president and general counsel of the Standard Oil Company of California, and Clarence M. Fuller, Los Angeles, president of the Richfield Oil Company.

The resignation of Doheny marked his practical retirement from the oil business. He had been a director since the organization of the institute in 1919.

DIRECTORS NOMINATED

SAN FERNANDO, Dec. 2.—Among those nominated to be directors of the San Fernando Chamber of Commerce for 1930 are J. D. Merriwether, Laird Johnstone, H. A. Decker, Bruce Brown, M. O. Nelson, H. L. Killen, Charles H. Temple, Paul C. Bates, H. H. Dace, F. B. Roberts, Dan Spencer and N. C. Boardman. Holdover directors are L. A. Julius, E. M. Prince, C. C. Knight and C. W. Waite.

MAYWOOD, Dec. 2.—First steps in a tree-planting campaign here have been taken by the City Council, which has instructed the City Attorney to work out a program of this kind by the formulating of an assessment district to provide for the cost and maintenance of the trees.

FISHER CAFE WILL OPEN TOMORROW

Premiere of Orchestra Leader's Club Features Unusual Effects

The awaited opening of the Cafe Max Fisher, Wilshire and Hauser boulevards, will be celebrated tomorrow evening with all features befitting a first-night theatrical performance. The new establishment under the personal direction of Max Fisher, orchestra leader, is luxuriously furnished and decorated in modernistic color schemes of black patent leather, rich red velour and panels of silver, all of which contribute to a unique design created by a master craftsman. Ever-changing lighting effects and a ceiling of metallic cloth are other attractive features.

MAX FISHER

There are several private dining-rooms to meet the requirements of every occasion such as weddings, banquets, luncheons and bridge parties. Special attractions each week in the cafe will be tea dances, Sunday concerts and nightly entertainment and dancing.

Max Fisher's orchestra is well known to lovers of good dance music and has been heard in such places as Ciro's Supper Club, New York; Savoy, London; Coral Gables, Florida; Cocoanut Grove of this city and a number of years ago in the Vernon Country Club.

CHEF WYMAN OFFERS SOME SWEET DISHES

The most of Mrs. Mabelle Wyman's recipes to be prepared today are in the "sweets" class yet highly nourishing. Chef Wyman will make butternut and raisin cookies and molasses cookies (both requests) jellied pimiento salad, broccoli Italian and jam and nut pie. The jellied pimiento salad makes a pretty Christmas salad with its red-and-green colors. Times cooking classes meet every Tuesday and Friday afternoon in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, and are free to anyone interested in the art of cookery.

HUSBAND ASKS AID IN HUNTING MISSING WIFE

Joseph Schnieder of 1029 West Ninth street yesterday asked police to institute a search for his wife and 18-year-old son, who he reported, have not communicated with him since September 24, last, when they left him in Sacramento and started to motor to Los Angeles. He described the missing woman as 45 years of age, five feet in height, with dark hair and gray-blue eyes. She wears glasses, and two of her lower front teeth are missing. The son is five feet eleven inches in height and weighs 145 pounds. He has dark hair and a "girlish" face, according to the father.

El Centro Representative's Committee Post Dubious

Naval Affairs Billet for Southerner Held Up

Dirigible Base Fight Grows More Bitter in House

"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Intensity of feeling over the Camp Kearny-Sunnyvale dirigible base controversy has reached such a pitch among California House members that a secret meeting of the California delegation was called today to discuss the application of Representative Swing of El Centro, Kearny supporter, for a post on the House Naval Affairs Committee. This is the committee that will pass on the site selection.

Northern members, adherents of the Sunnyvale faction, insist that Southern California will gain an unfair advantage if Mr. Swing is given the naval affairs post. The Camp Kearny contingent, the northern group points out, is already represented on the committee by Representative Evans of Glendale. No member at the meeting today would discuss either the subject of the meeting or any plans that may have materialized from it.

STRICTEST SILENCE

The attitude of all members of the delegation, except Mr. Swing, who was "detained" at a departmental conference and was not present at the hush-hush get-together, was one of strictest silence. Yet there are indications that the delegation is divided on recommending Mr. Swing's application to the Committee on Committees, which meets tomorrow morning to assign House members to various committees for the regular session.

Representative Swing said after the delegation meeting had broken up, that he had asked for reappointment on the Naval Affairs Committee as long ago as last March, a considerable time before the Camp Kearny-Sunnyvale ruction started. It is a former committee assignment of his which he left for the Committee on Irrigation and Reclamation during the fight for the passage of the Boulder Canyon Dam bill and to which he hoped to return following the enactment of the Colorado River legislation.

HIS FIRST CHOICE

It is his first choice of major committee assignments. No appointments were made to major committees during the special session except on Appropriations, Ways and Means and Rules. Thus Mr. Swing's request for reinstatement on the Naval Affairs Committee necessarily was held over for action until the regular session.

Even with the delegation strongly supporting him, Mr. Swing said, it would be a hard fight for him to regain his place on the naval committee and with the delegation divided it is certain that he cannot get it.

Just what the delegation intends to do on this matter is shrouded in oath-bound secrecy. On previous indications and past statements of various members of the delegation it is almost assured that Mr. Swing will not receive the support he deems necessary to win the place.

SOUTHLAND'S POSITION

If such turns out to be the case, Southern California will remain just where it was before the secret meeting today—outnumbered numerically, but with a supporter of the Kearny site in a key position on the committee.

Meantime both factions are waiting for the Navy Department to transmit the report embodying its recommendations on the site. Rumors drifted through the capital that the report, which is far more secret than the delegation session today, was on its way to the committee. Once submitted to the committee it will become public property and the agitating question of whether naval experts have definitely picked Camp Kearny or Sunnydale as the one best site, or have chosen the middle course and named both sites, will be known. The report was expected today, but did not materialize.

STORK DELIVERS INFANT ON FAST BRITISH TRAIN

LONDON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Winifred Scott of Edinburgh added another leaf to the history of one of the world's most famous trains, the Flying Scotsman, when she gave birth to a child in a third-class compartment last night while the train was making sixty miles per hour toward London. The train did not slacken its speed, but attendants found both doctor and nurse aboard and the baby was born without mishap.

The trouble now is how to register the birth. The law of England requires that births be registered in the parish where they occur, but nobody noticed just where the train was when the incident occurred, so the Register-General will have to give his personal attention to this odd case.

NAVY YARD WORKERS WILL GET OLD WAGES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Secretary Adams announced today that civil employees' wages will remain throughout 1930 at the levels at which they stood in 1929, in navy yards and establishments and in the field service of the Marine Corps.

Existing law provides the wage scale should conform to those in adjacent private establishments "as nearly as is consistent with public interest."

FINES TOTAL DROPS

HANFORD, Dec. 2.—The report of Justice of the Peace H. H. Warnock, filed today with the County Treasurer, shows that fines and civil fees collected in November of this year amounted to only $903.50, compared with $1345 collected in November, 1928. Liquor-law violations brought fines of $661 last month.

COURT UPHOLDS DEATH PENALTY

Arizona Woman Scheduled to Hang February 21

PHOENIX, Dec. 2. (AP)—Mrs. Eva Dugan must hang Friday morning, February 21, 1930, for the murder of A. J. Mathis, Tucson rancher, the Arizona Supreme Court ruled today in upholding the conviction of the Pima County Superior Court.

Mrs. Dugan, who has been confined in the State prison since 1927, will be the first woman in the history of Arizona to hang if the sentence of the court is carried out.

It is believed that the condemned woman will appeal to the State Board of Pardons and Paroles for clemency and commutation of the death penalty to one of life imprisonment.

VARE QUESTION DELAY SOUGHT

Wilson-Contest Committee Reports Today

Finding for Senator-elect Considered Likely

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Postponement of the Vare case in the Senate until next week will be proposed tomorrow when the resolution to deny the Pennsylvanian a Senate seat comes up by previous agreement.

The delay will be asked to give the Elections Committee an opportunity to report on the contest brought against Senator-elect William S. Vare by William B. Wilson, his Democratic opponent in the 1926 Pennsylvania election.

Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, is author of the resolution to deny Vare a seat on account of expenditures of more than $600,000 by his ticket in the Senatorial primary race that year. He announced that he will demand immediate action on his resolution.

REPORT FORECAST

The Elections Committee will meet tomorrow to receive a report from a subcommittee which has spent two years investigating the election contest. The subcommittee ended its investigation with a refusal to allow Vare's request for a recount of ballots in thirty-one additional counties.

The decision against Vare's request was generally interpreted as forecasting a report by the committee against Wilson, who charged fraud in the 1926 election.

Vare came to the city today to oppose the double attack against him in the Senate. He was denied the oath of office two years ago pending a decision of the case against him.

There are two distinct contests facing Vare, and despite the optimism of his friends tonight that the claim of his Democratic opponent will be dismissed, there seems to be a feeling that Vare's right to a seat will be denied on the other issue—excessive campaign expenditures.

REASON FOR DELAY

Senator Reed announced that he will seek to defer the Norris resolution until the report is received on the elections contest so that both propositions can be considered at the same time. He believes he can get unanimous consent for such a procedure.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader and the acting chairman of the subcommittee which inquired into Vare's three-cornered primary race, said he will be willing to defer consideration of the primary campaign issue until the elections contest report is before the Senate, if it can be brought in at an early date.

"Mr. Vare is ready to have this business go to a decision," said Reed after his call upon the Senator-elect. "He has no desire for delay of disposition of this matter beyond the time when the elections committee makes a report on the Wilson contest."

NEW CONGRESS SESSION BEGINS

adoption by the Senate of a resolution declaring it was in session and "ready for business."

The unsettled tariff bill is the order of business in the Senate, but it goes to one side tomorrow as the three-year-old dispute over the right of Senator-elect Vare of Pennsylvania to a seat comes up for decision. The Senate apparently was ready tonight to determine finally on this contest with prospects of final action within a week.

The tax-reduction resolution, slashing 1 per cent off the individual and corporation income taxes due next year, has the right of way in both branches and its adoption before Christmas seems assured. Democratic leaders have approved it.

Tax reduction and the Vare case promise to occupy most of the Senate's time before the Christmas recess three weeks hence. Then the tariff debate will be resumed with leaders of all factions intent upon quick disposition of that controversial problem.

Tomorrow President Hoover will transmit his first message on "the state of the Union," which will include his legislative recommendations. It will be read separately in the Senate and House.

More than ten bills a minute were introduced in the House, the total being 675. This brought the total for the Seventy-first Congress there to more than 6100. None was offered in the Senate.

Representatives sought additions to or changes in laws touching on international, national and sectional topics. Some dealt with were inquiry into the Chinese-soviet trouble, registration of lobbyists, highways improvement, prohibition, disposal of the Muscle Shoals project and setting up a permanent radio commission.

Fright Given New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 2. (AP)—New Orleans was thrown into a state of excitement late today by sudden mobilization of State militia at Jackson Barracks under secret orders from Gov. Long. But, after 250 men had been assembled, they were dismissed, with the explanation that it was a "test mobilization."

Investigation, however, disclosed that the Governor had ordered the troops mobilized to oust Dr. V. K. Irion from the office of State Conservation Commissioner and to install his appointee, Robert S. Maestri, but Dr. Irion made such a course unnecessary by voluntarily surrendering the office after the State Supreme Court had held that Maestri was entitled to the office.

BYRD DESCRIBES PASS CONQUEST

Plane Attains Limit in Mountain Climb

Critical Moment Saved by Food Sacrifice

Plateau Comes in View With Pole Straight Ahead

our position. The critical time has come now. The moment we had discussed a thousand times. What had been our gasoline consumption? Would we have enough left to reach the pole? Would we have too much aboard to climb over the hump? Calmly, even tranquilly, Harold stands examining the gauges of the five gas tanks in the great wing. Then he unscrews the cap of the tank in the fuselage and measures with a graduated stick the gas left in the tank, then he cuts open some of the sealed five-gallon tins, dumps the gas into the tank so that we can throw the tin overboard. Each can weighs hardly a pound—but every pound counts at the critical ceiling of the plane. He figures for a moment on a pad and hands me the results with a smile. We had enough gas to go beyond the pole if we don't have to dump any.

AIR GETS ROUGHER

Then Harold looks at the engines, listens to their hum and examines the gauges. Harold is an expert mechanic as he is a pilot and radio operator. There was Bernt concentrating on his fight to gain altitude, still with uncertainty ahead, for the glacier was a long one and the lowest point of the pass, before us was still above the nose of the plane. The confused air currents from the cliffs had begun to toss the plane about more violently. We could note tenseness and strain on Bernt's face as he put himself into the job he was doing so well. As I stood there at his shoulder there flashed into my mind for a moment the time we were tossed about in the night storm clouds in the inky blackness over France on the trans-Atlantic flight. I have many good reasons to know the stuff that is in Bernt. In the air and on the ground he plays the game, always true, a capable and dependable man.

The air began to get rougher. Bernt hugged the peaks on the lee side of the pass where the bumps would be more likely to carry the plane up and down. We were getting close to the highest altitude the plane could reach. A 9000-foot peak near us on our right and the wind from our left was striking it, being shot upward, helping us, we thought. The altimeter showed 10,000 feet, but we could not depend on that. The barometer here was not likely to read the same as over Little America because of local pressure changes.

Our weight was a bit over 13,000 pounds. To the right we saw some deep gorges that surely would mean turbulent air. Bernt eased over to the left where there was a long fairly smooth slope running up to a peak, some 15,000 feet high. He avoided the turbulent area, but the down currents here made more difficult the fight for altitude. The ailerons failed to respond and the wheel turned loosely in Bernt's hands. Still we were not high enough safely to get over the pass ahead.

FOOD DUMPED OVERBOARD

We saw now the great plateau through the clouds hovered around the peaks to the right and left. It was a critical moment. The air was too rarefied to hold up our heavy loads. Bernt yelled in my ear above the roar of the engines, "We must drop 200 pounds immediately or go back." Harold was standing by the dump valve of our fuselage tank. A little pressure on the valve and we could let go 600 pounds of gasoline. If we dumped that gas we couldn't reach the Pole and get back to base. Food was the only thing left to throw overboard, but would it be fair to those three fellows if we dumped precious food? We would be a long time on the plateau if we should have a forced landing. We had the food packed in 125-pound bags near the trap door ready for quick action. "A bag of food overboard," I yelled to Harold. He signaled to Mac, who was standing by the trap door, "Shall I do it, Commander?" Mac shouted. I nodded, over went one of the brown bags. Bernt looked around and smiled. That little weight had an immediate effect. A plane when it is hovering near its absolute ceiling is like a balloon. A few pounds overboard will make her shoot up Things were better now, but I wasn't sure it was fair to those fellows to dump food. Bert was easing over to the right now where, luckily, it was clear over the lowest part of the pass. We would get out of the descending currents and probably be helped by the ascending ones. We weren't high enough yet. I looked around. Mac was hard at work with his camera. No matter what would happen, he had to record those mountains. I felt then that if we had gone down in a tail spin Mac would have taken pictures on the way down. If there had been time I might have told Mac he would have to throw his camera overboard to gain altitude. Mac is a true soldier and he would have obeyed orders, but I am sure he would have followed his camera through the trap door.

POLE STRAIGHT AHEAD

Harold went nonchalantly about his many duties as if it were all in a day's work. When he listened to the engines his pleasure plainly showed in his face. The great Cyclone and two Whirlwinds went on roaring sweetly. If one of them should stop, down we would go to the glacier, unless we could dump many hundreds pounds very quickly. We had gradually gained more altitude, but not enough. A few hundred feet now might make the difference between success or dismal failure. How much hung upon those few hundred feet! It was very rough now and Mac and Harold could hardly hold their feet. Very slowly we went up. Suddenly the wheel turned loosely in Bernt's hands. "Quick, dump more," he shouted. I pointed to another bag of food. Mac shoved it through the trap door and we watched her hit the glacier. Two hundred and fifty pounds of food, a month's supply for four men, lies out there on that lifeless glacier.

Again it did the trick. We seemed to shoot up. We couldn't let any more food go. Nor could we dump gasoline and have any reserve supply left for reaching the Pole. There was nothing more to dump. We must make it. The minutes went very slowly. At last we reached the pass. We had a few hundred feet to spare. Bernt gave a shout of joy. There were no mountains beyond the pass. The plateau stretched ahead, cloudless and glistening in the sun, giving an unobstructed route to the Pole. We were over the dreaded hump.

The Pole lay dead ahead over the horizon.

● HAVE YOU been considering a new Radio? Have you been thinking of one of the cheaper sets, for no other reason than the fact that it is cheap?

Do you realize that for only a few pennies per day more, you can own a SPARTON . . . the finest Radio money can buy?

The price of a shave and a shine . . . the cost of a couple of magazines . . . the amount you pay for a single movie ticket at any good show—even so little as that, and you have paid that day for a SPARTON.

No more than you'd pay for a very simple lunch down-town . . . less than you pay for meat for dinner at home . . . for what it costs you to treat the family to a single round of ice cream cones—and you've paid for your day's installment on your SPARTON.

And as you pay, you save. "Let's stay home this evening and listen to Fritz Reiner of the Cincinnati Symphony . . . Louise Homer is the soloist." And so there's no carfare to pay, no gas to burn, none of the many little incidental expenditures which mount up so rapidly when you go out for an evening.

Or, "We've seen one show this week; let's stay in tonight and hear Eva Ollivotti or Lucy Day or Paul Roberts in their Musical Comedy Hour; or let's tune in that Victor Herbert Program this evening."

And you've had a delightful evening . . . two, three hours, or more of wonderful entertainment . . . and you have saved this week's payment on your SPARTON.

TREES DIVULGE INDIAN SECRETS

toric horizons of the Southwestern United States to a period nearly eight centuries before Columbus crossed the Atlantic.

"They have discovered not only the age of the great communal dwelling of Pueblo Bonito, metropolis of our aboriginal Southwest, but also have dated some forty other ruins whose time of occupancy hitherto had been unkonwn.

TREE-RING CALENDAR

"Moreover, they have developed a tree-ring calendar which can be applied to all early ruins in which datable timbers exist.

"A collateral finding of great interest yet to be developed is the possible relation between the weather cycles clearly revealed in this tree-ring calendar of the Southwestern United States and similar cyclic variations being recorded by a third National Geographic Society expedition (in conjunction with the Smithsonian Institution.) an expedition which still is in the field at Mt. Brukaros, Southwest Africa, making daily observations of solar radiation."

Dr. Douglass, in his report to the National Georgraphic Society, writes:

"Just as the far-famed rosetta stone provided the key to the written mysteries of ancient Egypt, so the collection of an unbroken series of tree rings has made clear the chronology of the Southwest.

"These researches have carried the calendar back to A.D. 700 in the Southwest, and they have provided the beginnings of a continuous weather chart for 1200 years.

"Through this work we have learned of some outstanding events in America which were contemporaneous with the conquest of Spain by the Moors, and we know that certain Pueblo Indian settlements were enjoying their golden ages when William The Conqueror faced Harold The Saxon at the Battle of Hastings.

"The earliest beam we recovered from Pueblo Bonito was cut A.D. 919 from a tree that was 219 years old when cut. Pueblo Bonito had reached its golden age in 1067 and still was occupied in 1127."

In many instances, Dr. Dauglass's report points out, one group name is applied to several ruins. The "talkative tree rings" enabled the explorers to date each ruin of the groups studied. Thus in the Mesa Verde group Cliff Palace is dated 1073; Oak Tree House, 1112; Spring House, 1115; Balcony House, 1190-1206; Square Tower House, 1204, and Spruce Tree House, 1216 and 1262.

Explaining the procedure by which the tree-ring calendar was worked out, Dr. Douglass says:

"The method which we have used in extending the historical calendar of the Southwest is the outcome of a long attempt to read the diaries of trees. Every year the trees in our forests show the swing of time's pendulum and put down a mark. They are chronographs, recording clocks by which the succeeding seasons are set down through definite imprints. Every year each pine adds a layer of new wood over its entire living surface of trunk and branches."

Daylight for Dark Desks

DAYS are often dark and many desks in gloomy corners. Eyes forced to work in glare or gloom soon tire and retard output. With Emeralite every desk has cheerful daylight that saves sight, speeds production, makes workers more contented; eyes feel as fresh at 5 P.M. as at 9 A.M.

Nature made Green and Daylight restful to eyes. That's why Emeralite has a Green Glass Shade and a Special Screen that changes ordinary electric light into soft, glareless daylite that prevents eyestrain and improves visibility. Ideal for reading or working.

Emeralited offices look better, have more output and daylite on every desk. There is an Emeralite for every writing or reading need.

Genuine Emeralites are branded. Look for the name. It pledges a lighting service that satisfies.

STATES TO FIX WATER SHARES

Upper Basin Group to Split 7,500,000 Acre Feet

Colorado River Power Will be Topic of Parley

Gov. Adams Says Agreement on Division Expected

DENVER, Dec. 2. (AP)—Long delayed, a conference of the four upper basin States of the Colorado River Utah, Wyoming, New Mexico and Colorado—will open here tomorrow for the primary purpose of arriving at some conclusions for the division of the 7,500,000 acre feet of water annually allocated to the upper basin under the terms of the Santa Fe compact.

State engineers and interstate river commissioners from the four States are expected to attend the meeting, which also is expected to take up the subject of granting power permits on the stream in both the upper and lower basins. The lower basin drains parts of Arizona, Nevada and California. The upper basin has tried to prevent the granting of power permits by the Federal Power Commission pending such time as the rights of the States within it regarding power development have been determined and agreed upon.

Tomorrow's meeting will mark the first attempt to obtain a compact among the four States for division of the water. Gov. Adams said that he anticipated no difficulty in coming to an agreement for such division for irrigation and power purposes.

CATTLE GROUP WILL GET LOAN

Western Marketing Unit to Receive $5,000,000

Farm Board Paves Path for Assisting Raisers

Wheat Men Also to Receive $300,000 Advance

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—A commodity loan of $5,000,000 to the Western Cattle Marketing Association of San Francisco, was approved today by the Federal Farm Board.

The board also approved a commodity loan of $300,000 to the Farmers' Union Terminal Association of St. Paul to supplement loans from the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank on grain stores in licensed country elevators or warehouses.

The loan to the cattle association will enable it to make advances to its members on feeder cattle not exceeding 75 per cent of the appraised value of the cattle when the loan is made.

A condition of a loan from the association to a member is that the cattle must be under contract to be marketed through the association.

The loan to the terminal association will enable it to make advances to grower members in line with the wheat policy of the farm board.

It also was announced today that the Farmers' National Grain Corporation has been given funds and authority by the Farm Board to protect elevator owners in the wheat country from having to sign long-term contracts with commission grain dealers or have their loans called by those dealers.

THREATS CHARGED

Chairman Legge said that the grain corporation, or its subsidiary marketing agencies in the Northwest and the Pacific Northwest, can act promptly if it becomes necessary.

The chairman said reports have reached the board that a determined effort is going to be made by commission dealers to sew up elevator owners for long periods on contracts forced by a threat of calling loans.

GRAIN CORPORATION BUYS RURAL COMPANY

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—First steps toward active participation in the Chicago grain market were taken today by the Farmers' National Grain Corporation with the purchase of the Rural Grain Company of Chicago, which will be operated as a subsidiary.

The Rural Grain Company, a cooperative agency, holds a membership on the Chicago Board of Trade, which is included in the sale to the Farmers' National Grain Corporation. The Rural group operated elevators throughout Iowa and Illinois.

State Income Taxes Refunded Negligible Sum

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Refunds under the new State 4 per cent net income-tax law have totaled $42,900, Dixwell Pierce, secretary of the State Board of Equalization, announced today. These refunds were made by the Franchise Tax Commissioner out of a total tax payment of $5,150,000.

The law requires the taxpayer to figure out the tax he owes to the State, as is the case under the Federal Income Tax Act, and the refunds are necessary because the taxpayers were too liberal in their construction of the net income statute.

In one instance a corporation taxed itself $11,500 and mailed the State Treasurer a check for half the sum as the first installment. On checking the returns the Franchise Tax Commissioner discovered that the corporation owed the State but $138 instead of $11,500.

Traffic Victim Believed Dying

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 2.—Hubert Raymond, 40 years of age, who was struck by an automobile on the Coast Highway twenty miles north of here Sunday afternoon, is not expected to live, according to physicians at the Santa Monica Hospital.

Raymond, who lived at 1007 Seventh avenue, Venice, was struck by a car driven by Harry J. Borsham, 350½ West Fifth street, Los Angeles. Raymond had not regained consciousness at a late hour last night.

Borsham was not held by the deputy sheriffs who took Raymond to the hospital. The victim had started on a hitch-hiking trip to Oakland, friends asserted.

Officials Count Tombstone Out

TWO LIQUOR ACT RULINGS WAITED

Supreme Court Will Pass on Phases of Dry Law

One Has to Do With Seizure of Bootleg Autos

Other Concerns Issuing of Makers' Permits

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Two phases of the powers of the Federal government in prohibition enforcement, affecting seizure of automobiles carrying liquor and the issuance of liquor manufacturing permits, will be passed upon by the Supreme Court.

The questions will be presented in cases which the court today decided to review. One case challenges the right to confiscate automobiles under the internal-revenue law instead of the prohibition laws. The other involves the right to set definite dates for termination of manufacturing permits and thus require manufacturers to renew their permits.

WIDESPREAD INTEREST

The automobile case was brought by the Richbourg Motor Company of North Carolina. The case has aroused widespread interest in the automobile industry, especially in connection with the sale of cars on time-payment plans.

If an automobile is seized under the Volstead law, the manufacturer or agent holding a lien on it would be able to protect his interest, as he later could obtain the car if title to the machine was established. On the other hand, should the car be seized under the internal-evenue law, the government can not be compelled to give it up.

LOST IN LOWER COURT

In the case involving the setting of definite expiration dates on permits, the government lost in the lower Federal courts in New York, which held in a number of cases that the Prohibition Bureau has no right to interfere, as it proposed, with permits it has granted, taking the view that the prohibition act conferred no such authority. The lower courts also held invalid the orders which the Secretary of the Treasury and the Federal prohibition commission had issued in October, 1927, containing such regulation.

BIBLE READING IN RUSSIA LANDS PRINCESS IN PRISON

LONDON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Reading the Bible to children of soviet workers was said by the Daily Mail today to have caused arrest and imprisonment in Moscow of Princess Sophie Lieven, sister-in-law of Sir Kynaston Studd, who was Lord Mayor of London last year.

A Riga (Latvia) dispatch to the Mail said the soviet political police lodged her in the Lubianka jail on general charges of Christian missionary activities.

Her family here has no word of the arrest, but said they have not had regular direct correspondence recently with the Princess Sophie. Sir Kynaston married as his second wife in 1924 the Princess Alexandra Lieven. The Princesses are the daughters of the late Prince Paul Lieven, grand master of ceremonies at the Russian imperial court.

WATCH TARIFF, STATE WARNED

Shortridge Says California Must Not Sleep

Advantages Won Should be Retained

Victories on Important Items Cited

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Declaring that California interests must not sleep if the State would hold the advantages it has obtained in the tariff bill, Senator Shortridge today prepared to carry on his fight when the measure is again taken up by the Senate.

"Thus far," the western Senator declared, "California has fared well, but our work is not done. We must not rest or sleep. We must hold what we have secured, and, if possible, secure other and needed protective rates for certain California industries.

"When the bill passes the Senate it will be sent to conference. The Senate will probably name five conferees and the House will name a like number, and these conferees will endeavor to adjust any differences that may then exist as between the two houses in respect to rates or other provisions in the bill.

"As I have often remarked, California is directly interested in a great many of the items in the tariff bill. We have secured additional and much-needed protection for agriculture, including horticulture, dairying, poultry and live stock.

CASEIN RATE RAISED

"For example: As to our dairy industry:

"The present rate on casein (made from skim milk) is 2½ cents per pound; the Finance Committee raised it to 3¼ cents, and the Senate, on my amendment (which called for 8 cents) fixed the rate at 5½ cents. And we have secured substantial increase of rates of duty on cheese and cream and on whole, skimmed, canned and malted milk.

"As to our agricultural products:

"We have secured an increase from 2 cents to 5 cents per pound on figs. My amendment to Paragraph 740, giving the same rate on fig paste, was adopted by the Senate.

"The Finance Committee's proposal to classify cherries according to size was not agreed to. The House rate was retained, thus substantially increasing the rate on cherries. The duty on dried cherries has been increased from 2 cents to 6 cents per pound. This increase was recommended by the Finance Committee and approved by the Senate.

ALMOND DUTY HIGHER

"On almonds, not shelled, the rate was raised from 4 3-4 cents to 5½ cents per pound; on shelled almonds from 14½ cents to 16½ cents per pound; on manufactured products (new classification) 18* cents per pound; on imitation almonds—18½ cents per pound. I have submitted an amendment for additional protection, which will come up after committee amendments are acted on.

"My amendment increasing the rate from 2 cents to 2½ cents per pound on lemons was agreed to by the Finance Committee and approved by the Senate.

"The Senate adopted my amendment giving protection on concentrated fruit juices, lemon, orange and other citric juices for beverage purposes.

"We have secured an increase on live poultry from 6 cents to 8 cents and on dressed poultry from 8 cents to 10 cents per pound. At the proper time I shall urge additional and needed protection on dried and frozen eggs.

"California has become a great cotton-growing State. I have submitted an amendment calling for a duty of 7 cents per pound on long staple cotton, now on the free list. I am assured of the active support of the Senators from Mississippi, Texas and Arizona and other cotton States and have reason to believe that my amendment will be adopted.

INCREASE ON FRUITS

"We have secured an increase of protection on many of our vegetables and fruits. Of great importance is the increase on canned tomatoes and tomato paste and the increase of from ½ cent to 2 cents on prunes.

"We have secured additional protection on dates, but I shall urge an amendment which provides for proper protection to our date growers against importation of dates in small packages.

"Our mining industry has not been overlooked. The increased duty on manganese will be of great benefit to our State.

"As of the time of adjournment the Senate had under consideration the wool schedule in which California is greatly interested. After thorough discussion we agreed with the House in providing 34 cents a pound on wool in the grease.

"California has abundant reason to be proud of and to thank her several members of the House who have worked intelligently, early and late, on this tariff problem. I have had their earnest and helpful co-operation. We stand together for adequate protection for our agricultural, mining and manufacturing industries."

ACCIDENT RESULTS IN DOUBLE SHIFT

LINDSAY, Dec. 2.—To make double use of the limited number of pulp bags on hand, the Maselli Olive Oil Plant here has been running a night shift. The plant recently pressed a consignment of olives, in which the oil, by reason of the stage of ripeness of the fruit, was very gummy. When the bags containing the pulp were placed under the heavy pressure necessary to express the oil, the gummy mixture burst the containers instead of coming through the meshes. These bags are made of cocoanut fiber and it is necessary to wait until a consignment of the fiber reaches San Francisco from Central America before the bags can be replaced. In the meantime, the double shift means double use of the present supply of bags.

INSANITY PLEA ISSUE ARGUED

California Law Attacked in Supreme Court

Convicted Man Hits Double Trial Feature

Justices Unimpressed and Halt Counsel

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—The California law under which the plea of insanity as a defense for criminal acts is tried was attacked in the Supreme Court today by Joe Troche.

Troche was convicted on a charge of killing Mary Lorenzo on November 21, 1927, in Eldorado county, California. When he was arraigned for trial he pleaded not guilty and also not guilty because of insanity. Under the statute which he challenged he was tried first on the plea of not guilty and during the trial was not permittd to offer any evidence bearing on insanity. After the jury had found him guilty of murder the court then proceeded, under the law, to try him before the same jury to determine whether he was insane at the time the murder was committed.

BASIS OF PLEA

Troche was found seated in an automobile with a bullet wound in his head and beside him the body of a dead girl, who also had been shot in the head. He asserted he had no recollection of the tragedy.

Counsel for Troche assailed the law as depriving his client of constitutional rights to have the defense of insanity considered at the trial for murder and insisted he was deprived of his constitutional rights when the same jury which had convicted him of murder passes on his insanity.

STATE'S REPLY

The State defended the law on the ground that insanity is not a defense for murder and insisted that the legislature properly had treated insanity as a collateral issue. It declared that Troche had been afforded a fair trial on his plea of insanity and that his trial on the insanity plea by the same jury did not deprive him of the due process of law guaranteed by the Constitution.

During argument of the case, which was cut short by the court, it developed that the complaints advanced by Troche failed to impress the justices. The action of the court in stopping argument indicated that it will agree on an early opinion and may dismiss the appeal.

"CHARGE IT" GETS SETBACK

Washington Court Rules Husband Not Liable for Wife's Bills if He Gives Her Allowance

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Wives who buy clothing and charge it to their husbands instead of spending their allowances, and merchants who take such accounts—even though the husband be a Congressman—need expect no assistance hereafter in the courts of the District of Columbia.

Justice Robb of the District Court of Appeals decided both points today in a decree exonerating Representative Huddleston, Democrat, Alabama, of liability for a debt of $245 owed to the Saks Fur Company as the balance on a fur coat and a fox scarf bought by Mrs. Bertha Huddleston.

The prce of the two peces was $253 and Mrs. Huddleston made a down payment of $8. That, under the court decree, is all the fur store will get.

SUED HUSBAND

The Saks company sued Huddleston after he refused to pay its bill on the ground that he gave his wife an allowance of $75 a month and that she disobeyed him in charging the furs. Judgment in favor of the husband was rendered in Municipal Court and the merchant sued out a writ of error.

At the trial Representative Huddleston testified that he knew nothing about the furs until he got a bill for them; that he never authorized his wife to buy them and that he had told her never to make any purchases to his credit. For a long time, he said, he had been handing her the $75 a month allowance with instructions to expend no more than that and to pay cash for everything.

The opinion of Justice Robb not only vindicated Mr. Huddleston, but vigorously upheld the right of all husbands whose spouses have the "charge-it" habit. After reviewing at length a number of American and English cases, it laid down the rule that when a husband has once performed his duty to provide for his wife, he may not be compelled in court of law to do so again.

"JUST AND SALUTARY"

"We are of the view," said Justice Robb, "that the rule to be deduced from the authorities which we have reviewed is just and salutary. Its tendency will be to check extravagance (one of the most pronounced of modern evils) and at the same time protect thousands who in good faith have made such provisions for their wives as their means and station in life warranted, from debts thoughtlessly and needlessly contracted and often beyond the capacity of the husband to pay.'

"Moreover," the report continued, "it does not require the discernment of Solomon to appreciate that the unauthorized purchase of goods by a wife whose husband has adequately provided for her inevitably will have a tendency to disturb and possibly disrupt their conjugal relations."

HETCH-HETCHY BONDS PURCHASE COMPLETED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Official purchase by the Bank of Italy of $4,000,000 of municipal bonds which will enable the city to continue construction of the Hetch-Hetchy water project was completed today.

Large Federal Fund Asked for Road Building

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—A bill to appropriate $250,000,000 to aid the States in construction of rural-post roads was introduced today by Representative Robison, Kentucky, the proposed amount being far in excess of that now provided.

Under the measure $125,000,000 would be expended during the fiscal year 1931 and the same amount in 1932.

In addition the Robison bill would provide $20,000,000 for forest roads and trails.

Storm Sweeps South England

LONDON, Dec. 2. (AP)—A heavy gale was raging over Southern England today, forcing Channel ships to take shelter in Dover and causing flood conditions on many rivers, including the Thames.

Service to the Orkney Islands was interrupted, while Plymouth had a deluge of rain, making the fall there for this period of the year the heaviest in sixty years.

Low-lying parts of East Kent were flooded and all rivers in Southern England were heavily swollen, many overflowing their banks.

Charles S. Mott Granted Decree

FLINT (Mich.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Charles S. Mott, vice-president of the General Motors Corporation and head of the Union Industrial Bank of Flint, was granted a divorce today.

CHANNEL EXTENSION AT SEATTLE FAVORED

WASHINGTON, Dec 2. (AP)—Acting Secretary of War Hurley today recommended to Congress extension of a channel and construction of a turning basin in the Dumamish water way at Seattle, to cost $210,000, local interests to pay half the cost.

MANUFACTURER FOUND DEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Leon McRoskey, San Francisco mattress manufacturer, was found dead by employees today in his plant, a pistol by his side. Among several notes he left was one asking that his wife, Mrs. L. H. McRoskey, now residing in Los Angeles, be notified.

NAVAL PARLEY AGENDA SHORT

Just One Question on List, Avers MacDonald

Best Means to Limit Navies Sole Problem Up

Date of Conference Remains as Fixed, January 21

LONDON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald today announced the plans and scope of the five-power naval conference which will open January 21 in the royal gallery of the House of Lords and will then hold its subsequent sessions at St. James' Palace on the invitation of King George.

The four chief British delegates will be Mr. MacDonald himself; Arthur Henderson, the Foreign Secretary; A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, and Wedgwood Benn, Secretary of State for India.

DOMINIONS INVITED

All of the units of the empire have been invited to send delegates but the names of these have not yet been made public.

The High Commissionaire stationed in London probably will represent some of the dominions.

Questioned regarding the conference program, the Premier replied:

"There will be only one subject on the agenda, namely, how best the five powers represented at the conference can agree upon reduction and limitation of war vessels on the basis of mutually accepted strengths.

PROCEDURE UNSETTLED

"The question of the procedure to be adopted at the conference is a matter for discussion with the governments of the countries concerned and for decision by the conference itself. I doubt whether there will be any information on this particular point which I can usefully give the house before the conference assembles."

The Prime Minister said that the date for the opening of the naval conference had been definitely fixed for January 21 despite possible conflict with the January session of the Council of the League of Nations.

JAPAN REQUESTED TO NAME DEMANDS

TOKIO, Dec. 2. (AP)—The United States and Great Britain, it was learned in official circles today, have asked the Tokio government to indicate the total number of auxiliary cruisers it will demand for purposes of national defense, rather than making the number a matter of ratio.

Tokio officials have made no reply to the request but it is understood they are considering the matter. The request was accepted as indicating apparent fear by the two occidental naval powers of possibility of an impasse if Japan insists on the 70 per cent ratio of big cruisers as compared to America and Great Britain.

BRIDGE FUND PASSED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Without opposition the Board of Supervisors today passed to print the appropriation of $40,000 for the preliminary surveys and boring of the transbay bridge.

The Seaboard National Bank, with its own individuality, its own ideals, its own plans, has a part to play in the commercial life of Southern California, and this part will enable it to make a large contribution to the development of Los Angeles, of the State and of the Pacific trade.

$90,000,000.00 turnover in loans with less than $1800.00 losses because of bad loans since the bank began, is indicative of the peculiarly conservative character of the entire organization. The bank is not only conservative regarding its own loans, but it is also conservative in all matters affecting the welfare of its clients. In its Securities' Department it does not handle speculative stocks, but only seasoned and marketable bonds and other securities which will conserve the estates of the investors.

The Seaboard has recently doubled its capital and plans further increases as rapidly as the additional funds can be used to advantage. All departments of the bank are to be expanded during 1930. A new and permanent home for the Head Office is being planned and a limited number of branches for city-wide service will be opened.

In all Seaboard's plans, paramount is the maintenance of close personal contact between clients and executive officers that complete and sympathetic understanding may be attained.

Sound Investing is a Matter of Judgment and Determination

GOOD judgment, of course, is necessary in the selection of sound investments, but determination — which effectually resists the temptation to speculate—is a most essential factor in the pursuance of a successful investment program.

Good judgment tells an investor to consider carefully where and how an investment offering originates; it advises him to look carefully into the standing and responsibility, both financial and moral, of the sponsoring institution; it impresses upon him the importance of ascertaining the exact nature of the security back of the investment and whether it would insure proper protection in times of depression or panic; it suggests to him the wisdom of knowing whether the investment is going to be influenced by the ups and downs of the speculative market, and therefore a source of constant worry; and it behooves him to check carefully on the dependability of the income—under abnormal as well as normal business conditions.

An investor whose judgment is good on all of the foregoing points will be able to select sound investments, but unless he possesses positive determination he is in constant danger of slipping from the straight but very narrow road to successful investing. That is why we place determination on a basis of equal importance with judgment.

In the recent stock market debacle a large percentage of the people who suffered losses were speculating, not in accordance with their better judgment, but simply because they could not resist doing what "everybody else" was doing. Most of them undoubtedly knew that they could not afford to lose their money, and that the only sensible thing was to adhere strictly to safe investments—but they lacked the necessary determination.

Many people who read this advertisement will say: "Yes, a safe 6% investment like that is exactly what I ought to put my money into. In the future, I'll do it, and I'll keep away from speculation." Just a few of them will do it. And yet it is such an easy thing to do when the mind is once firmly adjusted to the idea; and the advantages are so obvious.

Every Advantage and No Disadvantage

The person who invests for safety of principal and certainty of income enjoys every possible investment advantage without a single disadvantage. He has no cares or worries, no matter what the state of the market may be, and he has the satisfaction of knowing that his income over a period of years will unquestionably exceed the spasmodic profits, after losses are deducted, from any form of speculative venture. All this, of course, is predicated on his selection of the right form of investment.

The Insured First Mortgage Certificates of this Company were designed specifically for the investor who has determined to do just one thing, namely, place his money where it will be safe and where it will bring him a fair and regular income, regardless of the state of the market or general business. The fact that these Certificates have been issued in amounts aggregating hundreds of millions of dollars, over a long period of years, including every known form of business upheaval, without a single default or even delay in the payment of either principal or interest, stands as the best possible evidence that they have unfailingly measured up to the high standards originally prescribed.

Utmost Protection

In order to provide for every possible contingency, these Certificates are given every possible form of protection, including the two paramount features of (a) ample underlying security and (b) insurance of both principal and interest.

Back of these Certificates are first liens on improved real estate in the developed and growing communities of California, widely diversified as to character and location, and valued, under a highly conservative appraisal system, at more than twice the aggregate face value of outstanding Certificates.

That alone would give the Certificates high rank among conservative investments, but we go still further by insuring the liens (which protect the Certificates) as to both principal and interest, under the Mortgage Insurance Act of California.

Back of this extraordinary protection stands the Company itself; one of the foremost institutions of its kind in the United States, with an unbroken record of success, and resources of more than $85,000,000.

While these Certificates are purchased largely by banks, insurance companies and other institutions whose investments are legally restricted, they are issued in denominations of $100 and multiples thereof for the convenience of all classes of investors.

Maturities range from two to five years and the interest rate is 6%.

To individuals or institutions who are interested in receiving a new conception of an eminently sound, carefree investment, and who wish to avoid speculation in every phase, we shall take pleasure in sending further information. Simply call at our main office, telephone TRinity 0831, or use the coupon.

SEA MAIL SHIPS' COST COMPUTED

Replacement Plan Involves $245,500,000

Money to be Spent Over Ten-Year Period

Outlay for Three Vessels to be $90,000,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Replacements and additions to be required of shipping companies awarded ocean-mail contracts on the thirteen routes certified to the Shipping Board by Postmaster-General Brown will cost $245,500,000 over ten years.

Of this total, $90,000,000 will have to be expended on three twenty-eight-knot, 45,000-ton ships for the five-day weekly service on the North Atlantic.

With the exception of the Atlantic companies and two companies operating Gulf of Mexico lines, the principal shipping companies operating on the routes outlined have agreed to the tentative plan of new construction submitted to the Shipping Board at the time the mail routes were certified.

REPLACEMENT PLAN

If the United States lines are the successful bidders for the North Atlantic fast-mail contract, there is a possibility that the Leviathan, the only ship now flying the American flag giving a five-day service, will be substituted for one of the three ships required to be furnished by the successful bidder.

The replacement plan calls for a total of forty-three new or reconstructed ships. Most of them, under the tentative proposal, would be launched within eight years of the award of the mail contracts.

The Merchant Marine Act of 1928 which created the $13,000,000 fund for mail contracts also made available to the Shipping Board a revolving fund of $250,000,000, from which a shipping company may borrow up to 75 per cent of the cost of a ship, at a rate of interest not exceeding the lowest rate which the United States Treasury pays on any securities sold by it since 1917.

NORTH ATLANTIC

On the North Atlantic route from New York to Cherbourg and Southampton three Class 1 ships capable of not less than a speed of twenty-eight knots and 45,000 tons would be required within six years. The total cost of the three ships was estimated by Postmaster-General Brown at $90,000,000.

The first ship would be built within two and one-half years of the time the contract was awarded, the second within three years and the third within six years. Service on the route, the Postmaster-General said, may be deferred until the first ship is built or service with one or more Class 2 vessels may begin at any time within two years.

On the New York-to-Plymouth, Cherbourg and Hamburg line a weekly service of seven and one-half days each way will be required. Until new ships are available the service may be operated at nine and one-half days to Hamburg.

PRESS GIVEN CRITICISM BY PONTIFF

Fascist Papers Severely Arraigned for Discussion of Catholic Subjects

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 2. (AP)—Pope Pius XI has severely arraigned the Fascist press for its discussion of Catholic subjects and has complained that Catholic newspapers in Italy are finding it more and more difficult to discuss Catholic interests. His speech before the assembled parish priests of Rome yesterday was reported in tonight's Osservatore Romano, the organ used by the Vatican for its announcements.

The Pope was quoted as saying that it is becoming more and more difficult for even the most modest Catholic newspapers throughout Italy to write of the Pope and to defend his prerogatives and rights under the Lateran treaties.

If the signature of the Lateran accords on February 11 was a splendid and joyful occasion "this one is not," the Pontiff continued. "And we don't need many words to describe it because 'a good listener needs few words.'"

He described recent Fascist publications concerning the sphere of the church and State as reaching the heights of indiscretion and discourtesy, saying he had made "the most energetic remonstrances possible" concerning them.

Orders Issued for Joint Army, Navy Maneuvers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Orders for a series of five minor joint army and navy maneuvers in Panama, the Philippines, Hawaii and on the harbor defenses of Long Island Sound and San Francisco have been issued at the Navy and War departments.

The first maneuvers will be in Panama from February 25 until March 10, with the battle fleet participating. The maneuvers on Long Island, in which the scouting fleet will participate, will be held in May and those in San Francisco, in which the battle fleet will take part, in July.

The Asiatic fleet and the naval forces at Pearl Harbor will join in the Philippine and Hawaiian exercises, the dates of which have not been arranged.

ROBERT REID, ARTIST, DIES IN SANATORIUM

CLIFTON SPRINGS (N. Y.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Robert Reid, 67 years of age, internationally known artist, died today in Clifton Springs Sanatorium, where he had been a patient for three years. His death resulted from shock suffered when he broke his hip Wednesday, complicated by pneumonia.

ORTIZ RUBIO SOUNDS PRAISE

Mexico's President-elect Lauds United States on Eve of Departure for Washington

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 2. (AP)—President-elect Pascual Ortiz Rubio, on the eve of his departure for the United States, tonight gave an exclusive statement to the Associated Press, sending friendly greetings to the people of the United States and promising to make his government one of reconstruction and concord.

"I accept with pleasure the invitation of the Associated Press to send to the people of the United States on the eve of my trip a message of friendship. I have been for many years a sincere admirer of that great nation which, due to the high stage of civilization it has reached, is the pride of all inhabitants of this continent.

"I believe it indispensable for the prosperity of both countries that the bonds of friendship which happily tie us be further strengthened on a basis of mutual respect. I desire with great earnestness that the prosperity of the United States continue to develop as brilliantly as heretofore, because the prosperity of the United States will contribute to the prosperity of America, and the prosperity of America will mean sooner or later the prosperity of human kind.

TELLS OF STRUGGLES

"During the past twenty years Mexico has been struggling to better the living conditions of her people. The different armed movements which have taken place since 1910 are incidents of a somewhat violent process of democratization. These movements of action and reaction constitute the so-called Mexican revolutions.

"Four constitutional Presidents—Madero, Carranza, Obregon and Calles—all of them coming from revolutionary ranks, have occupied the Presidency of Mexico since the 1910 movement. Those four men have carried out successively different missions in this phase of political evolution of my country.

"After the provisional term of Emilio Portes Gil and after twenty years of struggle, the intensity of which has been gradually decreasing, Mexico can now face the world, proud of the accomplished work and confident of her future.

BELIEVES IN PARTY

"I believe that the revolution, now that my predecessors in office have overcome the obstacles set by their enemies, has finally entered the stage of actual doings. I will strive to make my government one of reconstruction and concord, to obtain on the basis of administrative honesty and of common sense a reasonable advantage for all resources of the country.

"I will assume office without political rancor. The last Presidential election demonstrated that the National Revolutionary party which nominated me is undoubtedly the political party that best represents the social ambitions of the majority of the Mexican people."

The President-elect, who left for the United States tonight, will go by way of Brownsville, Tex., and New Orleans, at which latter place it is said he might spend a few days. He intends to enter Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore and probably also will visit Washington.

TAPS BLOWN FOR FRESNO FOES OF '64

Two of Oldest Residents in City Succumb Within Twenty-four Hours

FRESNO, Dec. 2.—In less than twenty-four hours death claimed two of Fresno's oldest citizens, both of whom had passed the age of four score and ten and who were members of the Blue and the Gray forces, respectively, in the Civil War.

After an illness of several days Dr. Thomas R. Meux, 91 years of age, retired surgeon, died at his home here last night, and early today William W. Gitchell, 90, succumbed.

Dr. Meux had been a resident of Fresno for forty years, for approximately twenty of which he practiced medicine and surgery. He was the father of Mrs. Mary Barbour, wife of Congressman Barbour; John W. Meux and Miss Anne Meux. His funeral will be conducted at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow. He was born in Haywood county, Tennessee, and for four years was a surgeon in the Confederate Army.

Gitchell was born in Ohio and served in the Civil War as a member of Company K, First Michigan Volunteers. He had lived in Fresno thirty years and leaves five sons and a daughter: B. F. Gitchell of Fresno, G. N. Gitchell of San Francisco, J. W. Gitchell of Caruthers, Edward Gitchell of San Jose and W. C. Gitchell and Mrs. Alla Staton of Dinuba. WILD SEAS HOLD FATE OF SCORES

Blizzard Adds to Terror of Newfoundland Fishing Men Trapped by Storm

ST. JOHNS (N. F.) Dec. 2. (AP)—A wild sea and a blinding blizzard held tonight the fate of twoscore Newfoundland fishermen and sailors and the crews of three disabled Norwegian freighters. The storm threatened also the lives of rescuers in pilot boats, tugs and steamers.

The captain and four-man crew of the George Kay were rescued by the steamer Holfplein, which later rescued the crew of the schooner Catherine B., and landed them all at St. Johns today.

Meanwhile hope was abandoned for three of the four pilots aboard the Noone, a pilot boat which left last night to put men on board the disabled Norwegian freighter Hertha, which the Sachuache had been attempting to tow to port. The pilot boat capsized after putting one man aboard the freighter. Before the blinding snow shut them from view, one pilot was seen to sink. Two tug boats searched in vain for the men.

The Norwegian freighters Grey County and La Belle County were disabled 140 miles east of Cape Race and 400 miles southeast of St. Johns, respectively.

Cotton Men to Discuss Crop

CORCORAN, Dec. 2.—Quality of irrigated cotton, classifying and marketing of cotton will be subjects of State-wide importance to be discussed by speakers before the cotton growers' convention Wednesday. G. L. Crawford, agricultural economist; Ben B. Busby, United States Department of Agriculture, and Frank E. Green of the California Cotton Growers' Association will be the main speakers. L. W. Taylor, Kern county farm adviser, will present cotton-growing costs; F. J. Palomares will discuss labor problems, and other phases of the cotton-growing industry will be discussed by Wallace Sullivan, Kings county farm adviser.

Yuletide Fete Will be Brief

SANGER, Dec. 2.—Because of the frigid temperature in Gen. Grant Park on Christmas Day, the annual Nation's Christmas Tree Celebration under the Gen. Grant Tree will be limited to thirty minutes this year, it was decided at a meeting of the festival committee here today.

Mrs. W. L. Potts of Fresno, chairman of the program committee, announced that the program will include a pageant depicting Christmas festivities in ancient, medieval and modern times, and singing of a new song by Charles Wakefield Cadman, "My Gift for You," which Cadman wrote beneath the giant Sequoias. Arrangements are also being made for a transcontinental chain radio broadcast of the celebration.

Honors Won by Stanford Guard

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 2. (AP)—Disproving once again the theory that athletes have strong backs but weak minds, William Bardin, guard on the Stanford varsity football team, today was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity.

The Phi Beta Kappa honor was won last year by another guard on the Cardinal squad, Seraphim Post.

Hunting Season Opens Tragically

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (AP)—The opening of the quail season in Northern California today took a toll of one dead and two wounded in various accidents to hunters.

Fred Reibli, 17 years of age, high-school student, died at Santa Rosa from a shotgun wound under the heart. The gun was discharged when the youth fell while hunting on his father's ranch.

Victor Ameral, 25, was shot in the abdomen by his own gun as he was crawling through a wire fence.

Samuel Duncan, 12, was shot accidentally by his 11-year-old companion, Silvio Maxssenti, near Petaluma.

Fate of Ship's Crew in Doubt

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—A blanket of silence today concealed the fate of the British steamer Norwich City, which went aground on Gardner Island, an uninhabited dot of land 1800 miles southwest of Honolulu, last Saturday during a tropical hurricane. It is not known if her crew of twenty-four men succeeded in reaching the safety of the island before the vessel broke up.

Two steamers, the British vessels Lavington Court and Trongate, are speeding to the aid of the Norwich City.

MACHINE 'SEES' POISON GASES

Electric Device Designed to Keep Air Pure

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—An "electric eye" which records the presence of carbon monoxide and other gases, haze and dust in the atmosphere was under test today in the Holland Tunnel under the Hudson River between New York and New Jersey.

The "eye" was designed to record the microscopic motes to which the human eye is insensitive. It employs a photoelectric cell, tracing a record showing when the air in the tube begins to be impure.

The record lies before the tunnel superintendent so that he may speed up the fans or put extra fans into operation to clear the tunnel of obnoxious fumes.

The detector is under development by engineers of the General Electric Company. It must undergo further exhaustive tests before it is accepted as adequate.

USED CARS for business and family
See today's Times Want

Honestly, how would you explain it?

Suppose you didn't have Goodyear Tires on the wheels of your car and some one asked you why—how would you explain it?

You couldn't talk about quality, because Goodyear quality is recognized as the highest money can buy.

You couldn't talk about appearance, because Goodyear appearance has set the pattern for tires for fifteen years.

You couldn't talk about popularity, because Goodyear Tires outsell any others in the world.

Could it be safety? Endurance? Freedom from trouble? Obviously not, because the special advantages of the All-Weather Tread and the Supertwist Cord carcass in these respects are altogether too well-known.

Could it be value, or even price? Not consistently, because the known extra quality in Goodyear Tires actually sells at no more than you are asked to pay for inferior tires.

The fact of the matter is, there isn't any sensible reason for not having Goodyear Tires—that's why "more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind"!

Honestly, doesn't the absence of any logical explanation suggest one of the most powerful reasons why you should see the nearest Goodyear Dealer the first time you need new tires?

EXCHANGE LIST GAINS IN VALUE

Total on November 30 Set at $6,474,494,631

Increase for Month Placed at $190,954,359

Oils Figure in Largest Total for November

Market value of all shares listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange at the end of November aggregated $6,474,494,631, an increase of $190,954,359 over the preceding month, while trading during the month, in sympathy with the slackening activity on other major markets, registered a turnover value of $30,386,637, against the year's record of $72,391,049 in October, according to figures issued yesterday by the exchange.

Oils registered the heaviest turnover of the month, showing trading in 372,445 shares with a valuation of $10,214,877, while the miscellaneous division was a close second with a volume of 259,862 shares and a value of $11,992,583. October, 1929, witnessed the trading in almost three times as many oil shares as November. Utility issues accounted for 97,906 shares and a value of $4,707,894 of the November total. Other divisions were as follows: Industrials, 23,306 shares, $536,926; banks, 28,201 shares, $2,931,278; rights, warrants, etc., 8316, $2379, and bonds, $1000.

EDISON ACTIVE

Southern California Edison common, with a volume of 50,900 shares for November and 485,500 shares for the year to date, was one of the most active issues in November. That stock ranged between a high of 62½ and a low of 47 1-4 and closed with a net change downward of 7½ points for the month. Security-First National showed trading in 17,100 shares for November and 157,400 for the year to date, down 10 points on the month.

Bolsa Chica ranged between 1.95 and 1.10, closing at 1.42 on a turnover of 87,100 shares for the month and 2,371,800 shares for the year. Richfield eased off 3 1-8, after ranging between 31 5-8 and 26 3-8 and closing at 28 7-8 on the turnover of 73,400 shares for the month and 614,900 shares for the year. Rio Grande registered trading in 78,000 shares for the month, 1,280,500 shares for the year to date and ranged between 23 1-8 and 18 3-8, closing at 19 5-8 for a net change downward of 3 7-8 points. Standard Oil of California hit a high of 69 1-4 and a low of 57½, rebounding to a close of 62 and showing a net loss of 7 1-4 points. A total of 26,100 shares of Standard Oil were traded during the month and 351,100 shares for 1929 to date.

TRANSAMERICA UNEVEN

Transamerica attracted trading of 196,300 shares for the month, a high percentage of the 514,000 shares traded to date this year. It ranged from 52 to 35½ and closed at 43 7-8, a net change downward of 7 5-8 points for the month. Union Oil shares traded in November totaled 206,000, while those for the year amount to 393,800, the stock moving between 47½ and 41 3-4 and closing at 43½ for a net loss of 4 3-4. Union Associates ranged between 49 5-8 and 42 7-8, closing at 44 3-4 and showing the same net loss for the month as Union Oil. Union Associates contributed 55,300 shares to the month's total and its year's turnover amounts to 693,100 shares.

Standard Gas Common Share Earnings Up

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Consolidated earnings of Standard Gas and Electric Company and subsidiary and affiliated companies for the twelve months ended September 30, last, showed a balance of $9,740,867 after all prior charges including retirement reserve and preferred dividends, according to figures just made public.

This is equivalent to $6.80 a share on 1,432,390 common shares outstanding during the period, and $6.23 a share on 1,562,607 common shares which were outstanding September 30, last.

The balance for the previous twelve months was equal to $6.52 a share on 1,382,927 common shares, the average number outstanding during the period, or to $6.36 a share on 1,418,912 common shares outstanding on September 30, 1928.

Howse Assures Neon Holders

Paul D. Howse, president of the Claude Neon Electrical Products Corporation, Ltd., yesterday issued a statement in which he again denied that his company or any of the licensees under the Claude patents are interested in promotions in connection with neon lighting.

"I assure our stockholders, 1700 in number, this corporation is not involved in any promotion and it has not in contemplation any consolidations other than with its own subsidiaries, all located west of the Rocky Mountains," Mr. Howse stated.

DECEMBER OUTLOOK MIXED

Backing and Filling of Prices Likely; Public Busy With Year-end Check-up and Holiday Affairs

BY EARLE E. CROWE

December in the stock market is not likely to stand out as a month of any particular significance in the lives of the investors and speculators. Prophecies are heard of a resumption of the bull market this month, of a "Christmas rally," of further recessions, and of another severe break to the recent low prices. But on the whole the outlook is for a colorless market, or the backing and filling of prices in sluggish reaction to the good and the bad news.

December is a month of recapitulation in financial affairs. People are preparing to check up on their year's profits and losses and to figure out programs for the new year. Some selling of stocks will take place for income-tax purposes by those traders who carried stocks through the break in expectation of a December rally, or who need money to meet the final installment on 1928 taxes. Other people will lay plans for the purchase of stocks this month with the intention of realizing some time in 1930.

TIPS RECALLED

More than one speculator, in checking up the year's activity in the market, will recall the tips that promised to make good by the "end of the year." Most of these hopes lie buried in the bleak days of last month, leaving the mourners with whatever consolation can be found in charging off in the 1929 income-tax reports.

People who still retain hopes for a bullish demonstration this month can rake up a number of constructive developments and possibilities, which are virtually offset, however, by an equal number of adverse factors. They can find encouragement in the current easiness in money, in the drastic deflation in brokers' loans, in the number of extra and higher dividends, in the technical condition of stocks, and so on.

The level of brokers' loans is admittedly favorable to advances in stock prices. Loans are now down almost 50 per cent from the peak established on October 2, last, a remarkably severe drop in such a short time. Interest rates are low, margin requirements by brokers have been reduced, and the differential between borrowing costs and the return on stocks is once more favorable to the speculator.

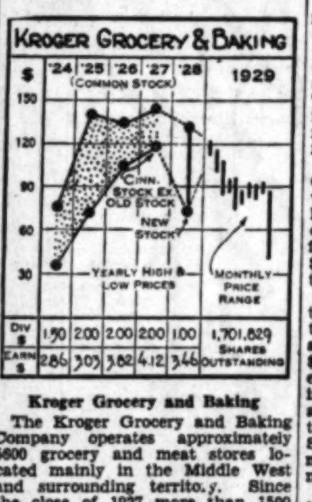
RALLY TOUTED

Buying of stocks for the turn is also stimulated by the rumors of a "Christmas rally," engineered by business and political interests to promote the prosperity idea during the holiday season. While the wish is probably father to the thought, these rumors sometimes account for a fair amount of speculative interest.

Psychology, nevertheless, is against any pronounced advance in prices. Aside from the general unsettlement incident to the closing of the year's activities in general business and in securities, the public is not in a mood to take any active part in the hazards of speculation in the stock market. The experience of crashing prices is too recent.

Moreover, the Christmas season is a business in itself, requiring considerable time and thought on the part of everybody. The matter of making money is not uppermost in the holiday period. In the last two years, however, stock prices have made their highs for the year in the last week of December, which may be some encouragement for the hopeful.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



Kroger Grocery and Baking

The Kroger Grocery and Baking Company operates approximately 5600 grocery and meat stores located mainly in the Middle West and surrounding territory. Since the close of 1927 more than 1500 new stores have been added, making this company the second largest chain grocery business in the country. The company manufactures many of the products sold in its stores, operating bakeries, coffee roasting plants, meat packing and sausage-making plants, and an establishment for making candy, spices and miscellaneous products.

Sales have increased continuously since organization, amounting to $211,502,864 for the thirty-nine weeks ended September 28, 1929, as compared with $146,164,456 for the corresponding period in 1928, and representing a gain of 4. per cent. The number of stores gained 16 per cent during this same period. Net income for the six months ended June 30, 1929, amounted to $4,015,775 or $2.35 per share on the common stock, as compared with $2,538,112 or $2.30 per share for the corresponding period in 1928.

Capitalization—Funded debt, none; preferred stock, cum., ($100 par) $146,700; common stock, (no par) 1,701,829 shares.

Current data: Sales for the five weeks ended November 2, 1929, amounted to $27,989,348 as compared with $22,744,281 for the same period in 1928.

Coast Counties Gas Profits Up

Net income of the Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company, subsidiary of Pacific Public Service Company, which is controlled by the Standard Oil Company of California, amounted to $48,994 after all charges for the month of October, against $45,233 for October, 1928, a gain of $3761, according to a statement issued yesterday.

The net income for the twelve months closed October 31, aggregated $760,065 against $630,048, an increase of $130,017 or more than 20 per cent. Gross revenues for the year totaled $2,066,204 against $1,865,746 for the previous year and for October totaled $170,730 against $157,670 for October, 1928.

Light and Power Utility Reports

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (Exclusive) Net income of the People's Light and Power Corporation, one of the subsidiaries of the Tri Utilities Corporation, was reported here today at $1,254,118.69 for the year ended October 31, last, equal after preferred dividends to $4.39 a share on the 189,452 shares of Class A stock now outstanding.

Consolidated gross revenues including earnings from companies under contract of purchase amounted to $7,887,638.18 as against $7,094,801.06 in the preceding year, an increase of $792,857.12 or 11.17 per cent. Net operating income increased $506,843.50 or 17.65 per cent to $3,378,229.69.

Cochran Heads Finance Board

George I. Cochran was elected chairman of the board of Pacific Associates at a meeting of directors held last Saturday, and Stanley McClung, secretary of Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, and Charles H. Quinn were named directors, according to an announcement by the company yesterday.

The directors also extended the time of the expiration of recently offered stock rights from January 5 to March 5.

JOINS BOND HOUSE

D. D. Richards, formerly manager of the Beverly Hills office for Dowell & Hull, has been appointed Beverly Hills representative for Miller, Vosburg & Co., investment banking house, it was announced yesterday.

WELLINGTON OIL INCOME SHARPLY UP

Net for Ten Months of Year Shows Gain Over 1928 of 72 Per Cent

Net income of the Wellington Oil Company for the ten months ended October 31, last, amounted to $387,555 after all charges including provision for Federal taxes, equivalent to $1.29 a share on 300,000 shares of $1 par common capital shares outstanding, according to a report issued yesterday by D. S. Setnan, secretary. Gross income for the period was $571,973.

The net earnings for the ten months' period represent an increase of $162,139 or 72 per cent over the total of $225,416 for the full year of 1928 when the earnings on the same share basis amounted to about 75 cents a share. Total production for the ten months was 404,548 barrels of oil as against 238,887 barrels for the full year 1928.

Gross income for the month of October was $60,643 as compared with $56,811 for the same month last year, while net income before depletion, depreciation and taxes for the month was $53,891 as against $47,910 after all charges except taxes in the 1928 period.

The company recently announced that the Indian Petroleum Corporation had purchased its Signal Hill and Huntington Beach holdings for $1,050,000. Mr. Setnan said that the equity of the purchasing company in the property now amounted to approximately $250,000. Under the terms of the deal, which began September 17, last, the purchase must be completed by February 17, next, according to Mr. Setnan.

The company's first well on its forty-acre lease at Maricopa Flat, which was completed November 2, last, is producing 1500 barrels of oil daily, Mr. Setnan stated.

NEW TYPE ERSKINE AUTO ANNOUNCED

Production of a larger and more powerful Erskine model under $1000 in price will be started this month by Studebaker Corporation, according to an announcement by the company yesterday. The new model will be displayed at the New York Automobile Show, January 4.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Advances from a slight opening decline in the cotton market today were attributed to covering in anticipation of reduced crop estimates, but were followed by reactions under renewed liquidation. Trading was comparatively quiet, with the midafternoon market ruling about 2 to 3 points net lower.

WEST CANADA RECOGNIZED

Choice of Charles A. Dunning as Finance Minister Important Event in Farming Area

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—When Menkenzie King, Canadian Prime Minister, selected Charles A. Dunning, the Canadian Minister of Railways, to be Minister of Finance, he chose "a free trader from the West."

The new Finance Minister was born in England forty-five years ago. At 18 years of age he worked on a farm at Beaverdale, Sask. At 26, he organized the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company. From that time on, his expanding career has been part of the progressive farmers' movement in the western provinces.

Mr. Dunning held several Cabinet positions before becoming Premier of the great wheat Province of Saskatchewan in 1922. Four years ago he was called to Ottawa as Canadian Minister of Railways.

The Financial Post, Canada's outstanding business weekly, says of the new Finance Minister:

"Mr. Dunning is a man of practical intellect, an able business executive and a student of finance. These considerations are far more important than the fact that he is a theoretical free trader."

But to Western Canada, it is a great event, for it is the first time that a western man has been appointed to the important portfolio of Finance in any Canadian government.

A small offering of German reparation bonds, issued under the divisions of the new Young plan, will probably be offered to the American public and in other leading countries in February or March of next year.

It is understood that the issue will not be a large one. It will be merely a "feeler" to familiarize the buying public with this new type of security, which is sure to be with us for many years.

It is expected that the first issue will bear a 7 per cent coupon, have a 1 per cent amortization charge, and be sold at about par. Ultimately about $2,000,000,000 of these bonds will be issued.

No one need be surprised if France absorbs a large proportion. If the French government takes a large amount and agrees to exchange them for French government bonds now in the hands of its public, it will permit France to reduce her own national debt by the number of German bonds which she exchanges. If the French people are willing to trade their government bonds for German reparation bonds, the French financial situation will be helped.

This course of procedure is expected.

Safeway Chain Increases Rate

TRADE KEEPS ON EVEN KEEL

"Nation's Business" Says Volume Holds Shade During Month Despite Stock Mart Slump

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Despite the decline in stock market prices, beginning in October business generally maintained its better-than-usual level during that month, with some industrial gains reported, as compared with the same period a year ago, says Frank Greene in his monthly review of business conditions in Nation's Business, published by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

As compared with September, however, a shading off in some lines was noted.

"The hesitation in business which first appeared in September," Mr. Greene observes, "became slightly more marked in October. Just how much of this was due to the excitement in the stock market and how much to seasonal slowing of wholesale operations and industry is at this time difficult to determine."

Wholesale and jobbing trade certainly eased off more markedly than did retail trade or industry, the latter, by the way, seeming to maintain a relatively more active pace than did dealings by first hands or by ultimate distributors.

Despite the visible quieting, however, there seemed in fact strikingly little difference in the scale of trade activity from a year ago, and industry as a whole still exhibited gains over October of last year.

SITUATION UNUSUAL

"In the drastic decline of stock prices," he points out, "there was an almost utter absence of some of the phenomena which have distinguished other stock-market breaks in the past. The old-time currency scarcity was entirely absent; indeed, the passing of the boom was accompanied by really easy money; that is, 5 to 6 per cent for call money and 6 to 7 per cent for time loans on collateral. The last week of the month, in fact, saw time-loan quotations drop slightly below the like date of the year before, something not witnessed for at least a twelvemonth."

The break on the stock market on October 29 was coincident with a crash in wheat prices, said to have been forced selling, by those whose stock market commitments were endangered. At one time wheat broke 7 cents a bushel but rallied 5 cents with the weight of forced liquidations.

Other grains did not share in this slump and the wheat break, evidently exigent selling, was, in face of the announcement, made a few days earlier by the Farm Board, that it would lend money for the support of wheat prices as it had earlier done in the case of cotton. Regarding these two apparent departures from tradition it may be said that something like this was done in wheat in the war crisis and in 1926 when the record cotton crop was pressing on the market. But on no previous occasion, we believe, were the actual prices to be guaranteed, $1.12 to $1.25 in the case of wheat and of 16 cents in the case of cotton, specifically mentioned.

FOREIGN TRADE GAINS

Some months ago, when the prospect of tariff legislation was cited as a possible temporary makeweight in business, it was said that the prospect of tariff advances did not of and by themselves necessarily carry any threat of trade. Today, with the prospect of tariff legislation greatly delayed if not perhaps postponed indefinitely, it is noted that the long delay has permitted very heavy imports to anticipate the Status of Nation's Trade Told at Glance

This map represents business conditions in every state in the Union as set forth in the December number of The Nation's Business, official publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

1. Security ▼ ▼ ▼ ▼

California Municipal Improvement Bonds are a lien on real property ranking prior to all mortgages present or future, judgments, mechanic liens, etc. Since they are issued for the exact amount of the improvements, they add at least their own amount—and usually many times more—to the value of the property on which they constitute a lien.

2. Dependability ▼ ▼ ▼

For over 25 years—the major portion of the street improvements in California have been financed by bonds of this character. During this long period many millions of dollars have been invested in these securities and their record of dependability is the very highest. Being an underlying lien on real property, they are least affected by problems of management and by fluctuating conditions in business and industry.

3. Yield ▼ ▼ ▼ ▼

California Municipal Improvement Bonds yield 6% to 6½% net to the investor; absolutely free from all Federal income tax and California Personal Property taxes. This rate of return compares most favorably with taxable securities of comparable strength and is materially higher than that of other tax-free bonds.

We maintain at all times a diversified list of Municipal Improvement Bonds issued by established and prosperous California communities. Send name and address below for a copy.

LOW LEAD PRICE SPURS ACTIVITY

Trade Reported Buying for January Delivery

October Output at Peak But Increase Expected

Copper and Zinc Situation About Unchanged

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS,
Editor The Mining Journal, Phoenix

Cheap lead is bringing in the buyers and the market has continued active, although with no increase in price. Domestic copper buying has been slow, although foreign purchases have been good. Zinc has dropped in price and is in a very unsettled state. The prices on all metals are: Copper at 17.775, f.o.b. refinery; lead at 6.25, New York, and zinc at 6.00 St. Louis.

The lead buyers are taking advantage of the 6.25 price and buying metal for delivery through January, a condition which is not usual in the lead market. In other words, the lead buyers are purchasing as far forward as the sellers will open their books, which indicates that the buyers now believe that the bottom has been reached and that the next move will be upward.

That a curtailment in lead output was needed is evident by the world production figures for the month of October which show a total of 169,801 tons, a new high record. This total compares with 159,018 tons produced in October.

The countries chiefly responsible for this increase were the United States, where output jumped from 56,807 tons in September to 61,491 tons in October; Mexico, whose September output was 20,983 tons and the October total, 23,319 tons, and Australia, where the October output showed a gain of about 2000 tons over the previous month.

For the ten months of this year the world output amounts to 1,606,998 tons, whereas in the same period last year, the total was 1,605,120 tons. Thus far this year, production has averaged 160,700 tons per month.

ZINC CUT SHARPLY

The zinc market has been unusually quiet awaiting the results of the meeting of the European zinc cartel and the disagreement which has taken place in that body has done much to make an unsettled market more unsettled. This has had a direct effect upon the London zinc prices and has, in turn, been reflected in the United States market.

Zinc production, which has been too high, has been cut drastically to a point which is believed to be sufficient to take care of the local situation. Zinc, however, is much influenced by European production and prices and also has the problem of keeping the price low enough to keep out Canadian and Mexican metal.

Reports are that the disagreements in the zinc cartel are serious and that there is a probability of the present organization breaking up. Committees have been appointed to try and effect a compromise between the conflicting interests, and, in the meantime, buyers of the metal are standing on the sidelines awaiting developments.

It is stated that existing contracts are going to end on the 31st inst., and that plans are being made for a new type of organization. The trouble with the zinc cartel seems to be that it lacks the power to enforce its mandates and that certain groups failed to cut production as agreed and new contracts are to take care of this and provide a means of enforcement.

This failure to cut production is noticeable in the October production figures which show that Belgium produced 18,832 tons, as against 17,545 tons in September, and 18,239 tons in June, and they were supposed to have cut 10 per cent.

World zinc production is up slightly for the month with October output 135,697 tons, compared with 133,115 tons in September, 136,304 in August, 1929, and 130,919 tons in October, 1928. Daily average is down for October with 4377 tons a day, compared with average of 4437 in September, 4397 in August, and 4223 tons a day in October, 1928.

COPPER STILL STRONG

Copper has continued to hold strong at 18 cents delivered although the buyers continue to wait and see if something will not happen to weaken the price. There has been no sign of any weakening as yet, no concessions or no bargain lots other than in scrap metal and it is felt that the copper price is over the crisis and can now be maintained without great difficulty.

Propagandists have been putting out plenty of rumors of a prospective decrease in the price of copper, evidently designed to lower the price of copper stocks but there has been no ground for any of the rumors as the surplus refined stocks are not excessive, the copper companies in good financial condition and the curtailment sufficient to meet the situation.

World copper production figures showed an increase of 3716 tons in October. While total production was up for October, daily output averaged less, with 5751 tons a day produced in October, compared with 5818 in September, 5624 in August, 6561 tons in April, a record, and average of 5935 tons a day for first ten months of 1929. Monthly average for first ten months is 180,416 tons, compared with average of 159,706 tons for full year 1928, and 141,196 for full year 1927.

The principal increase in production was in the United States where 97,405 tons were produced as against 92,568 tons in September. South America produced 31,152 tons as against 30,801 tons and Belgian Congo 13,999 tons as against 14,100 tons.

MINE DIVIDENDS UP

In the face of the stock market debacle of October and early November, the condition of the mining industry is splendidly reflected into the November records for dividends paid to stockholders. The November mine dividends totaled $37,359,893 as against $19,247,397, for November, 1928. The last quarter of this year also shows an improvement over the previous quarter when $34,060,240 was disbursed. It is interesting to note that the average price of copper for the first ten months of this year was 18.173 cents as against 14.371 for the same period last year and this is largely responsible for the dividend increase.

Every day that the copper consumers remain out of the market brings the time so much nearer when they will have to re-enter and make some purchases. With every major industry laying plans for continued operations and expansion during 1930 there is no justification for any pessimistic views on the copper outlook. Practically all of the undertakings that are planned will entail the consumption of copper.

new rates, the result being that some importers are reported to have canceled some import orders. Exports and imports for nine months, the largest in each case since 1920, exceeded those for the like period a year ago by 8.2 and 9.4 per cent, respectively.

Cotton shows the largest decrease in exports of any of the important products, next to this being crude foodstuffs, these mainly grains, while automotive products, farm and electrical machinery showed heaviest gains.

October saw a downward trend in failures and liabilities from recent months and from a year ago. The decrease in failures from October a year ago was 10.5 per cent, although increases were shown over the like month of the preceding years. Liabilities for October were the smallest in that month since October, 1919, and the lightest for any month, except last September, since the autumn of 1925.

PRICE INDEX DROPS

Commodity price in October broke away from the so-called stabilization that has ruled for two years past, the index as of the 1st inst. declining 2.3 per cent to the lowest point since July, 1927. Only eight of ninety-six products advanced in October, while forty declined and only one group out of thirteen gained over October. The general level of prices as shown by the index is 16.8 per cent above the low point of June, 1921, but 40.5 per cent below the peak of February, 1920. Features of the month's movement were lower prices for live cattle and hogs, most provisions, textiles (notably cotton,) hides and leather, vegetable oils and metals.

Perhaps the most remarkable feature in the steel market in a month when the mill operations were inclined to sag off slowly, but steadily, was the heavy buying of rails, something like 800,000 tons. This total set a record for October, usually not an active month in this respect. Other heavy products sold well, whereas lighter forms such as sheets and strips widely used in automobile manufacturing, tended to sag in production and price. Steel-ingot production dropped to 60 to 80 per cent of capacity, the latter at Chicago, as against 80 to 85 a year ago.

GOODS SALES UP

Cotton goods sales heavily exceeded production in September and stocks decreased, while unfilled orders increased. In woolen goods, production in August decreased, while billings increased; in September production by woolen spindles decreased, while that of all other makes increased. In silk, the manufacturers in one of the largest centers have agreed to a four-day week for a while to prevent overproduction.

At this early date it is possible to say that October mail-order sales gained 24.7 per cent over a year ago and that the gain for ten months was 28.9 per cent. Chain-store sales averaged 00 and 00 per cent, respectively, above October a year ago and the ten months' period. Chain and mail-order houses combined gained 00 and 00 per cent, respectively. Department-store sales for October decreased 1.5 per cent from a year ago, but for the year to date the gain is 1.0 per cent.

THIS TRUST BUYS WHEN OTHERS SELL

DURING the recent market break, when thousands were selling hysterically, Massachusetts Investors Trust quietly and systematically purchased over 23,000 shares of 42 leading American Corporations...all of which were selling at bargain prices.

Even after making these large purchases, the trust still maintained a highly liquid position, with over $1,500,000,000 remaining in cash...strong proof of the ability of its management. Yet the charge for management is one of the lowest made by any trust.

An analysis is made by Boston News Bureau on November 14, 1929, of 31 leading investment trusts reveals the interesting fact that Massachusetts Investors Trust was the third smallest decline in the group, depreciating less than half the amount of certain other trusts. Holding the securities of over 140 outstanding corporations, at present prices it offers an exceptional investment opportunity. We recommend

MASSACHUSETTS INVESTORS TRUST
Price at Market, to yield about 6½%.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Trading Volume Slackens on Local Market as Prices Fluctuate Irregularly

With the resumption of operations yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange after a lapse of four days when security markets of the nation were closed, traders exhibited a disposition to adhere to the sidelines to ascertain the general trend. In line with trading on the New York market, dealings were relatively quiet compared with recent sessions and prices moved within a narrow range.

Trading among the oil shares, which constituted the bulk of the day's activity, was of an irregular character with fractional gains and losses chalked up at the close of the session. The Union Oil issues, the operating company and the associates strengthened, Union Oil moving up 1-4 to 45 and Union Associates, ½ to 44. Standard of California held firm to 62 while Richfield eased 1-4 to 28 5-8 and Rio Grande dropped a full point to 18 5-8. Bolsa Chica, which in view of recent field developments at Kettleman Hills, has been a popular trader of the market, closed steady at 1.40 selling ex-dividend 2 cents a share, but ranging between 1.45 and 1.37½. Macmillan was firm at 27.

Transamerica, second to Rio Grande, was the most active issue on the board and after touching 44, closed at 43⅛, off ⅛ point net. Southern California Edison, also a favorite of trading, closed firm at 56½ after reaching 56 3-4.

Security-First National Bank dropped off a point to 113; Pacific National Company, a point to 10, and Pacific Finance, 3-4 to 41. Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank yielded 5 points to 440.

Sales totaled 23,960 shares valued at $663,987; previous day 17,711 shares valued at $657,092.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Prices moved within a narrow range as trading was resumed yesterday on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange, and no changes of consequence took place. Trading activity was quiet with the dealings being confined to the more popular issues.

Cities Service, which was admitted to trading for the first time on the curb board, led the activity of the session with a turnover of 600 shares. Prices for the stock ranged between 28 5-8 and 28 7-8, closing at the latter figure. Claude Neon of Delaware eased 1-4 to 33 1-4 and Electrical Products of Washington, a full point to 12½.

Consolidated Steel dropped off ⅛ to 14½, and Intercoast Trading ½ to 22⅛. Pacific Indemnity slumped 20 points to 200. Mills Alloy transferred in a relatively active fashion and yielded 1-4 to 10. Gladding McBean firmed up 3-8 to 60, and Axelson Aircraft Engine eased 1-4 to 11.

Sales totaled 85,188 shares, valued at $111,181; previous day, 51,544 shares, valued at $80,379.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Market action on the San Francisco Stock Exchange today showed an inclination of the investing public to move out of risky territory toward safer ground.

While optimistic statements were frequently heard along Montgomery street regarding the oils, answering price trends were, in the case of all issues, less than a full point. Fractional upward moves included Honolulu, Shell, Richfield preferred and Union. Union Associates held even. Standard and Richfield nosed down gently. The general average was upward, but only slightly. Encouraging news included plans for systematic and scientific development of Texas resources on a pooling arrangement, making possible cheaper exploitation and readier conservation.

Preferred utility stocks brightened as interest of investors turned their way. Pacific Telephone and Telegraph preferred moved up 2, while Great Western 7s and Pacific Gas and Electric preferred climbed fractionally, as did Spring Valley Water. Pacific Lighting common lost 1, and Pacific Gas common and Southern Pacific Golden Gate A went down fractionally, while Pacific Public Service held its ground.

Some industrials moved up, notably Hawaiian Pineapple, which jumped 3½ points to 65. Aviation Corporation of California advanced a point, and Oliver Filters, both A and B issues, gained fractionally. These gains were balanced by losses of a point or more by Byron Jackson, El Dorado Oil Works, Jantzen, Home Fire and Marine Insurance and Bond and Share. Caterpillar, traded in for the first time on the New York Stock Exchange, eased off fractionally, along with Crown Zellerbach, Paraffine, Atlas Diesel, General Paint A and California Copper. Magnavox held steady while Kolster rose ⅛.

A drop of 5 points in Anglo and London-Paris National Bank brought the averages of that group down, although the trading was light. Transamerica lost ⅛.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Stock prices drifted about rather aimlessly in today's curb market. Most of the leading issues rallied slightly in the early trading, lost their gains before mid-day, made them up or increased them by mid-afternoon and then backed and filled toward the close, with final quotations irregular.

Lack of public interest in the market was reflected by the light volume of trading, the day's sales aggregating only 1,070,300 shares. Most of the orders now being received for curb exchange are reported to be so far away from the market that there is little chance of their being executed while prices are moving within the narrow trading range of the past week.

Electric Bond and Share and Cities Service, two of the most active public utility issues, closed with fractional gains. Cities Service recently announced it had increased its stockholders list by 50,000 names, or 20 per cent. In the recent general decline the stock fell from 68⅛ to 20. Duke Power soared 13 points, but lost nearly half its gain. American and Foreign power warrants advanced 1⅝, but Associated Gas and Electric issues were heavy.

Interest in the oils centered largely in a few pipe-line shares, particularly Eureka and Illinois, which advanced about 7 points each. Humble Oil, which was placed on a regular $22 annual basis today, closed fractionally lower.

Further weakness developed in the mining group, Newmont dropping 8½ points. Several soft spots also cropped out in the aviation group. Curtiss Aero Express dropped 20 points to a new low at 10 on one sale. It had sold as high as 52½ this year. Aviation Corporation of the Americas dropped nearly 3 points and National Aviation 1⅝.

New low prices for the year were registered by American Yvette, Arcturus Radio Tube, Carman Co., International Textbook, Fred H. Ley, Paramount Famous Lasky (when issued) and Sterchi Bros.

Deere & Co. jumped 15 points on a few sales. Associated Rayon preferred 8½ and Aluminum Company of America 4.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

STOCK PURCHASE WARRANTS

SOME are immediately valuable, may be sold separately and possess great possibilities. In this class are the warrants carried by North American Gas & Electric Company 6% Gold Debentures, which entitle holders to purchase 20 shares of the Company's Common Stock at $20 a share, although it is now selling at $21 a share.

Within 30 days (on and after January 2, 1930) warrants are detachable, and either bonds or warrants may be sold separately. As the sole funded debt of this rapidly growing utility system, the bonds are amply protected and backed by earnings of over three times interest charges. The company is logically in line for acquisition by a large holding company. We offer ulative caution. Steel mill operations were said to have been curtailed as low as 50 per cent of capacity in several instances. Several more of the smaller corporations declared extra or increased dividends. Merchandising reports were largely favorable. Montgovery Ward reported November sales at record levels, and Safeway Stores raised the annual dividend rate from $3 to $5.

The slackening in industrial activity, while seasonal at this time of year, is being watched very closely by Wall street in hope of finding definite indications of the 1930 trend. Until the current uncertainty is dispelled, few traders felt that extensive stock market operations will be warranted. Also, the statement in the National City Bank's monthly review that the banking pool which aided the market last month had not yet liquidated its holdings, was rather discouraging.

CHEMICALS SOAR

Chemical stocks were rapidly bid upward, with Columbian Carbon running up nearly 30 points in what appeared to be urgent short covering. Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, United Carbon, and United States Industrial Alcohol rose from 3 to 7 points.

General Electric, after sagging 3 1-2 points to 212, rose to 221 1-4, and closed near the top. American Telephone dropped to 218 1-4, then rallied to 224 1-4, up 1 1-4 net. American Can converted an early loss of nearly 3 points into a gain of a point. United States Steel fluctuated uncertainly, touching 159 1-4, rallying to 162 1-2, and closing at 161 1-2, off 5-8. Columbia Graphophone rose about 2 points in a turnover of more than 130,000 shares. Radio made a similar gain.

Fox Film dropped nearly 7 points in selling, based on the antitrust suit, but it had reduced its loss to 2 3-8 points by the close. Some investment rails were conspicuously heavy, such issues at Atchison, Pennsylvania and Union Pacific losing about 4 to 7 points. Curtiss Aero, very little of which is still outstanding, dropped 20 points to a new low at 60 in a small turnover.

In the commodity markets, wheat futures sagged 1-4 to 1-2 cent on disappointing cables, while corn mounted a cent and more, reflecting unfavorable weather and better cash inquiry. Cotton futures moved in a narrow range, closing slightly lower.

Foreign exchanges were steady to firm, with sterling cables again quoted at $4.87 15-16.

Wheat Futures Close Off on Bearish Mart

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Bending under the weight of nearly 10,000,000 bushels of wheat delivered here today on December contracts, the Chicago wheat market temporarily showed considerable strain. Buying support, largely from eastern sources, developed, however, on the price setbacks, and rallies were in progress at the last. Today afforded the first opportunity for a test of willingness of speculators to take actual custody of wheat bought for delivery this month, and the fact that the amount of wheat tendered was of a magnitude not often excelled had an evident tendency to depress values.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, ⅛@1c per bushel lower than Saturday's finish. Corn closed 1@1⅜c net higher, oats unchanged to ⅜c up and provisions at 2@20c gain.

Wheat values here displayed their greatest weakness in the early dealings after announcement that initial deliveries for the current month in Chicago were upward of 5,000,000 bushels, a total which of itself was greatly in excess of what in some quarters had been expected. The downward trend of the Chicago market was emphasized also by word of cooler temperatures in Argentina likely to check the spread of black rust damage. On the other hand, something of an offset was a decrease of 4,304,000 bushels in the amount of wheat on ocean passage and the fact that December deliveries today at Liverpool were next to nothing. Besides, British trade authorities were quoted to the effect that the falling off in the total of wheat afloat had brought the ocean supply near to the danger point for European importers, being the smallest in recent years.

Price rallies, which afterward were witnessed in the Chicago market, temporarily lifted quotations to a little above Saturday's finish, but fresh breaks ensued when the fact was revealed that huge additional deliveries here on December contracts made the day's total 9,181,000 bushels.

Friends of higher prices for wheat were also disappointed that the United States wheat visible supply decrease today, 2,388,000 bushels, was smaller than in general had been looked for. Subsequent upturns in prices, though, were somewhat facilitated by figures indicating that export business today in North American wheat was larger than early estimates, and aggregated 1,500,000 bushels.

Corn and oats advanced owing largely to comment that stocks of corn in commercial channels are at the vanishing point, and that the first big movement of the new crop will find a ready market.

Provisions were responsive to a rise in hog values, and also derived strength from lard buying for warehouse interests and packers.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Trading in futures on the local rubber exchange today was dull and uninteresting, there being a lack of interest to encourage business on either side of the market. The result was the dullest day since the first week in January, there being only forty tons, or 100 long-tons, changing hands.

Final quotations were 10 points net lower. London spot was quiet and unchanged at 8d, while the December position in Singapore at 7¾d was also the same in a steady market. Outside spot in the local market here fell ⅛c to 16⅛c.

DIVIDEND NOTICE

Utilities Power & Light Corporation

7% Cumulative Preferred Stock

The Board of Directors of Utilities Power & Light Corporation at a meeting held this day declared a quarterly dividend for the period ending December 31, 1929, of One Dollar and Seventy-five Cents ($1.75) per share upon the outstanding Preferred Stock of the Corporation, payable January 2, 1930, to stockholders of record at the close of business December 7, 1929.

Class A Stock

A quarterly dividend for the period ending December 31, 1929, of Fifty Cents (50c) per share on the Class A Stock also was declared, payable January 2, 1930, to stockholders of record at the close of business December 7, 1929.

Under the resolution of the Directors, the holders of Class A Stock have the right and option to accept, in lieu of their cash dividend, additional Class A Stock at the rate of one-fortieth of a share for each share of Class A Stock standing of record in their respective names at the close of business on December 7, 1929. Unless by the close of business December 18, 1929, the stockholder advises the Corporation that he desires his dividend in cash, the Corporation will send to him on January 2, 1930, the additional stock (or scrip for fractional shares) to which he is entitled.

Class B Stock

A quarterly dividend for the period ending December 31, 1929, of Twenty-five Cents per share on the Class B Stock was also declared, payable January 2, 1930, to stockholders of record at the close of business December 7, 1929.

Under the resolution of the Directors, the holders of Class B Stock have the right and option to accept, in lieu of their cash dividend, Common Stock of the Corporation at the rate of one-fortieth of a share for each share of Class B Stock standing of record in their respective names at the close of business on December 7, 1929. Unless by the close of business December 18, 1929, the stockholder advises the Corporation that he desires his dividend in cash, the Corporation will send to him on January 2, 1930, the additional stock (or scrip for fractional shares) to which he is entitled.

Common Stock

A quarterly dividend for the period ending December 31, 1929, of Twenty-five Cents per share on the Common Stock was also declared, payable January 2, 1930, to stockholders of record at the close of business December 7, 1929.

Under the resolution of the Directors, the holders of Common Stock have the right and option to accept, in lieu of their cash dividend, Common Stock of the Corporation at the rate of one-fortieth of a share for each share of Common Stock standing of record in their respective names at the close of business on December 7, 1929. Unless by the close of business December 18, 1929, the stockholder advises the Corporation that he desires his dividend in cash, the Corporation will send to him on January 2, 1930, the additional stock (or scrip for fractional shares) to which he is entitled.

Wheat Futures Close Off on Bearish Mart

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Bending under the weight of nearly 10,000,000 bushels of wheat delivered here today on December contracts, the Chicago wheat market temporarily showed considerable strain. Buying support, largely from eastern sources, developed, however, on the price setbacks, and rallies were in progress at the last. Today afforded the first opportunity for a test of willingness of speculators to take actual custody of wheat bought for delivery this month, and the fact that the amount of wheat tendered was of a magnitude not often excelled had an evident tendency to depress values.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, ⅛@1c per bushel lower than Saturday's finish. Corn closed 1@1⅜c net higher, oats unchanged to ⅜c up and provisions at 2@20c gain.

Wheat values here displayed their greatest weakness in the early dealings after announcement that initial deliveries for the current month in Chicago were upward of 5,000,000 bushels, a total which of itself was greatly in excess of what in some quarters had been expected. The downward trend of the Chicago market was emphasized also by word of cooler temperatures in Argentina likely to check the spread of black rust damage. On the other hand, something of an offset was a decrease of 4,304,000 bushels in the amount of wheat on ocean passage and the fact that December deliveries today at Liverpool were next to nothing. Besides, British trade authorities were quoted to the effect that the falling off in the total of wheat afloat had brought the ocean supply near to the danger point for European importers, being the smallest in recent years.

Price rallies, which afterward were witnessed in the Chicago market, temporarily lifted quotations to a little above Saturday's finish, but fresh breaks ensued when the fact was revealed that huge additional deliveries here on December contracts made the day's total 9,181,000 bushels.

Friends of higher prices for wheat were also disappointed that the United States wheat visible supply decrease today, 2,388,000 bushels, was smaller than in general had been looked for. Subsequent upturns in prices, though, were somewhat facilitated by figures indicating that export business today in North American wheat was larger than early estimates, and aggregated 1,500,000 bushels.

Corn and oats advanced owing largely to comment that stocks of corn in commercial channels are at the vanishing point, and that the first big movement of the new crop will find a ready market.

Provisions were responsive to a rise in hog values, and also derived strength from lard buying for warehouse interests and packers.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Trading in futures on the local rubber exchange today was dull and uninteresting, there being a lack of interest to encourage business on either side of the market. The result was the dullest day since the first week in January, there being only forty tons, or 100 long-tons, changing hands.

Final quotations were 10 points net lower. London spot was quiet and unchanged at 8d, while the December position in Singapore at 7¾d was also the same in a steady market. Outside spot in the local market here fell ¼c to 16½c.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—The bond market edged upward today in a moderately active session. Resumption of trading after the holiday found a slight improvement in basic conditions, for brokers' loans had again declined and money rates eased, but buying was confined to seasoned investment issues. Convertibles were dull and showed only minor changes after irregular fluctuations.

Liberty First and Fourth 4¼s touched new 1929 highs on small turnovers and several of the low coupon rails, which still offer reasonably attractive yields, went just above their previous tops. Industrials and utilities crept fractionally higher, although there was better than average demand for numerous oil company coupon obligations.

Gains in the carrier group averaged small, but a few of the high grade leaders like Santa Fe general 4s, Baltimore and Ohio first 5s and Southern Railway general 4s, rose ½ to 1 point.

Changes in the foreign list included a 3 point rise in Brazilian 8s and gains of a point in Danish 5½s and 4½s, but the group as a whole was somewhat irregular. Leading European government listings were firm.

Two municipal bond awards appeared in the day's news. The city of Philadelphia sold a $12,976,000 loan in 4¼s and 4½s to a syndicate headed by the First National Bank of New York on a bid of par. Boston disposed of a $4,600,000 issue of 4¼s to an Old Colony Corporation syndicate, which likewise bid 100.

The city of New York is soon to come into the market for a $65,000,000 loan in 4½ per cent serial bond and corporate stock.

New bond offerings tomorrow will include $5,895,000 in New York Central second equipment trust 4½ per cent certificates. The block is part of an authorized total of $11,175,000.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

We EARNED our State records!

THERE IS NO SPOT-LIGHT SPEED . . of new management or untried ideas . . in the three State records . . of the old-fashioned MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA.

One loan-loss in 36½ years justifies the community cautiousness of Pomona Valley in building the Mutual Building and Loan Association of Pomona to the position of Pomona's largest financial institution, with $14,000,000 resources.

WE TRAVEL THE LONG, HARD ROAD OF ECONOMY . . because our $3,000,000 paid in capital, surplus and reserve . . carries UNLIMITED LIABILITY . . as your measure of safety . . for your 6% reserve funds . . so let us tell you earnestly . . we have no dummy directors.

Our 10th floor offices, in Los Angeles, are sought by old-fashioned savers who earned their fortunes by hard work and clear thinking—and intend to get 6% safely —IF we stand microscopic examination. We DO.

You save one hour's parking charge, in the garage-basement, just south of 7th Street on the west side of Spring Street, by our validation of your ticket. WE don't think that is a contemptible economy. Economies made OUR records.

BY PORTER FLINT

With the exception of six projects along the coast at Elwood, now drilling ahead for completion, all operations have suspended for the next sixty days to enable curtailment of the daily flow to 30,000 barrels. The principal producing companies signed an agreement a week ago to cut production as a move to stabilize the oil industry and have bonded themselves individually to insure carrying out of the agreement.

A week ago the daily output was averaging about 38,000 barrels and since the program has become effective that figure has dropped to 34,016 barrels and a gradual lowering of the output will be steady throughout this week.

Of the six projects to be completed during the present proration period, four belong to the Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination, one to the Elwood Exploration Company and another to C. H. Mahoney. Indications are that the Luton-Bell No. 9, of the first named, will be placed on production today from a depth of 3405 feet, while Luton-Bell No. 10 will probably be brought in within a week or ten days as it now is drilling below 3244 feet.

According to the first report issued by H. Paul Grimm, umpire for the Elwood field, all work has been suspended on the Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination's tideland permits No. 88-2, No. 88-3; Luton-Bell No. 15 and No. 16 and Doty No. 6. The Bankline Oil Company has also suspended operations on its tideland permit No. 89-2 and No. 89-3. The Pacific Western Oil Company has halted construction work on its tideland permit No. 92, where three more projects were to be drilled.

Slightly Lower

Failure to bring in other wells at Santa Fe Springs during the past four days was instrumental in holding the field's daily average output by 3000 barrels less than the anticipated flow expected by officials in close touch with conditions there.

A week ago the daily average production for Santa Fe Springs was around 156,000 barrels, but jumped to 174,122 barrels Sunday because of more than a dozen completions at the beginning of the current proration period. Many operators held off for days before bringing in wells so that the output would not be checked against them as over-run for the new period.

Field officials expected a daily flow of at least 177,000 for the next few days, but a few more wells will have to be brought in this week if that figure is reached. The Richfield Oil Company completed its Howard No. 3 for 4100 barrels from a depth of 8101 feet, it being the only one brought in over the week-end. The company's Howard No. 5 was completed last week for 4000 barrels from the lower Clarke sand.

Suspends Drilling

Oscar Howard yesterday suspended drilling in Hathaway No. 7 in the southwesterly portion of the Santa Fe Springs field and will make no attempt soon to bring this deep test in from a depth below 9100 feet. It is asserted that a new oil sand has been discovered below the third Clarke sand and due to curtailing efforts on the part of the producers in that field the project will remain suspended for the present.

Howard's deep test had less than 200 feet to go to equal the depth of the Shell Oil Company's Nesa No. 11 at Signal Hill drilled to 9280 feet in search of production. The latter is the deepest hole in the world and put out considerable water on two production tests, but has since been idle pending further developments.

Near the corner of Little Lake and Forest roads at Santa Fe Springs the Texas Company's Patterson No. 10-A is sidetracking below 8119 feet as result of losing about 500 feet of hole because of fishing for a core barrel. This undertaking has had favorable showings of oil sand and was drilled to 8535 feet before being tied up fishing.

Oil Sand in Evidence

The Archer Oil Company has cored eight feet of oil sand and seventy feet of oil shale in its Watson No. 1 on Sec. 17, 4-13, near Compton, and is reaming preparatory to running a string of casing with bottom of the hole at 4739 feet.

Considerable gas is in evidence in Archer's test. It is located on a 200-acre lease near the intersection of Main street and Wilmington avenue.

Umpire's Report Out

The umpire's report for Santa Fe Springs field for the semimonthly period, November 16 to 30, inclusive, shows that the potential production from the 1st to the 15th inst., inclusive, will be 280,904 barrels daily and an allotted production of 150,003 barrels daily.

According to the report, the excess production from November 15 to 29, inclusive, was 4932 barrels daily, which will give an allowable production of 145,071 barrels daily for the period from the 1st to 15th inst., inclusive. The total excess production from November 15 to 29, inclusive, totaled 73,972 barrels, leaving a total of 2,176,065 barrels' production allowable for the period from the 1st to 15th inst., inclusive.

Building Derrick

The Western Gulf Oil Company is constructing derrick for Diamond Bar No. 1 wildcat to be drilled on an 1800-acre lease on the Diamond Bar ranch between Puente and Walnut, near Valley Boulevard. The test will go down just back of the old ranch house and is about six miles from the nearest test now being drilled by the State Company.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Fairly broad demand developed and a good clearance was made of yesterday's supply. Prices generally on all classes were steady to strong.

Six and a half cars of good 1124 to 1159-pound Colorado steers cashed for 11.35. Other steer sales were noted from 10.00@11.25, with common kinds down to 7.50. Two cars of light weight Mexican steers brought 8.00.

Half a load of strictly good 822-pound yearling heifers topped at 10.00, while other heifers sold from 7.25@8.50. A small lot of good cows made 8.25, while the bulk of cows, common and medium kind, cleared from 6.00@7.50, with a few at 7.75@8.00. Cutters and low cutters cleared from 3.00@5.50. Odd head of good weighty bulls turned from 7.75@8.00, with other bulls from 6.00@7.50.

CALVES—Several loads of stocker calves were included in yesterday's liberal supply. Early trading was fairly active; however, later trade was slow, with several loads unsold. The general market ruled steady to weak. Odd lots of milk vealers turned from 12.50@14.50, while the best calves in carlots topped at 11.25, with the bulk of 250 to 325-pound southwesterns from 10.00@11.00. Weighty calves and plain kind sold down to 8.00.

HOGS—Fairly broad demand existed and a good clearance was made of yesterday's liberal run. Prices generally were around steady. Yesterday's top was 10.25, with practically all of the butchers selling from 9.50@10.25, mostly 10.10@10.25 on good desirable weights. Packing sows cleared from 8.00@8.50.

SHEEP—The generaly market held around steady. Lamb offerings consisted of five and a half decks of medium to good 36 to 89-pound averages from 10.85@11.25, and a deck of thin Arizona feeder lambs at 8.10. Choice handy weight lambs were quoted up to 12.50, with medium to choice ewes from 5.00@6.50.

METAL MARKET

CLEVELAND, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Steel consumers generally are showing little interest in their first-quarter requirements. Some of the mills have opened their books for that period, but others have deferred doing so until later. Small lots continue to be placed for the various products and little new business of consequence is being placed.

Demand for track material is showing to better advantage than had been expected. Structural shape lettings have declined in the New York territory following recent heavy awards.

Scrap iron and steel prices are weak, although it is thought in some centers that the bottom of the market has been reached.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Several mills were temporarily out of the market for wool and as a consequence the piecing out business is hardly a fair test of values. However, some well-posted observers feel that the better combing staple 64s and finer wools are fairly firm, while values of short combing fine wool of all classes and grades below 64s remain uncertain. The receipts of wool during week ending November 30 amounted to 1,330,700 pounds, compared with 2,961,700 pounds the previous week.

BROWN SHOE GAINS

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (Exclusive) Brown Shoe Company and subsidiaries reported today a net income of $1,739,997 for the year ended October 31, last, equal, after preferred dividends, to $5.79 a share on 252,000 common shares, against $1,451,757, or $4.60 a share on the same common share basis in the 1928 period.

Curtiss-Wright Loss Forecast

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Net earnings of Curtiss-Wright Corporation for 1929 are expected to amount to around $5,000,000, which, after deducting $2 a share dividend on the class A stock, of which there are 1,092,537 shares outstanding, should be equivalent to approximately 50 cents a share on the 6,554,965 common shares outstanding, it was learned here today from sources close to the company.

The third-quarter earnings which were recently published show the effects of the current depression in the aviation industry. This was particularly noticeable in the case of Wright, which reported earnings for the September quarter of $299,300 against $899,200 in the 1928 period. This sharp drop is reflected in the nine months' statement which showed a net income of $1,653,800 against $1,992,000 for the 1928 period.

Midwest Utility Profits Higher

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Consolidated net earnings of the Standard Power and Light Corporation and its subsidiary and affiliated companies for the twelve months ended September 30, last, amounted to $4,328,448 after all charges including retirement reserve, and preferred dividends, equivalent to $5.41 a share on the common stock after an allowance for an additional 64 cents a share on the participating preferred stock, it was announced here today.

This compares with a balance after similar charges for the preceding twelve months ended September 30, 1928, of $2,917,628, equivalent to $3.81 a share on the common stock then outstanding after an allowance of an additional 41 cents a share on the participating preferred stock.

Tone Quiet on London Market

LONDON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—The stock market had a fairly steady tone as the new account opened today. Trading was quiet. There was a sharp rise in shares of trans-Atlantic interest. International Nickel and traction issues were in good demand and talking machines were well supported. Artificial silks had a better tone and tobaccos and textiles were steady. Margarines were firmer, while mining and rubber issues were quiet. The oil list moved irregularly. Ford Motors, Ltd. was quoted around £2. 3-8. Brazilian Traction, ordinary around 43 and International Nickel at 31 3-8.

The gilt-edge division was steady. Foreign issues were quiet. Argentine rails had a better tone, while home rails were dull.

MONTGOMERY WARD SALES RECORD GAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—November sales of Montgomery Ward & Co., totaled $29,851,303, an increase of $4,395,197, or 17.27 per cent over the same month last year, establishing a new record for the month. For the evelen months ended November 30, last, the sales were $255,731,305, an increase of $55,328,387, or 27.61 per cent over the corresponding period of 1928.

Extra Dividend Payments Made

Dividend action by a number of companies yesterday included special or extra disbursements. Safeway Stores, Inc., increased its common quarterly rate from 75 cents to $1.25, and Utah Copper paid $4 extra.

Other extra payments were: Trust Company of New Jersey, 25 cents; Household Finance Corporation, 12½ cents, and Metalcraft, 10 cents. W. T. Grant Company declared a quarterly of 25 cents on its new common, the same as was paid on the old common before the 100 per cent stock dividend. Eastern Steamship placed its new common on an annual basis of 4 per cent in stock. St. Joseph Lead and Midland Steel Products declared their usual extras.

UTILITY VOTING TRUST DISSOLVED

BALTIMORE, Dec. 2. (Exclusive) Consolidated Gas and Electric Light and Power Company of Baltimore announced today the termination of the voting trust formed last June and that stock would be distributed to holders of the voting trust certificates. The trust was formed as a means of insuring a continuance of the present management and policies, and of avoiding the risk of manipulation in the company's stock.

Investment Counselors for over a Quarter Century
Every Investor Should do this . . . . and do it now!
Straighten out his current position. Clean house of the undesirables. Balance his list. Decide what purchases to make.
Not for many years have security prices been at levels where so highly satisfactory a program can be worked out, given the men and the resources to do it. Experience, investment judgment, ample facilities are necessary, however. No one individual can combine all these essential factors. Yet they must be present to work out a productive investment program and unearth the securities whose purchase will keep it operating to best advantage.
Brookmire Service is used by thousands of investors. Its record can be checked with your bank, with any economist. Apply any test you want to learn of its background, standing and ability to serve investors. Meanwhile, mail the coupon for a complete description. We will send you, also, a copy of our latest report on current market conditions, outlining what policy is best now.

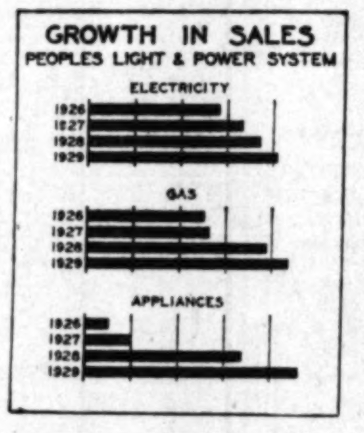
GOLDEN STATE Outfitting Co., Inc.
declares 2% quarterly dividend to stockholders of record as of December 15, 1929, payable December 31, 1929. Mr. Samuel Krantz, President of the Company, started this business five years ago, not as a corporation, and since incorporating six months ago is now operating three stores. He claims to have a lot of faith for better business in 1930. Additional locations are now under consideration, as more units will be opened in 1930.



Standards for Measuring Investment Values
Continued Growth
BECAUSE the facilities for gas, water and electricity are built into our homes and factories during construction, the growth of these utilities is coincident with the growth of population and the expansion of industry.
Peoples Light and Power Corporation system, supplying electricity and gas to a constantly increasing number of homes and a wide range of diversified industries located in 19 states, has a record of continued growth which is particularly noteworthy.
As shown in the accompanying chart, every branch of the Corporation's activities has enjoyed a steady and pronounced growth. Net operating income for the twelve months ended September 30, 1929, after deducting operating expenses, taxes, maintenance and depreciation, resulted in an increase of 13.78% over that for the preceding twelve months' period.
Peoples Light and Power Corporation is a wholly owned and an important subsidiary of Tri-Utilities Corporation which controls more than $290,000,000 of public utility properties operating in 26 states and serving a population estimated in excess of 4,585,000.

EARLY-BIRD BANDIT IN STORE ROBBERY

A bandit chose morning opening time yesterday to hold up the manager of a Safeway Store at 1440 West Tenth street. When R. Simon, manager, alighted from a street car in front of his store, the bandit met him with a revolver and forced him to open the store and the cash register. After taking $121, the early-bird bandit made his getaway.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

En un Rápido Inglés Viene al Mundo una Criatura

LONDRES, Diciembre 2.—La señora Winnifred Scott, de Edimburgo, ha agregado una página interesante a los anales de uno de los trenes más famosos del mundo, el "Flying Scotsman". En un compartimiento de tercera clase, y mientras el tren marchaba hacia Londres a sesenta millas por hora, la citada señora io a luz una criatura. El tren no moderó su velocidad, y los empleados del mismo dieron con un médico y una enfermera entre los viajeros. El y ella asistieron a la parturiente, que salió del duro trance sin novedad.

Ahora viene el problema de registrar el nacimiento. La ley inglesa quiere que se les registre en la parroquia donde ocurren; pero, en este caso, nadie se fijó donde ocurrió el incidente, del que tendrá que conocer el juez del Registro Civil.

El Ex-Senador Edge Presta Juramento como Enviado a París

WASHINGTON, Diciembre 2.—Walter E. Edge, senador que fue por el Estado de Nueva Jersey, ha prestado hoy juramento en el ministerio de Estado como embajador de los Estados Unidos en Francia. Le tomó la protesta, Miles Shand, también residente de Nueva Jersey, y ex-jefe de la sección de nombramientos.

El embajador Edge permanecerá hoy y mañana en Washington discutiendo sobre las labores de la embajada en París con el subsecretario Castle y los miembros del ministerio de Estado que regresaron ha poco de Francia. Se embarcará el 6 del actual a bordo del vapor "Ile de France".

Penados que Quieren Fundar un Puesto de Legionarios

OSSINING (Nueva York) Diciembre 2.—Más de 300 vetranos de la Guerra Mundial, hoy confinados en el presidio de Sing Sing, han solicitado permiso del señor Lawes, alcaide del penal, para organizar en Sing Sing un puesto de la Legión Norteamericana. Lawes ha consentido en tratar este asunto con Jesse Collyer, jefe de la Legión en el condado de Westchester.

Quedará Vacante algún Tiempo el Puesto de Morrow

WASHINGTON, Diciembre 2.—El presidente Hoover probablemente dejará pendiente por varios meses el nombramiento de sucesor de Dwight W. Morrow, embajador en Méjico. Se ha hecho saber al señor Hoover que el señor Morrow, una vez terminada su misión de delegado a la conferencia del desarme en Londres, será postulado candidato republicano al senado por el Estado Nueva Jersey, en las primarias del verano próximo.

NOTAS LOCALES

La Fractura el Hombro una Piedra Disparada por un Tren

A. S. Dixon, habitante en el 437 de la calle de Cedar, ha sido víctima de uno de los más raros accidentes que se conozcan.

Camino de la iglesia, se detuvo Dixon la manana del domingo en la esquina de la Avenidas 39 y Pasadena para dejar pasar un tren del Santa Fe, que iba a buena velocidad. La rueda de uno de los vagones lanzó fuera de la zona de servicio una gran piedra, que le pegó a Dixon en el hombro derecho y dio con él en tierra.

Después de haber estado sentado en la iglesia durante casi todo el servicio, sintió que se desvanecía, y fue conducido a la Casa de Socorro de la avenida de Pasadena, donde le apreciaron la fractura del hombro lesionado.

Médico de Azusa Condenado a Cinco Años de Prisión

Ayer ha sido sentenciado por el juez superior Wilson a cinco años de reclusión en San Quintín el doctor George E. Darrow, convicto de asesinato en segundo grado, con motivo de la muerte de la señora Jennie Peterson, de 23 años de edad, en Julio próximo pasado.

Se dictó sentencia luego que el tribunal hubo rechazado la solicitud de "probation" hecha por el doctor Darrow. Sus defensores han apelado, y, en tal virtud, el juez dictó se suspendiera hasta el 6 de Enero la ejecución de la sentencia.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

III.

Sabían que desde Inglaterra podían ir a su tierra (They knew that they could get home from England). Pero el buque se detuvo en otra población groenlandesa, y, estando allí avistaron un vapor (But the ship stopped at another Greenland town. While they were there, a steamer was seen). Se vino acercando, y pudieron ver las barras y estrellas tremolando en su mástil (It came nearer. They could see the stars and stripes flying from her mast). Era un vapor norteamericano enviado para buscar al doctor Kane (It was an American steamer sent to find Doctor Kane). El doctor Kane y sus hombres rebosaban de alegría, y botaron una vez más al agua su botecito (Doctor Kane and his men were full of joy. They pushed their little boat into the water once more). Este botecito se llamaba "Le Fe", y había llevado a Kane y su gente a través de cientos de millas de helados mares (This little boat was called the "Faith". It had carried Kane and his men hundreds of miles in icy seas).

Give the children more of Mother's Time

Because of the work of men who make electrical appliances, mothers have more time than ever before to give to the youngsters.

You rarely hear "Mother's too busy—don't bother Mother now" in homes where electric refrigerators and cooking appliances speed up the preparation of meals—where electric vacuum cleaners, sewing machines, dish-washers save time from old tread-mill tasks—where electric washing machines and ironers make quick work of the family laundry.

Westinghouse has developed all types, sizes and ratings of motors for makers of home appliances.

PORTER OUSTER ACTION QUASHED

Court Dismisses Complaint Brought by Merrick

Violation, if Any, Held to be Only Misdemeanor

"Principle" Back of Legal Fight Merrick Says

If Mayor Porter violated the law technically by not filing a correct statement of his campaign expenses, he is guilty of a misdemeanor, which, under the City Charter of Los Angeles, does not require a forfeiture of his office as a penalty, according to the ruling of Superior Judge Hahn yesterday in sustaining the motion to dismiss the contest brought by H. H. Merrick, real estate dealer, who asked that the Mayor be ousted on the grounds that he failed to file a correct statement relative to his campaign expenses in both the primary and general elections.

In sustaining the motion, which had been argued for several days by attorneys on both sides, Judge Hahn held that the statement, or complaint, as filed by Merrick, contesting Porter's election, did not constitute a cause of action and that the court did not have jurisdiction to pass on the matter.

SPECTATORS REBUKED

Applause from scores of admirers of the Mayor burst forth as Judge Hahn finished giving his decision. Judge Hahn sharply rapped for order and rebuked the spectators for the outburst.

"This is a courtroom and not a public hall," thundered the judge. The noise subsided.

Mayor Porter arose from his seat in the front row and immediately was surrounded by his friends.

"Of course I am gratified with the outcome of the case," the Mayor declared, then added: "However, I feel that I haven't done anything that is wrong."

As soon as the case was over a number of witnesses who had been summoned by Merrick rushed forward to claim their witness fees.

CONFERENCE PLANNED

Following the ruling Attorney Arthur Guerin, who, with Attorneys Roland Swaffield, E. H. Delorey and Clifford Thoms, represented the contestant, made the following statement:

"The lawyers for Merrick held a consultation this afternoon to determine what the next step will be. It was decided to trace the law and authorities and then follow one of two sources, either to file an appeal to the Appellate Court, appealing from Judge Hahn's ruling on the motion to dismiss, or file a petition with the highest court asking for a writ of mandamus to compel the Superior Court to hear our contest. You see, Judge Hahn in his ruling declared he did not have the jurisdiction to hear it."

Attorney Guerin further declared that whatever action is taken will be taken at once although Merrick has thirty days to perfect an appeal. Mr. Merrick declined to comment upon Judge Hahn's decision, except to state that the case will be appealed.

"I am in this fight," said Mr. Merrick, "for a principle and not for any personal reasons. It has been stated that I am opposed to Mayor Porter because he refused to make some political appointments that I was urging. This is a lie out of the whole cloth. I do not know the Mayor, never having met him. I never was in his office, and I never, nor has anyone for me, ever approached the Mayor or anyone else regarding any political appointment whatever.

HE MAY BE FIFTH ON POLICE BOARD

Edgar T. Wehn

EDGAR WEHN NOMINATED BY PORTER

Grand Juryman Mayor's New Choice for Seat on Police Commission

The nomination to the Police Commission of Edgar T. Wehn, a member of the present grand jury, was submitted to the Council yesterday by Mayor Porter. The Council referred the nomination to its Police and Fire Committee, and in the normal procedure the nomination will be brought up before the body for confirmation Monday.

Wehn is a retired contractor, a Native Son of the Golden West, a member of the Church Brotherhood, through his affiliation with the Magnolia-avenue Christian Church, and has lived in Los Angeles since 1889. He resides at 2007 Budlong avenue.

The place Wehn is to fill completes the membership of the commission, which has been deadlocked, two and two, for several weeks over the filing of charges against Chief of Police Davis. The position was made vacant last August by the resignation of Del A. Schweitzer.

His membership on the grand jury will not interfere with his filling the position on the Police Commission, Wehn said yesterday, in announcing that he will accept the Porter appointment if confirmed. He explained that the final reports of the present grand jury are now in course of preparation and that the disbandment of the 1929 investigating body is expected within the next two weeks.

"If the grand jury should not complete its work for the year before my confirmation," Wehn explained, "I suppose I will be released from that duty to accept the new post."

The new Porter appointee declared he will join the Police Commission as a "neutral" and not with any fixed beliefs on matters now pending before the body. "I am open and above board on everything," he said, "and can accept the appointment without bias or any feeling on any matters."

He said that he was familiar with the attempt to file charges against Chief Davis only through his newspaper reading and had never given the matter any study. "I have no opinion whatever on the Davis matter and have never looked into it," Wehn said.

Wehn said that he supported Porter during the Mayoralty campaign and that he was a friend of the executive.

Mayor Porter, two weeks ago, tried unsuccessfully to fill the vacancy on the commission by the nomination of Ben L. Goodheart, an attorney. However, it was discovered that Goodheart was the subject of

INQUEST CLEARS GIRL IN CRASH

Coroner's Jury Exonerates Daughter of Bell

Driver Says Women Victims Were Seen Too Late

Aide of Fitts Indicates No Charge to be Filed

Minnewa Bell, 18-year-old daughter of Alphonzo Bell, Beverly Hills multimillionaire, was exonerated by a Coroner's jury yesterday of any culpability for the accident on Thanksgiving Day in which she ran down with her automobile and killed one woman, injured a second so seriously she died and slightly injured a third.

The jury returned its verdict after a hearing at the Dayton undertaking establishment in Beverly Hills, the hearing consuming the entire afternoon. Anyone and everyone who knew anything about the accident was asked to testify by Deputy Coroner Kane, who conducted the inquest. The District Attorney's office was represented by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman, who indicated that in view of the verdict it is not at all likely his office will prefer any charges.

MISS BELL TESTIFIES

Miss Bell herself was the last witness to testify. Apparently on the verge of breaking down at times as she sat in the witness chair, she gave her version of the accident in low tones. Kane had advised her that she need not testify if she thought she might incriminate herself, but she said she would tell all she knew.

She had been playing tennis with her father at home during the afternoon, and had dressed for evening dinner and then took the car to go to the local railway station to meet her cousin. As she came down Santa Monica Boulevard, she said, she had observed particularly that it was difficult to see very far ahead. She estimated her speed at between twenty-five and thirty miles per hour.

Suddenly she saw immediately in front of her car the three women.

DISAGREE ON DISTANCES

"It was just like that," she told the jury with a quick gesture of the hand, when asked how much time elapsed from the time she first saw the women and when her car struck them. She had applied the brakes with all her might immediately, and swerved the car. She could not estimate distances asked of her with any degree of certainty, she said.

There was some discrepancy in the testimony of the various witnesses as to just where the women were when struck. The only survivor, Mrs. Laura Nirdlinger, said she and her mother, Mrs. Lillian Briggs, had just alighted from the street car and had joined Mrs. Mary McCann, and the three together started across the street, directly at the crossing. She said she had made sure no automobiles were coming from the east, and turned her attention to the west. The nearest cars she observed in that direction, she said, were a block away. She held up her hand, waving it, and started out.

Suddenly, from the west, Miss Bell's car loomed up. She described the visibility conditions as a "nasty light." Mrs. McCann was killed outright and Mrs. Briggs died the next day.

SPEED ESTIMATED

Dr. J. A. Askey was within forty feet of the accident when it happened, he testified. He could not see the three women, he said, as he approached them doing about twenty-five miles an hour. Miss Bell had just passed him doing between thirty-five and forty miles per hour, he thought. He thought the women were about fifteen feet west of the crosswalk when hit. Asked directly what he thought of the accident, he said he had studied the conditions there at the

ELK HILLS OIL TRIAL STARTS

Suit to Cancel Naval Reserve Leases Commenced by Government Before Nevada Judge Here

With batteries of attorneys arrayed against each other yesterday in the court of United States District Judge Norcross of Nevada, sitting in this district, the trial of the government against the Pan-American Petroleum Corporation was started yesterday by opening statements of counsel. Judge Norcross, whose name was withheld for some time, came here especially to try the case, which involves the possible cancellation of oil leases in Elk Hills, Kern county, valued at $15,000,000. It is expected the case will last about three weeks.

It is charged by the government that the leases involved were obtained by the Pan-American company through fraud between Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate, and Albert B. Fall, formerly Secretary of the Interior, about the time that Doheny gave $100,000 to Fall "as a loan to a dear old friend."

The government, represented by former Senator Atlee Pomerene, assisted by Thomas M. Kirby and Frank Harrison, assistants to the Attorney-General, asserted in an opening statement yesterday by Mr. Pomerene that the leases were obtained illegally, inasmuch as Fall obtained a Presidential order transferring control of the leases from the Navy Department to the

Fund Advised for Hangars

The Finance Committee yesterday recommended that $83,000 be appropriated from the Permanent Improvement Fund for the construction of two hangars at the Municipal Airport, but refused to approve additional requests for $42,000 for drainage, fences, utilities, roads, taxiways and runways. The committee acted upon recommendations of Director of Airports Barnitz and approved by Efficiency Director Knox, who declared his belief that the total of $125,000 was money well spent in developing the field.

BETHLEHEM TO ACQUIRE LARGE STEEL PLANT HERE

Entry Into Local Field With Deal Involving Millions Follows on Corporation's Purchase

The second entry by a national steel corporation into the Los Angeles industrial field within five weeks was announced yesterday in San Francisco by E. G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, who stated that his company will acquire the local plant of the Southern California Iron and Steel Company.

The Los Angeles plant, located at Slauson and Boyle avenues, will be sold to Bethlehem along with the holdings of the Pacific Coast Steel Company, which has plants in South San Francisco and Seattle, Wash. The local plant is affiliated with the northern group.

As predicted exclusively by The Times on November 1, last, when the United States Steel Corporation announced acquisition of the local plant of the Columbia Steel Corporation in a $46,630,000 deal, the Bethlehem group has found it necessary to enter the local field in competition with the United States Steel Corporation.

MILLIONS INVOLVED

Although no purchase price for either the local plant or Pacific Coast Steel was announced, the Southern California plant's assets as reported on December 31, 1928, were $3,587,128, and the Pacific Coast Steel's assets, $10,260,642.

Yesterday's announcement came as the result of a conference in San Francisco between Grace and his associates, and D. E. McLaughlin, president of both western organizations involved in the sale plan.

"Bethelem officials for some years have studied the steel situation on the Pacific Coast with a view to establishing manufacturing plants in this rapidly growing section of the country," Grace stated.

"The properties to be acquired will be operated through a separate subsidiary company having an active management with headquarters on the Pacific Coast.

"It will be Bethlehem's policy to develop the properties to the fullest extent for local and economic production, supplementing this production with products shipped by water from Bethelem's eastern steel plant.

"With this combination of resources and opportunities Bethlehem will be able more advantageously and effectively to serve the Pacific Coast territory with a full line of steel products."

VARIED OUTPUT

The plants to be taken over by Bethlehem have a steel ingot capacity of 380,000 gross tons a year. They produce billets, merchant and reinforcing bars, light structural shapes, transmission towers, universal plates, light rails, tie plates, splice bars, forgings, bolts, nuts, rivets and miscellaneous products.

Of these products the Southern California Steel and Iron Company manufactures merchant and reinforcing bars, forgings, bolts, nuts and rivets. It is considered the largest bolt-and-nut producing plant in the West with its output estimated at 60,000 gross tons a year.

The Slauson-avenue plant embraces twenty-five acres and owns an additional fourteen acres now in reserve for probable expansion.

On acquiring the Columbia plant, United States Steel announced that it will start production here of structural steel and it is considered likely in local industrial circles that Bethlehem will match stride and add a structural steel unit to the local plant.

At present the Southern California Steel and Iron Company operates a battery of three open-hearth furnaces, five reheating furnaces, forging press on which many of the steel forgings for the local oil industry are made, and two trains of rolling mills for light merchant iron and steel products, according to R. D. Sangster, manager of the industrial department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

TAX COLLECTOR BURIED IN CASH

More Than $3,000,000 Paid in on Final Day

Deputies Borrowed to Aid in Handling Crowd

Many Millions Received by Checks in Mail

Expecting a record of more than $3,000,000 in tax collections for the last day, County Tax Collector Welch yesterday borrowed deputies from other county departments to help the tax collectors herd crowds of taxpayers through his office.

A score of deputy sheriffs were on duty in the halls of the third floor of the Hall of Justice, where men and women stood in line with their hands full of money and certified checks. Deputy tax assessors assisted in directing the crowds.

CHECKS ACCEPTED

Because of facilities for paying taxes by check, thousands of taxpayers availed themselves of this convenience for the first time. Many, however, preferred to hand in cash and have their receipts stamped "paid" before their eyes. The bills paid by check are not receipted immediately, but are held in the office until the check clears, and are then mailed to the taxpayer.

More than $30,000,000 has been sent to the tax office by mail, not opened because employees were busy at windows with taxpayers who went to the office. This vast accumulation of mail will be handled within the next two weeks.

WORK SPEEDED

Meanwhile two deputy collectors, Mary Watt and Grace McPherson, operated a newly devised mechanical envelope opener, which slits letters at the rate of several hundred a minute.

There is to be collected this year a total of $124,894,451. Half of this amount must have been in the tax office by midnight last night. The rest is payable April 28, 1930. Many taxpayers choose to send in the entire amount at once, and about 60 per cent of the total, it is estimated, either has been paid in at the windows or is in the mail waiting to be opened. Of this amount approximately $29,500,000 will have been handed to collectors in the form of cash or certified checks, Mr. Welch estimates.

PARK SUPERINTENDENT HOME

Supt. Frank Shearer of the Department of Parks, returned yesterday after several weeks' absence, during which he toured the East and South. He was a guest and speaker at the recent convention of park superintendents at Miami, Fla. He inspected parks and botanic gardens in leading cities gathering ideas for the development of the Los Angeles Botanic Garden. Cities he visited were St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit, Toronto, Buffalo, Ithaca, Boston, New York, Washington, Miami and New Orleans.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THIS is the season of the year when the stores are filled with diaries with beautiful covers and gold-edged leaves.

It is time well spent to keep a diary. Not your fool "impressions," nor a record of what you did Tuesday morning five years ago come Michelmas. It should instead be a log book of facts.

Had I kept a record of the strange and interesting things various people have told during the long years of my newspaper life my present condition of intellectual profundity would be almost beyond human endurance.

THE SHINING SARDINE

There was a story on the shipping-news page last Friday which makes the reader gulp with astonishment.

The expectation of the fishing colony at San Pedro is that 3,500,000 cases—not cans—of sardines will be shipped out of Los Angeles Harbor this season. The catch now amounts to 2000 tons of these silver fish every day.

We think of Los Angeles as a great oil town; a great movie town. We do not realize that it is one of the greatest fish ports in the world.

FISHERS OF YESTERYEARS

It is a somewhat melancholy fact that this great fishing industry is almost exclusively in the hands of foreigners—Czecho-Slovaks, Austrians, Italians, Scandinavians and Japanese. The race of Yankee fishermen who brave the hardships and sufferings of the Newfoundland "banks" never seems to have been drawn to the soft waters of this coast.

INTERESTING MEN

The business of eating around with other people is interesting in that it reveals the other side of their lives.

For instance, both Henry O'Melveny and Oscar Mueller—besides being distinguished lawyers—are amateur florists of world-wide reputation.

Chief of Police Davis is a geologist of parts, and a Bible student of rather extraordinary knowledge.

Chester Brown, the oil magnate, has one of the finest libraries of California history to be found.

Sam Behrendt, the insurance fellow, has the greatest collection of Californiana outside of the Bancroft Library at Berkeley.

Albert Shelby Levino, the scenario writer, has a reference library of early American history that skins the Public Library by a city block.

John T. Gaffey, the pioneer, has one of the finest libraries in America, and a priceless collection of historical documents.

POINTS OF INTEREST, HUH!

This is coming to be the most interesting city in America. The only really uninteresting features in Los Angeles are the "points of interest" poked under the noses of the tourists.

RAIN RECORDS DROWN FEAR

Weather Data Show Southland Gets Moisture Despite Any Late Starts

The fact that Los Angeles this season is experiencing rather more dry weather than normal is no especial cause for alarm over prospects for the entire season, according to United States Weather Bureau records. The wettest season in more than a half-century received less than normal rainfall until in December. One season, almost an exact duplicate of the present one to date, received little rain until in February but in spite of that the total fall for the season scarcely was below normal.

For the fifty-two years since the bureau was established, the average Los Angeles rainfall figures 15.25 inches of water for the season, July 1-June 30, with 2.08 inches of that total ordinarily falling before December 1. The wettest season since the records began in 1877 was the 1883-4 season when 38.18 inches of water fell. Yet there was no rain that season until in December with the exception of one fall in October. In October, 1.42 inches of water fell, making the 1883-4 season total to December 1 at that amount against the normal of 2.08 inches for the period.

So far this season, Los Angeles has received .32 of an inch of rain. In view of the normal of 2.08 to December 1 this figure has caused alarm to some. However, in the 1917-18 season but .36 of an inch of water had fallen by December 1; December, which normally yields 2.63 inches, added but .07 of an inch; January, which normally yields 3.10 inches, added but .50 of an inch more—and then it rained. By the end of the season the total was 13.86 inches—barely under the 15.23 normal. The rain fell in February, 6.14 inches, and March, 6.21

DAM SETTLEMENT STARTED

Supervisors Name Committee to Compromise Issue Arising Under San Gabriel Contract

After a conference with representatives of the contracting company of Fisher, Ross, MacDonald & Kahn, which has a contract for building a 450-foot dam on a site in San Gabriel Canyon that was condemned by the State engineer, the County Board of Supervisors yesterday appointed County Counsel Mattoon and Vincent Morgan a committee to confer with the contractors and their attorneys with a view to compromising the $11,250,000 contract.

The Supervisors stated afterward that no definite claim has been advanced by the contractors, who already have been paid $1,831,312.80 for excavations, at the rate of $2.95 a yard.

At the same time there was before the board a formal opinion prepared by Roy Dowds, flood-control counsel, and approved by County Counsel Mattoon, in which it is stated that the county has ample legal precedent for canceling the contract for the proposed dam. Mr. Dowds cited two New York decisions in support of his position, one involving a contract for the delivery of a shipload of coffee because of a sanitary rule against landing of cargoes from a certain South American port from which the ship sailed, because of an epidemic in that port.

The Supreme Court of New York held in that instance that because it was against the law to land the cargo, payment for it could not be forced.

The other precedent was the failure to proceed with the building of a canal lock, because of defects discovered in the foundations. The

MANIAC-KILLER OF FIVE HUNTED

Body Believed Garcia's Will be Examined Closely

Theory of Insane Murderer Now Held by Officers

Robbery Motive Considered Among Possibilities

Search for an insane murderer who is believed to have planned and executed the wholesale killing of the five members of the Alvarez-Garcia family of San Fernando because of some fancied wrong conceived in a disordered mind was ordered last night by Capt. Bright, chief of the Sheriff's homicide division.

The possibility that a maniac destroyed the five members of the family entered the investigation of the deaths yesterday after the body of a man believed to be the husband and stepfather, Luciano Garcia, was found Sunday in a shallow grave in Rabbit Acres, a mile south of Azusa.

The body of the mother, Mrs. Helena Alvarez-Garcia, and the remains of her three children, Charles Alvarez, 18 years of age, and his sisters, Carmelita, 12, and Elisa, 6, were discovered in Bootleggers' Canyon, four miles northeast of San Fernando, Thanksgiving Day.

EXTREME VIOLENCE

Capt. Bright believes the five murders were carried out with extreme violence. He points out that a skull of one of the girls was crushed, Charles' head was missing and the man believed to be Garcia died from gunshot wounds in the back of his head.

Papers found on the man's body indicated he was Garcia, but in the absence of more positive identification and the probability that the investigation deals with someone of twisted mentality who might have planted the cards and papers, Capt. Bright is making further inquiry.

In that connection the search for Luciano Garcia is not entirely ended. If the theory that an insane killer committed the crimes eventually proves correct, Capt. Bright admits the possibility that Garcia may have been killed elsewhere and buried and the Garcia papers planted on the latest victim found to mislead any investigation.

ROBBERY ELEMENT

Last trace of Garcia alive, however, places him in the vicinity of Azusa between October 10 and 14, last. Manuel Flores, a ranch worker who boarded with the Alvarez-Garcia family at their home in Griffith street, San Fernando, said he took Garcia to Azusa in a truck between those dates. Mrs. Alvarez-Garcia and her children disappeared about October 10.

The element of robbery as a motive for the murder of Garcia also is present Capt. Bright says, despite the assertion of the officers that a $10 bill was found on the body. From Flores the deputies learned that Garcia had $150 with him when he went to Azusa, presumably to work on a ranch. A suspect is under surveillance on that theory, Capt. Bright says.

Decomposition of the body believed to be Garcia's was rapid. Slightly more than seven weeks have elapsed since he last was seen and physical identity of the body is impossible, but Capt. Bright says under certain conditions such dissolution is not uncommon. An autopsy will be performed today and a Coroner's inquest in all the deaths will be conducted later.

LICENSE DISTRIBUTION FIXED

Ready for Motoring Public on 16th Inst.

Kathryn Sheidhauer Shows One of New Auto Plates

AUTOMOBILE license plates for 1930 will be ready for general distribution on the 16th inst., it was announced by officials of the State Motor Vehicle Bureau yesterday.

Hundreds of tons of boxes containing plates for the Los Angeles area were received and a greatly augmented corps of clerks began preparations for their distribution. Few changes in the rules for obtaining the plates have been made.

One new rule affects the installment payment plan for truck licenses that has been in effect for several years. Formerly truck licenses could be paid for quarterly, but the new rule permits truck owners to pay the installments monthly.

The 100 per cent penalty on delinquents is still in effect and will be enforced after January 15, next, it was asserted. License plates for Los Angeles and contiguous areas will begin with 1M-0001 and will continue down the alphabet to the letter "Y," which will begin with the San Diego area.

The new plates will have black letters on a gold background. It is expected that the 2,000,000-mark will be reached in their issuance. The largest single order for licenses was received yesterday from the Union Oil Company, with a check for $28,000.

Preliminary to the rush of the general public the clerks are taking care of orders from large corporations so as to minimize delay when the motorists make their annual calls for licenses.

spent by Mayor Porter or by his friends and I am desirous that the people of Los Angeles shall have all of the facts so that they may judge why this money was expended.

"If Mayor Porter had no guilty knowledge that this money was being used in his behalf, he has no need to fear my suit, which will have the effect of absolving him from all blame.

NO NEED TO HIDE

"There is no need for him or his counsel to hide behind legal technicalities unless the case on its merits will not stand the light of day. The City Prosecutor and other court officials have blocked my action at every turn.

"All that I want to bring out and will bring out unless prevented by legal technicalities, is who furnished the money, why they furnished it and whether the Mayor had guilty knowledge of this when he made his affidavit that he had knowledge of only $23,838 in the primaries and but $1759 in the finals. Mayor Porter should be as anxious as anyone else to see this matter cleared up.

"It is possible that friends spent approximately $175,000, and successfully concealed this from the Mayor, but incredulous citizens are entitled to the proof.

"If successful in my suit, it will mean that office in Los Angeles will not again be sold to the highest bidder."

Attorneys Joe Scott, George Bush and W. J. Clark defended the Mayor.

"That ends the possibility of a long and tedious trial entailing the examination of more than 100 witnesses," said Attorney Bush.

LEGAL PHASES

In sustaining the motion to dismiss the action Judge Hahn held that he had no jurisdiction to pass on it because the facts set up by the contestant do not constitute a cause of action as contemplated in Section 1111 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which provides for the removal of an elected official under certain circumstances. An official can be removed from office after conviction of a felony, but not a misdemeanor.

Attorneys defending the Mayor said Merrick was endeavoring to bring his contest under the felony feature of the Penal Code in a civil proceeding.

They held that the nearest Merrick comes to it in his statement, or complaint, would be charging Mayor Porter with a misdemeanor and that under a conviction for a misdemeanor he could not be punished by a forfeiture of his office, under the General Laws, or under the City Charter of Los Angeles, which says:

"Section 9. An office becomes vacant when the incumbent thereof dies, resigns, is adjudged insane, convicted of a felony, or of an offense involving a violation of his official duties . . ."

WHAT LAWYERS SAY

Attorneys for the Mayor assert that even though he were found guilty of a misdemeanor he could be fined, or jailed, but could not be ousted from office by a court order. The ouster would have to come, following conviction, under the recall as provided in the City Charter, they assert.

Merrick in his statement filed in the contest, accuses Mayor Porter of falsifying his vouchers filed showing his campaign expenses in the primary and general elections. He does not accuse Porter of not filing any, but of filing incorrect vouchers by not itemizing all moneys received, from whom received, and how spent.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

A group of workers in the Porter-for-Mayor campaign conducted a meeting yesterday after Judge Hahn's decision and adopted resolutions expressing confidence in and support of Mayor Porter. A. Melvin Mayo, who acted as supervisor of the campaign district managers, presented the resolutions to Mayor Porter.

Later Mr. Mayo issued copies of the resolutions which were signed only "Committee," stating that several members of the committee did not wish their names printed. It is understood that several members of the committee are Porter appointees and city officials and employees.

SEVERAL SUING MERRICK FOR FEES

Asking for small amounts which one of them declared were due as witness fees in the outster suit against Mayor Porter, four men yesterday filed suit in Small Claims Court before Municipal Judge Galbreth against Harry Merrick, 704 Law Building.

Albert Davis, 1060 North Genessee street, asks $6; J. P. Curran, 2314½ Maple avenue, $6.42; Charles Self, 3010½ Asbury street, $14, and E. L. Britt, 611 West Thirty-seventh street, $5.60. Judge Galbreth will set the date for trial later.

inches, with some slight fall in succeeding months.

The 1914-15 season was another that gives reassurance in the present situation. Up to December 1 only .52 of an inch of water had fallen against the 2.08 normal. Then December yielded 3.73, February and March added their heavy rainfalls and at the end of the season the total 17.05 inches was above the normal 15.23 inches.

NEARLY AVERAGE FALL

The worst drouth in the period to December 1 was in the 1891-2 season when but .06 of an inch of rain had fallen. However, it began to rain in December and by the end of the season the 11.85-inch total was nearly up to the normal 15.23 inches.

A somewhat similar experience occurred the next season after the bureau was opened when to December 1, 1878, but .14 of an inch of rain had fallen, yet the rains, beginning in December, raised the total to 11.35 inches.

The 1890-1 season was another to reassure present alarmists. That year the period to December 1 saw but .25 of an inch of water against the 2.08 normal, but the end of the season totaled 13.36 inches, against the 15.23 normal.

ANOTHER STEEL DEAL COMING UP

Angeles plant includes Mr. McLaughlin, John E. Barber, Henry M. Robinson, George H. Robinson, John E. Jardine, Samuel K. Rindge, Harry J. Bauer and E. S. Houdlette.

Members were unable to expand Grace's rather short statement, but A. C. Denman, president of the organization from 1913 to 1924, stated that the plant is one of the oldest in Los Angeles and led during the war a nearly single-handed fight against union interference.

He took the plant over in 1913 when it was known as the California Industrial Company, then confined to the manufacture of bar iron. He changed the name to its present one when he installed at the old plant at Fourth and Mateo streets, the first open-hearth furnace in Los Angeles, making possible the manufacture of steel products.

It was during the war when his plant was filing government orders for ship steel that a union worker was discharged for intoxication and a walkout was ordered by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers when Denman refused to take the man back.

Denman appealed to the courts and an injunction was returned prohibiting picketing and interfering with operations at the local plant by unionists. A strict open-shop policy was invoked by Denman and he said last night that the plant still operates as open shop.

time and concluded "it was a fifty-fifty proposition."

Officers testified that a forty-mile speed was permitted on the street and "technically, fifteen miles at the intersection."

The question of liquor was brought out directly, Dr. Charles F. Nelson of the Beverly Hills police department, stating he had seen nothing to indicate drinking on Miss Bell's part; in fact, there was nothing to bring up the thought of drinking. Dr. James W. Young, as a formality, had given sobriety tests to her and found no evidence of drinking. The officers had searched the car and found no liquor.

DRIVER EXONERATED

Skid marks of the car measured from fifty-five to sixty feet. There were bloodstains on the pavement thirty-six feet west of the crosswalk, in the direction from which Miss Bell came.

J. W. Clark, grandson of Mrs. Briggs, said he had passed the scene of the accident just shortly before it occurred, and he could see for a distance of a block.

The jury found that the women were accidentally killed and that the driver of the car was exonerated of all culpability.

President Hoover has saved the country from a financial panic. Getting the billion-dollar boys together in the White House, he put some cards on the table that turned them abruptly from the ancient custom of putting the money in the old sock and hiding it down cellar—a precaution that never fails to bring on the threatened disaster.

Mr. Hoover has been accustomed to dealing with big business men all his life. He knows their language. Heaven was kind to us in keeping us sane when Al Smith and Hoover were candidates.

There's a new kind of bug in the date trees. The jackrabbits have a hideful of germs of uncertain ancestry and affiliation. GETZOFF TELLS MACKAY DEAL

Tailor Takes Stand Against Keyes's Former Aide

Asserted Bribery Details Feature of Testimony

Son Also Called and Backs Part of Father's Story

Ben Getzoff, Spring-street tailor and admitted "pay-off" man in a number of cases that involved former Dist.-Atty Asa Keyes and others, yesterday took the witness stand in Superior Judge Wilson's court as the State's principal witness in the trial of Donald MacKay, chief trial deputy during Keyes's regime. MacKay is charged with accepting a bribe from Getzoff to dismiss criminal charges preferred in 1928 against A. I. Lasker, former head of the Lasker Finance Corporation.

Under examination by Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart and Deputy William McKay, Getzoff told the jury of eight women and four men that he gave MacKay $108 for automobile tires, paid off MacKay's note for $1000, and on another occasion gave a relative of the former chief trial deputy $500.

Getzoff declared he made the gifts for the purpose of bringing about dismissal of two indictments accusing Lasker of numerous counts of violating the Corporate Securities Act.

FIRST MEETING

Getzoff, now at liberty on probation following his conviction in the Asa Keyes bribery case, laid the beginning of his story in the present case in the District Attorney's office, where, he said, he first was introduced to MacKay in 1928 by the then District Attorney, Asa Keyes.

Getzoff said he met Lasker that same year following the latter's indictment by the county grand jury. The witness testified Keyes told him the Lasker cases had been assigned to MacKay.

"I asked MacKay if something could be done about the Lasker cases," said Getzoff. "He told me that as far as doing any favors was concerned he was through.' '

MacKay then told him, the witness continued, that he, MacKay, did not expect to be in the District Attorney's office much longer, and needed about $7500 to clear up his debts. Getzoff said he told MacKay that he thought he could get the money if the Lasker cases were dismissed.

Getzoff said Lasker gave him three checks for $2500 each, but all of them were returned unpaid by the bank on which they were drawn. Getzoff told of several other incidents that occurred during the time he played the asserted role of "pay-off" man.

Defense Attorney Richard Cantillon sought to establish on cross-examination that the charges against Lasker had been dismissed on the advice of Keyes. He also brought out the fact that Getzoff now is on probation following his conviction for bribery.

An effort of the defense to show that money MacKay is declared to have received in realty was used to purchase an expensive automobile for Keyes met with refutation by the witness. Getzoff said he did buy the automobile, but with cash given him by Lasker. Getzoff said he obtained only bad checks from Lasker for the money that was to be used in the asserted negotiations with MacKay.

MOTOR CAR'S RETURN

Concerning the automobile, Getzoff said he gave the vehicle to Keyes while the latter was District Attorney, but Keyes returned it to him one night and Getzoff turned the vehicle over to his attorneys as part of their fees for his own defense.

Getzoff was followed on the stand by his son, Dave, who was called to corroborate part of his father's story. The State also called a number of other witnesses whose testimony was designed to be of a corroborative nature.

BERENZWEIG STILL MISSING

Failure yesterday of Max Berenzweig, former head of a special police vice squad recently indicted by the grand jury for perjury, to surrender to authorities resulted in deputy sheriffs and investigators of the District Attorney's office redoubling their efforts to apprehend him.

According to S. S. Hahn, who stated several days ago that he had been retained by Mrs. Berenzweig to act for her husband, the indicted man has been ill and is not recovered sufficiently at this time. Hahn and Mrs. Berenzweig appeared in his office yesterday and informed him to this effect.

A few days ago Hahn announced that the accused man would make his appearance today and that arrangements had been made to post the required bond of $10,000.

Berenzweig was indicted as the result of asserted perjured testimony given by him in a liquor-case prosecution.

CRUZE WILL MAKE EIGHT TALK FILMS

Six Months' Production Program Announced With Total Cost of $3,000,000

Eight talking pictures costing $3,000,000 will be produced within the next six months by James Cruze, director, who now is heading his own company, known as James Cruze, Inc. The program was announced yesterday by Nat Cordish, executive vice-president of the company.

Three studios will be used in carrying out the program, the company's own plant on Gower street, the Metropolitan studios and the Educational studios. Four of the eight scheduled features will be directed by Cruze, and the others by Walter Lang.

Among the pictures to be made personally by Cruze is "Circus Parade," a novel by Jim Tully that caused a sensation in the literary field. He also will direct "The Big Fight," a play by Milton Herbert Gropper and Max Marcin, and a dramatization of Will N. Harben's novel, "Ann Boyd." Other stories on the list include "The Soul of the Tango," "The Pioneer Mother," "Once a Gentleman" and "Clipped Wings." The latter now is in production, being directed by Walter Lang.

Asserted Bride Swindler Held for High Bond

Charles Peabody, alias Jack Delafield, who was arrested in Pasadena recently after a two-year search, was bound over for Superior Court trial yesterday on grand-theft charges, following his preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Ballard. The court fixed bail at $100,000.

Peabody is accused by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Blalock of stealing $61,230 in bonds from Mrs. Mary Hoffman, his bride of a few days, while the couple were honeymooning at the Ambassador. Mrs. Hoffman testified to the disappearance of the bonds and Mildred Erwin, in charge of the deposit boxes at a branch bank in the Ambassador, declared that Peabody got Mrs. Hoffman's deposit box from her on August 20, 1927, returning it a short time later.

Today's Bible Text

"Even as the Son of God came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many." Matthew xx:28.

KING COTTON

British steamer has just left our harbor bearing some 15,000 bales of cotton to Liverpool. There is a lot more to follow. When the girls return to cotton stockings they can have a lot of fun with California.

CARDS, PLEASE

Folks are urged to get their Christmas cards off in bunches and do it now. Just hand the pack to clerk or carrier and they will be kept until a few days before Christmas and then put over with a rush. It eases the holiday mailing problems.

MODERN MAIDS

National official of the Young Women's Christian Association declares that the small-town girl as we used to know her has entirely disappeared. Girls all over the country, from the farm, the factory or the foyer all have the same outlook on life, the same desires and the same ambitions. They have poise and assurance—which were unknown to the village maiden of other days. The idea is that all girls look alike, act alike and dress alike. Make your own answer.

ARTIFICIAL SCENERY

Some Vienna theaters are fixing it to cut out the scenery. An Austrian inventor has devised a plan whereby the back drops, wings and other stage settings are all painted white, while the scenery required is painted on glass and then projected on the stage as if by magic lantern. The plant is so located that there are practically no shadows and it is possible to change a scene in a few seconds. Next time the stage hands go on a strike an American manager may put in one of these contraptions and see what happens.

SANTA'S TEAMS

An Alaska corporation now owns more than 200,000 head of reindeer and the range upon which they feed extends for nearly 600 miles. The animals represent an investment of over $2,500,000 in money and are creating a big industry. More than 20,000 head are killed each year for the markets and reindeer steaks are coming into demand in many cities. The pelts are also of value in creating garments to withstand the rigors of the north. If Santa Claus persists in clinging to his reindeer he can be guaranteed teaming facilities for the next thousand years. They are right productive.

THE LIVE-STOCK SHOW

That on its first day the annual live-stock show now in progress at the Union Stock Yards drew visitors from twenty-two different States is an indication of its importance to Los Angeles and its worthiness of local patronage. Starting four years ago as a "fat-stock" show, it has gradually added other features until it compares favorably with the best shows the country over—a natural development, since Los Angeles as the metropolis of the Coast furnishes the biggest market for meat in the West. The daily rodeos furnish a sporting element for those not interested in cattle as cattle.

The live-stock industry is still one of the West's basic businesses; its importance may have subsided relatively, but it has increased absolutely, so that the Los Angeles live-stock show is a drawing card for people from West Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, Wyoming, Montana, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Nevada, many of whom will be seeing Los Angeles this year for the first time. From a community standpoint, the show, therefore, is entitled to full local support. Its incidental benefits are the stimulation of live stock of better quality and more interest in live stock in this section.

The new exhibitors and the new visitors should receive the heartiest welcome that Los Angeles can give, to the end that they may be encouraged to further participation and further visits. The city is the logical place for a fall live-stock show, because of its dependable weather conditions and large population, and the show here ought to grow from year to year until it equals the biggest and best of its kind.

HIGHER FARE UPHELD

The United States Supreme Court, in a not-unexpected decision, has upheld the 7-cent street railway fare of the Los Angeles Railway Company. The point on which the case swung, according to the dispatches, was whether the city has power to contract with the company as to rates of fare, and the court's holding is that the State has granted it no such power. This being the case, the franchises under which the company is operating do not constitute contracts enforceable as to the fare clause, and the question as to the reasonableness of the fare governs the matter. There was little attempt on the part of the city to question the company's showing that a 5-cent rate was confiscatory and a higher rate, therefore, necessary.

The case differed from the New York subway case, in which the court upheld a 5-cent fare without going into the question of its reasonableness, in that the New York company had not exhausted its local remedies while the Los Angeles Railway had, having appealed in vain to the State Railroad Commission for relief.

There has been little doubt in the mind of most Los Angeles residents that the railway company was not earning a fair return on its investment at the former rate of fare and some surprise that the solicitude exhibited by the State Railroad Commission for the Pacific Electric, which has been permitted freely to make all sorts of fare experiments, did not seem to extend to the yellow car lines here. But the public expected, with an increased fare granted, that the company would carry out its promise to make a distinct improvement in its service. This it can hardly be said to have done.

It may have put a few more cars on certain lines, possibly speeded up some schedules, but its cars remain overcrowded, slow, noisy and uncomfortable, and they run too infrequently. The company does not equal the by no means high standards set by the Pacific Electric, which, on some of its lines, manages to furnish seats for the majority of its patrons and does not compel them to ride the fenders and roofs in the rush hours.

That the company has been getting more money for hauling fewer patrons is made plain in a recent report of the State Railway Commission. This commission's figures indicate that with a 28 per cent increase in fare there has been a 12 per cent increase in revenue and a 12 per cent decrease in passengers hauled, or about 30,000,000 fewer per year. During the same approximate period the Pacific Electric, with the zone-fare system, increased both the passengers and the revenue on its local lines. Since there has been a decrease in traffic the company cannot fall back on the assertion that there is more business than it can handle adequately.

The Railroad Commission concludes from its studies that the decrease has been in short hauls, which, of course, are the most profitable, and a consequent relative increase in the number of passenger-car miles, which may explain why the company is not making a still better revenue showing.

"It is apparent," says the commission in summation, "that a system of fares will not, of itself, solve the electric railway problem. Service also is of paramount importance. Within the limits possible service must be improved or maintained. Any lessening of schedules or slowing of running time may be as disastrous as improper adjustment of fares. Likewise the type of equipment operated materially affects the volume of traffic."

There is a good deal of good advice in these words. The Los Angeles Railway, its fare fight won, will do well to improve service and equipment or its apparent victory will be costly. The public expects and demands it.

YOUNG PLAN WINS

The scheme of militaristic German Nationalists to repudiate the Young plan and with it all reparations obligations has been defeated overwhelmingly in the Reichstag, a defeat which is regarded as a certain presage of similar action by the German people when the question is submitted to vote on the 22nd inst. The peace of Europe and of the world would be seriously disturbed by the adoption of the scheme.

Cleverly phrased to appeal to the extremists of both the right and the left, the measure unquestionably has a surface attractiveness to a tax-burdened people. But those who pause to reflect will be able to see that the German nation would lose, in the long run, far more than it could gain by the refusal to abide by promises made in the most solemn manner, to the carrying out of which its utmost good faith stands pledged. Granting that the reparations cannot be collected by force without spending more than the results in the process, there still remains the fact that Germany is dependent upon international good will for her continued prosperity, and good will can never be won by repudiation.

Nor could Germany be cleansed of war guilt by a mere plea of not guilty. Such pleas, in a court of justice or in the court of international opinion, cannot take the place of evidence. Thinking Germans are aware that the forced admissions which were made part of the Versailles treaty are not binding historically. The question is one which time alone can settle, by doing away with the passion and prejudice which still surround and cloud the issue.

Failure of the combined Nationalist, Fascist and Junker parties to muster even their full Reichstag strength for the repudiation plan which they fostered is an indication that the plan is viewed for what it is, a demagogic appeal to unreason by discredited elements which cling to the ideas and ideals of the old regime. Its success at the polls is as unlikely as the Kaiser's return.

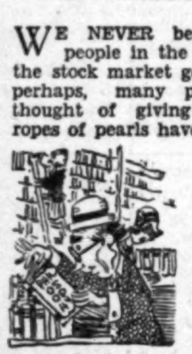
THE SHELL GAME

The walnut growers of California will pull down something over $15,000,000 for their crop this year. This total has been exceeded but once in the history of the State. It will be noticed that the industry is well worth while and that the owner of a productive grove of twenty acres or so is hardly to be pitied. It is a rather nice crop to handle the way it now goes to the market.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

WE NEVER before saw so many people in the bookshops. Since the stock market got temperamental, perhaps, many people who had thought of giving limousines and ropes of pearls have decided, instead, to make this a book Christmas.



A Bookish Town

Optimists like C. C. Parker, the dean of the local booksellers, are convinced that the steadily increasing demand for books in Los Angeles, notwithstanding talking pictures and radio, is an impressive proof of growing culture. They point out that people not only are buying more books, but thinkier books, biography, philosophy, science and art books being in general demand as never before, though good adventure, romance and entertainment are always in demand. And undoubtedly the tremendous growth and influence of women's clubs is inspiring hundreds of thousands of readers to feel it necessary to acquire at least conversational knowledge of every world movement in thought, art or philosophy which is discussed before them. And then, of course, there is a demand for lighter reading to preserve balance.

Smatterers

Yet, as much as we like to brag about Southern California's cultural progress, we cannot but be struck by the unseemly dearth of well-read people. There are so many people now who think they are sufficiently well read if they can chatter about the latest bunk-of-the-month offerings, without any knowledge of the classics. We can go into what passes for excellent society now and find that most of the other people there are as ignorant of the classics as we are!

LEE SHIPPEY WISE-CRACKING AGAIN! START THE RADIO!

And the other day we quoted one of the few lines of Shakespeare we happen to remember, and a perfectly gowned lady thought we were wise-cracking.

It really would pay any of us to read the great philosophers and epigrammatists of the past. Then we could repeat what we could remember and receive credit for being awfully clever and original.

We proved that the other day by springing one of Tom Hood's epigrams as if it were our own, and it went over 100 per cent.

Old, Original Lie-Detector

The Men to Envy

How We Puritans Look at Things

Frank Jay Gould has just opened a $5,000,000 gambling palace in Nice, counting on Americans for its main income—just as other Americans are operating a $4,000,000 gambling palace in Agua Caliente, counting exclusively on Americans.

Wealth Once More Eludes Us

We don't like to kick, but often it seems to us we don't get the co-operation we should. Yesterday we had another good chance to become a millionaire, the idea being for a Don't-Open-Till-Christmas seal to paste over the children's mouths when they get to asking for things till you're almost distracted. Knowing the things would sell like hot dogs, we went to interview a moneyed man, asking for backing, and exhibited the one sample we had made up. To our disgust, he immediately snatched the sample up and pasted it firmly over our own mouth.

Horseless Hours

King Richard III, were he to come to modern Los Angeles, might stand on a downtown corner and offer half a dozen kingdoms for a horse, and find no takers between 4:30 and 6 p.m. For between those hours horse-drawn vehicles are forbidden by law from the congested metropolitan district. Not only would they create a traffic problem during rush hours, but it would be dangerous for man and beast to let them into that traffic.

And yet, strange to say, no screen actress who photographs well on horseback has been arrested for violating this ordinance. Sometimes we think most of our motion-picture publicity men, supposed to be the most wide-awake on earth, are asleep at the switch half the time.

THE EXTRA MONEY

It is figured that the holiday bonuses for employees of the New York Stock Exchange and its members will exceed $100,000,000. This will go to them as tribute to their ability to keep awake and watch the scoreboard during the recent shooting season. They sat up day and night while money was being taken away from sufferers.

FOR FRANCE

British newspapers seem to agree that Clemenceau was the greatest Frenchman of the century and the most impressive figure of the war period. They didn't always agree with him, but he seems to have deserved and commanded their admiration. But he was never able to forget that he was a Frenchman.

YOUR DAD

By James J. Montague

Your dad can telephone to town
  At breakfast time, and say:
"Hello! I guess I won't be down
  To work at all today."
And then call up some man he knows
  And say: "Don't tell a soul,
But climb inside those plus-four clothes;
  We'll make it five a hole."

Your dad don't ever go to church
  When Sunday comes around
If there are any bass or perch
  Or pick'rel to be found.
If you should ask him, he would say
  The gospel that forbids
All fishin' on the Sabbath Day
  Is only meant for kids.

Your dad smokes cigarettes by packs,
  And don't get sick at all.
They never give him heart attacks
  And never kept him small.
But if kids use 'em, like as not
  They'd pine away and die;
So if you're little, you have got
  To smoke 'em on the sly.

There's lots of things which you could do
  That wouldn't hurt a bit,
The only trouble is that you
  Can't get away with it.
A kid must do just what he's bid
  At school or work or play;
It's pretty tough to be a kid;
  That's all I've got to say.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

BACK TO DARKNESS

[Chicago Tribune]

The Tribune, in a recent editorial, pointed out that the dry laws are making us a nation of felons. Edmund Burke said he did not know the method of drawing up an indictment against a whole people, but Rev. Clarence True Wilson, Bishop Cannon, Rev. McBride, and the other dry bigots of prohibition have made it possible in the strictest sense. We think Judge Fitzhenry of the United States District Court is merely following the unescapable logic of dry prohibition when he says that "any one who knows that a neighbor, friend, or relative possesses liquor for beverage purposes and does not report it to officers of the United States is a felon."

Thus we arrive at the full significance of the great experiment of noble motive. The prohibitionist has indicted or laid the foundation for the indictment of a whole people.

FRUIT OF CENSORSHIP

[Worcester Telegram]

Censorship has become the cheapest and most subtle channel of publicity available to those who desire advertising.

Psychic springs within the human mind are released by the mere hint that a play is too foul for the police; a book too obscene for the customs officials, or a man too dangerous for the combined army, navy and militia of the United States. Hence the man is given martyrdom, the book a bootleg sale, the play an undeserved run. "Banned in Boston" has become synonymous for something very pungent in literature, something dangerously fascinating in opinion.

We remember a saner day in the Hub. We remember a woman who screamed from a box on the Common her holy desire to wade knee-deep in human blood up Beacon Hill. And we remember a cop standing on the edge of the crowd idly juggling his club, who remarked: "The old lady is getting kinda hot," and continued to play with his club.

If only that wise patrolman were now in charge of censorship activities!

PLUTOCRATS OF THE CRADLE

[New York Sun]

Precocity in children generally shows itself in some intellectual development, but recent evidence disclosed a new kind of prodigy. A 7-year-old girl who died in Elmira has left an estate of $15,000; and a man in Chicago who broke open his baby's bank to cover stock margin losses removed $1700.

These examples of infant genius in finance will no doubt be pounced upon as signs of a new aspect of decadence by those idealists who declaim so loudly against "this mercenary age." To what, indeed, will the world come if little Mary should learn to tilt her nose at uncle's offer of a dime for her bank? Has the day arrived when dad may borrow a hundred from his 5-year-old, and later when Georgie goes to college will papa write weekly pleas to him for money?

Perhaps in another "receding market" speculators will be saved by the city's kindergarten classes.

Los Angeles Traffic Signals

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I believe Tourist, as he signs himself, should clean his own house before coming to Los Angeles and criticizing our sign posts, etc. I spent three months in the Middle West a little over a year ago in my machine and I want to say that sign-posting conditions throughout that portion of the country are deplorable, to say the least.

After leaving the territory covered by the Auto Club of Southern California, there are practically no signs along the highways, except the United States numbered highways, advising the traveler where he is or where to go. It is necessary to memorize the route numbers to find your way. In a city in Ohio, near Toledo, the signs were actually wrong and we went over thirty miles off our road when we discovered we had gone in a circle and were back again where we had been an hour before. Most of the street corners have no names and if they have the signs are black with dust and grime of over a century, they never having been cleaned.

We may criticise our city, and it has many defects, but it is the best little old town in the country, and our eastern tourists know it or they would not come out here. Our semaphore signals have it all over the East. We can at least see the arms and are not blinded by the sun when looking for a red or green light as happened to me several times back in cities where they use lights only.

Back to the Sweeper

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your editorial in this morning's Times on the waste of water is timely, but it doesn't strike the bull's-eye.

If the city officials know we are short of water—and they certainly must, or they wouldn't contemplate the forthcoming warning—why do they continue to waste thousands of gallons daily washing the streets?

Why not fall in line with President Hoover's plans for relieving the unemployment situation by sweeping the streets, which would furnish work for many more men and save the water?

And Angelus Temple Helped

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Have just read in your morning paper an account of the wonderful thanksgiving dinners given the needy yesterday, but I notice one large food and clothing charity that operates 365 days in the year and that gave away 315 baskets of Thanksgiving food, supplying 315 families, or over 1200 people, was overlooked or forgotten in some way. I am a weekly contributor to this charity and Wednesday saw these parcels of food and drove my auto thirty miles in delivering six of these packages to some of the further out recipients. This was Angelus Temple's contribution and I am sure it will please thousands of good people to know of this.

Would Use Army

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In a recent issue of The Times, Harry Carr in the Lancer column suggests the advisability of using the Army, which is practically idle except in case of war, to patrol the forest reserves and in that way to a helpful degree prevent the fires that are year after year destroying so much of our forests and ruining the watersheds of the State. The idea advanced by Mr. Carr is not a bad one. And in view of the fact that there are 137,000 idle soldiers in the country it would be eminently wise for the government at Washington to use several thousand of them to patrol our Canadian border as a protection against the bootleggers from that country. In that way the cost of the special force now being used would be saved, and the liquor invaders from Canada would understand that our government at last means business, and say what you please there is nothing that can be done that would be so effective as to use the Army as suggested, and the fact is that it will have to come to that sooner or later, so why delay action in that direction? President Hoover ought by this time to realize that it is going to take heroic action to get the desired results in the way of enforcement of the prohibition laws of the country.

Order For Wales Coal Cut

As the result of the government order shortening the miners' working day, South Wales has lost part of the 220,000-ton coal contract placed by the Brazilian Central Railways. South Wales mine owners feared the government order would cause an increase in the cost of production, and tried to obtain higher prices. The railways then contracted for only 80,000 tons from Wales and 50,000 tons from Germany.

Many War Medals Pawned

Disclosure that 90 per cent of war medals awarded after the conclusion of the World War are in European pawnshops or have been sold to relieve distress has caused much surprise there. Although it is a punishable crime to pledge or accept as a pledge a Victoria Cross, about a dozen have found their way to "Uncle," and on each about $5 has been advanced. The average valuation of a silver medal is 35 cents.

FRIENDS AND FOES OF DEMOCRACY

BY BAILEY MILLARD

A radio symposium on "Modern Democracy" has held the attention of thousands of Britishers of late. Among the speakers have been Dean Inge and Bernard Shaw, each of whom said some cutting things about popular rule. If Carlyle were alive he could be counted upon to add his voice to those decrying and deriding democracy, for while he was wise in many ways he used to ridicule the efforts of Americans to carry out the democratic theory and held up the rule of Czar Nicholas as a model form of government.

Dean Inge tempered his criticism of democracy by an allusion to it as a Christian principle, but on the whole he did not approve of the modern democratic system, including the kind of elections held in Great Britain.

Shaw's speech bristled with clever epigrams, at which even the best friends of democracy must smile, though what he said was very unfair at times and the point of view was forced throughout. He said that he found British election meetings "funnier and cheaper than the theater," that when he attends them he listens to the candidates, hears them repeat the same old catch-words and shibboleths and finds "nothing of vitality in it all except the vituperation of the opposite party, and that is simply an exhibition of bad manners." "If I vote for any of these gentlemen," he said, "and he is elected, I am supposed to have exercised the right of government of myself and for myself and by myself. If this is democracy and liberty who can blame Mussolini for describing it as a putrefying corpse"?

It would seem after a perusal of Shaw's address, as printed in full in the New York Times, that it is not so much the theory of democracy which he and his cynical radio collaborators protest against as the manner in which it works out. Yet he cites the peroration to Lincoln's famous Gettysburg speech and picks to pieces his phrase "by the people." He declares that it is "a physical impossibility" for the people to govern, and takes occasion to say that he doesn't believe in popular movements anyway. And, he might have added, no cynic ever does.

Shaw seems to have taken his cue from Carlyle, who held that "democracy means despair of finding any heroes to govern you and contentedly putting up with the want of them." Of America the sage of Chelsea said: "As for it being a model republic or a model anything, the wise among themselves know too well there is nothing to be said."

One scarcely would expect to find in so great a man a perception of democracy so obtuse. Nothing to be said? His own countrymen have found so much to be said that they have adopted the theory of democracy, if not of republicanism, to which, however, Britain and her dependencies very closely approach.

Under the banner of democracy men of these and other nations have shuffled off many chains. Democracy meant little in ancient or medieval times, but America has been able to give the world a fairly good example of it—not perfect, of course, for liberty is as hard to gain and keep as it is to define. It is true, as Edwin Markham says:

"Freedom forever is beyond—beyond."

In the World War the Allies waged their final and victorious campaign to President Wilson's battle cry, "Make the world safe for democracy." Since the war the democratic principle has been more widely accepted than ever. Women have received suffrage, workingmen have had better wages and shorter hours and the standards of living have been higher. Voters are human and make mistakes, but it has been proved that it is not a "physical impossibility" for them to govern. Dictators like Mussolini and Rivera have done well, but what free-born American wants a dictator over him on any terms?

As for monarchies with no real savor of democracy in them, we saw what happened to Germany and Austria because of that sort of rule. And we can look still further back—to Caesar and Napoleon—and gain a still clearer concept of the meaning of monarchy to the poor, trembling, coerced subjects of it.

"Of persons," says Emerson, "all have equal rights, by virtue of being identical in nature. This interest, of course, with its whole power demands democracy."

The only plausible ground for attack upon democracy is that in the modern working out of the system one runs up against such ugly bumps as political machines and bosses, lobbyists, bribe-givers, venal legislators and excessive and puerile legislation. But these are not inherent in a system for which one of the best things that may be said is that it incites the ire of cynics and others who are always ready to look at every great and worthy movement through the wrong end of the telescope.

Book Causes Scare

What John Burns, England's first Labor Cabinet member, might tell in his forthcoming book, is causing something of a ferment. It is a question that agitates not a few and that John Burns has not yet answered

INQUEST TO FIX STATUS OF BIRD

State's Charge on Shooting of Watson Delayed

Sportsman Jailed Following Death of Friend

Accused Man Declares He Thought Shells Blank

Pending the inquest to be conducted at 9:30 a.m. today into the death of Percival G. Watson, mechanical engineer, Maj. Owen R. Bird, local sportsman, probably will learn whether he is to be tried for murder or on the lesser charge of assault to commit murder.

Police declared yesterday they had asked for a murder complaint and that Dist.-Atty. Fitts announced that issuance of such a complaint will be delayed until after the inquest.

PLACED IN JAIL

Bird originally was charged with assault to commit murder and his preliminary hearing set for 2 p.m. Thursday. One day after he was released on $10,000 bail, Watson died at the California Lutheran Hospital from bullet wounds said to have been inflicted by the sportsman. Bird then was rearrested and placed in jail on suspicion of murder.

Watson was shot in Bird's home at [illegible] West Dahlia street a week ago today. Bird has admitted to police that he shot Watson with a gun he thought was loaded with blank shells during a scuffle which was precipitated by questioning on the part of his wife and his "best friend" as to why he had returned home under the influence of liquor.

TELLS SAME STORY

The story of the shooting was substantiated by Mrs. Bird and Watson, though police declare they have evidence on which to prosecute Bird for murder.

Funeral services for Watson also have been delayed until after the inquest, it was stated. Watson was single. The Birds have two children. Bird was a former star athlete and for many years has taken part in sporting events.

Chest Campaign Donations Rise to $2,272,590

With reports from but a few of the many divisions in the Community Chest's army of solicitation available yesterday, the campaign headquarters showed an appreciable increase, the total rising to [illegible], leaving but $827,410 needed to accomplish the quota of [illegible].

J. A. E. Kerr, campaign chairman, declared that the fund undoubtedly will pass the $2,300,000 mark today and might reach $2,500,000 by the end of the week, owing to the vigor with which the volunteer solicitors are working.

Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, chairman of the Community Chest's Speakers' Bureau, declared that the giving public, especially the well-to-do, should not think only of saving the lives of crippled children and others by giving to the Community Chest.

"They should realize that in so doing they are saving their own souls," he emphasized. "A man has lost his soul when he has lost the sense of responsibility to the needy and helpless."

Japanese Held as Knife User

Accused of slashing a fellow-Japanese, T. Minokami, 48 years of age, of 202 Pennsylvania avenue, was arrested yesterday by Detective Lieutenant Ryan and was booked on a charge of assault to commit murder. He was lodged in the City Jail.

Police charge that Minokami quarreled with S. Miamoto, 32, a cook in the restaurant of Mrs. [illegible] Sato, at 811 Wall street, early on November 23, last. The woman ordered both men out. Shortly afterward Miamoto was found lying in an alley, terribly slashed. At Georgia-street Receiving Hospital he accused Minokami, resulting in his arrest yesterday.

LEVEE LINE WANTED BY LONG BEACH

Supervisors Will Confer on Proposal to Build Municipal Railroad

The city of Long Beach through its manager, George L. Buck, yesterday made formal application to construct a municipal belt line on the right of way occupied by the county flood-control tracks laid on top of the Los Angeles River levees from Dominguez Junction to Long Beach Harbor.

According to Manager Buck, the city will operate a line to give adequate service on a standard gauge railroad from the tracks of the present harbor belt line to the northern limits of the city of Long Beach, where an industrial subdivision has been laid out near Signal Hill.

The Board of Supervisors referred the application to Supervisors Graves and Wright and Flood Control Engineer Eaton. The board also invited Long Beach interests to a conference on the matter on the 17th inst.

The Long Beach offer, like those previously received from the Pacific Electric and an agent of a Los Angeles industrial subdivision, offered to allow the county to use the tracks to haul materials to threatened crevasses in the levee, and keep the railroad in repair. It further proposes to construct the line in less than eighteen months.

According to a report made recently by Flood Control Engineer Eaton, the county does not own all the right of way of the flood-control railway, and, therefore, could not lease it for any purpose except that of the flood-control district until lengthy condemnation proceedings were completed.

HOLLYWOOD SNOWSTORM PRODUCED

Film City Stages Genuine Winter Spectacle as Aid to Yuletide Delights

Hollywood welcomed the Christmas season last night with an improvised snowstorm, a display of 100 brilliantly lighted Christmas trees, the flashing beams of seventy-five giant studio sun arcs and a preview visit of Santa Claus.

Simultaneously with the flashing on of the lights on the mammoth Christmas trees lining Hollywood Boulevard, Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson created a snowstorm over the thoroughfare when he dropped 1500 cubic feet of synthetic snowflakes from his trimotored plane.

The ceremony was to mark the rechristening of Hollywood Boulevard between Vine street and La Brea avenue as "Santa Claus Lane" for the holiday period. Billie Dove and Anita Page, motion-picture stars, officiated in the pageant ceremonies.

The electrical display initiated a three-day festival of lights to continue tonight and tomorrow night. According to the plans of the committee in charge of the celebration Santa Claus will drive down the brilliantly lighted boulevard each night and escort a different dainty film star on each jaunt.

C.A.P. Duffie Dies in Oakland

Claire Alfred Pelton Duffie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred P. Duffie of New York City, died of pneumonia at Oakland yesterday. He was a resident of Los Angeles until a few years ago. Mr. Duffie was the husband of Katherine Chichester and son-in-law of Mrs. William Chichester, prominent club woman of Los Angeles.

Mr. Duffie was a graduate of Dartmouth College, captain in the antiaircraft service of the United States Army during the World War and president of the Taper Tube Pole Company of San Francisco.

He died suddenly of pneumonia 34 years of age. He leaves his widow and four children: Jacqueline, Claire, William and Katherine. The funeral services are to be conducted in the north.

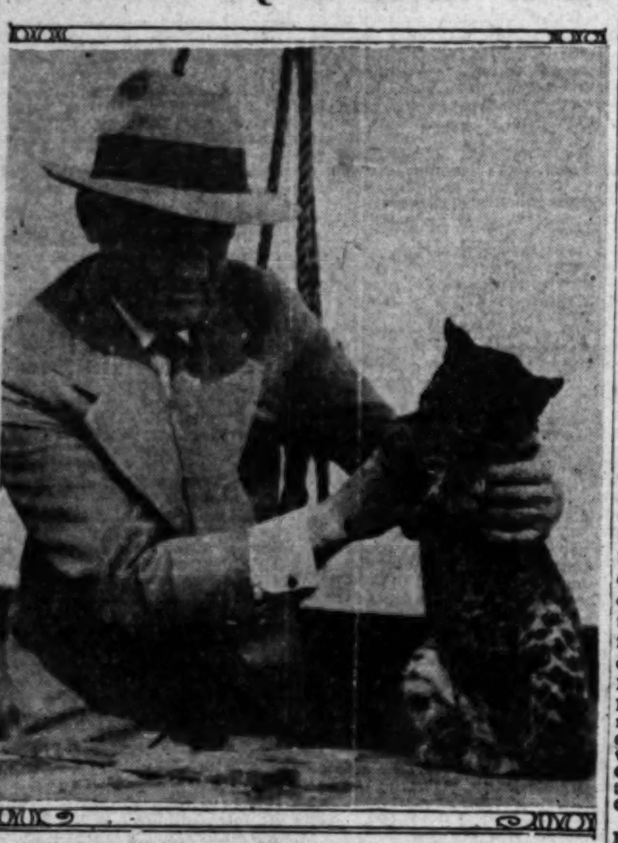
MODERN NOAH'S ARK IN HARBOR

All Kinds of Queer Critters Arrive



Getting Acquainted With "Kitty"

Leopard cub from Java like old house cat to Al Messenger, port quarantine chief.

A MODERN Noah's ark was the Dutch freighter Benghalis, in yesterday from the Dutch Indies with wild animals and freight.

Parrots and monkeys chattered, tigers roared, elephants trumpeted and others did whatever they were supposed to do. It was a diverting voyage, all agreed, for the crew and few passengers who crossed the sea in that bedlam.

J. G. Branson of 1731 Washington Boulevard, Santa Monica, picked them up while traveling in Sumatra and Java in a circus act. He started back with five young elephants, planning to train them for an act, but three died. So did a large Sumatra tiger, and some snakes.

Two rarities are ying foxes, possessing heads and necks resembling foxes resting on the large black bodies of bats. They are forbidden entry into America as fruit pests, and were killed on arrival. Their bodies are to be given the California Academy of Sciences.

Branson will keep some of the animals for show and exhibit purposes, selling the rest.

CRASH INQUEST DUE TODAY

Sheriff Investigates Crossing Accident Killing Six on Way from Grid Celebration

Inquest into the deaths of the three men and three women who were killed Sunday morning when the coupe in which they were riding was struck by a Santa Fe passenger train at the Lakeland Road crossing near Santa Fe Springs, will be conducted at the White & Emerson undertaking establishment in Whittier at 9:30 a.m. today, Chief Deputy Coroner MacDonald announced yesterday.

Victims of the crash were William R. DeFord, 21 years of age, of 2415 West Twenty-third street; Edwin C. Bike, 23, of 751 South Hoover street; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCann of Centralia, Wash., who were on their honeymoon; Mrs. Audna Day, 23, of 645 South Cloverdale street, and Miss Arlene Herr, 19, of 915 Westchester Place.

The party was returning home after celebrating the U.S.C. football victory over Washington State College, at the John S. Baker ranch.

Charles Allen, an oil company employee, said to have been an eyewitness of the tragedy, is being sought to testify at the inquest. Engineer McGee and Conductor Jesse E. Miller of the train have been requested to be present at the inquiry also, it is stated.

Funeral services for the victims will not be arranged, it is stated, until after the inquest.

In the meantime the Sheriff's office has been investigating to learn whether asserted carelessness on the part of the driver of the coupe was the only cause of the accident. The accident occurred, it is reported, about 1:30 a.m. There was a slight mist at the time, it is stated. Deputies hope to learn at the inquest if the mist or trees near the crossing obstructed the driver's view if he or she attempted to beat the train to the crossing.

MYSTERIOUS ACCUSATION HOLDS TRIO

Stock Broker and Aides Taken on Complaint from North Believed Erroneous

P. Hubert Neve, head of Neve & Co., stockbrokers, was arrested last night with two employees, on a telegraphed warrant from Police Chief Broad of Fresno, as they left the brokerage office at 704 South Spring street. Neve and Harry A. Davis, his office manager, were booked for violation of the Corporation Securities Act and Harold R. Hale, a salesman, was booked on suspicion of grand theft bunko. Detective Lieutenants Armstrong and Bly, who made the arrests, said they thought a case of mistaken identity had been made by the Fresno complainant.

Police Chief Broad's telegram did not give details of the accusations. Neve, after being released in $1500 bail and his employees in $1000 bail each, said that he has no inkling of what the trouble is. He said he discharged a man from his Fresno office two months ago and that he will make a statement today as soon as he learned what has transpired in Fresno. Milton Golden, his attorney, will go to Fresno today to investigate the charges.

Neve is 48 years of age, and lives at 455 South Beverill Drive, Beverly Hills. Davis is 32 and lives at 4850 Dockweiler street, while Hale is 25, and lives at 3029½ West Twelfth Place.

PROTESTS TURNED DOWN

The Council yesterday denied protests against the improvement of the Valley View Trail and Cahuenga Trail district, the Carlton Way and Glencoe avenue district and the sewering of McDuff street at Laveta Terrace.

AUTO DEATH LIST GROWS IN COUNTY

Large Increase Found in Traffic Fatalities Over That of Last November

Alarming increase in traffic deaths and injuries for the month just ended, was revealed yesterday by the Coroner and police, there having been eighty-nine deaths in Los Angeles county during November, while 1337 persons were injured in traffic accidents in the city. The traffic deaths of last month were an increase of seventeen over November of 1928, when sixty-two persons were killed.

Of the traffic dead last month, eighty-three were killed in motor vehicle accidents and six by electric railways. Police estimate that thirty-five of the past month's traffic dead were in the city. During the same month 1387 persons were injured in 1133 motor accidents, as compared with 1100 injured in November, 1928.

In an effort to abate this startling toll during the current month, Deputy Police Chief Gifford, in charge of traffic, yesterday issued the following appeal to motorists:

"Between now and Christmas Day more than a thousand persons can be kept out of hospitals if automobile drivers will use more caution."

Coroner Nance said that so many inquests over traffic deaths are on his schedule that his office staff has not had time to classify the figures of his report to determine how many persons were killed in this city and how many in the county last month.

IMPROVEMENTS ADVANCE

The Council yesterday adopted the ordinances of intention for the improvement of Reno street from Sunset Boulevard to Marathon street and for the improvement of Two Hundred and Fifty-sixth street from Belle Porte avenue to the west city boundary. The ordinances were set for hearing January 9, next.

DICKINSON'S FINAL RITES TOMORROW

Santa Monica Banker and Southland Leader Known for Good Road Promotions

The last rites for George B. Dickinson, general counsel for the United States Sixty-six Highway Association, banker, and nationally known good-highway advocate, who died unexpectedly Saturday, the day on which he had planned to welcome a caravan of 500 motorists in a celebration, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Todd & Leslie chapel, Santa Monica. The remains will be cremated in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Dr. Dickinson, who was 69 years of age, was a member of the Boston Excelsion Company, many years ago. When the financing went to Santa Monica some years ago, he became active in the development of the Bay City. He was president of the Bay Cities Guarantee Building and Loan Association, and formerly vice-president of the Merchants' National Bank of Santa Monica. Associated with the late Henry M. Flagler, he was instrumental in the early laying out and development of Miami, Fla. He also was president of the Santa Monica Chamber of Commerce, and one of the builders of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Santa Monica.

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Helena M Dickinson, three sisters, Mrs. Sarah Abbott and Mrs. Annie Davis, both of Dorchester, Mass., and Mrs. Mary Blair of Salem, Mass., and a nephew, Dr. George K. Blair.

BRIEFS FREE PHYSICIAN IN DEATH CASE

First to be Decided Thus Results in Acquital for Dr. Florence Goodhall

The first murder case ever to be submitted in the local Superior Court on briefs resulted yesterday in the acquittal by Judge Hardy of Dr. Florence B. Goodhall, who had been charged with second-degree murder in connection with the death last January of Mrs. Z. P. Mahan of South Gate.

Dr. Goodhall was convicted last April, but her motion for a new trial was granted by Superior Judge Wood, who then transferred the case to Judge Hardy's department. Attorneys agreed to submit the case to Judge Hardy for decision on briefs and the transcript of evidence in the first trial.

Judge Hardy acquitted Dr. Goodhall on the theory that the uncorroborated testimony of the State's principal witness was insufficient to justify a verdict of guilty.

The State charged Mrs. Mahan died from the effects of an illegal operation asserted to have been performed by Dr. Goodhall.

Actor Must Go Back to England Under Alien Law

Anthony Bushell must return to England for two months before he makes another talking picture in Hollywood. The actor is under bond to leave about the beginning of the new year, in accordance with the immigration laws of this country. Bushell appeared in Disraeli."

ANTHONY BUSHELL

He first came to this country after playing for nine months in "Is Zat So?" with James Gleason and Robert Armstrong in London. Bushell played the lead opposite Jeanne Eagles in "Her Cardboard Lover" before coming to Hollywood. He is married to Zelma O'Neill, actress. Mrs. Bushell will accompany her husband on his trip to London.

Ex-Court Clerk Fights Charges

Frank Freytag, suspended clerk of the Pasadena Police Court, yesterday appeared before Superior Judge Aggeler and entered a demurrer to the grand jury indictment returned against him last week, charging embezzlement and falsification of public records.

The demurrer was based on the asserted insufficiency of the indictment to constitute a cause of action. Judge Aggeler set Thursday at 2 p.m. for argument on the demurrer.

BERMAN BOOKED FOR QUIZ

Julian Case Principal to be Called for Questioning on Watch Company Wage Complaints

Jacob Berman, also known as Jack Bennett, the so-called "bright young man" of the Julian Petroleum debacle, will be called before the State Labor Commission next Thursday morning to explain to Deputy Commissioner Baker all that he knows, if anything, about the Golf Score Watch Company, 438 South San Pedro street.

A total of ninety-seven wage complaints were filed against the company in the local offices of the Labor Commission yesterday, following the asserted sudden closing of the offices and factory Saturday. The claims for wages reported unpaid total $5844.55, it was said yesterday by Deputy Commissioner Barker, who also is authority for the statement that Bennett will be subpoenaed to appear before the commission when hearings on the wage claims are held.

In a statement on file in Barber's office yesterday, made by S. Schimmel, the latter describes himself as vice-president of the concern and declares that he is owner of one share of stock in the company. He names William Drusin as president of the organization and declares Drusin to be a brother-in-law of Jack Bennett.

Drusin is in New York at present, Schimmel's statement asserts. The latter, it was said yesterday, will appear again today at the offices of the Labor Commission to furnish additional information about the company.

SPANKING STORY WINS DIVORCE

Wife Tells Court of Being Punished When She Chastised Child

Every time Mrs. LaVere P. Scofield spanked her small son her husband, John W. Scofield, spanked her, she told Superior Judge Bishop yesterday when asking for a divorce.

Scofield also was accused by his wife of telling her to "get out of the house" and of calling her names. Mrs. Scofield's sister, Miss Genevieve Neal, corroborated her testimony.

The wife was given a decree and custody of their son James, 8 years of age. She was represented by Attorney George H. Robertson.

Dr. Carpenter Advanced in Air Reserves

Dr. Ford A. Carpenter, consultant in meteorology and aeronautics, has been advanced, it was learned yesterday, to lieutenant-colonel in the Army Air Reserves. He has been a major since 1922 as staff specialist with the Five Hundred and Forty-Ninth Balloon Group. The promotion follows an examination taken nearly three years ago before the regular Army board of air-corps officers at Ross Field.

DR. FORD A. CARPENTER.

For thirty-one years Dr. Carpenter was an observer for the United States Weather Bureau. He is president of the Southern California Academy of Sciences and a fellow in both the Royal Geographic and Royal Meteorological societies. He is an international balloon pilot and has distinguished himself in his real by inventions, lectures before the War College, United States Military Academy, United States Naval Academy and universities and by other attainments. He is head of the Chamber of Commerce department of meteorology and aeronautics.

ELECTRIC RATE CUT ACCEPTED

Los Angeles Company's Reduction to be Effective on January 1

The offer of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation to reduce electric rates by $737,000 during 1930 was accepted by the State Railroad Commission yesterday, and the new reduced rates to customers will become effective January 1, next.

Coincident with this announcement the commission directed the Southern Counties Gas Company to file its reduction schedule, which is an offer to reduce rates approximately $200,000 a year, for a hearing on the 13th inst.

The hearing on the recent proffer of the Southern Counties Gas Company will be conducted here by Commissioner Carr, and the order of the commission yesterday is taken to indicate that the plans for the gas-rate cut were not entirely satisfactory.

The formal notice of the acceptance of the reduced rates of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, came in the form of an order to file schedules of the new rates. It is the outcome of the utility's proposition as made by company representatives here last week at the conclusion of a commission inquiry into the company's rates.

The commission's orders to the Southern Counties Gas Company directed that the schedule filed show the manner in which the gross revenue of the company will be reduced the $200,000. The original offer was made on November 19, last, by the company's attorney in the form of a stipulation when the company was before Commissioner Carr on the commission's own motion to investigate rates and practices now in effect.

Suspected Store Bandit Arrested

H. H. Perrine, 32 years of age, of 916 South Lake street, is accused of holding up a Safeway store at 1440 West Tenth street at 7 a.m. yesterday. He was arrested for the crime ninety minutes after it was committed. According to police, he confessed to holding up five Safeway stores and obtaining $2500.

Perrine, according to police, was admitted to five years' probation October 8, when he completed a year's jail sentence for burglary.

OFFICERS PLEAD TO INDICTMENT

Two of Accused Policemen Deny Bribe-Taking

Three Enter Demurrers and Will Appear Thursday

Retrial of Former Trio on Old Charges Rumored

Two of five police officers under grand-jury indictment on bribery charges yesterday pleaded not guilty before Superior Judge Aggeler and the other three entered a demurrer on grounds of the indictment's asserted insufficiency to constitute a cause of action.

Those who entered pleas are James Howry and Edward D. (Rough-house) Brown. Howry's trial was set for January 6, next, at 10 a.m., in Department 22, and that of Brown for January 2.

BRIBE-TAKING CHARGED

Howry is charged with accepting a ring valued at $50 from Harry McDonald, confessed bootlegger, whose testimony resulted in the wholesale indictments. Brown, it is charged, extorted $400 from McDonald June 5, last, and later took $13 as a bribe from Tracy A. Tisdell.

The officers who demurred to the joint indictment against them are J. B. DeMasters, R. L. Johnston and John L. Nash. Argument on the demurrer was set for Thursday at 2 p.m. The three are charged with accepting a bribe of $300 from a Glendale druggist.

RETRIAL RUMORED

Rumors that Policemen L. F. Sale, H. M. Hill and O. L. Peterson will be tried for the third time on bribery charges became current yesterday when it was learned that Gus Pomgrantz, asserted partner of McDonald and under indictment with him on a charge of conspiracy to violate the State liquor laws, had been closeted with Dist.-Atty. Fitts. Details of the interview were not made known but the incident gave rise to the rumor that Fitts intends to reprosecute the three officers and use Pomgrantz as a witness.

STOP SIGNALS ORDERED

A report of the Traffic and Lighting Committee was adopted yesterday by the Council, recommending that West Boulevard between Slauson and Florence avenues be created as a boulevard-stop street and that flasher signals be installed on West Boulevard at the intersections of Sixty-seventh street and Hyde Park Boulevard.

Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dement celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Thanksgiving afternoon at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gandy, 1360 North Hudson avenue, Pasadena. The house was beautifully decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and sweet peas, huge baskets of the former banking the improvised altar before which the bride and bridegroom of fifty years ago received the guests, the former wearing a gown of black satin with corsage of yellow sweet peas, a great yellow chrysanthemum being worn in the buttonhole of the bridegroom's coat.

Mr. and Mrs. Dement, whose wedding took place fifty years ago in Arrowsmith, Ill., recently came to make their home in Los Angeles and to be near their only daughter.

The wedding march was played at 4:30 o'clock by the great-granddaughter, Miss Glenna Gandy, as the bride and bridegroom arose to repledge their vows of fifty years ago, while Harold Preston, assistant pastor of First Methodist Church, Alhambra, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Dement, officiated at the service.

Relatives included were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gandy and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Gandy and two children, Glenna and Stanley, of Alhambra; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Scoby and family, Harold Preston of Alhambra, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Benson and daughter Phoebe Rose of South Gate, and Mrs. Irene Clark Downing of Glendale. Miss Ruth Gandy, grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dement, in a gown of blue velvet presided at the luncheon table.

Home Protection

Investigate servants' references thoroughly before employing them.

If you employ a watchman, check up on him occasionally to see if he is on the job.

Don't depend on an outside dog for protection. One small dog on the inside is far more valuable.

Don't talk about jewels and valuables in front of the servants. Keep as much personal information to yourself as possible.

Don't permit tradespeople or strangers to become familiar with the servants and form the habit of hanging around the back door.

Be careful how you handle the important keys of the house. Do not leave them around where they could be taken out and duplicated.

ADVICE

INJURIES FROM DUST

When a beam of sunlight falls from the window to the floor, one may see thousands of dust motes dancing in its golden light. We are surprised to realize that such dust is always present in the air, and that we are breathing it in with every breath we draw. Fortunately, the amount of ordinary dust in the air is taken care of by traps which nature has laid for it in the air passages. The most important of these traps for dust is the mucous membrane. The sticky mucus attracts the dust in much the same manner that fly paper does flies, but the dust is not allowed to accumulate because the entire mucous membrane is covered with small hair-like cilia lining the trachea and bronchia, and these cilia literally wave the dust particles up and out. They move in much the same manner as a field of grain waves when swept by the wind.

When the dust and surplus mucus have been moved up high enough, they are coughed out of the body. When the dust particles are unusually plentiful, they may succeed in penetrating the lung tissues, but they then fall into another trap set by the white cells which are capable of destroying a remarkable amount of dust. The measures are able to protect their air spaces of the lungs from an everyday dust menace.

However, the lungs of those who live in sooty cities or those who work in an atmosphere of dust never entirely escape. While the normal lung tolerate amazing degree, it after years of exposure

Now Let ALICE ADAMS PROCTOR
Make a Sandwich for You

FIRST OF ALL use only Wonder Bread for your sandwiches. It slices easily and toasts better. Its delicate flavor adds taste to the sandwich.

IN SPREADING on the filling, use a flat knife. Spread evenly to extreme edges. Except in special mixture recipes, apply the ingredients separately. This way you save the flavor of each ingredient.

CUT YOUR sandwich from point to point, dividing it into four portions. Then as you eat toward the crust, you taste filling at every bite.

This is an exposition of the do's and don'ts of sandwich making by the famous food authority. Mrs. Proctor tells her tested secrets of successful sandwiches. How to mix unusual fillers, correct cutting, spreading, hints on how to serve. If you are responsible for the food in your home, it will pay you to read it.

By ALICE ADAMS PROCTOR

WITHOUT question, much of the success of the sandwiches I make is due to the bread I use.

Under no circumstances will I consider any bread but Wonder Bread. There are several excellent reasons for this.

First of all, I find it so easy to slice, even when extremely fresh. No matter how thin I may cut it, it never crumbles. This is due, I suppose, to its remarkably fine texture.

Second, the delightful way it toasts. There are never any burned edges to cut off. Nor any scorched, uneven spots. Every slice is the same even, golden brown. With toasted sandwiches so popular today, these superior toasting qualities cannot be overlooked.

Third, and in many ways the most important, is the flavor. I have tasted practically every loaf of bread you can buy and many others that you can't, but never have I found the same delicacy of flavor that I find in Wonder Bread. I believe you will be quick to agree to this.

Next in importance to the use of Wonder Bread are the fillings I use and the ways I prepare them.

Before slicing the bread I see that all necessary tools and ingredients are close at hand. It is highly important, you see, to combine the filling and the bread quickly.

My lettuce is washed and dried, salad dressings mixed, my fillings completely prepared, ingredients in cans, ready opened.

Under no circumstances do I mix my ingredients. Except in special mixture recipes, always keep them completely separate. This allows each individual ingredient to maintain its own characteristic flavor.

To spread on the filling I use a flat knife. I am careful to spread to even thickness and to the extreme edges.

In making exceptionally thin sandwiches I advise a rather unusual procedure even with Wonder Bread. Spread the filling on the open surface of the loaf before slicing. This eliminates all possibility of breaking the bread while applying the filling.

Now for cutting. There is but one really correct way to cut a sandwich. This is from corner to corner, dividing the sandwich into four parts.

Thus in eating you taste filling at every bite.

HERE ARE THREE OF MRS. PROCTOR'S NEWEST SANDWICH CREATIONS TO TRY
Coupon below brings her new recipe booklet free

At Left . . . WONDER CORNUCOPIA SANDWICH. Cut very thin slices of Wonder Bread into fan-shaped slices. Remove crusts. Spread with creamed butter and cover with a thin piece of smoked sturgeon cut same shape as bread but a trifle smaller. Roll like a cornucopia and seal with butter along the lapping edge. Small sprigs of parsley stuck in the top of each cornucopia add to the appearance. Pack and cover with damp cloth until needed.

At Right . . . WONDER PINEAPPLE CREAM CHEESE SANDWICH. Butter two slices of Wonder Bread. Spread one generously with cream cheese. On top of the cheese place, but do not mix, a layer of drained crushed pineapple. Cover with second slice of bread. Trim off crusts cut diagonally.

WONDER FISH CLUB SPECIAL. Directions: Toast bread golden brown. Spread one slice on two sides for center, two slices on one side for top and bottom. Between the first and second slices arrange lettuce, tomato and mayonnaise. Drain and fry hippered herring in butter. Place it piping hot between second and third slices. Serve at once with a bit of celery and an olive.

Booklet Free

Through many experiments I have developed several delightful new sandwich creations. These, together with several old standbys prepared in unusual ways, I have included in my new "Wonder Sandwich Booklet."

By all means give Wonder Bread a trial.

You will find it delightful in every way. Your grocer has it fresh twice daily—in the morning and afternoon. Ask him for a loaf today.

DEMAND WONDER BREAD BY NAME. Wonder Bread advantages come only in Wonder Bread. So say "Wonder Bread" to your grocer and then insist on getting it. It will pay you to do this.

[illegible] the offering of a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "The Kiss," the latest picture starring Greta Garbo and Conrad Nagel, Mrs. Mayer will introduce a motion-picture star, who will speak on "The Motion Picture—Its Present and Future." Hostesses will include Mrs. John Kahn, Mrs. Samuel [illegible], Mrs. Joseph K. Ferguson, Mrs. [illegible] Goodman, Mrs. Harold M. [illegible], Mrs. E. R. Lauer and Mrs. [illegible] Kaufman.

Adding interest to the events of the afternoon will be the auction of several valuable gifts as a benefit for the entertainment of convention guests and the philanthropic fund. The gifts are from leading shops of the city and include an attractive afternoon gown, a sport dress, beige and sand [illegible], imported from Paris with [illegible] to match; a modish dinner gown, a street dress and a Venetian glass vase. Mrs. John Kahn, [illegible] vice-president will act as auctioneer.

Members and friends are asked to also offer a book for the Council [illegible] Library, cake or cookies for the monthly food sale or jams and jellies for the children at El Nido.

In connection with the "cinema day program," as it is called by the members of the council, the statement made yesterday by Mrs. Thomas G. Winter in her capacity of women's representative in the department of public relations of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America is apropos. There is scarcely an organization of women in the city that does not have its motion-picture section.

MRS. THOMAS G. WINTER.

"I am occupying a position, with relations due to both the producers in the industry and the women, as a kind of a link between them. I am in Hollywood hoping that I may be of service all down the line, chiefly to the women whose [illegible] I am to be," Mrs. Winters said, adding that Gov. Milliken, who is in charge nationally, has placed no restriction on her and that the men of the industry do not expect her to "yes" them.

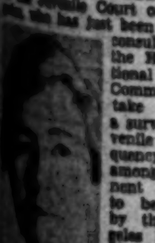
"She is not responsible to the industry for what she says and does, but to the women of the nation and [illegible]," said Gov. Milliken, and so Mrs. Winter sends out to [illegible] women in the Southland and the nation the following questions: Will you let me know whenever [illegible] is done in your community and how? Will you tell me when you see pictures that violate taste and ethics and give your reasons? Will you send me constructive suggestions? Will you make use of me as fast as I can accumulate material that will help you locally? Will you tell me of people in your [illegible] who are interested, not saving but helpfully, in getting good pictures?

"I am here in Hollywood to serve [illegible] women, with as much [illegible] and understanding of the [illegible] as I can command. Do not [illegible] miracles. But do expect [illegible] and co-operation on all [illegible], yours, mine and the producers.

"I do not believe that intelligent [illegible] people resent the use of [illegible] and sin as constructive [illegible] of a plot. But nastiness in [illegible] of such themes is not [illegible] and the wanton introduction of episodes that do not contribute to the plot and seem there only to stir up salaciousness is quite unjustifiable."

League of Women Voters

Dr. Miriam Van Waters, referee of the Juvenile Court of Los Angeles, who has just been chosen as consultant with the Hoover National Crime Commission to take charge of a survey of juvenile delinquency, will be among prominent members to be honored by the Los Angeles League of Women Voters at a reception and tea from 4 to 6 p.m. today at the Women's Athletic Club. All women interested in good citizenship and who would be desirous of learning more of the league's work will be welcome.



DR. MIRIAM VAN WATERS.

Mrs. Walter Van Dyke, who is in charge of the affair, has chosen as [illegible] Mmes. Henry H. Lissner, [illegible] H. Brooks, C. A. Dykstra and [illegible] S. Grant and Miss [illegible] Allred.

The league also will have as honor guests Dr. Anna E. Young as head of the State committee to establish a separate prison for women offenders; Mrs. Everett B. Latham, appointed a member of the same committee; Mrs. Oliver C. Bryant, appointed by Gov. Young on the committee to choose a site for the new Southern California Hospital for the Insane, and Mrs. John P. Buwalda of Pasadena, recently chosen as the only woman on the International House committee at the University of California at Berkeley.

Eschscholtzia Chapter D.A.R.

Mrs. Maynard Force Thayer, Past State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will be the speaker before Eschscholtzia chapter members in Patriotic Hall today at 2 p.m. Mrs. Holly Stark Breeden is Regent of the chapter, and will preside. Mrs. Thayer recently returned from a trip around the world during which she studied conditions particularly as related to the liquor evil in various countries.

A. W. Willenius will sing a group of songs, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. H. Peabody.

Mrs. Thomas B. Stowell, past State chaplain, will give a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Francis W. Blackford and to the memory of Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Douglas, members who recently died.

Regents of the ten Los Angeles chapters are to be guests of honor and visiting daughters from eastern States are cordially invited.

Beverly Hills Woman's Club

Mrs. Elizabeth Lloyd Smith is curator of the round table section of the Beverly Hills Woman's Club, and is presenting tomorrow at 10 a.m. as the speaker for the second meeting of the season Henry Clay Best, special representative of the Lincoln League of Washington, D. C. His subject will be "Living Memorial of Abraham Lincoln." The music section is especially invited to attend, as Mme. Constance Balfour, who recently returned to Los Angeles after several years abroad, will give an informal talk and sing a group of songs.

Soroptimists

"The Small Investor and the Future of American Business" is the subject to be presented today at the luncheon hour in the music room of the Biltmore by Dr. Gordon S. Watson, director of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange Institute for the Soroptimist Club. Dr. Lillian M. Grandmason, president, will be in the chair.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 4 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

THIS IS THE YEAR-OLD BABY'S DAY

Just as mother is certain that Evelyn can be counted on to sleep all morning, quite without warning Evelyn refuses to take her morning nap. Right then and there it is mother who has to recognize that Evelyn is climbing into a new phase of her growth and that morning naps will have to be scrapped. This throws the whole day out of joint and necessitates a new schedule. In response to the plea of Mrs. B. F. S., that we print a year-old baby's "whole day"—here it is.

If your baby is near, or just past, or right at this age, cut this out and hang it on the wall for daily reference. If your baby is still an infant, or past 2 years we have schedules arranged for them which any mother may have for a self-addressed, stamped envelope with a request for her choice.

Incidentally, but very important to this full outline of a baby's day, is our feeding leaflet. If you haven't it and would like it, send a self-addressed and stamped envelope for a copy and then proper meals for baby can be inserted into the schedule.

OUTLINE FOR YEAR-OLD BABY'S DAY

6:30 to 7—Baby wakes up. Dressed and brought to table.

7 to 7:30—Breakfast (see feeding leaflet for menu.)

Twenty minutes to one-half hour after breakfast baby should be taken to the toilet. Then baby plays in crib, or high chair or play pen until 10 o'clock. This is a good hour for giving one of the three doses of cod-liver oil. After the oil give orange juice. Or give oil right after breakfast, and the orange juice alone at this time.

10—Dress baby in outdoor clothes and put him in room where mother is working with windows open, or else in bedroom with windows wide open and let him play for one hour. A sleepy baby may take a short nap.

11 to 11:30—Undressed, allowed to exercise in warm room without clothes, given warm tub bath and put into nightgown and bathrobe.

12—Lunch. (See feeding leaflet for menu.) Cod-liver oil.

12:45—Put to bed for a long nap, usually about two hours at this age.

2:45 to 3—Awake. Dressed for the street. Taken out in carriage for an hour's airing (or more.) Good opportunity for mother to do her marketing.

4—Cup of milk and cracker.

Plays in crib, high chair, or play-pen until time to get ready for bed.

6 to 6:30—Undressed for the night. Washed off, allowed to exercise without clothes in warm room for twenty minutes. Put into nightgown and bathrobe and brought to table.

7—Fed (see feeding leaflet.) Cod-liver oil. Put to bed for the night.

REDDY TAKES HOME A FEATHER

For all you say, pray offer proof.
Lest people think, you try to spoof.
—Reddy Fox.

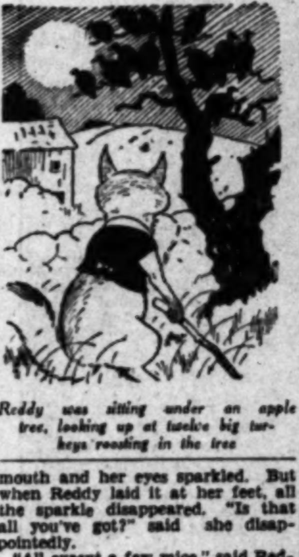
Reddy Fox could feel his mouth watering. Perhaps you know what that feels like. Perhaps you have seen something good to eat that you have wanted so very much that your mouth would water at the mere thought of having it. Reddy was sitting under an apple tree looking up at twelve big turkeys roosting in the tree. Mistress Moon was shining her brightest and Reddy could see almost as clearly as if it were daylight. Now and then one of the turkeys would move a little. He could see the big gobbler off a little at one side. Some of the turkeys were smaller than others. This meant that they were younger birds. My, how good one of them would taste!

Reddy sat there for a long time. He knew it was useless. He couldn't climb a tree. Those turkeys wouldn't come down until daylight. There was no use in sitting there licking his lips and wishing for one. But somehow he couldn't leave. There were no turkeys at any of the farms near Farmer Brown's. Reddy had never tasted a turkey, and, oh, how he did want to taste one of these!

But at last he reluctantly left. He took a hasty look at the hen-house and decided that it would be possible to get into it if ever the farmer was at all careless. But he was too wise to try to catch a chicken that night. He wanted a turkey and if he caught a chicken his chance of getting a turkey would be very slight, for the farmer would be on his guard. So Reddy went over to a meadow and hunted mice and caught enough to take the edge off his appetite. Then he went back for another look at the turkeys and finally started for home.



Reddy was sitting under an apple tree, looking up at twelve big turkeys roosting in the tree

When he reached home Mrs. Reddy was already there. She was waiting on the doorstep. She saw that he was carrying something in his mouth and her eyes sparkled. But when Reddy laid it at her feet, all the sparkle disappeared. "Is that all you've got?" said she disappointedly.

"All except a few mice," said Reddy.

"But what is the idea of bringing home a feather to me?" snapped Mrs. Reddy crossly.

"Do you see what kind of a feather it is?" replied Reddy.

"I don't know what kind of a feather it is and I don't want to know," replied Mrs. Reddy. "A feather is no good and I'm still hungry."

"Didn't you have any luck at all?" asked Reddy.

"Four mice," replied Mrs. Reddy.

"That's one more than I caught," said Reddy. "But this feather, my dear, just look at this feather! It is a feather from the wing of a turkey. I have made a discovery, my dear. There are twelve turkeys over at that farm that I visited and they roost in an apple tree."

"Well, what good does that do us?" demanded Mrs. Reddy.

"None now, my dear. None at all, I must admit," replied Reddy. "But where there are turkeys there must be a way of catching one. My, my, my, what a feast we would have if we could get just one turkey!"

"Well, if they roost in trees, we can't so that settles that," said Mrs. Reddy.

"Not at all, not at all," replied Reddy. "If the two of us together are not smart enough to get one of those turkeys, we are not as smart as I think we are. Tomorrow night we'll both go over there and see what we can plan. There must be some way and if there is we'll find it."

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

No Dirt Around

One housewife keeps the top drawer of her sewing machine empty and when she is sewing she pulls the drawer out a trifle and drops all trimmings, basting threads and scraps into it. Her floor is always free from scraps and she can leave her sewing hurriedly without fear of a disorderly room.

If You Are Not a Shopper

If shopping downtown is rather confusing to you, buy as many small articles around your neighborhood as possible and when necessary to shop in town, make out a definite list of the places you must go, with the items to be purchased alongside of them. You will find it a great help.

Investigate First

Before sending for a carpenter when a door sticks, see if the screws of the hinges are tight. Frequently that is all that is the matter and a screw-driver will quickly remedy the trouble. Should the door refuse to hold up with just this tightening, try replacing the screws with the next size larger.

NOTE: THE 28TH AND 35TH DIVISIONS, WITH THE 77TH FORMED THE 1ST CORPS UNDER GENERAL LIGGETT.

AT THE BEGINNING OF THE MEUSE-ARGONNE CAMPAIGN (SEPTEMBER 26, 1918) THE 28TH AND 35TH AMERICAN DIVISIONS ADVANCED NORTHWARD, WITH THE RIVER BETWEEN THEM, TO DRIVE THE GERMANS DOWN THE WINDING VALLEY OF THE AIRE.

IN THE FIRST DASH OVER THIS REGION THE 35TH (NATIONAL GUARDSMEN FROM MISSOURI UNDER GENERAL TRAUB) CAPTURED VAUQUOIS, THE 137TH INFANTRY OF THAT DIVISION TAKING VAUQUOIS HILL AND 100 PRISONERS WITHOUT FIRING A SHOT OR LOSING A MAN. ——•

ON THE FIRST DAY THE 35TH AND 28TH (PENNSYLVANIA NATIONAL GUARD UNDER GENERAL MUIR), DRIVING ABREAST DOWN THE AIRE, CAPTURED THE HISTORIC TOWN OF VARENNES. THE NEXT DAY THE 35TH SMASHED THROUGH THE VILLAGES OF CHARPENTRY AND BAULNY. —•

WEST OF THE AIRE, THE 28TH DIVISION, PENE- TRATING THROUGH THE FRINGES OF THE ARGONNE, WAS HARD PUT TO KEEP ITS RIGHT IN TOUCH WITH THE SWIFTLY-MOVING 35TH AND AT THE SAME TIME PRESERVE CONTACT WITH THE 77TH, SLOWLY STRUGGLING THROUGH THE DEEP FOREST ON ITS LEFT. —— Continued

The Times Forum, over KHJ at 10:30 a.m., Dr. Frank McCoy, discussing "The Dangers of Flatulence."

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

The government of the United ates consumes more time on the r than any organization or indidual, according to M. H. Aylesorth, president of the National roadcasting Company, in a letter H. A. Lafount, western member the Federal Radio Commission.

In the first ten months of this ar, according to the communican, 245 government officials, inding the President, were presentl in programs over the National roadcasting Company system alone. ore than 300 hours of broadcast e was utilized for government tivities during this period, it is ated.

While no definite estimates are at and, it is assumed that similar altments of time by the Columbia roadcasting System and by stations dependent of chain hook-ups ould more than double the number hours used by government inrests.

It is evident that the chain sys s feel that special programs by e government to determine the terest of the radio audience in pe and standard of programs, as ggested recently by Mr. Lafount, e not necessary. Mr. Aylesworth clares that his company will connue to lend its aid to every worthhile project of the departments in ashington.

Every branch of the government, cepting the judicial, is represented the government's broadcast acvities. The President, during the -month period, made ten addres ; the Vice-President spoke twice, d every member of the Cabinet s heard except Secretary of State imson and Secretary of Treasury ellon. Twenty-eight Senators ade addresses; twelve members of e House spoke, and more than 150 hiefs and subchiefs of the various overnmental bureaus appeared bere the microphone.

The Department of Agriculture ring the ten months led all other partments and branches of the vernment in the use of radio time. roviding a service primarily for rmers, this department utilized early 100 hours of broadcasting. In programs, the department prented 165 of its officials, who made total of 419 different addresses. e department presents, in coperation with the N.B.C., the Naonal Farm and Home Hour, a for-five-minute program daily except nday. This program, with the lks originating in Washington and ntertainment coming from Chicago, broadcast by more than thirty ations.

Presenting music, the three service nds provided the radio audience th more than 135 hours of enrtainment. The Navy band led th sixty-one separate programs taling fifty-six hours; the Army nd was second with forty-five ograms and forty hours; the Mae band third with forty-four proms and thirty-nine hours.

The demand is said to be increas , perhaps in the desire for great variety of program and a break the continuous presentation of sic by so many of the broadcast ations.

National radio chain broadcasting s come as the result of research the perfection of the nation's lephone system, according to A. P. ll, engineer of the Southern Calinia Telephone Company, who adessed a large audience at the Elecc Club in the Biltmore yesterday on.

In explaining the part that telephone circuits play in the national broadcasts, Mr. Hill said that there e now 30,000 miles of Bell System lephone circuits permanently rerved and specially constructed for roadcast purposes. In order to inre clear and continuous transmisn of music and speech, there are re than 400 amplifying stations roughout the nation, located at inrvals of 100 miles or less along the ute of these circuits. At each of ese amplifying stations, crews of n are kept busy maintaining the oper sound volume so that the ogram can reach the transmitting dio station in good condition.

Authorities Also Assured of Continued Aid

The Times Forum, over KHJ at 10:30 a.m., Dr. Frank McCoy, discussing "The Dangers of [illegible]."

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

The government of the United States consumes more time on the air than any organization or individual, according to M. H. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting Company, in a letter to H. A. Lafount, western member of the Federal Radio Commission.

In the first ten months of this year, according to the communication, [illegible] government officials, including the President, were presented in programs over the National Broadcasting Company system alone. More than 200 hours of broadcast time was utilized for government activities during this period, it is stated.

While no definite estimates are at hand it is assumed that similar allotments of time by the Columbia Broadcasting System and by stations independent of chain hook-ups would more than double the number of hours used by government interests.

It is evident that the chain systems feel that special programs by the government to determine the interest of the radio audience in type and standard of programs, as suggested recently by Mr. Lafount, are not necessary. Mr. Aylesworth declares that his company will continue to lend its aid to every worth-while project of the departments in Washington.

Every branch of the government, including the judicial, is represented in the government's broadcast activities. The President, during the ten-month period, made ten addresses; the Vice-President spoke twice, and every member of the Cabinet was heard except Secretary of State Stimson and Secretary of Treasury Mellon. Twenty-eight Senators made addresses; twelve members of the House spoke, and more than 150 chiefs and subchiefs of the various governmental bureaus appeared before the microphone.

The Department of Agriculture during the ten months led all other departments and branches of the government in the use of radio time. Including a service primarily for farms, this department utilized [illegible] hours of broadcasting. In its programs, the department presented [illegible] of its officials, who made a total of [illegible] different addresses. The department presents, in cooperation with the N.B.C., the National Farm and Home Hour, a forty-five-minute program daily except Sunday. This program, with the talks originating in Washington and entertainment coming from Chicago, is [illegible] by more than thirty stations.

Featuring music, the three service bands provided the radio audience with more than 125 hours of entertainment. The Navy band led with sixty-one separate programs during fifty-six hours; the Army band was second with forty-five programs and forty hours; the Marine band third with forty-four programs and thirty-nine hours.

The demand is said to be increasing, perhaps in the desire for greater variety of program and a break in the continuous presentation of [illegible] to many of the broadcast stations.

National radio chain broadcasting has come as the result of research in the perfection of the nation's telephone system, according to A. P. Hill, engineer of the Southern California Telephone Company, who addressed a large audience at the Electric Club in the Biltmore yesterday noon.

In explaining the part that telephone circuits play in the national broadcasts, Mr. Hill said that there are now [illegible] miles of Bell System telephone circuits permanently reserved and specially constructed for broadcast purposes. In order to insure clear and continuous transmission of music and speech, there are more than [illegible] amplifying stations throughout the nation, located at intervals of [illegible] miles or less along the route of these circuits. At each of these amplifying stations, crews of men are kept busy maintaining the proper sound volume so that the programs can reach the transmitting stations in good condition.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Those who would like to hear the President's message to Congress in full should tune in KHJ, the Don Lee station, at 9 a.m. The message will be read in Washington for the Columbia Broadcasting System by Frederic William Wile, simultaneously with its presentation at the White House.

At 8:30 a.m., KPWB will broadcast the proceedings at the Breakfast Club given by Majestic radio dealers, where the entire staff of KHJ will present the entertainment program.

Featuring hits from the film "It's a Great Life," starring the Duncan Sisters, and from "Wonderlust," a musical by John Clark of Santa Barbara, formerly first saxophone player for Paul Whiteman, the KHJ program of the Sierra Symphonists from 7 to 8 p.m. is inviting.

"Gems of the Treasure Chest," the title of the 8 p.m. offering of KMTR, will present James Knight Carden as a musical lapidarist, giving a word picture of each gem, selected under the direction of L. Scott Perkins in a novelty arrangement.

BIFFLE PERJURY TRIAL NOW ON

Witness for Pantages Goes Before Bar of Justice

Jury of Seven Men and Five Women to Decide Fate

Miss Pringle May be Called for Testimony Today

What is expected to develop into an encore performance of the Alexander Pantages case got under way yesterday in Superior Judge Wood's court, where Garland Biffle, Alhambra law book salesman, went on trial on a charge of perjury. This was lodged against him in connection with testimony he gave for the defense at the Pantages trial last October.

Following selection of a jury of seven men and five women, with another woman serving as alternate, prosecution and defense attorneys indicated in their opening statements that a number of witnesses at the Pantages trial will be called and that a large part of the testimony taken in that trial will be reviewed.

DEFENDANT'S TESTIMONY

Biffle, who was one of the first defense witnesses at the trial of Pantages on a charge of attacking Eunice Pringle, is asserted to have testified falsely that he saw Miss Pringle and Nicholas Dunaev, playwright, together in the lobby of the Pantages Building the afternoon of the asserted attack. Dep. Dist.-Attys. Frampton and Van Cott indicated they will call both Miss Pringle and Dunaev. It was reported Miss Pringle probably will take the witness stand today.

Van Cott told the jury the State will attempt to show that Biffle's testimony was material to Pantage's defense that Miss Pringle had "framed" him on the attack charge. Defense Attorney Kendrick argued that the testimony was immaterial.

WITNESS QUOTED

According to the indictment against Biffle, he quoted Miss Pringle as saying to Dunaev: "Pantages will be sorry if he doesn't face me this time." Biffle also testified that Dunaev told Miss Pringle: "Don't get cold feet."

L. A. Mills, Stockton attorney, was the only witness called yesterday. He testified he met Biffle in Stockton early in October. Mills said Biffle remarked at that time that he had been served with a subpoena in the Pantages case but that he did not know "anything about the case."

The trial will be resumed this morning.

CONTEST IN FIRST AID TO TAKE PLACE

Red Cross Event Will be Conducted in May, 1930, for Industrial Concerns

A Red Cross industrial first-aid contest will be held in Los Angeles in May, 1930, it was announced yesterday by Albert C. Gordon, director of first aid and life saving of the Los Angeles chapter of the American Red Cross. It will be open to industrial organizations having five-person teams trained in Red Cross first-aid methods. A silver trophy will be awarded the winning team and the team members each will receive a medal and a certificate of award.

Gordon announced the contest in making known the chapter's 1930 health-promotion program. In order to stimulate interest in industrial first-aid work, the chapter will give special lectures and demonstrations for industrial groups. These will be arranged on request.

A limited number of free first-aid courses also will be offered. They will be given by a number of volunteer first-aid instructors who have pledged their services.

For organizations already having safety programs and wishing to augment them, the chapter will train a group of foremen, department heads or social leaders, selected by executives. They then will be qualified to teach their own employees.

City Planners Invite Mayors for Luncheon

Annual "Mayors Day" is to be observed by the Association of City Planners of Los Angeles county at a luncheon in the Chamber of Commerce Building at 12:15 p.m. on the 14th inst. Mayors of all cities in this area are expected to attend.

County Assessor Ed W. Hopkins will speak on "The Determination of Assessed Valuations and Their Relation to the Community Plan." John C. Austin, architect, will speak on "Civic Duty is Civic Beauty." J. A. Mellen, secretary-treasurer, announced that this meeting will close the 1929 activities, and that new officers will be elected.

Azusa Doctor Given Sentence to San Quentin

Dr. George E. Darrow, Azusa physician convicted of second-degree murder in connection with the death last July of Mrs. Jennie Peterson, 23 years of age, yesterday was sentenced by Superior Judge Wilson to serve from five years to life in San Quentin.

Sentence was imposed after the court refused to consider Dr. Darrow's application for probation. Attorneys for the physician filed oral notice of appeal and the court granted a stay of execution of sentence to January 6.

EBELL TO HEAR LECTURE

Prof. R. J. Batchelder of the school of architecture, University of Southern California, will discuss modern architecture at the Ebell Club tomorrow at 2 p.m.

WAMPAS BABY STAR REPORTED ENGAGED

Doris Hill

Doris Hill, screen actress and one of this year's crop of Wampas baby stars, is engaged to James Lewis Stunston of Kentucky, who is now in Hollywood, according to information obtained from her friends yesterday.

Miss Hill would neither deny nor affirm the reports but said she may have something to say at some later date. Her friends expect a formal announcement several weeks hence.

The actress gained recognition almost overnight in films and, until she decided a number of weeks ago to enter the free-lance field, was under contract to Paramount.

DRYS OFFER BATTLE ON WET PRESS

Anti-Saloon League State Superintendent Addresses Methodist Preachers

Offering to provide speakers from the Anti-Saloon League to go into communities to lead a fight against the "bootleg press," Dr. Arthur A. Briggs, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of California, in an address to Methodist preachers at First Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday scored those newspapers which disseminate wet propaganda.

"If William Randolph Hearst is right in his attitude toward prohibition, we should indorse him; but if he is wrong we ministers should do everything without our power to try to keep his papers out of decent homes," said Dr. Briggs. "We need a series of round-table discussions in various communities, to talk and think things over and to inform persons who have been misinformed by the wet press."

Another speaker was Prof. Albion R. King of the department of philosophy of the West Virginia Wesleyan University and fellow in Philosophy at the University of Southern California, who discussed "Psychological Effects of Alcohol." He described three stages of intoxication, affecting primarily the faculty of discrimination and self-criticism, secondly the motor and sensory nerves and, lastly, the instinctive and emotional nature.

"By far the most dangerous stage of drunkenness is the first, in which, following the consumption of a small amount of alcohol, the poison attacks the self-critical faculty, robbing the victim of inhibition and leaving him free to misuse his other faculties," said the speaker.

Discussing the use of alcohol in connection with mental and physical efficiency, Dr. King said that alcohol always slows up reaction, rendering the nerves and muscles less capable of carrying out the dictates of the will, causing accidents, poor workmanship and unintelligent action generally.

"The third and last stage of intoxication is when enough alcohol has been imbibed to render the drinker practically unconscious even of his instinctive nature," said Prof. King.

Head of Shrine Will be Greeted on Return Today

Leo V. Youngworth, Imperial Potentate and head of the 600,000 members of the Mystic Shrine, will return home today after a visit to seventy-five of the 157 Shrine temples in North America, and will be met at the Central Station at 9:15 a.m. by Al Malaikah Temple's uniformed band, patrol and chanters' organizations, as well as other Shriners. He comes directly from Phoenix.

He will be taken to the Jonathan Club, where he will be guest at breakfast.

After a few days in Los Angeles Mr. Youngworth will leave for a flying visit to practically every Shrine organization in California before returning home for the holidays.

FUNERAL OF I. N. RICE WILL BE TOMORROW

Funeral services will be conducted at the Little Church of the Flowers, Glendale, at 2 p.m. tomorrow for I. N. Rice, widely known Pacific Coast representative of a large eastern piano company, who died Sunday evening at his home, 419 South Gramercy Place, after a lingering illness. He was 82 years of age. Death was attributed to apoplexy. Mr. Rice came to Los Angeles ten years ago from Iowa. About two years ago he suffered a stroke which forced his retirement from activity. Besides his widow he leaves two sons, John Rice and Dr. F. T. Rice, retired army surgeon, and one daughter, Mrs. Fahrney.

LASKY SIGNING STANLEY SMITH

Jean Hersholt Takes Up Schildkraut Role for R.-K.-O.; Charles Reisner Wins New Contract With M.-G.-M.; Mary Duncan Goes to New York for Play

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

STANLEY SMITH

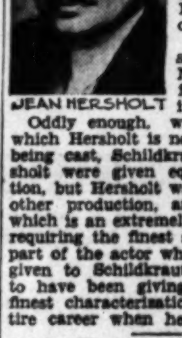
It looks as though, for some time to come, Nancy Carroll and Stanley Smith will be paired together in Paramount pictures, even though Paramount must borrow the young actor from Pathe in order to do it. Indeed, there is a rumor that Paramount likes Smith's work to such an extent, that the organization may buy the youth's contract.

In the meantime, in any case, Smith has just been borrowed again from Pathe to play the leading male role opposite Miss Carroll in "Come Out of the Kitchen," the musical version of the play in which Miss Chatterton appeared on the stage several seasons ago.

As you remember, Miss Carroll and Smith have been scoring heavily in "Sweetie," there being something in their combined personalities which is highly effective on the screen.

Wesley Ruggles will direct the picture, which is to be a musical special.

HERSHOLT TO TAKE SCHILDKRAUT ROLE



JEAN HERSHOLT

Because it looks as if Rudolph Schildkraut, who was suddenly stricken with a heart attack at R.-K.-O. studios the other day, will be unable for some time to continue with his feature role in "The Case of Sergeant Grischa," Jean Hersholt is to play the part. He began work yesterday, under direction of Herbert Brenon.

Betty Compson and Chester Morris are the featured leads in the picture.

Oddly enough, when the role which Hersholt is now playing was being cast, Schildkraut and Hersholt were given equal consideration, but Hersholt was busy in another production, and the part, which is an extremely exacting one, requiring the finest ability on the part of the actor who plays it, was given to Schildkraut, who is said to have been giving one of the finest characterizations of his entire career when he was stricken.

Reisner Signs New Contract

Charles F. (Chuck) Reisner, who scored heavily with his directorial efforts in "The Hollywood Revue of 1929" and with "Road Show," made for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, has been signed on a long-term contract by M.-G.-M.

The director rose to prominence as a comedy producer after an association of years' standing with Charles Chaplin, with whom he served as assistant, writer and actor.

Reisner will shortly start work on a new musical extravaganza not yet announced.

Mary Duncan to Stage

MARY DUNCAN

While Fox officials want it clearly understood that Mary Duncan is still under contract to them, this does not preclude her taking a flyer at the stage once in a while.

She has been given a vacation to go back to New York and investigate a stage offer which was given her back there. She left for New York late last week.

Miss Duncan's success in John Colton's "The Shanghai Gesture," was such, when she appeared in the play in New York with Florence Reed, that eastern managers have been constantly trying to secure her services for another stage play. She has only now found time to comply.

Stuart Erwin Busy

When Buddy Rogers starts work in his next Paramount starring vehicle, "Young Eagles," he will have as his comedy aid that dependable player, Stuart Erwin.

Erwin lately finished a role in "Sweeties."

Niblo to Resume Directing

Though Fred Niblo is having a lot of fun, he admits, playing a role in Buster Keaton's current M.-G.-M. comedy, "On the Set," he wants it distinctly understood that he hasn't deserted the directorial field.

At present he is reading stories, and will shortly announce which one he will direct next for M.-G.-M.

"Scrub Oak" for Hoot

SALLY EILERS

"Scrub Oak," an original story by Reaves Eason, will be Hoot Gibson's next Universal production following completion of his current picture. Eason will also direct Hoot in this vehicle, which is to go into production during Christmas week.

Sally Eilers, who has been appearing in Gibson's pictures of late, will again be his leading lady.

Miss Eilers, as everybody remembers, first made a success in Mack Sennett's "The Good-by Kiss."

Petition Found Adequate for Vote on Tonic

City Clerk Dominguez yesterday reported to the Council that the petition asking for a referendum election on the wine-tonic prohibition ordinance adopted last month contains sufficient names to require the calling of a special election. The petition originally contained 55,000 names, and Dominguez's check shows that at least 25,843 are valid.

The report was referred to the Public Welfare Committee, but it is considered that the election will not be held until the State general election of next November.

Amateur Kisses Tame After That

Roy Davidge, film director, saw people kissing all day, so when he came home at night, Mrs. Sylvie Davidge testified in Superior Judge Sproul's court yesterday, he was fed up and neglected to kiss her.

Questioned by her attorney, S. S. Hahn, Mrs. Davidge admitted the suspicion that some of the kisses her husband had seen and possibly directed during the day's duties had made her osculatory efforts look tame. She even accused him of some of the kissing himself.

Judge Sproul gave her a decree, $50 a month alimony and $25,000 worth of real estate as her share of community property.

Noonan Sanity Trial Deferred

The hearing on the sanity of Jack Noonan, brother of Sally O'Neil, motion-picture actress, set for yesterday before Superior Judge Gould in the psychopathic court at the General Hospital, was continued until Thursday next because Claire Woolwine, counsel for Noonan, was unable to appear.

Noonan is accused of assisting in the burglarizing of the home of Ted Lewis. He was brought back to Los Angeles from New York and held in the County Jail. Later he was removed to the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital for observation.

BRIDGE PARLEY ORDERED

The County Affairs Committee yesterday was delegated by the Council to take up with the Board of Supervisors the matter of an allocation of funds for the Kester-avenue bridge across the Los Angeles River. The city already has appropriated $2000 from the special traffic fund.

FRAME-UP LAID TO POLICE

Long Beach Attorney, Witness in Municipal Scandal, Asks Jury to Investigate Arrest Saturday

When the grand jury convenes today to resume its investigation of asserted irregularities in Long Beach municipal affairs, it will be asked by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hammon to investigate the arrest last Saturday night of James W. Barbee, an attorney, who charges his detention was a frame-up and calculated to prevent him from testifying before the jurors. Barbee yesterday appeared before Hammon and asked for a thorough grand-jury investigation of the incident.

The attorney was taken in custody in a Long Beach rooming-house in company with Margie Cummings, 22-year-old operative of the Long Beach vice squad. The woman had invited him to the room to discuss divorce proceedings, he says and a moment after his arrival, police officers, waiting in an adjoining room, entered and arrested him on a disorderly conduct charge.

After the arrest Sergt. Lentz, head of the Long Beach vice squad, admitted the Cummings woman had received instructions from him in a plan to entrap Barbee. He said she had been told to purchase liquor from the lawyer, if possible.

Barbee insists the affair was designed by police authorities when they learned he had been requested to appear as a witness before the grand jury in connection with the current inquiry.

Others expected to appear today are Miss Myrtelle Gunsul, City Auditor of Long Beach, and a number of police officers.

WOMAN FAILS TO APPEAR IN COURT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 2.—Margie Cummings, woman operative employed by the police vice squad, failed to appear in Municipal Court this afternoon when disorderly conduct charges against her and Attorney James W. Barbee were called. The Cummings woman and Barbee were arrested in a hotel room Saturday night by Sergt. Lentz of the vice squad. Barbee charges the arrest was a police frame-up designed to prevent him testifying before the grand jury. Judge Wallace today ordered a bench warrant for the arrest of the woman. Barbee was given five days in which to plead to the charge.

OPERA COMPANY IN GALA DEBUT

'La Forza Del Destino' Given by New Organization

Italian Conductor Recipient of Merited Applause

Distinguished Audience Pays Tribute to Piccaluga

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Columbia Grand Opera Company made an auspicious debut at the Biltmore Theater last night. Verdi's "La Forza del Destino" was given a fine performance, the audience was distinguished and very enthusiastic and the new organization gave every promise of future success. Alberto Conti, the young Italian conductor imported by the Columbia company's director, Alexander Bevani, was largely responsible for the excellent presentation and merited well the applause which the audience showered upon him. He conducts with fire and spirit, keeps his orchestra where it belongs and puts the singers at their ease by a decisive beat.

There was rejoicing at the return of the intimate opera. The expression of the mobile faces on the stage was plainly visible and this closeness created a friendliness between the singers and the listeners, for which they were equally grateful.

Among the stars last night was Myrna Sharlow, who displayed a dramatic soprano voice of moving depth and beauty. Her anxious acting leaves something to be desired but her singing is eminently satisfying. Piccaluga, the tenor who sang Don Alvaro opposite Sharlow's Leonora, was a splendid surprise. He rose to the heights of the Verdi score with ease, is an attractive figure on the stage and imbued his interpretation with a convincing reality. The tenor aria in the third act, "Thou Heavenly One," stopped the performance for minutes of applause and it was evident that Piccaluga is destined to become a favorite with Americans.

Galileo Parigi, another Italian singer new to California, made a fine impression with the part of Don Carlos. The interchange of vows which occasions the beautiful duet with Alvaro was quite the high light of the evening, the two voices being well blended and handled with taste. Piccaluga's voice is a shade darker than most Italian tenors and thereby gains a richness which matches well the excellent baritone resonance of Parigi.

Lenore Ivey, a popular Los Angeles opera singer, acquitted herself well in the part of Preziosilla and gained the approval of the audience. Scattola did the humorous monk and Enrico Spado took the part of the Father Superior well, although his voice seemed not to be at its best last night. Edith Mackey, Ettore Ghisletti and Luigi Rocca were acceptable in minor roles.

The chorus deserves special mention for musical voices and exact intonation. The benediction scene was well handled and wonderful to relate the chorus actually sang a clearly understood pianissimo.

The new scenery is effective and its simplicity is a relief from the fussiness and unreality of the usual opera paraphernalia. Flat surfaces, massive wall spaces, dramatic lighting and a background that brought the performers into prominence, affording accent, line and color to the moving figures, proved very successful and both Boris Deutsch and Joseph Perry are to be congratulated. Incidentally Alexander Bevani, the director, is to be commended for bravery in adopting this modern staging.

Congratulations were being showered upon Director Bevani, Bradford Mills, the manager, and Conductor Conti and they were deserved for the opening performance of this new western opera company had every mark of success. It moved along without apparent hindrance, it was musically satisfying and it promises much for the future enjoyment and study of grand opera in Los Angeles.

Tonight the company will present "La Traviata."

OLD STORY GIVEN NEW TREATMENT

'Great Divide' Retold With Modern Touch; Dorothy Mackaill Heads Cast

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

A sound film called "The Great Divide," which, no doubt, most movie goers have seen in silent guise in other years, came to Warners' Hollywood Theater yesterday, embellished with dialogue, songs, orchestral accompaniment and dancing.

The story of "The Great Divide" in general has been done in one form or another perhaps a dozen times, although this is the third official picture version of it. It is that of the excitement-crazed city girl, who is taught enjoyment of the really worth-while things of life—sunsets, sunrises, bacon fried in a pan over an open fire, sleep in a blanket rolled underneath the stars—only by being kidnaped by some strong, silent man of the west.

When one can see, therefore, such a familiar tale as this unfolded to the extent that it is interesting and more or less colorful, one is forced to conclusion that only treatment can be responsible.

Thus, one might say, that although Dorothy Mackaill and Ian Keith are in actuality stars of the picture, Reginald Barker, director, is the star in another and more real sense.

He has done an excellent piece of work of "The Great Divide" in its new 1929 form. The picture, despite its time-worn theme, is not without interest, and in addition has a certain amount of glamour and quite charm. These moments of enhanced enjoyment were attained, paradoxically, for the most part in those scenes of the picture in which sound played an important part, that is, the colorful Mexican fiesta with its gay dancing girls and men, its singing cowboys and sprightly Spanish orchestral tunes. However, in concentrating on these modern sound aspects of the film, Barker forgot not his mountain peaks. The background includes views of as many majestic crags, cliffs, winding trails and stately trees as one could possibly wish for. Which is as it should be in any film possessing the title of "The Great Divide."

Dorothy Mackail in a role not dissimilar from the one she carried in "His Captive Woman," is the impetuous light of luxury, who is forced to ride the cowboy trails with her handsome kidnaper. She does a good pieces of acting. Ian Keith is the masterful lover, who would have his woman possessed of the good old-fashioned virtues. Keith—perhaps it was the role he played—reminded me not a little of Thomas Meighan in the old days. He has an excellent voice which was heard to advantage. Myrna Loy flashed exotically in several scenes. George Fawcett contributed one of his brief but excellent performances, while Lucien Littlefield, Ben Hendricks, James Ford, Creighton Hale, Roy Stewart, and Claude Dillingham were also to be seen.

On the accompanying program of short subjects was Franklin Pangborn impersonating Aubrey Piper of "The Show-off" in ufrther adventures of that boasting gentleman as embodied in a new skit by George Kelly. It's a grand piece of comedy.

Brilliant Film Premiere Planned

Ronald Colman and Ann Harding

In a scene from "Condemned," Colman's latest starring vehicle, which will begin an extended run at the Chinese Theater Thursday. A typical gala opening performance will start the picture off.

WALTHALL IN FAMED ROLE

Jerome's "Passing of Third Floor Back" Opens New "Actor's Theater;" Event Reminiscent

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

The Stranger moved again last night among publicans and sinners. The occasion was the revival of Jerome K. Jerome's "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," done into play form at the erstwhile Orange Grove by the newly organized Actor's Theater. With Henry B. Walthall in the part of the Stranger, the piece pursued its course in much the same manner as it has since Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson, in the same role, introduced it to America on October 4, 1909. Last evening's premiere was a sentimental event, representing the realization of a dream in the creation of The Renick Players, Inc., and through the rather threadbare mechanics of "just another opening" shone now and again the inspiration which makes of play acting something a little more than a professional way of making a living.

In the twenty years since Jerome's comedy first touched these shores, the theater has changed, though human nature has not. Thus "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," for all its talkiness, all its "asides" and outmoded conversational interludes in which two persons parry and thrust with words in the very midst of ten others suddenly gone deaf, dumb and blind—for all this, the play has beauty and a profound immutability. "The business of art is to reveal the beauty underlying all things," speaks the Stranger once; it is there in Jerome's play, and the seeker will find it.

The program divides the scenes into a prologue and two acts. Today, with more directness, these would be simply three acts, for if the first is a prologue, the third is an epilogue. In the second act the Stranger heals the troubled souls who occupy their little cells at Mrs. Sharpe's genteel boarding house, 13 Bloomsbury, London. What goes before is a preparation for his coming, and what follows is aftermath.

It is unnecessary to dwell in detail upon the plot. Its argument is stated in the comment of a senile old codger who says, "The world ain't a story book—all Jacks and Jills and love in a cottage," for it is the elimination of the "ain't" with which the Stranger is concerned in his visitation. At Mrs. Sharpe's he meets a satyr, a coward, a bully, a shrew, a rogue and the like; and with a few soft words, turns them. The words are always simplest logic; the Stranger's divination is uncanny, disarming and complete. That its effectiveness might have fallen far short of the desired is a matter for individual speculation, depending upon one's receptiveness to writing and performance.

Mr. Walthall is a gentle Stranger, sonorous-voiced and winning. He rises, I think, above those who surround him, though Adda Gleason as Miss Kite, and Eddie Morris as Harry Larkcom closely achieve his admirable dramatic stature. It is a motley assemblage of what are known as "types" at best, all of them happy and radiating that warmth which is peculiarly the theater's own. Gladys Kingsbury, Mildred Meade, Clarice Wynn, Lorimer Johnston, Grace Gordon Nolan, Howard Russell and others have roles. Arthur Belasco, struggling valiantly to reconcile a Yiddish accent with a lisp, plays Jape Samuels. The important part of the slavey is filled by Miss Renick herself, with a charm which minimizes the shortcomings of her new Bloomsbury tongue.

Wilfrid North directed the production.

Joan Bennett Has Fine Role

Joan Bennett, who is the feminine lead in "The Mississippi Gambler," the film starting Thursday at the Million Dollar Theater, is a member of the illustrious Bennett family, noted on stage and screen. She inherits her marked dramatic ability from her father, Richard Bennett. In this drama of the war period she plays opposite Joseph Schildkraut. Others in the cast include Carmelita Geraghty, Alec B. Francis, Otis Harlan and Billy Welsh.

"POW-WOW" PLANNED

Society, visiting notables, artists and screen stars will gather in the Cocoanut Grove at the Hotel Ambassador tonight for a gala "Indian Pow-Wow," which will be given in honor of Chief Yowlache, popular Hollywood Bowl baritone, and Homer Grunn, Charles Wakefield Cadman and other composers of American Indian songs. Mal Hallett's orchestra will play a special program of Indian dance selections. An outstanding feature will be an original Indian fashion revue.

Duffy Selects Versatile Cast for Next Drama

Henry Duffy is assembling a notable cast to support Frank McGlynn, the noted American actor, who will appear as guest star with the Henry Duffy Players in John Drinkwater's drama, "Abraham Lincoln," which will have its premiere here Saturday.

Albert Phillips, who created the role of Gen. Grant in the Broadway production of the play, is being brought here to repeat his portrayal. James Durkin will be seen in his original role of Gen. Robert E. Lee. McGlynn is assisting Edwin H. Curtis in staging the play which will be the most ambitious offering ever undertaken by the Henry Duffy Players.

Frances Starr is nearing the end of her engagement at El Capitan in the Dorrance Davis comedy, "The Shelf," and the final performance of the play will be given Friday evening.

Mystery Play Presented by Colored Cast

Choosing a mystery play to vary their theatrical fare, the colored Lafayette Players this week are presenting "Spooks" at the Lincoln Theater. The drama is capably enacted by the troupe.

The play has a novel beginning and holds the suspense until the final curtain. From the time Evelyn Preer comes screaming down the main aisle the audience is well aware that things are to happen.

BROWN STARTS WORK UNDER NEW CONTRACT

Returning with his usual verve after sojourning in the East, Mel Brown, R.-K.-O. director, yesterday under a recently signed contract with the William Le Baron organization.

For the past month, accompanied by Mrs. Brown, the director has been viewing current Broadway attractions. While there, Brown witnessed the opening performance of his recent directorial effort, "Jazz Heaven," which is also now showing at the local R.-K.-O. Theater.

'RICHARD III' ACHIEVES MERIT

Tragedy of Bard Staged in Elaborate Manner

Shakespeare Foundation Is Production's Sponsor

R. D. MacLean in Title Role Impresses

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

With the high aim of giving permanence to the traditions of classical drama, the Shakespeare Foundation of California last night presented "Richard III" at Royce Hall Auditorium at the University of California at Los Angeles. An elaborate and dignified production of the Bard of Avon's famous tragedy was given, with a large audience attentive in their interest.

R. D. MacLean assumed the title role, and leading actors in the cast included Francis X. Bushman, Sarah Padden, Maude Fealy, Julia Blanc, Bram Nossen, Thomas Ricketts, James Gordon and others. The initial enterprise reflected splendidly to the credit of those responsible.

Of especial quality was the staging, which achieved impressiveness notably in the later battle scenes. Throughout, refinement and taste were exhibited in the presentation, and a very authentic excellence in the reading of the lines and interpretations.

MacLean's impersonation of the ambitious, the cruel and the wily Richard was distinctly outstanding, although closely rivaled in certain scenes by the emotional vigor of Miss Padden's impersonation of Elizabeth. MacLean has the authority of schooling and experience in the classics, and this enables him to make the sinister monarch, who murdered all who stood in the way of his ascent to the throne, dramatic and effective. Richard can without question be played with more fire than MacLean brought to the role, but seldom is the portrayal imbued with such steady and somber determination as he attains.

MacLean was at his finest perhaps in depicting the Richard of the later scenes, torn by the bitterness of forebodings on the one hand during his nocturnal vigils, and yet refusing in the heat of battle to give way to the threat of any actual enemy. At no time did he indulge in undue theatricalism, but remained distinctly in character.

However, there were unfortunate lapses during the stage warfare that were at times distinctly detracting. One of these included a delayed entrance of Francis X. Bushman in the role of Richmond, not to speak of the rather hurly-burly nature of some of the mob maneuvers.

However, these final scenes can be elevated to the proper standard of staging and conform in quality with the best of the earlier ones, because in resources such as settings and ampleness of personnel they present marked possibilities.

Aside from these late lapses, the ensemble of the company remained very finished, and the work of Miss Fealy, Miss Blanc, Mr. Nossen and others contributed materially to a unified performance. Mr. Bushman was imposing of presence in the Richmond role.

"Richard III" is being performed the first three days of the week, and will be followed Thursday evening by "Merry Wives of Windsor." The productions of the Shakespeare Foundation, of which William Andrews Clark, Jr., is honorary chairman, are purposed to establish lecture and other courses of instruction in the Bard of Avon's plays at the university. It is planned to give them at semiannual intervals.

Dramatic Tale Well Enacted at Downtown

BY P. K. S.

A literate and intelligent adaptation of a forgotten stage play, with a cast assembled from among the better Hollywood players, "Evidence," opening yesterday, is one of the best films to reach Warner's Downtown Theater. Tolerably British in accent, setting and execution, its surface technicalities are overshadowed by the sincere and compelling performances with which it is favored. Pauline Frederick, in a role not altogether dissimilar from that taken by Gloria Swanson in "The Trespasser," demonstrates again her right to possession of a name long respected in the diversified theater. She is supported by Conway Tearle, Lowell Sherman, William Courtnay—three gentlemen who also know how to speak lines—and a number of other capable actors ranging from the veteran Alec Francis to little Freddie Burke Frederick.

"Evidence" is a drama of mother love. The unreasonableness of a stiff-necked husband—Lord Willcott to you—who deprives his wife of her child because he finds her in another man's rooms, may seem a little unreal to the knowing spectator but without it there would be no story. Acceptance of the situation, therefore, is necessary to his enjoyment of the picture. And once accepted, it will lead him an engrossing hour.

One sequence alone would make "Evidence" worth his time. It is that in which the ostracized Lady Willcott visits her boy in what had once been her own apartments. To him, she is a princess materialized out of the night, and as such must be accorded due honor. Miss Frederick and Master Frederick here distinguish themselves by a beautiful restraint in what might have slipped easily into something maudlin.

The denouement is more palpably theatric. Lowell Sherman, as Maj. Pollock, who had compromised Lady Willcott, comes to her years later with a confession exonerating her from complicity. He dies conveniently in her reception room, the confession is found, and Lord Willcott graciously consents to reinstate his ex-wife in his affections.

All this is told, as I have said, with a nice discrimination and a sense of the dramatic. The handling is that of the stage rather than the cinema, but at least the characters have something to say. Their words are credited to J. Grubb Alexander, who also wrote the screen play. John G. Adolfi directed.

Hugh O'Connell and Dick Henderson are presented in separate short subjects on the new Warner bill.

Steer of Angeleno Oil Man Grand Champion

Californian's Lamb Awarded Highest Honors

Young Agriculturalists Will Act as Judges

Grand champion steer honors at the fourth annual Christmas Livestock Show and Rodeo yesterday went to a California Hereford, following a contest between nearly 100 entries from several States. The registered Hereford steer is owned and exhibited by Herbert Wiley, millionaire Los Angeles oil man and was bred and fitted on Wiley's ranch, the Dos Pueblos Land and Improvement Company in Santa Barbara county.

Wiley insisted that all of the credit for the California victory should go to his veteran herdsman, Andy Simpson. This steer, along with other prize winners, will be sold at public auction at 9 o'clock Thursday morning. Sheriff Traeger will wield the gavel.

Reserve grand champion steer honors went to J. B. Hollinger of Chapman, Kan., on his Aberdeen-Angus entry.

LAMB WINS HONORS

A California lamb won grand champion honors. This was a Southdown shown by Metzgar & Vaughn, Dixon. To the same exhibitor went the reserve grand championship on a Shropshire lamb and grand championship on a carload of Shropshires. Floyd T. Fox, Silverton, Or., showed the reserve grand champion carlot of Southdown lambs and J. W. Burgess, Stockton, showed the third prize Shropshires.

Other steers which won prizes included entries from the California Polytechnic School, San Luis Obispo; Kenwood Farms, Kenwood, Cal.; Dr. Dan Casement, Manhattan, Kan.; Mrs. J. A. Elmhirst, Merced, Cal.; Omni Winterton, Keatley, Utah; John Tate, Upland, Cal.; J. A. Elmhirst, Merced; D. E. Alexander, Klamath Falls, Or.; Congdon & Battles, Yakima, Wash; W. E. Gird, Bonsall, Cal., and J. A. Pitts, Upland.

HERDED TO CHUTES

A delegation of Utah and Idaho stockmen arrived on the Union Pacific yesterday morning at the East Los Angeles station. There the party was met by a group of cowboys who "herded" the delegation into specially decorated cattle cars and they were switched to the cattle chutes on the show grounds. In the party were E. R. Alton, president, and E. J. Fjeldsted, secretary, Ogden Chamber of Commerce; L. F. Whitlock, general manager Ogden stockyards; Russell Wilkins, sheepman of Ogden; George Critchfield, general manager Bigelow Hotel, Ogden, and Dean Sullivan, auctioneer of Rupert, Idaho. This party will attend a picnic and other festivities at the show grounds today, which has been set aside as Utah-Idaho day.

Band music yesterday was furnished by the forty-five-piece band from Huntington Park Union High School, of which Miss Mable Langdon is leader and John R. Hawkins, instructor. The official cowboy band plays each afternoon and will entertain today at the Ad Club luncheon.

BOYS HAVE EXHIBIT

One of the interesting exhibits at the show is that of the California Polytechnic School at San Luis Obispo. The seven boys who are exhibiting stock from the school includes James Bogart, Albert Keller, Harold Dunlap, John Culbertson, Kenneth Waid, Sol Mondrus and Angus Hardie. L. E. McFarland, head of the agricultural department of the school and farm superintendent, is in charge of the boys' exhibits, and is assisted by W. W. Vernon, herdsman, and E. D. Dunning, farm mechanics instructor. The boys made a splendid showing when their fat stock was judged yesterday.

The vanguard of the more than 1000 boy and girl agricultural students who will take part in a livestock judging program at the stock show Saturday arrived yesterday. They were J. L. Harlan, Jr., head of the agricultural department, Woodland High School, and Melvin and Alfred March, students. On the Woodland School team which will judge Saturday will be Bruce Waybur, who won grand champion honors on his barrow at the recent South San Francisco stock show. R. H. Butzbach, principal of the school, and others will accompany the team when it arrives Friday.

CANADIAN LEGION TO MEET

Members of Los Angeles branch, No. 10, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., will meet tonight in Roosevelt Hall in the Patriotic Building, 1816 South Figueroa street. All former British soldiers are invited to attend.

TWO WOULD-BE MIXS IN MIX-UP

Cowboys Seek Legal Right to Name

Denver Dixon and George Kesterson

Two Mixs are in court, each purporting to be Art Mix in a mix-up which Superior Judge Vicini is asked to unmix and decide which Mix is entitled to the name in the production of western motion pictures. Trial of the suit began yesterday and will continue today.

The action is one wherein George Kesterson, a broncho buster and trick-rope performer, who legally has adopted the name of Art Mix, is seeking to enjoin Denver Dixon, also a rough rider and lariat artist, from using the name in the production of his films.

Dixon in a cross-complaint is asking $10,000 damages of Kesterson, asserting he has the right to the name of Art Mix by priority. Kesterson, besides seeking an injunction, asks for $5000 damages.

According to the story told by the men during a court recess yesterday and two litigants formerly punched cattle together on the 3-C ranch near Bakersfield. Kesterson worked under the direction of Dixon.

Neither cowboy is related to Tom Mix.

LIQUOR MAKERS LOSE ON APPEAL

Court Overrules Plea of Once in Jeopardy

Were Tried for Possession, Then for Still

When a defendant, caught in possession of a still, is prosecuted in Municipal Court on charges of possession and manufacture of liquor, such prosecution does not immunize him from subsequent prosecution in Superior Court on the more serious felony charge of possessing a still. Nor does the contention of such defendant that conviction on the lesser charge constitutes "once in jeopardy" hold good.

This is the opinion handed down in the District Court of Appeals here yesterday, as written by Justice Hahn, pro tem, and concurred in by Justice York. Justice Houser dissented.

The opinion was based on the appeal of Fernando Painetti and Fred Casalichio, convicted of manufacture and possession of liquor in Municipal Court and later convicted in Superior Court of possessing a still. From the judgment of the latter court the defendants appealed on the ground that, having once been convicted on charges growing out of their arrest in possession of a still, they have been in jeopardy and could not be so placed a second time.

In upholding the judgment of the Superior Court the Appellate court held that both acts, possession and manufacture of liquor, are denounced in the so-called "Still Act."

Ground Broken for Garibaldina Club Building

Ground-breaking ceremonies were conducted yesterday for the Garibaldina Society's new club building to rise at the northeast corner of Alpine and Castelar streets. Officers of the club and members attended.

The structure which is to be two stories in height is of Italian architecture and will be 55 ft. by 80 on an area 80* ft. on Alpine street and 120 feet on Castelar. With equipment it will represent an investment of about $50,000 with an additional $30,000 for the site. The building will contain a large assembly room, ballroom and every detail requisite to make it one of the best-arranged and equipped club homes in the city. The design and plans were prepared by B. J. Savino and Carlo Bongiovanni and the latter was awarded the contract.

The Garibaldina Society, organized in 1885, has a membership of 400 and is a leading club in Southern California comprising members of Italian lineage. It was formed for benevolent purposes and takes an active interest in furthering civic welfare. P. F. Drino is its president.

SOCIETY TO HEAR OF GRANTS

William McPherson of Santa Ana will address the December meeting of the Historical Society of Southern California this evening on "Spanish and Mexican Land Grants of Orange county." Following the address officers for the ensuing year will be elected. The meeting will be held in the board of education room, Chamber of Commerce Building.

MORRISON TOPS PROFESSIONAL FIELD

Leading Figures in P.G.A. Qualifying Round at Hillcrest

From left to right they are Walter Hagen, Henry Ciuci, Fred Morrison, Bill Mehlhorn and Leo Diegel. Morrison, the big Midwick pro, outdid himself and led the classy field to the tape at the end of 36 holes with a marvelous score of 136, including ten birdies and one eagle for his two rounds. Diegel, the defending champion, was second—four strokes back. Hagen, the British open champ, participated in one of the dramatic incidents of the day and barely placed in the championship bracket for match play today. He and four others, including Mehlhorn and Ciuci, tied for the last two qualifying places. Al Houghton and Waldo Crowder fell by the wayside, leaving Hagen, Ciuci and Mehlhorn to settle the argument. This was halted by darkness on the fourth green and the battle was to have been resumed this morning. However, a ruling by Alec Pirie, president of the P.G.A., disqualified Harry Cooper and left another open place. Hagen, Ciuci and Mehlhorn are therefore in without further ado.

MIDWICK STAR SMASHES PAR

Great 65 on Second Round Brings Leadership

Diegel Takes Second Place With Snappy Score

Cooper Declared Inelegible by P.G.A. Officials

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

A smiling, confident giant, supreme in the awakening knowledge of his own ability—Fred Morrison of the Midwick Country Club — brought honor to Southern California as well as to himself yesterday over the winding fairways of the Hillcrest Country Club, when he played the kind of golf you often read about, but seldom see, to win the medal in the thirty-six-hole qualifying round of the national professional championship with brilliant cards of 71-65—136.

GENE SARAZEN

Slashing woods, crisps iron and spine-tickling putts netted Southern California's open champion ten sparkling birdies and an eagle, which enabled him to lead the greatest field in the annals of the championship by a full four strokes.

Leo Diegel, defending P.G.A. champion, was forced to bow to the Southland's favorite son at Sunset Fields two months ago in the local open championship, and trailed him again yesterday, finishing second with 71-69—140.

Two members of America's Ryder Cup team, Gene Sarazen and Johnny Golden, finished in a tie for third place with Tony Manero, all three shaving a stroke off par figures with totals of 141. Denny Shute, the brilliant young midwesterner, made good all the nice things that have been said of him by scoring 72-70—142, while last year's medalist, Al Espinosa, tied with Al Alcroft and Charley Guest at 143.

HAGEN CARELESS

Whew! Believe us, that qualifying round yesterday was as chockfull of features as a plum pudding is supposed to be of plums.

If anyone had dared predict yesterday morning that Walter Hagen would fail to qualify for the tournament he has dominated for almost a decade, you would have been perfectly right in considering that person a bit cracked.

But carelessness so flagrant as to be ridiculous came so near costing the five times former P.G.A. champion his chance to compete in the match play which starts this morning, that "The Haig" must break out in

NO ROSE BOWL BID MADE

Tournament of Roses Officials Say Something May be Made Known Within Next Twenty-four Hours

No invitation has been extended a western team to appear in the annual Tournament of Roses game at the Pasadena Bowl New Year's Day. Such was the declaration of officials last night, thereby contradicting a report spread during the afternoon to the effect that the invitation had been made.

"There will, in all probability, be an invitation extended within the next twenty-four hours," was the statement last night of one of the Bowl officials. There was no indication as to what team might get the bid, other than that certain local developments were being closely watched by members of the football committee of the Tournament of Roses Association.

California heads reported last night that any announcement would have to come from Pasadena, thereby [illegible] a previous announcement of Bowl officials that the first announcement would come from the western team selected. It also led to the belief that perhaps the Golden Bears were not going to get the bid after all and that maybe Southern California was to be the team approached.

Hagen Says He Was Nervous in Extra Round

BY WALTER HAGEN

HILLCREST COUNTRY CLUB, LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—Our professional golf championship got off offtoday with an appropriate theatrical Hollywood start when five players, myself included, found after the regular thirty-six holes qualifying rounds had been played that we had to go out again and battle for the last two places for the first round of match play.

It required a score of 148 to get in outright and five of us who did 149 played off until darkness stopped the affair with Bill Mehlhorn, Henry Cuici and myself still working for the last two places.

THREE TROJANS NAMED ON ALL-COAST GRID ELEVEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Three University of California football stars and as many more from the University of Southern California won places on the 1929 first all-Coast team, a consensus compiled by the Associated Press revealed today. St. Mary's, Stanford, Oregon, Washington and Washington State each placed one man.

ROY RIEGELS

More than twenty sports writers, coaches and officials from all parts of the Far West aided in the selections.

The popular choice of the field was Roy Riegels, California captain and center, who overcame as great a mental handicap any player has labored under to smash his way through a spectacular season.

Riegels vaulted to an undesirable niche in the hall of football fame last New Year's Day at Pasadena. It was during the California-Georgia Tech game. Out of a scramble of legs and arms, Riegels scooped up a fumbled ball and started running . . . in the wrong direction. Two yards from California's goal line he realized his mistake. His team-mate, Benny Lom, attempted to punt out of danger but the kick was blocked. A Bear fell on the ball and the resultant safety gave Georgia Tech an 8-7 victory over California.

As a result of the "boner," Riegels received more publicity than any other player had in many seasons. Many close followers of the game were of the opinion that the blond stalwart would be of but little value if any, in the following season. Coach C. M. (Nibs) Price of California felt differently, however, and predicted his charge "would show the world" a great brand of football in 1929. The votes of the sports critics reflect the brand

CECIL PAYNE SUBBED TO FACE GOLDIE HESS

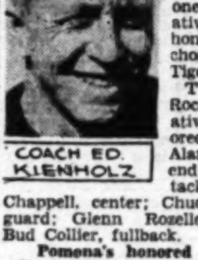
Matchmaker Wad Wadhams yesterday found a capable substitute for Eddie Mack in the Goldie Hess bout next week. His name is Cecil Payne. He hails from New Orleans. In his last fight Payne defeated Bushy Graham, and he shaded Earl Mastro in another bout, it is claimed. Payne has been working for a week here and looks as though he belonged to the top-notch colony of lightweights.

MISSISSIPPI GOBS TO PLAY SUBMARINE BASE

SAN PEDRO, Dec. 2.—The U.S.S. Mississippi football eleven, champions of group two, battleship division, will meet the San Diego Submarines, Unit A champions, for the football championship of the United States battle fleet. The game will be played next Sunday at Navy Field, San Diego.

ALL-CONFERENCE ELEVEN HAS SIX OXY MEN ON IT

Eddie Kienholz, popular gridiron coach at Occidental, claims six all-conference warriors, according to his selections of such an eleven announced yesterday. Pomona is given three and Caltech and Whittier each one, representative on the honored eleven chosen by the Tiger mentor.



COACH ED. KIENHOLZ

The Eagle Rock representatives so honored are Capt. Alan DeHoag, end;; Ed Beebe, tackle; Jerry Chappell, center; Chuck Hibbitts, guard; Glenn Rozelle, half, and Bud Collier, fullback.

Pomona's honored trio are Paul Hartman, quarterback; Bishop, end, and Tucker, tackle, while Halfback Payne of Whittier and Shuler of Tech also are named by Kienholz as first-class material.

For a second selection, Kienholz names four Oxy pigskinners, four Pomona stars and one each from Caltech, San Diego and Whittier.

The four Tiger warriors are Wendall Smith, end; Dave Snedden, tackle; Stony Johnson, quarter, and Dick Glover, half. The Sagehen choices are Dyer, end; Murdee, guard; Hansem, tackle, and Judy, center. Dickey of Caltech is named fullback, Walker of Whittier, a half, and Ault, San Diego, a guard.

The two lal-conference teams of Oxy's coach are:

TEAMS OF 1929 SET NEW MARK

S.C. Leads Nation's Squads Breaking Scoring Record

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—With the "Cagles, Booths, Marsters and McEvers" of 146 elevens scampering over America's gridirons for a new scoring record, the offensive pendulum of the 1929 football season swung to its farthest extreme.

Breaking all records of the last eight years, the country's average team, determined from the records of 146 representative elevens, scored a total of 136.9 points in the course of the season for an average of 15.45 points a game. While the team average was the highest by nearly 3 points, the average per game ranked only third, being exceeded by the 1922 eleven, which scored 19 points to a game, and

K.O. Christner Makes Local Debut Tonight in Clash at Olympic with Les Kenn

HEAVYWEIGHTS IN SPOTLIGHT

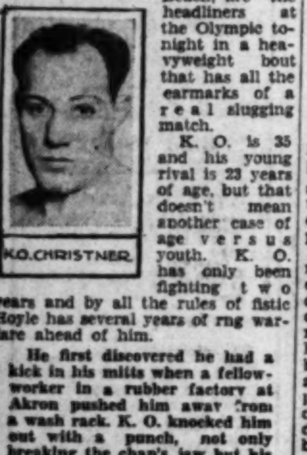
Akron Rubber Worker Faces Beach Youngster

Eastern Boxer Ruined Ring Career of Hansen

Kennedy Proved Sensation in Hollywood Bouts

BY PAUL LOWRY

K. O. Christner, the old rubber worker from Akron, O., and Les Kennedy, the youngster from Long Beach, are the headliners at the Olympic tonight in a heavyweight bout that has all the earmarks of a real slugging match.



K.O.CHRISTNER

K. O. is 35 and his young rival is 23 years of age, but that doesn't mean another case of age versus youth. K. O. has only been fighting two years and by all the rules of fistic Hoyle has several years of ring warfare ahead of him.

He first discovered he had a kick in his mitts when a fellow-worker in a rubber factory at Akron pushed him away from a wash rack. K. O. knocked him out with a punch, not only breaking the chap's jaw but his arm as well in the fall which ensued.

The incident got K. O. a lot of publicity and his present manager, Tom Lennon, then a boxing commissioner, started him off on the fistic trail.

RUINED HANSEN

In his climb to the top K. O. stopped Knute Hansen, then a heavyweight sensation around New York. He battled Jack Sharkey in a close fight, which brought him $17,000, whereas a year previous he fought for a purse of $75. He scrapped Paulino Uzcudun, Otto Von Porat and others.

He came to the Coast to take a shot at Kennedy and prove his worth for a probable repeat battle with Jack Sharkey to be staged here.

Kennedy is a youngster with a terrific sock. His ring career is just about as long as Christner's and he is rated high in the heavyweight prospect market.

Eddie Long, manager of Bud Taylor, sought to take him east but discovered there were several who had claims as manager in one way or another. Long abandoned the idea when unable to straighten out the tangle and Kennedy has been doing his socking in the smaller clubs.

He came a sensation at Hollywood, and his build-up there enabled him to move into the Olympic tonight for the bout with Christner. He beat Ernie Owens and Tiny Roebuck there, and he stopped Chet Shandel in a punch. Tom Gallery ran out of heavyweight fodder to feed him, and that's why Kennedy gets K. O. Christner.

A couple years ago Kennedy rolled out of a mine and threw his shovel back down the shaft. He came to California to try to become a fighter.

He picked on Long Beach as his home due to acquaintances there. Herb White, his present manager, laced the first glove on him.

Kennedy's job was to fight the Mitchell brothers, Andy and Leo, daily. Andy knew how to hit and Leo knew how to box. Kennedy seemed to be the sort who learned as he went.

Weighing 240 pounds as a coal miner Kennedy now tips 190 pounds and is a tall, raw-boned fellow. Taking his time he has become a better heavyweight then either of the Mitchell boys.

BIG OPPORTUNITY

It was a case of the pupil outdoing the masters. White turned down an offer of $20,000 for Kennedy's contract not long ago in Chicago. Kennedy fought twice there, flattening one and losing a close decision in the other.

Kennedy is at the point where he can become nationally famous overnight. The Christner shot offers just such an opportunity.

Christner has lost some fights, but it took a Jack Sharkey to beat him. Christner knocked Paulino Uzcudun down, although he lost the duke. He has fought Jim Maloney, Johnny Risko and others of this caliber.

In the Manhattan gymnasium Christner has looked like a very good heavyweight. He moves around on his feet rather fast and can hit a terrific whack with either hand.

Big fellows fill most of the places on the supporting card tonight. Mike Hector is back in shape and is boxing a negro from Oakland named Bob Robinson in the semi-wind-up.

Harry Beum and Walter Hoffman, heavies, meet in the special. Two 170 pounders—Ted Sluder and Jimmy Lyall—box one of the fours. The opening bout is between Cecil Jordan and Ora Smith.

SECOND ROUND OF SOCCER LOOP OPENS

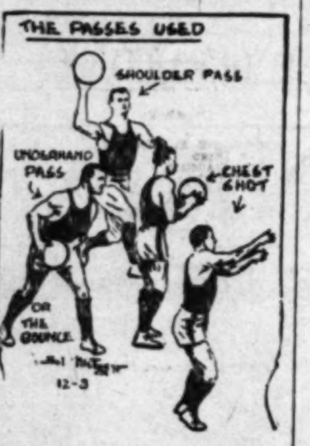
Second-round play in the city soccer league gets away to a flying start Sunday at Loyola field when the powerful Viking and Hollywood football clubs meet in the feature game of the day. The Vikings now are leading the league by a one-point margin over Hollywood, and a great nip-and-tuck tussle is expected for Sunday. This game will be played at 3 o'clock with the Pasadena A.C.C. outfit meeting the Magyars in the 1 o'clock game.

At Tournament Park, Pasadena, the L.A.A.C. Mercuries meet the Scots and the Sons of St. George face the Spanish-Americans.

LONG TO TACKLE MOORE

Ontario Athletic Club features the best card of the season when Charley Long meets Tom Moore in the ten-round main event next Wednesday night. Long is the best middleweight on the Coast today and has fought the best. Moore is as tough as they come and will give Long a real battle.

Passes Used in Advancing



BY SOL METZGER

If football owes its tremendous popularity to the open game, brought about by the forward pass, attend a basketball game for action and thrills. You'll get more of each in ten minutes than is packed in an entire football game.

Basketball is almost entirely made up of passes. So attack is carried on. They range from the overhead shoulder pass, made with one arm, used to reach a teammate when an opponent is closely guarding the player with the ball, to the two-hand chest pass, a shot of remarkable accuracy and played when both passer and receiver are clear, down to the underhand pass, either direct or by bounce.

These are the passes the North Carolina squad is now practicing religiously each day. Practice stunts are employed in which the individuals break down court for the basket, interchanging possesion of the ball by rapid-fire tosses until one is free for a shot. In addition to passes the dribble is used to advance the ball.

of football turned in by Riegels this year; twenty-three out of twenty-five named him for center.

Benny Lom, California's left halfback, received 19 votes for his position, while Francis Tappaan, Southern California, and Don Muller, Stanford, were heavy favorites for the end berths. Marshall Duffield, Southern California, was a close choice over his teammate, Russ Saunders, for quarterback.

First team:
End—Tappaan, Southern California.
End—Muller, Stanford.
Tackle—Ackerman, St. Mary's.
Tackle—Colbert, Oregon.
Guard—Schwarz, California.
Guard—Barragar, Southern California.
Center—Riegels, California.
Quarterback—Duffield, Southern California.
Halfback—Lom, California.
Halfback—Hufford, Washington.
Fullback—Schwartz, Washington State.
Second team:
End—Norton, California.
End—Ebding, St. Mary's.
Tackle—Schwegler, Washington.
Tackle—Christensen, Oregon.
Guard—Shields, Oregon.
Guard—Hansen, Washington State.
Center—Heinecke, Stanford.
Quarterback—Saunders, Southern California.
Halfback—Stennett, St. Mary's.
Halfback—Moffatt, Stanford.
Fullback—Smalling, Stanford.

the 1923 team, which rolled up 15.5 points.

Playing in 1924 games the 146 schools used in compiling the average, rolled up an aggregate score of 19,994 points, while holding their opponents to 13,574 for a season's average of 93 points.

Southern California's high-powered attack piled up the largest score of the year among those considered, counting 400 points in ten games. Delaware scored only 18 points to take possession of the cellar position.

St. Mary's, the mighty little school of the Pacific Coast, went through the season without its goal line being crossed until the last game. Then Oregon turned the trick once to spoil the otherwise perfect record of the Gaels.

DEEP-SEA ANGLING BETTER THIS YEAR

HERMOSA BEACH, Dec. 2.—According to fishing reports from Capt. J. M. Anderson, skipper of the big Olympic barge, anchored two miles off shore here, deep-sea angling this winter is far ahead of last season's record. Daily catches brought offshore here, deep-sea angling this more varied assortment of fish. Among the catches are bonita, mackerel, perch, smelt, sole, sculpin, sandabs, flounders and halibut.

Pier and surf fishing also are much better this season, reports Anderson, with corbina, smelt and croakers being caught.

LAYTON TAKES LEAD IN COCHRAN MATCH

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Johnny Layton of St. Louis, took a long lead over Welker Cochran in the first two blocks of their 600-point three-cushion match at Dwyers Academy today. Layton won the afternoon and evening blocks by identical scores, 50 to 40, giving him a total of 100 to 80 for Cochran, the former balkline champion.

The afternoon block went forty-six innings with Layton compiling a high run of nine and Cochran one of five. The night block was a long, drawn-out affair of sixty-one innings. Layton's best cluster was six, Cochran's again being five.

NARBONNE CAGERS ANNEX

With Johnson and Schatz, stellar forwards, leading the Gaucho attack by chalking up 25 points each, Coach Ben Comrada's Narbonne cagers had an easy time defeating the Wilmington High quintet, 93 to 9, in a practice game played last night on the victors' court.

RABBIT PUNCHES BY PAUL LOWRY

THE KING IN JEOPARDY

WALTER HAGEN'S near-demise, which may become an actuality this morning, smacked of Bobby Jones and Pebble Beach in the qualifying round of the national P.G.A. at Hillcrest yesterday. Just as the peerless Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., was bowled over in the national amateur before he really got warmed up so Mr. Hagen found himself on the fringes of despair.

Hagen the Great, Hagen the Incomparable, Hagen the many-time champion of the P.G.A. and present holder of the British open could do no better than tie with four other players—Mehlhorn, Ciuci, Crowder and Houghton—for the last two places in the championship bracket.

So Hagen the Great went trailing off down the fairway with these four to fight for a place he should have won easily—a place he would cinch ninety-nine times out of 100 just as Bobby Jones would beat Johnny Goodman ninety-nine times out of 100.

It was a dramatic scene—this of Hagen the Great battling for a position in the sun, a lowly spot in a tourney which has seen him crowned king four times.

Darkness pulled a curtain on the stage, and the finale was still unplayed. Hagen the Great remained in the picture after four extra holes, but the drums of jeopardy which beat violently when he took three strokes to hole a four-foot putt in the afternoon were still beating.

And they may beat even louder this morning when Hagen the Great, Mehlhorn and Ciuci resume the battle halted on the fourth green. One or the other must succumb unless the ruling by the P.G.A. president sticks that either Charley Guest or Harry Cooper are ineligible for the competition.

And if Hagen the Great succumbs it will be one of the real tragedies of the tourney just as Mr. Robert Tyre Jones's unexpected defeat was the sob note of the Pebble Beach tourney.

MR. ELDER IS SLIGHTED

THE all-American selection are rolling through thick and fast these days, and on none of them do I find a mention of a boy named Jack Elder, a broth of a sprinter who played on a team called Notre Dame which just the other day finished up an undefeated season with a 7-to-0 victory over a hard-fighting Army team.

And yet, as the conductor of this column has been pleased to point out at other times this ace of the track, who was made over into a real football player in spring practice last year by Mr. Knute K. Rockne, was a leading factor in every game save one the Irish played and won this year—and that was nine all told.

Perhaps this boy, who is the fastest 60-yard sprinter in the country on the track paths, was not one of the best all-around halfbacks of the current year, but I fail to see how he can be overlooked for consideration in view of his truly phenomenal record and the part he played in the winning of the mythical national gridiron championship by Notre Dame.

In every game but Northwestern he either scored or paved the way for a winning or a decisive touchdown. He was both pass receiver and pass sender as well as a constant threat around the flanks.

He took a pass on the goal line in Notre Dame's 14-to-7 win over Navy. He ran 43 yards to a score against Wisconsin in a 19-to-0 game. His 33-yard run to the Carnegie Tech 7-yard line paved the way for a 7-to-0 victory. He ran clear through the Georgia Tech team for 53 yards and a touchdown in a 26-to-6 game. Trailing 6-to-7 in the Drake game Elder's 18-yard run brought a touchdown in the final period and still another run by the Irish ace paved the way for a third score.

Against Southern California he fired a 55-yard pass to Conley on the 10-yard line which brought a touchdown, and his 9-yard sweep around end to the Trojan's 3-yard line gave Joe Savoldi a chance to push over the second touchdown for the Irish. In the Army game Notre Dame, unable to advance by rushing and in the hole through errors, won because Elder intercepted a pass and ran practically from one goal line to the other for the only touchdown of the game. Only against Northwestern did he fail to shine—and for good reason. He was being held out for the Army game a week later.

TWO WARNER EXCEPTIONS

POP WARNER'S all-Coast team is perhaps as representative an outfit as could be selected although in one or two respects he can be disagreed with rather easily.

Pop is sticking to positions, and therefore has to make a choice between Russ Saunders of Southern California and Leland Eisan at quarterback.

For my part I would keep Eisan at quarter and name Saunders in a halfback post in place of Benny Lom.

Game in and game out Saunders has proved himself far superior to Lom as a ball packer. He is rugged, never hurt, and can fire a pass just as accurately as Lom. In only one respect has Lom an edge over the Trojan, and that is in kicking. But in consistency Saunders is much the better. Against Southern California Lom was great, but failed to flash against Stanford.

It was the same last year. Lom played poorly against Stanford, but turned in a splendid game against Georgia Tech on New Year's Day.

Warner's other Trojan selection on the Coast team will be questioned by many—that of Nate Barragar. The big Trojan started the year as an all-American prospect, but in only one game—the Stanford fray—did he live up to his possibilities. In the California and Notre Dame battles relief was necessary because he was not playing up to snuff.

OFFICIALS OF "BIG TEN" SILENT ON IOWA'S CASE

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—As the zero hour of Iowa's campaign to gain reinstatement to the Big Ten draws near comment from Big Ten authorities has been hushed to less than a whisper while the second guessers and "drug store" coaches are whooping it up.

Efforts were made today to gain expressions from conference authorities but each waved aside the questions with an evasive "I have nothing to say," or as Athletic Director Huff of the University of Illinois countered, "this is no case to try in the newspapers."

Nothing seemed certain except that the conference faculty committee in charge of the case, will have to take some definite action so that basketball and football schedules for 1930 can be completed without further delay. The meeting will be held Friday and Saturday at Chicago.

Meanwhile rumors of all shapes and sizes were flying thick around the Big Ten without denial of affirmation from the faculty committee.

The most prevalent one was that three powers in the conference—Athletic Directors Amos Alonzo Stagg of Chicago, Fielding H. Yost of Michigan and Huff—constituted an "old guard," which was determined to block Iowa's reinstatement. Neither Stagg nor Huff would talk about the report, while Yost was somewhere in Tennessee and could not be reached. Yost, however, has refused to talk about the Iowa State affair since it came up last May 25.

Another rumor was that if Iowa is denied immediate reinstatement, it will decide to try no longer any attempt to join the Big Six conference, or take on a nomadic schedule resembling that of Notre Dame.

One thing was certain, however, and that was Notre Dame will not seek membership in the Big Ten. It has been stated in reliable Notre Dame circles that the Ramblers have no contemplation whatsoever of joining the conference if Iowa does or does not gain reinstatement.

CITY OPEN TENNIS PLAY IN JANUARY

Southern California's tennis stars will open the 1930 tennis season January 5, it was rumored, when the first of the New Year tournaments, the annual Los Angeles city open championships, will be staged at the Griffith Park courts on Los Feliz and Riverside boulevards. The Municipal Tennis Association, under D. W. Lott of the city playground department, is in charge of the annual meet.

TENNIS TOURNEY AT SYCAMORE GROVE

Entries in the Sycamore Grove tennis tournament will be received until Thursday, the 5th inst. Jack De Lara is in charge of the tournament and entries should be sent to him at 315 Mt. Washington Drive. Play will begin on Sunday, the 8th inst., and will be continued on following Sundays. Besides De Lara, others who have already entered are Lester Stoeffen, Leonard Dworkin, Howie Williams, Clayton Paige, Ned Wheldon, Frank Westsmith and Jerry Bartosh.

PALUSO WINS SCRAP

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 2. (AP)—Emil Paluso of New York won a newspaper decision over Jackie Sharkey of Minneapolis in a ten-round bout here tonight.

PETROLLE KAYOED

TRENTON (N. J.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Young Terry, Trenton, scored a knockout over Pete Petrolle of Fargo, N. D., in the fourth round of a ten-round bout here tonight.

SLIDE BLADE UNDER BALL LIKE THIS BALL

BY SOL METZGER

Charley Mortimer, one of the leading golf instructors in America, unknown because he does not compete in open events, tells me that few duffers understand just what they must do with the blade of a lofted iron in order to pitch the ball and make it stick. Somehow or other they have gotten the idea into their heads that you have to cut down through the ball in making contact. Result is they strike it with the lower edge of the blade and send it shooting straight out like a drive.

The idea is to fit the face of the club under the ball, not its edge. You swing through and pick the ball clean with the blade, or hitting surface of the iron, as in the lower panel of the illustration.

Pitch a new ball correctly and you'll find marks of its paint on the face of the iron where the iron face has cut under the ball, causing it to run up the surface of this blade.

Add yardage and accuracy to your drive by writing Sol Metzger, care of The Times, for his free leaflet on Driving. Inclose stamped addressed envelope.

DATE NAMED FOR OXY TENNIS PLAY FINALS

Mary Barbara Taylor and Capt.-elect Dale Robinson have named Thursday afternoon as the date of their battle at Occidental College for the all-college tennis championship. The two finalists postponed the date from this afternoon to Thursday only yesterday. Miss Taylor, with a victory over Chapin Bristol, is expected to upset both the dope and Robinson and cop the college title.

PLAY-OFF NO FUN, AVERS WALTER

ture business and therefore should know, say that the play-off was a great show, but it was no fun for the actors. I can tell you that it was my first experience in a play-off. I have been in about every other golfing situation but this was something different and it isn't finished yet. Either Henry, Bill or myself will be a spectator tomorrow and we have to get out on the fifth tee at 8:30 o'clock a.m. and they tell me I can't be late this time. It was somewhat unfair for five golfers, who had taken 149 to play the two qualifying rounds to grab the spotlight from Fred Morrison, the Southern California golfer, who won the medal with 136, the lowest score ever made in a P. G. A. qualifying round. His 65 in the afternoon was easily the best thing of the day but the crowd found more excitement in watching five of us in a "tough spot" trying to wiggle out, than in Morrison's remarkable figures. I suspect that some of them had an especially good time watching me struggling and I feel I am fortunate that when we resume tomorrow it will be in the ratio of three players for two places instead of five players for two places. Some of the dramatics were eliminated before dark and I felt sorry for Al Houghton of Baltimore, who went out at the first hole when he took a five while the rest of us had fours and for Waldo Crowder, who stuck along until the long fourth, where he pulled his third from a heavy lie to the left of the green and took a six to our fives.

A few lights were shining in Los Angeles when we were called out for the first tee to play off and I have seldom had a bigger thrill in my golfing experience. I felt nervous for one of the few times in my experience in competition for in a five man play-off for two places you are just lucky if you stay in there. At the first hole I had a golden opportunity with about a ten-foot putt for a three after all the boys had played their third, but I couldn't make it. Some of the actors in the gallery seemed to think that I had laid back for the play-off and even during it that I was waiting for the proper moment to drop a putt and steal the act but let me tell you something. I would have given the whole act to anybody, even Bobby Jones, to have been sitting in the locker-room telling funny stories and getting the report of the play-off by messengers. I have played in this championship eight times and never failed to qualify. I still have a chance to make it but the situation is not one to promote a restful night.

The scores for the play-off to date:

Holes	1	2	3	4
Mehlhorn	4	3	4	5
Hagen	4	3	4	5
Crowder	4	3	4	5
Houghton	5
Cuici	4	3	4	5

The important things about this play-off were these: At the first hole, Houghton pulled his second to the left of the green and took a five. At the second Cuici was the only one not on the green off the tee, but he played a good second and holed a six-foot putt to stay with us. At the third Mehlhorn's second was over the green, but he chipped back and obtained his four. At the fourth Crowder's third was pulled and missed the green and it cost him his chance to qualify.

I have no excuse to offer for not getting in, for I played a 70 in the morning and then began to loaf, taking 39 to go out and at the eleventh hole I had a five-footer for a four, missed, and then tapped the ball three more times before it dropped. This cost me a seven.

At the sixteenth hole they told me it looked like 148 would qualify and I put my tee shot into a bunker. This was bad news, for I needed three, four, four for 148. I might have been out right there, but I managed to get a three by playing a good out four feet above the hole and sinking the putt for a three. At the finish I had to lay a chip shot close to the hole for a five and a total of 149 to get into the play-off. And, to think on the eleventh hole I hit the ball three times from six inches with the back of my putter. It probably will serve me right if I fail to qualify tomorrow when Mehlhorn, Cuici and myself resume operations, but you can bet I will try to get in.

Ed Dudley was about the only star who failed to make the grade. Ed took 150, just one too many to get into the play-off.

The field is representative and Southern California, with Fred Morrison, the medalist, and Charles Guest, with 143, both in the match play and both formidable.

Leo Diegel, the defending champion, played 71-69-140 to win second place in the qualifying round. Johnny Farrell, open champion just before Jones grabbed that title at Winged Foot, just wiggled in with 148. Al Espinosa, runner-up for the title to Jones, is in with 143, playing fine golf. Seven members of the Ryder Cup team, all but Joe Turnesa, Ed Dudley and myself, qualified for the match play.

BEN RECUPERATING

Ben Gorchakoff, former Occidental College tennis star, now performing under the colors of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, is reported rapidly recovering from an operation on his eyes. The ex-Tiger captain was troubled with slight growths, something similar to tumors, two of these reposing in his right and one in his left eye.

C.I.F. Football Plans Announced

FULLERTON SITE OF PREP BATTLE

Santa Barbara to Journey South for Game

Finals May be Played in Coliseum on 13th Inst.

Minor-League Title Between Bonita and Orange

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Complete plans to date for the Southern California C. I. F. football playoff now under way, were announced last night by Seth Van Patten, director of athletics for the southern section of the C. I. F.

The Santa Barbara - Fullerton game, which is one of the semi-final contests scheduled for Saturday, will be played on the Indians' field. The other half of the bracket will find Coach Walter Herreid's Huntington Park Spartans and the Long Beach Jackrabbits meeting at Wrigley Field. Both games will start at 2:15.

The date and site of the finals have not been decided as yet, but Van Patten will start negotiations today with [illegible] Farmer of the Coliseum to stage the game on Friday, the 13th inst., in the big bowl. As the Trojans and Carnegie Tech are scheduled to tangle the following day, the 14th, officials of the Coliseum may have some qualms about letting the preps in.

However, if the Coliseum can not be obtained it is almost a certainty that Wrigley Field would be available on that date. Quite a lot of big battles have been staged in the ball park this season.

The finals of the minor-league play-off will be staged Friday at Orange, when the strong Bonita high eleven invades the Panther's lair. Bonita is the favorite, having defeated both El Segundo and Banning in play-off games, besides winning the championship of the Tri-County League in impressive fashion. The Orange-Bonita game will start at 2:30.

At present Santa Barbara's Golden Tornado is a heavy favorite to cop the Southern California playoffs. Coach Schutte's men have a perfect record this year, being one of the few prep teams in the State that are undefeated and untied.

Besides having one of the best backfields ever assembled in local prep history, the Tornado boasts a powerful forward line. Joe Tortilla is considered one of the best tackles ever seen at Santa Barbara, while Capt. Dimas at the other tackle is not far behind him.

San Francisco Defeats Local Pucks, 8 to 1

Art Giroux set what will probably stand as a record for some time to come, when he flashed over the ice at the Winter Garden last night to score six goals in the third period, and San Francisco defeated Los Angeles, 8 to 1.

For the first two periods the contest developed into a battle with Gordon Scott and Leo Cook slipping through the [illegible] defense in the second period to tally twice.

In an effort to even the count in the third period, the Los Angeles team tossed defense to the wind and concentrated on offense. With their goal wide open, Giroux came through with his remarkable [illegible], and scored almost at will, practically every shot being a set-up.

SHELL OILERS CRUSH ARROWHEAD PUCKS

The Shell Oil ice-hockey team advanced another step in their quest for the championship of the Southern California Senior Ice Hockey League, when they tripped the Arrowhead Valley Club, 5 to 2, on the Palais de Glace rink, last night.

COOPER DISQUALIFIED

Until late this evening it looked like Hagen, Henry Cuici, the young Bridgeport (Ct.) pro, and "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn would have to play off this morning for two places in the match play, but Alec Pirie, president of the Professional Golfers' Association, came through very timely to disqualify Harry Cooper on the count that he had failed to qualify in the sectional qualifying tournament. That was tough on Harry, but saved a most delicate situation, as it left three places open and three golfers to fill them.

A fine 70, one under par, for his morning round put "The Haig" well out in front, and he decided to take things easy over the afternoon eighteen.

Walter's totally unexpected lapse occurred on the eleventh hole. He was short of the green in two, but laid his approach five feet short of the pin for an easy putt. Hagen's half-hearted stroking of the ball left him five inches short. Then, taking his putter in his left hand, Hagen tapped the ball twice very, very gently, almost not hitting it at all, and it didn't drop, and then he poked it into the cup with his third stroke and was credited with a 7, four of which were putts.

Hagen failed to come out of the trance until the fifteenth hole, when he finally awoke to the situation not a minute too soon. He trapped his ball on the 150-yard sixteenth hole, but still managed to get his par after a brilliant out, and finished with pars for a 39-40—79.

With thirty professionals, including Cooper, with thirty-six-hole totals of 148 and under, the British open champion found himself in the embarrassing position of having to play off with Cuici, Mehlhorn, Al Houghton of Harper, N. Y., and Waldo Crowder of Kirkland, O., for two places in the match play.

HOUGHTON ELIMINATED

Just imagine the setting. Dusk was beginning to fall over the West Pico hills with the city's lights blinking on in the distance as the five professionals, three nationally famous, and two practically unknowns, teed off at the first hole.

Houghton was the first to fall by the wayside, when he took a 5 on the first hole against four pars. The dramatic and tense battle continued to the fourth hole, where Crowder hooked his mashie to the green, was on in 4, and down in 6 against pars for Cuici, Mehlhorn and Hagen.

They say that it is an ill wind that blows nobody good, and Cooper's disqualification gives Cuici his opportunity, and opportunity he deserves if anyone in the tournament does. Cuici was apparently out of the running, when he staged the most remarkable comeback of the day, bagging birdies on the sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth greens of his afternoon round to get into the 149 bracket. He is a game battler and should go far in the match play.

Here are the cards that just fell short of spelling Hagen's Waterloo.

MORNING ROUND

Par (Out)	434	543	444	—35
Hagen	433	543	344	—33
Par (In)	443	454	345	—36—71
Hagen	443	464	345	—37—70

AFTERNOON ROUND

Hagen (Out)	434	644	455	—39
Hagen (In)	474	454	345	—40—79—149

It would have been a shame had the tournament lost Hagen's color, and it looks like everything turned out for the best.

FRED MAKES GOOD

And now to get back to Morrison, a golfer born and raised in Southern California. The phrase may be trite and hackneyed, but "a hometown boy made good" when Freddie came in with the bacon yesterday afternoon. Fred learned most of his golf at Griffith Park and the Los Angeles Country Club and since winning the Southern California open two months ago appears to be launched on a career that will carry him to the top.

Fred started out inauspiciously, being over par twice on the first nine with one birdie for a 36. He was two over par going to the seventeenth hole, which he birdied, and then bagged a great eagle 3 on the 475-yard eighteenth hole, to equal par figures. Morrison finished the last nine with three threes in a row!

Going out in the afternoon, Fred dropped putts on the first and third holes for birdie 3s, and sandwiched in a par 3 on the short second hole to run his total up to six consecutive treys. He went one over on five after getting another birdie on the 565-yard fourth hole, but birdied nine for a 32 going out.

MORE BIRDIES

On the tenth hole, a ten-foot putt dropped for Morrison after lingering a second on the lip of the cup to give him his fifth birdie of the afternoon. The big Midwick "pro" was way over the green on the 460-yard eleventh hole, Hagen's Nemisis, but chipped back and was down in two putts for a 5. A terrific brassie shot on the 523-yard fourteenth hole put Morrison fifteen feet over the pin, and he came within a fraction of an inch of holing out for another eagle.

Morrison sank a fifteen-footer on seventeen for his ninth birdie and had a par for a 66. His drive on eighteen was terrific, but came to rest in the rough. Fred half topped a spoon shot from a poor lie, but chipped some ten feet past the pin, leaving himself a ticklish downhill putt. A beautiful putt, not too far, and not too short, and Freddie had another birdie and a 65, a new competitive course record for Hillcrest.

SWEARS BY PUTTER

Morrison has been noted in the past for his poor putting, but his old putting complex is past. Fred used a Scotch putter yesterday, given to him by a member of the Midwick club this summer. The putter was carefully brought back from abroad and presented to Morrison, who swears by it—and well he might.

Here are the cards of Morrison and Diegel, who also played beautiful golf:

(Morning round)

Par (out)	434	543	444	—35
Morrison	435	443	445	—36
Diegel	534	544	544	—33
Par (in)	443	454	345	—36—71
Morrison	453	554	333	—35—71
Diegel	344	444	334	—33—71

(Afternoon round)

Morrison (out)	333	453	443	—32
Diegel	333	643	434	—33
Morrison (in)	353	444	343	—33 65—136
Diegel	534	444	345	—36 69—140

In the first round of match play today, Morrison meets Joe Kirkwood of trick-shot fame, and the winner of that match will likely face Gene Sarazen, 1922 and 1923 P.G.A. champion, who battles Jock Henrdy. Morrison has no bed of roses, and the second-round victor must then face none other than the defending champion, Mist.r Diegel.

Practically all of the favorites got in yesterday, the few exceptions being Ed Dudley, who missed by a single stroke with 150, and Tom Kerrigan with 152.

A number of 69's were registered yesterday, Guest, Sarazen, Bob Shave, Cooper, Diegel and Frank Walsh breaking the 70 mark.

Illness Keeps Armour Out of 'Pro' Tourney

Tommy Armour, national open champion in 1927, was forbidden to play in the qualifying round of the national professional championship at Hillcrest yesterday under doctors' orders. Armour developed ptomaine poison from something he ate while in Honolulu playing in the Hawaiian $6000 open. The poison so weakened him that he was unable to continue in the Berkeley open over the week-end, and was not sufficiently recovered to compete at Hillcrest.

Rough Matmen Will Collide on Card Here

Two of the roughest mat stars who have been seen in action here this year, Dick Daviscourt, the 220-pound mat cyclone, and "Wild Bill" Shaw of Salt Lake City, were signed by Promoter Lou Daro to appear on the title mat card scheduled for the Olympic, the 11th inst.

"Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg and Joe Stecher will clash in the finish title battle that night. Sonnenberg is due to arrive from Boston tomorrow night, or early Thursday, while Stecher has accepted a pair of "warm-up" battles during the next few days to keep in top condition.

Daviscourt defeated Giuseppe Mazzetti, the giant Italian, here last week, in a combination punching and wrestling battle. Shaw, in his last appearance here, was disqualified for attempting to beat Marin Plestina with punches instead of wrestling holds. The 210-pound red-head is rated as a fast, tough youngster. He wired his acceptance of terms for the battle yesterday. He, like Daviscourt, is an exponent of the headlock.

Sonnenberg, it was reported yesterday, will demand longer rest periods between falls of this title match. In his last meeting with Stecher he was just able to get to his feet at the end of the regulation five-minute rest period, and continue with the bout after losing the first fall to the Nebraskan by a flying tackle.

Cantlon Rules Favorite for Speed Battle

Almost every nook and corner of the Southland, as well as cities farther distant, will be represented in the 100-lap Padres Cup auto race at the American Legion Speedway next Sunday afternoon, it was learned yesterday at the offices of A. C. Pillsbury of the A.A.A., where the entries are being received.

"Shorty" Cantlon, a Detroit driver, is the favorite over the field. Cantlon, who is styled the "man of a thousand wrecks," because of his hectic career on the various tracks of the country, was the winner of the last feature grind here, and will sit behind a fast Miller Special Sunday.

Other invading pilots are George (Swede) Smith of Portland, who drives No. 91, a Deulin Special; A. D. Smith of Olympia, Wash.; Fred Merseny of Denver, Johnny Kreiger, the "Flying Dutchman," who prefers to be known as a native of Denver, and Fred Cooper of Chicago.

MERCURY CAGERS TO PLAY Y.M.C.A. TONIGHT

Two basketball games will be played this week by the Los Angeles Athletic Club quintet, with the first contest slated for tonight at the Mercury gymnasium against the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A. team. Saturday night the Mercuries face the fast Los Angeles Junior College quintet in what should prove one of the best early season games of the year. The Jaysee team has been looming up strong in practice games and has already played an even-up scrimmage game with the Hollywood A.C. outfit.

PANTHERS TRIM ALUMNI FIVE

The California Christian College basketball team gave their homecoming alumni quintet a 71-to-21 shellacking last night. Compton of the varsity rang up 25 points for his team.

COTTON CARRIER FLEET IN CARDS

Southwest Shippers Get Ear of Shipping Board

Deal for Two or More Craft Reported Under Way

Reconditioned Vessels to be Ready January 20

BY WALDO DRAKE

Courage of California cotton shippers in pioneering California-North Europe trade by chartering foreign vessels for transport of this season's crop, is expected to result in early allocation of United States Shipping Board steamers for that service. Negotiations are now under way, it was learned yesterday, between local cotton shippers and the Shipping Board for allocation to this service of two or more of the six steamers now being reconditioned at North Atlantic and gulf ports at a cost of $414,000.

CRAFT LISTED

These steamers include the Marne, of 9720 deadweight tons; West Compo, 8613 tons; West Hassayampa, 8572 tons; West Munham, 8639 tons; City of Aimi, 8727 tons; and the Arden, 8727 tons. It was originally planned to recondition the six laid-up steamers in anticipation of substantial increases in cotton, grain and flour movements to Europe out of Gulf of Mexico ports, but such strong representations have been made to the Shipping Board by Los Angeles cotton interests that at least two of the group, or others to be placed in service, are expected to be placed on the European-Pacific run. All of the above-named vessels will be ready for operation by January 20, next.

Following action of the European-Pacific steamship conference in materially increasing cotton freight rates out of California ports on the eve of the export season, California and Arizona shippers have been chartering their own ships to carry the crop to the Bremen and Liverpool markets. Three vessels, the Evanger, Golden Sea and Newton Ash, have already been dispatched, while the fourth, the British steamer, Glenbeath, ex-Harold Dollar, is due here on the 12th inst. to load approximately 15,000 bales. Two other vessels are booked to load later this month.

MOVEMENT HEAVY

Cotton from the San Joaquin Valley area is now moving into the port in large quantities, crowding the facilities of the fifteen-acre compress and warehouses at the Outer Harbor, while more than 100,000 bales are being fumigated and released from quarantine in the Salt River Valley in Arizona, to be assembled at this port. Approximately 340,000 bales are expected to be exported to Europe and the Orient from Los Angeles Harbor this season.

BRUUSGAARD LINE CARGO CRAFT CALLS

Martin Bruusgaard, brother of the executive head of the Bruusgaard Line, arrived yesterday from Norway on the line's steamer Hektor, on which he will make his home while on a pleasure tour of this coast. He is a stockholder in the company, which operates six vessels in the Pacific-European trade, all of which will be replaced later by six new motorships expected soon to be ordered in Europe. The Hektor is discharging 1300 tons of European iron and general merchandise, and will sail north tonight. McCormick Steamship Company is local representative.

The Dutch steamer Bengkalis arrived yesterday from the Dutch East Indies to disembark two passengers and discharge 1400 tons of crude rubber, manioc meal and general cargo. Elephants, tigers, monkeys, birds and snakes also were brought here from Java and Sumatra for show and exhibit purposes.

Twenty-seven thoroughbred Dandie Dimmonts, hunting dogs, came in on the Furness Pacific motor liner Pacific Exporter yesterday, bound from England to Victoria, B. C. They were attended by Mrs. A. K. Headley-Peek, proprietor of the Wedbrook kennels in England. The vessel also brought general European cargo and 15,000 bunches of bananas from Panama for United Fruit Company.

Promotion of Dandridge F. Baldwin as office manager of the local headquarters of the San Francisco Bridge Company following his marriage at Berkeley last Saturday to Miss Mary Adelia Buffington, was announced yesterday by Barret G. Hindes, secretary and treasurer of the firm. Mr. Baldwin has for the past year been associated with the San Francisco Bridge Company on the Deadman's Island project.

Both young Baldwin and his bride have been prominent in Bay district society. Following a Southland honeymoon, they will make their home at San Pedro.

A. P. Zipf, vice-president and general manager of the Williams Line, was at the port yesterday for a survey and conference with American-Hawaiian Line officials relative to consolidated operation of American-Hawaiian and Williams Line intercoastal freight service, which went into effect on the 1st inst. Those in conference with Mr. Zipf included R. A. Stewart, terminal superintendent of the American-Hawaiian Line; S. S. Harlow, assistant to Fred A. Hooper, American-Hawaiian district manager, (Mr. Hooper being on the sick list;) J. H. Farmer, Williams Line auditor, and J. C. Hammerberg, district manager for Williams Line.

Barber Line's Norwegian motorship Tai Yin arrived last night from New York on her maiden voyage in the line's new Atlantic-California-Orient service. She will load passengers and cargo and sail for Yokohama at noon today. Other newcomers in the Barber fleet booked are the British steamer Thurland Castle, due the 30th inst.; the Norwegian motorship Tai Shan, due January 13, and the British motorship Greystoke Castle, on February 1, giving the service a thirteen-ship fleet.

Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company will have a busy week with offshore business, having seven carriers due. Yesterday, the terminal handled the Tai Yin, Orient-bound and the Bengkalis, from the East Indies; while today the Swedish motorship Balboa will be in from North Europe with 1700 tons of freight, and the Nelson intercoastal steamer American Star will arrive with a pipe cargo. Donaldson-Pacific liner Modovia will load homeward for the United Kingdom on the 7th inst., the Munson-McCormick liner Mundelta arriving with the pipe the same date. Johnson Line's big motor liner Margaret Johnson will complete the list on the 9th inst., sailing for Scandinavian ports.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Renamed the Abraham Greenberg, the ship Star of Greenland, formerly owned by the Alaska Packers' Association, was shifted today to an Oakland shipyard to be reconditioned for a voyage to Oslo, Norway. The vessel was sold to Norwegian interests several weeks ago for conversion into a training ship. It is understood that she will sail with a load of lumber.

Running on one propeller, the South Seas and Australian liner Sonoma arrived here today four days behind schedule. The ship dropped her starboard propeller between Pago Pago and Honolulu.

SEATTLE, Dec. 2.—Early addition of two more carriers to the Nelson Steamship Company's intercoastal fleet through the purchase of the steamships Commercial Traveler and Commercial Spirit was announced here today by R. J. Acheson, district manager of the line.

One of the carriers, renamed the Charles Nelson, will sail from New York the 14th inst. for the Pacific Coast on her initial voyage.

The Matson liner Wilhelmina is due here tonight from San Francisco to resume her direct sailings from this port to the Hawaiian Islands the 8th inst.

The American Mail liner President Jackson docked here today from the Orient with 2997 tons of general cargo, bearing Japanese oranges and a large list of passengers.

TACOMA, Dec. 2.—Two vessels left here during the afternoon for Europe. The Furness Line motorship Pacific Shipper took canned goods and lumber products for the United Kingdom. The Nebraska of the Royal Mail Line took 8000 doors, canned goods and wood panels for Rotterdam.

Three coasters were the only arrivals Monday, the Providencia from Santa Rosalia, Olymont from Los Angeles and the Brookdale from San Diego.

The damaged Alaska liner Depere, which is being towed to Tacoma from Ketchikan, has been delayed by fog and is not expected to reach port before Wednesday.

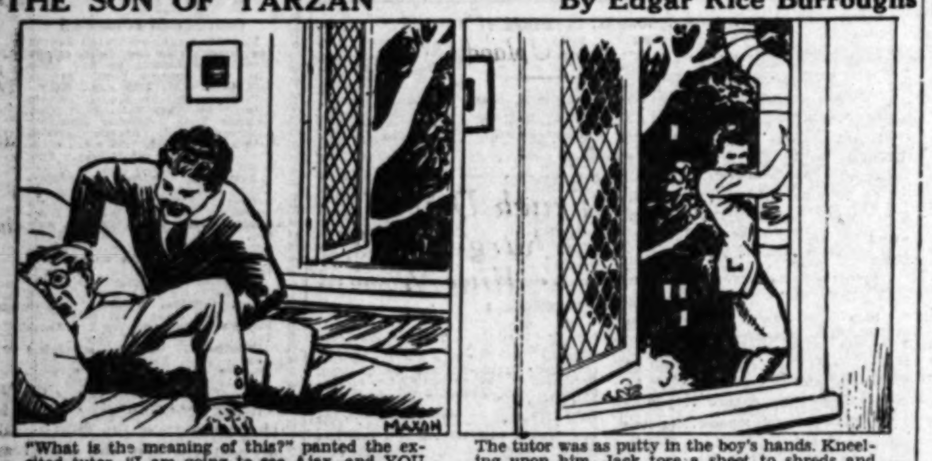
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



"What is the meaning of this?" panted the excited tutor. "I am going to see Ajax, and YOU mustn't interrupt," laughed the boy. The now furious Mr. Moore next found himself face downward upon the bed, his head shoved deep into a soft pillow. He struggled, but his efforts were in vain. For whatever else Tarzan of the Apes may or may not have bequeathed his son, he had at least handed down almost as marvelous a physique as his own at Jack's age.

The tutor was as putty in the boy's hands. Kneeling upon him, Jack tore a sheet to shreds and bound the man's hands behind his back. All the while he talked: "I am Maji—chief of the Waja. You are an Arab sheik who would murder my people and steal my ivory. Villain! I have you in my power at last! I go, but I shall return!" And the son of Tarzan jumped across the room, and disappeared through the window down a water spout.

All of which, as Mr. Moore wrathfully told Lord Graystoke, was fitting cause for him to resign. His business was teaching. "Not untying myself from strips of bed sheets," he added. Tarzan, after satisfying himself the tutor was unharmed, determined it was time to act. He called for his motor car and started for the theater, while the horrified tutor departed for less vigorous employment.

"I see my son is no Little Lord Fauntleroy," Tarzan commented as he drove through the London streets. Jack had disobeyed his mother's objections and had gone to see Ajax. That was unusual—but enough. In the music hall the trainer hesitated as he faced the infuriated ape. Suddenly a tall, broad-shouldered man brushed past him. The youth uttered one confused word, "Father!" The ape gave one look at the English lord—and headed toward him.

$10,000,000! IT KIND OF SCARES ME. JUST THINK IF CODA'S MONEY SHOULD ALL COME TO US! THAT'S A TERRIFIC AMOUNT TO TAKE CARE OF.
OF COURSE IT IS ALREADY INVESTED, MOST OF IT, SO WE'D GET THE INCOME. I WONDER WHAT THAT WOULD BE? I SUPPOSE HE'D MAKE TEN PERCENT A YEAR ON IT.
BUT AT SIX PERCENT, TO BE CONSERVATIVE, THAT WOULD BE $600,000 A YEAR. HOW WOULD I SPEND THAT MUCH ON SKEEZIX?
AND I'D HAVE TO PAY $100,000 A YEAR INCOME TAX I'LL BET! GOLLY! DOES IT PAY?

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

ORDER AFFECTS LAND TITLE

Mexico Decrees That Old Rancho Tia Juana Automatically Reverts to Government

TIA JUANA (Mex.) Dec. 2.—An order has been received here from the Mexican Department of the Interior stating that all parcels of land in the old Rancho Tia Juana for which present owners cannot produce deeds, revert automatically to the Federal government.

The order applies directly to the old rancho acreage which includes the sites of the city of Tia Juana and the Agua Caliente development, although all land in the northern district of Lower California is affected.

Heirs of Don Santiago Arguello, former owner of the rancho property, recently brought suit for land illegally occupied by "squatters." The site of the city of Tia Juana and a corner of the Agua Caliente race track property actually belong to the heirs, according to the claim. However, the government order removes all possibility of a property fight by the Arguellos, as land for which deeds cannot be shown is now owned by the government.

Properties of several Americans and American syndicates who did not secure deeds with the titles to land purchased here in the last two years are affected by the order.

One Name Urged for Boulevard of Many Titles

ONTARIO, Dec. 2.—A concerted campaign was under way here today to have Valley Boulevard, "the Highway of Many Names" designated by but one title from Los Angeles to the East.

B. W. Spencer, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will address a communication to the City Council for consideration Monday, asking that the members indorse a move to have the highway called "Ocean to Ocean" highway.

Out of Los Angeles the road is now known as Valley Boulevard. On its journey to Ontario and points east it is also known as Alhambra Boulevard, Valley Boulevard, Pomona Road, Holt avenue, Valley Boulevard again, Colton Road, and beyond Redlands, Ocean to Ocean Highway.

Spencer has talked with E. E. Meek, supervisor of the State Department of Highways, and with the County Supervisors, regarding the advantage of having the road bear but one name.

By calling the road "Ocean to Ocean Highway," it will simplify maps and routes, and will give definite argument for having it numbered by the government as No. 99, of which it is a vital link. Because of a series of circumstances the highway from Los Angeles has never been marked No. 99, even though it is that on the government route.

Hollywood Man Dies in Crash

POMONA, Dec. 2.—Inquest over the body of J. T. Lankes, 75 years of age, of Hollywood, who died in the Pomona Community Hospital late Saturday following an automobile crash at Foothill Boulevard and Artesia street, San Dimas, Saturday, will be held in the Todd & Reeves morgue here at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Lankes was riding in an automobile driven by his son J. T. Lankes, Jr., of Hollywood, when it hit a truck driven by Joe Cline of the Los Angeles County Forestry Department.

Investigation by the Sheriff's substation at San Dimas showed that Cline, slowed down and signaled for a turn north into Artesia street and stopped when he noted the approach of another machine and proceeded to make the turn when the Lankes car, traveling at an estimated speed of forty miles per hour, was 200 feet away.

The passenger car nosed under the truck, throwing the elder Lankes to the pavement. The son escaped with minor cuts and bruises as did Cline, the truck driver.

THREE INJURED AS AUTOMOBILE SKIDS

POMONA, Dec. 2.—Three were injured Sunday morning when wet pavements caused an automobile driven by E. Staefen, 43, 1317 North Mansfield avenue, Hollywood, to collide with one driven by Earl Hodson, 27, of Ontario. Both machines were wrecked while Staefen, Hodson and Mrs. Rose Hodson, 20, were brought to the local Health Center for treatment of numerous cuts from flying glass.

The only other accident reported happened to Claude Grace, 14 years of age, 580 East Twelfth street, who was treated at the Health Center for a painfully cut face and a lower lip almost torn away from the jaw. He stated that he had fallen head first from his bicycle to a gravel road when his first wheel struck an obstruction in the road.

Scout Activities May be Dropped

AZUSA, Dec. 2.—Boy Scout activities in Azusa will be abandoned unless the drive for funds now under way proves more successful than it has during its two weeks' progress, according to sponsors of the drive.

Scouts are now campaigning for sufficient funds to carry on their work this season, but so far the fund lists only a few subscriptions.

Succeeding George Meier, Rev. N. A. Coxsey is now Scoutmaster of the Azusa troop, and has planned an open meeting of the troop for the 6th inst. to stimulate interest in Scout work.

VETERAN DISPATCHER DIES AT ONTARIO

ONTARIO, Dec. 2.—A resident of Ontario since 1887, when he lived in a box car and served as the first train dispatcher for the district, George Barlow, 81 years of age, will be buried in Bellevue Cemetery tomorrow.

Barlow was train dispatcher for the Santa Fe Railroad in this community before any railroad structures were built. His home and office were combined in a box car. Several years ago he retired from active service, and with his family lived at 336 East Eighth street. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. P. W. Greenleaf of Riverside.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Dec. 2.—Diego Morales, San Juan Capistrano laborer, left his home here yesterday morning about 10 o'clock. When he returned later in the day he found $81 in cash which he had hidden in the house stolen. Thieves had entered by prying open the front screen door. Morales called local officers, who are investigating the daylight robbery.

Judge Raps Policy of Mussolini

MONTROSE, Dec. 2.—The asserted policy of Mussolini in demanding that American-born children of Italian parents yield their first allegiance to Italy, brought forth a warning from Judge Leon R. Yankwich of the Los Angeles Superior Court that the United States will brook no interference in its internal affairs from any foreign power.

Judge Yankwich was speaking before the Verdugo Hills Post, American Legion, yesterday, when he quoted from recent magazine articles that charge the Italian dictator with persuading children of Italian descent in this country to return to Italy for their "bath of Latinity."

Yankwich declared that America has a right to expect that every foreigner who comes to make his permanent residence here should absorb American ideals and should become a citizen of the nation that affords him protection and an opportunity to prosper. The keynote of Judge Yankwich's address was taken from a song that was sung immediately before he arose to talk, "Stay in Your Own Back Yard," sung by Ed Smiley, a new resident of the valley.

Rancher Finds Buried Silver

PASADENA, Dec. 2.—Stolen almost three years ago from the home of J. P. Edwards, 1673 Bancroft Way, a complete set of silverware containing sixty pieces, was discovered buried in a lemon grove on Stonehurst Drive today.

James Skinner of 556 Stonehurst Drive noticed the corner of a starch box protruding from a plow furrow in the grove. After recovering from his surprise at finding buried treasure almost in his back yard, he notified the police.

Detective Lieutenants Harry Thomas and Edward Ewing who investigated the case, reported that the flat silver was part of the loot of burglars who ransacked the Edwards residence on the night of February 11, 1926.

The officers are of the opinion that the burglars went to the orchard to divide the spoil and buried the heavy box of silverware with the idea of returning for it at a later date.

AUTO HITS CHILD ON WAY TO SCHOOL

SOUTH PASADENA, Dec. 2.—This city's record of four years without a single traffic injury to children on the way to or from school was blasted today when 10-year-old Erice Koller of 1917 La France street, was struck on Huntington Drive while walking to the Oneonta school.

Jules L. Klevits of 2930 Monterey Road, San Marino, driver of the automobile, was booked by police on reckless-driving charges.

The girl was treated by Dr. C. C. Troensegaard in the Pasadena Emergency Hospital and later transferred to the Pasadena Hospital. X-rays will be taken to determine whether her skull was fractured.

RESEDA PLANT IS TO CAN CHICKEN WHOLE

RESEDA, Dec. 2.—Anonuncement is made today by D. H. Riker, president of the Runnymede company, that his firm is planning to erect a chicken-canning factory here. The project, Riker said, has been under consideration for several months and that options have been obtained on two sites for the erection of the plant. "We have carefully studied the market," Riker said today, "and we find there is a growing demand for canned whole chicken. It is our intention to make the plant one of the leading industries in this section of San Fernando Valley.

MORE MONEY THAN NEEDED

CAHUENGA PARK, Dec. 2.—This improvement district has on hand $29,030 in surplus bond money following the widening and paving of Ventura Boulevard, through this section of San Fernando Valley. The sum is remaining from a $375,000 bond issue for the improvement of the boulevard. A special election will be called to order the application of the $29,030 to interest on the bonds.

ART ANCIENT AND MODERN

Katherine White and Valuable Antique

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 2.—"This chair is between 1100 and 1200 years of age, Dr. A. C. Weaver, Santa Monica physician and admirer of antiques, declared, when he brought the ancient piece of carved-oak furniture here from New Orleans. He picked it up in a shop on old Canal street and was able to obtain part of its history.

The chair had been in the Crescent City for nearly a century, according to references to it found in the files of newspapers. Just when it came to America could not be learned, but it has been in possession of old French residents since Jefferson purchased the Louisiana Territory from Napoleon I.

It was in a New Orleans mansion when Maj.-Ben. Butler made his capture of the city during the Civil War, Dr. Weaver declares. Then it disappeared and found its way into the possession of a furniture dealer and later was bought by an art expert.

A sad tale of some old family's financial distress following the Civil War probably is one of the secrets which the proud old chair will never reveal. The construction and etchings on it have been pronounced by a New York authority to be of the eleventh or twelfth centuries, and the workmanship is said to be traceable to some monastery of France or the Swiss Alps. The etchings represent Christ and several of his disciples.

Because of its historic interest the chair is being exhibited in a window of a Santa Monica store.

Autoist Killed When Car Falls on Canyon Road

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 2.—Crushed to death under an automobile when it rolled down the grade in City Creek Canyon, O. L. Evans of Hawthorne was killed early last night and his companion, H. G. Lloyd also of Hawthorne, was seriously hurt.

Lloyd, his leg and shoulder broken, lay under the car from 5 o'clock last night until 10 this morning with the dead body of Evans when the wrecked car was found by C. F. Usher, superintendent of a construction company by which the men had been employed. Lloyd said that he became exhausted after shouting for help throughout the night and was in a critical condition when found today.

Usher who became alarmed when the two men failed to appear for work started out on a search and found their car in the bottom of the canyon. Lloyd said that another car forced his machine off the road and went on without stopping. The accident was the second to occur on the City Creek grade leading to the crest of the San Bernardino Mountains, within a week, Mrs. B. R. Williams of Los Angeles dying when her husband's car went off the grade.

MASSEY NEW HEAD OF DETECTIVES IN VALLEY

VAN NUYS, Dec. 2.—Detective Lieutenant Bert Massey of the San Fernando Valley detective bureau, with headquarters here, has been chosen as acting captain of detectives for the valley division, to succeed Detective Captain V. E. Newstetter, who retires today after more than twenty years' service in the Los Angeles Police Department. Massey has been in the department since 1914, having been made a detective lieutenant in 1921, under Chief of Police Louis Oaks. While August Vollmer was Chief, Massey was assigned the task of organizing the police intelligence bureau. He also has served as acting captain of detectives in the Boyle Heights and Newton-street divisions, and in the auto-theft division at Central Station. He has a World War record.

Monrovia Plans Pre-Christmas Festival Events

MONROVIA, Dec. 2.—Beginning the 6th inst. and lasting for a week, a pre-Christmas festival planned by Monrovia business men will be one of the largest events ever staged here during the holidays, according to Fred P. Redner, chairman of the executive committee.

The week's program will feature street entertainment and serenades, and the main business district from Foothill Boulevard on the north to Olive avenue on the south will represent a festive scene of Christmas trees and other holiday decorations.

Preholiday festivities will climax on Christmas Eve with the municipal Christmas-tree program in Library Park, where Santa Claus will distribute toys and candy to children and baskets of food and clothing to the poor.

According to officials of the Municipal Christmas Tree Association, plans are being made to bring cheer to 2500 children this year.

Motor Officer Gets Captaincy

VENTURA, Dec. 2.—Following the announcement that Capt. Kenneth Murphy of the Ventura division of the California State highway patrol, has been promoted to the rank of inspector over Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo and Ventura counties, come the information that Steve Flynn, State motor officer from Camarillo, has been appointed to fill Murphy's place.

Flynn's appointment came as the result of his recommendation by Murphy. Flynn was next in line for promotion in point of record and seniority.

Flynn was slated to take over his new job today. He plans to move here from Camarillo and make Ventura his permanent home.

OFFICERS ARREST ASSERTED GAMBLERS

VENTURA, Dec. 2.—Deputy Sheriffs and Oxnard police last night raided an alleged gambling den in Oxnard, located at 711 and 715 Oxnard Boulevard, arrested seven Chinese and thirty Filipinos, seized $484.05, and then confined their captives in the Oxnard City Jail.

When the officers entered the establishment they found several lotteries and fan-tan games which were in progress. The Chinese arrested are said to be the "leaders" in the house.

The seven Chinese arrested are So Hoo Sam, So Hoo Sing, Hom Ong, Sing Kee, Sing Lee, Wuon Gee Fong and Sam Yack.

SANTA BARBARA PLANS NEW LIGHTING PROJECT

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 2.—Santa Barbara is to have another "white way" in all possibility.

Plans are now being drawn for lighting King Albert Boulevard from the front of the Old Mission up the hill to Hotel El Encanto and State College and along the front of Mountain Park below El Encanto. The lights, according to the plan, will also be carried up the street between El Encanto and State colleges and the thoroughfare between the two institutions widened.

TELEPHONES ON INCREASE

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 2.—According to new figures just published by the Pacific Telephone Company, North Hollywood shows a gain of 21.9 per cent in phones for the first ten months of the present year. Since the first of the year 474 new phones have been added to this exchange.

CHIEF PREVENTS SWINDLE

Victim Reported Lured to Reno; Prevented from Turning Over $5000 by Upland Officer

UPLAND, Dec. 2.—R. A. Robson of Abilene, Kan., arrived in Upland today from Reno, Nev., where he had been lured by a gang of swindlers from Long Beach, and was only prevented from parting with $5000 through the quick wit of Chief of Police Sawyer of Upland.

Robson left Abilene to spend Thanksgiving with his daughter, Mrs. Grant Engles, in Upland, but failed to arrive. Saturday Harry Robson, Abilene, received a telegram from his father in Reno, Nev., demanding that he wire $5000 at once, and a short time later the son received a second telegram asking for an additional $200. Suspicious, the son telephoned Miss Engles in Upland and she appealed to Chief Sawyer. Chief Sawyer telephoned to the police chief of Reno and Robson was found in a telegraph office at Reno.

Robson declared he had met a pair of bunko men in Long Beach, who had put him under the spell of drugs and taken him to Reno and there tried to swindle him of $5000.

Authorities in Southern California and Nevada are seeking the members of the swindle gang.

La Verne Lemon Growers Shown Large Returns

LA VERNE, Dec. 2.—Returns to growers aggregating $250,149.29 during the past year, were the second largest in the history of the La Verne Lemon Association, according to the annual report issued by the association.

The record returns to growers was established year before last with a total of $301,000. According to the secretary and manager, F. H. Harmsen, total shipments for the season amounted to 219 cars and field boxes aggregated 167,114, with a net return to the grower of $1.50 per box.

The association retains the entire board of directors for the ensuing year. The board includes: Arthur Durward, president; R. S. Brydon, vice-president; and directors, M. W. Bennett, H. V. Bright, William Gillette, I. L. Noggle and J. A. Hinkle. E. P. Jochimsen is general manager and F. H. Harmsen is secretary-manager.

RESERVOIR CAPACITY WILL BE INCREASED

SAN FERNANDO, Dec. 2.—Work is expected to start tomorrow on the enlargement of the lower San Fernando water reservoir, according to a statement of local officials of the city water department. The capacity of the reservoir will be increased from 14,000 to 18,000 acre feet by raising the height of the earth-fill dam twelve feet. This dam on the south end of the reservoir is about 2400 feet long. The cost of the enlargement will be $265,000 and will be paid out of department funds. It is stated that it will take about six months to complete all work.

The department also is planning to increase the capacity of the reservoir at Chatsworth. If a high dam is agreed on the increase will be from 9000 to 40,000 acre feet, making the so-called Chatsworth Lake one of the largest inland bodies of water in California.

NEW-BUSINESS BLOCK PLANNED FOR RESEDA

RESEDA, Dec. 2.—Frank Donald, who recently completed the new Donald Block, is in Oakland conferring with financiers regarding the construction of a three-story business and apartment building here. Donald is planning to erect the new structure on Reseda Boulevard at Gault street. He has been active in building in the Reseda district for the last several years. "I have great faith in the Reseda area," Donald said before his departure north. "As fast as buildings are erected here, they are occupied by new tenants. I shall continue to build here as long as this expression of activity keeps up."

TEACHERS APPROVED FOR LIFE CERTIFICATES

ONTARIO, Dec. 2.—Five teachers in this district have been recommended for life certificates. They are E. W. Fischer and Walter A. Hall, vice-principals of Chaffey Union High School; Ora Gladys Olson, Chino; Katherine K. Murray, Cucamonga, and Mildred Femmill of Mountain View.

Miss Ida M. Collins, San Bernardino county superintendent of schools, has sanctioned the action of the county school board in making the recommendations.

NEW COUNCILMAN APPOINTED

SOUTH GATE, Dec. 2.—After the City Council has been functioning for the past two weeks with only four members, they have selected Raymond O. Catland as the fifth member, Mr. Catland being chosen to fill the official position as Councilman made vacant by the resignation of R. L. Rutherford. Mr. Catland is a well-known engineer of this city. Mr. Rutherford has removed to Los Angeles. Catland will serve until the city election in April, 1930.

ZONING PETITION MADE

TORRANCE, Dec. 2.—Petitions asking the zoning of East Torrance as a residential district have been placed before the Planning Commission of Los Angeles, of which city the district is a part. The petitions cover all property lying between Western avenue and Normandie, between Two Hundred and Twelfth and Two Hundred and Twenty-fourth streets. The move has been the subject of community interest for some time.

Truck Driver Charged With Killing Woman

ALHAMBRA, Dec. 2.—Charles A. Wagner, 26 years of age, of 1721 Newton street, Los Angeles, negro, was held today by Alhambra police on a charge of manslaughter following an inquest in the death on Wednesday last of Mrs. Berta T. Boyd, 63, of 1530 Campbell avenue, who was run down and killed by a truck driven by Wagner. Bail was set at $10,000, and Wagner will have a preliminary hearing Thursday.

The Coroner's jury found that the fatal accident was due to criminal negligence and reckless disregard for human life and recommended that Wagner be held. Wagner refused to testify at the inquest and was returned to jail, where he has been confined since the crash. He was represented by Attorney James V. Brewer of Los Angeles. The Boyd family was represented by Attorney Paul Blackwood of Los Angeles.

Testimony at the inquest, which was conducted by Deputy Coroner J. P. Kane, revealed that Wagner, who was employed by the Los Angeles News Company, was traveling at a speed of at least forty miles an hour on Valley Boulevard and that the emergency brake on one rear wheel of his heavy truck was the only brake that functioned at all.

Mrs. Boyd who was walking across the intersection, was killed almost instantly. The truck continued for 225 feet before coming to a stop. Witnesses testified that other machines had slowed down to let the woman pass. The victim's husband, H. L. Boyd, was an eyewitness of the tragedy, but was in a state of collapse today and was unable to appear at the inquest. His daughter, Elizabeth, identified the body. Funeral services were held this afternoon.

School Boy Drug Addict

PASADENA, Dec. 2.—Suspected of being a narcotic addict, a 12-year-old Pasadena junior high school student is under observation at the Juvenile Hall, Los Angeles, it was learned here today.

School officials are attempting to learn where the boy could obtain drugs and will question him with a view to learning whether or not any other local pupils are afflicted with the narcotic habit. The boy's parents told the authorities that they have no knowledge of any source of drug supply for their son.

The investigation was started when teachers reported that the child appeared to be in a daze part of the time and was unable to concentrate on his studies.

The case is the first of its kind on record here.

Last Lap in Chest Drive

ONTARIO, Dec. 2.—Still short of the $12,500 goal set for the Community Chest fund this year, a team of clean-up workers will take the field Wednesday, hopeful of raising the complete amount by nightfall.

Seven agencies will share in the chest fund this year.

Benton Ballou is chairman of the executive committee of the chest campaign.

CUCAMONGA BELLE LEADS IN BALLOTING

ONTARIO, Dec. 2.—A decided upset was sprung today in the American Legion's festival of nations election for queen of the fiesta when Miss Alice Hawker of Cucamonga leaped far ahead of all other five girls in the contest.

Dorothy Derby, Ontario, held the lead, until a count of ballots today showed the Cucamonga entry ahead by 7000 votes.

The balloting was due to close late tonight. Tomorrow evening the queen will be crowned at a show under a tent at the corner of A street and Laurel avenue.

Other girls in the race are Bernice Gillilan, Vera Metz, Gabrille Lucas and Vera Higgenbotham.

DEBRIS REMOVED FROM REDONDO PIER

REDONDO BEACH, Dec. 2.—The work of removing debris from beneath the new municipal pier is reported to have been completed Saturday evening at an expenditure of $650 obtained by popular subscription. The work was in charge of Capt. Hans. Carstensen and was necessary in order to obtain a permit to construct a proposed landing stage on the northwesterly portion of the pier.

CANNING OPERATIONS CEASE

POMONA, Dec. 2.—Canning operations in this city were suspended for this year when the Cutler-Lobingier Packing Company, on Towne avenue and First street, completed a 1500-ton pumpkin pack. The cannery has been operating since June, canning the various deciduous fruits, tomatoes and pumpkins.

LEMONS AT TOP PRICES

OWENSMOUTH, Dec. 2.—Lemons from the Canoga citrus district in this area are selling in New York for more than $11 a box, being the top prices quoted in the carlot sales of that market. Canoga district lemons topped the market several times last season.

COMMUNITY IN FESTIVE MOOD

Citizens Join in Celebration to be Staged Sunday

Dedication of Church Hall to be Colorful Event

Santa Barbara Catholics Aid in Merry-making

GOLETA, Dec. 2.—Final plans are complete for the big community celebration to be held here Sunday when members of old Goleta families as well as merchants, business men and local leaders will join in the dedication of the Social Hall just completed by the Franciscan padres on the grounds of St. Raphael's Church. The affair will be representative of all ranks in the community with carpenters, plasterers and interior decorators who gave their services in the building of the hall joining with the local aristocracy in commemorating its completion.

The event will mark the permanent re-establishment of the Franciscan fathers in the Goleta district with Father Alfred, popular young Franciscan padre, acting as pastor of St. Raphael's Church and director of the new social hall. Sunday's celebration will take the form of an old-time community gathering with a short program of speeches by local leaders, several musical numbers and a big public reception. The men of the Holy Name Society and members of the Women's Altar Society of St. Raphael's parish will act as hosts and hostesses.

Jules Delwiche, Grand Knight of the Santa Barbara Knights of Columbus, will preside at the dedication exercises. Edgar Stow, representing the old families, will give a talk reminiscent of the early days and particularly, the relationship of the early settlers with the Franciscan fathers. The Goleta Farm Bureau and the Business Men's Association will be represented by W. J. Bruce, president of both organizations. He will welcome the Franciscans in their effort to serve the town in its social and community life. Vocal selections will be given by Miss Angelina Aliverti, accompanied by Miss Ida Vizzenlini, while Victor Janssens will direct the orchestra.

Ground was first broken for the new structure in July, and it is due to the energetic and hard work of Goleta volunteers that the building is now nearly completed. A special effort has been made to finish the interior decoration and install the furniture and equipment before Sunday which is the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, a major festival in the Catholic church.

The hall is built in the early California style, being similar in design to Junipero Serra Hall at Old Mission, Santa Barbara. Besides the large auditorium and stage, there is an office for the use of the pastor, a library, kitchen, and two dressing-rooms. Because of the co-operation of all classes in the erection of the hall, it is considered by the people here a definite community enterprise.

The parish was assigned to the Jesuits in 1908, with Father Villa, S.J., in charge. He organized the choir and other parish activities, later giving his post over to Father Thornton and Father John Grises, his Jesuit confreres. Father John Otterstedt was the first Franciscan acting as pastor when the parish was assigned to the friars in 1928. Father Augustine of Old Mission, was then made canonical pastor with Father Alfred as his assistant. It was during this regime that the old church was moved to its present site and the building program begun.

TUJUNGA POST BEGINS PLAN ON CLUBHOUSE

TUJUNGA, Dec. 2.—Members of the Tujunga post of the American Legion have begun their plans for the erection of a clubhouse with the proceeds of the sale of the old Legion Hall property here to the city of Tujunga, which is to convert the place into a City Hall. Two building sites have been offered gratis to the members of a building committee headed by Commander Robert Kimble. It is planned, it is stated today, to erect a clubhouse that will cost about $8000, and $1000 will be used to properly equip it. It is also stated that before any of the offered sites are decided on, others may be donated that may prove more suitable in location. At all events no ultimate decision is to be made until the question of building site is gone over thoroughly.

DEDICATION OF NEW CITY HALL DELAYED

COVINA, Dec. 2.—Tentative plans for the dedication and corner-stone laying ceremonies of the new City Hall have been postponed until the building is completed about January 15, next, according to Mayor George Maxfield.

Although no definite plans have been made as yet by the committee in charge of the ceremonies, it has been announced that Judge Dailey Stafford of the Superior Court will deliver the dedicatory address.

It is the plan of the committee that city officials will lay the corner-stone.

SERVICE STATION ROBBED

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 2.—A lone bandit held up the Richfield gas and oil station here in charge of E. K. Russell, of Walton avenue, Los Angeles, and made his escape with $30 taken from the cash register. The robber entered the station, and, pointing a revolver at Russell, demanded that he open the register, which he did. The man escaped in an automobile. He was described as being five feet and ten inches in height, weight 160 pounds, was about 35 years of age, and wore a dark suit, light hat and red and gray necktie.

BARGE SEIZED AS SEA HAZARD

Gambling Ship Towed in by Coast Guard

Vessel Declared Menace to Navigation

Monfalcone Owner Denies Anchorage Dangerous

Again seized as a menace to navigation, the gambling barge Monfalcone yesterday was towed in by the Coast Guard from its anchorage five miles east of San Pedro light and three-and-a-quarter miles off Seal Beach. The much-moved floating Monte Carlo was towed by the cutter Algonquin, Commander M. S. Hay, acting under orders from Capt. D. F. A. De Otte, commanding the Pacific Coast division of the Coast Guard, San Francisco.

Capt. De Otte took action as a result of a complaint by Admiral L. M. Nulton, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, U.S.N., that the Monfalcone was a menace to navigation to any vessel entering port in heavy weather.

Commander Hay went to the Monfalcone yesterday morning, and reported that he found aboard an engineer, two seamen and some waiters. No gamblers were aboard, as the hour was too early for the water taxi to take out anyone wishing to tempt the Goddess of Chance. Hay reported that the barge was fitted properly with lights and life preservers and was anchored safely, outside the three-mile limit.

Shortly after the Monfalcone had been towed in and tied up a quarter-mile off the Long Beach breakwater, H. O. Dougherty, one of the barge's owners, went to the Coast Guard office to inquire of the action. He asserted that he would have the barge towed back to its anchorage off Seal Beach at dawn today. Dougherty asserted that the anchorage was not in the course of vessels entering Los Angeles Harbor. Reports say the barge has been losing since it resumed games a week ago.

Capt. De Otte was reported to have announced yesterday that he intends to order the Coast Guard to survey the fishing barges anchored in Santa Monica Bay to determine if they are menaces to navigation.

INJUNCTION SOUGHT BY WATER TAXI MEN

Based on Superior Judge Aggeler's recent decision holding invalid the State law against water taxis taking customers to gambling boats, a complaint asking an injunction against Long Beach officials enforcing the ordinance of that city against the same offense was filed by three water-taxi men in Superior Court yesterday.

Superior Judge Craig signed a restraining order returnable in Superior Judge Gates's court the 10th inst. The petition was filed by Attorney George D. Blair for George Garvey, George Byson and C. R. McRae. It was directed against the Mayor of Long Beach, Chief of Police Yancy, City Attorney Hull and nine Councilmen.

Attorney Blair's petition states that the city ordinance is invalid for the same reason that Judge Aggeler held against the State law; i.e., that the water-taxi men, in hauling passengers to a gambling ship anchored offshore, have no interest in what is transpiring on the ship, and may not be assumed to know that gambling is being done there. Moreover, it is contended that gambling is not an offense on the high seas, where the ship is anchored.

Hit-and-Run Truck Driver Sent to Jail

Pleading guilty to reckless driving and hit-and-run driving, Santiago Nieto, 21-year-old Mexican truck driver, was sent to jail for three months yesterday by Judge Valentine.

County Motorcycle Officer Ashton testified that Nieto, driving a small sedan, crashed into a car driven by George Porter of 1277 South McDonald street at Whittier and Puente-Mills boulevards last Sunday. Ashton chased the Mexican for more than a mile before he was able to overtake him, he said.

ELECTION BEACH TOWN DUE TODAY

Santa Monica to Ballot on Two Commissioners, Judge and Other Officials

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 2.—With a total of 16,661 registered voters for tomorrow's municipal election here, spirited campaigns on the part of a number of candidates for city jobs came to the close today. Of the three city commissioners, Herman Michel, ex-officio Mayor, is the only one whose office does not come up on this year's ballot. Commissioners Morton and Helton are candidates to succeed themselves, as is also Police Judge Spencer. Most of the candidates have been supporting the only bond item on the ballot, a $300,000 issue for expansion of fire equipment. The complete ballot follows:

Commissioner of Public Works: Fred W. Beau De Zart, Robert Brenke, John A. Morton (incumbent) and Henry M. Roth. Finance Commissioner: Frank A. Helton (incumbent,) Daniel L. Kemper, Ira L. Miller and George Snyder. Judge of Police Court: Charles A. M. Spencer (incumbent,) and Bernard J. Walsh. Board of Education, two to be selected: Bertha Penning Amet, Dr. George F. Harding, George Hart, Dr. George U. Huber, Rena Waltz Pierson and Frederick J. Smith. For the unexpired term on the school board: Ellet E. Harding.

EX-WIFE OF HOOT GIBSON PUT IN JAIL

Suspicion of Driving Auto While Under Influence of Liquor Charged

Mrs. Helen Gibson, former wife of Hoot Gibson, film actor, was arrested last night and booked on charge of suspicion of driving while intoxicated. She gave her age as 27 years, and said she is a housewife living at 320 Canon Drive, Beverly Hills. With her was arrested Margaret McKennon, 30, a clerk of 242 North Western avenue, who was booked on charge of being intoxicated in an automobile.

Policeman Lillienthal of the Georgia-street division stopped Mrs. Gibson's car after observing that it was moving in an erratic manner. He reported that Mrs. Gibson admitted having had some cocktails, and also that she was abusive to him on being halted. He took the women to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where Dr. Kirkpatrick gave the sobriety test and certified that they had been drinking.

The left front fender of Mrs. Gibson's car was bent. She explained that it had been struck in a collision on Wilshire Boulevard, which she asserted was the other driver's fault. The women were sent to the County Jail.

ELK HILLS OIL LEASE TRIAL ON

Interior Department. It is asserted this transfer was illegal and not to the best interests of the United States. It is expected considerable testimony given before the Senate Investigating Committee involving leases in the Teapot Dome district and the Pearl Harbor dispute, will be presented here.

The defense's opening statement was made by Norman S. Sterry, local attorney, with whom is associated T. T. C. Gregory of San Francisco, attorney for the Richfield Oil Company, which company has taken over the majority of interest of the Pan-American company since the leases were granted. It was contended by Mr. Sterry that Congress ratified the oil leases and, among other assertions, that the leases were granted as matters of emergency. He stated that, whether the leases were granted through corruption or fraud, they were ratified by Congress.

Mr. Pomerene declined to state who his first witness will be this morning, when testimony in the case will begin before Judge Norcross. It is an equity matter being heard without a jury.

County Airport Site Indorsed

The San Gabriel Valley Development Association, through its secretary, Myron J. Haig, yesterday formally indorsed to the Board of Supervisors, the acquisition of a 968-acre site for a county airport, at the junction of San Gabriel River and Rio Hondo.

It was urged that the county acquire the land on a leasing program, the lease money to apply on a purchase price. The land is priced at $1500 an acre, and now is occupied by large walnut trees.

STORK HOLDS UP DIVORCE SUIT

Judge Halts Hearing When Expectant Mother Becomes Ill

Because the stork hovered over Superior Judge Sproul's courtroom yesterday the court hastily continued the divorce case of Mrs. Bertha Puckett versus William L. Puckett and ordered Bailiff Bishop to call an ambulance.

Mrs. Puckett, who became ill just as she took the stand, was removed to her home. She is suing the defendant on grounds of cruelty. The couple was married in 1921. They have four children, but when the case is resumed, January 18, it is expected they will have five.

BARGE SEIZED AS SEA HAZARD

Gambling Ship Towed in by Coast Guard

Vessel Declared Menace to Navigation

Monfalcone Owner Denies Anchorage Dangerous

Again seized as a menace to navigation, the gambling barge Monfalcone yesterday was towed in by the Coast Guard from its anchorage five miles east of San Pedro light and three-and-a-quarter miles off Seal Beach. The much-moved floating Monte Carlo was towed by the cutter Algonquin, Commander M. S. Hay, acting under orders from Capt. D. F. A. De Otte, commanding the Pacific Coast division of the Coast Guard, San Francisco.

Capt. De Otte took action as a result of a complaint by Admiral L. M. Nulton, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, U.S.N., that the Monfalcone was a menace to navigation to any vessel entering port in heavy weather.

Commander Hay went to the Monfalcone yesterday morning, and reported that he found aboard an engineer, two seamen and some waiters. No gamblers were aboard, as the hour was too early for the water taxi to take out anyone wishing to tempt the Goddess of Chance. Hay reported that the barge was fitted properly with lights and life preservers and was anchored safely, outside the three-mile limit.

Shortly after the Monfalcone had been towed in and tied up a quarter-mile off the Long Beach breakwater, H. O. Dougherty, one of the barge's owners, went to the Coast Guard office to inquire of the action. He asserted that he would have the barge towed back to its anchorage off Seal Beach at dawn today. Dougherty asserted that the anchorage was not in the course of vessels entering Los Angeles Harbor. Reports say the barge has been losing since it resumed games a week ago.

Capt. De Otte was reported to have announced yesterday that he intends to order the Coast Guard to survey the fishing barges anchored in Santa Monica Bay to determine if they are menaces to navigation.

INJUNCTION SOUGHT BY WATER TAXI MEN

Based on Superior Judge Aggeler's recent decision holding invalid the State law against water taxis taking customers to gambling boats, a complaint asking an injunction against Long Beach officials enforcing the ordinance of that city against the same offense was filed by three water-taxi men in Superior Court yesterday.

Superior Judge Craig signed a restraining order returnable in Superior Judge Gates's court the 10th inst. The petition was filed by Attorney George D. Blair for George Garvey, George Byson and C. R. McRae. It was directed against the Mayor of Long Beach, Chief of Police Yancy, City Attorney Hull and nine Councilmen.

Attorney Blair's petition states that the city ordinance is invalid for the same reason that Judge Aggeler held against the State law; i.e., that the water-taxi men, in hauling passengers to a gambling ship anchored offshore, have no interest in what is transpiring on the ship, and may not be assumed to know that gambling is being done there. Moreover, it is contended that gambling is not an offense on the high seas, where the ship is anchored.

Hit-and-Run Truck Driver Sent to Jail

Pleading guilty to reckless driving and hit-and-run driving, Santiago Nieto, 21-year-old Mexican truck driver, was sent to jail for three months yesterday by Judge Valentine.

County Motorcycle Officer Ashton testified that Nieto, driving a small sedan, crashed into a car driven by George Porter of 1277 South McDonald street at Whittier and Puente-Mills boulevards last Sunday. Ashton chased the Mexican for more than a mile before he was able to overtake him, he said.

ELECTION AT BEACH TOWN DUE TODAY

Santa Monica to Ballot on Two Commissioners, Judge and Other Officials

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 2.—With a total of 16,661 registered voters for tomorrow's municipal election here, spirited campaigns on the part of a number of candidates for city jobs came to the close today. Of the three city commissioners, Herman Michel, ex-officio Mayor, is the only one whose office does not come up on this year's ballot. Commissioners Morton and Helton are candidates to succeed themselves, as is also Police Judge Spencer. Most of the candidates have been supporting the only bond item on the ballot, a $300,000 issue for expansion of fire equipment. The complete ballot follows:

Commissioner of Public Works: Fred W. Beau De Zart, Robert Brenke, John A. Morton (incumbent) and Henry M. Roth. Finance Commissioner: Frank A. Helton (incumbent,) Daniel L. Kemper, Ira L. Miller and George Snyder. Judge of Police Court: Charles A. M. Spencer (incumbent,) and Bernard J. Walsh. Board of Education, two to be selected: Bertha Penning Amet, Dr. George F. Harding, George Hart, Dr. George U. Huber, Rena Waltz Pierson and Frederick J. Smith. For the unexpired term on the school board: Ellet E. Harding.

EX-WIFE OF HOOT GIBSON PUT IN JAIL

Suspicion of Driving Auto While Under Influence of Liquor Charged

Mrs. Helen Gibson, former wife of Hoot Gibson, film actor, was arrested last night and booked on charge of suspicion of driving while intoxicated. She gave her age as 27 years, and said she is a housewife living at 320 Canon Drive, Beverly Hills. With her was arrested Margaret McKennon, 30, a clerk of 242 North Western avenue, who was booked on charge of being intoxicated in an automobile.

Policeman Lillienthal of the Georgia-street division stopped Mrs. Gibson's car after observing that it was moving in an erratic manner. He reported that Mrs. Gibson admitted having had some cocktails, and also that she was abusive to him on being halted. He took the women to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where Dr. Kirkpatrick gave the sobriety test and certified that they had been drinking.

The left front fender of Mrs. Gibson's car was bent. She explained that it had been struck in a collision on Wilshire Boulevard, which she asserted was the other driver's fault. The women were sent to the County Jail.

Interior Department. It is asserted this transfer was illegal and not to the best interests of the United States. It is expected considerable testimony given before the Senate Investigating Committee involving leases in the Teapot Dome district and the Pearl Harbor dispute, will be presented here.

The defense's opening statement was made by Norman S. Sterry, local attorney, with whom is associated T. T. C. Gregory of San Francisco, attorney for the Richfield Oil Company, which company has taken over the majority of interest of the Pan-American company since the leases were granted. It was contended by Mr. Sterry that Congress ratified the oil leases and, among other assertions, that the leases were granted as matters of emergency. He stated that, whether the leases were granted through corruption or fraud, they were ratified by Congress.

Mr. Pomerene declined to state who his first witness will be this morning, when testimony in the case will begin before Judge Norcross. It is an equity matter being heard without a jury.

County Airport Site Indorsed

The San Gabriel Valley Development Association, through its secretary, Myron J. Haig, yesterday formally indorsed to the Board of Supervisors, the acquisition of a 968-acre site for a county airport, at the junction of San Gabriel River and Rio Hondo.

It was urged that the county acquire the land on a leasing program, the lease money to apply on a purchase price. The land is priced at $1500 an acre, and now is occupied by large walnut trees.

STORK HOLDS UP DIVORCE SUIT

Judge Halts Hearing When Expectant Mother Becomes Ill

Because the stork hovered over Superior Judge Sproul's courtroom yesterday the court hastily continued the divorce case of Mrs. Bertha Puckett versus William L. Puckett and ordered Bailiff Bishop to call an ambulance.

Mrs. Puckett, who became ill just as she took the stand, was removed to her home. She is suing the defendant on grounds of cruelty. The couple was married in 1921. They have four children, but when the case is resumed, January 18, it is expected they will have five.

MISSING MAN'S CAR ON TRAIL

Baumgarteker Auto Will be Driven Over Route

Police Hope to Spur Memory of Former Witnesses

Border Search Fails to Find Clew to Merchant

Aid of Mexican border police and all service-station operators between Los Angeles and San Diego was sought yesterday by authorities in their extended search for Frank Baumgarteker, wealthy wine merchant, who has been mysteriously missing for eight days.

The specially built auto of the missing vineyardist was located in San Diego Saturday and today it will be driven by police over the route they believe taken when the car left a parking station at Eighth and Los Angeles streets last Monday about 1 p.m.

TAKE CAR OVER ROUTE

The trip will be made in hope that some service-station operator will remember gassing and oiling the car. It is the belief of Capts. Cato, Allen and Detective Lieutenant Condaffer and Sergt. Nord, who are directing the hunt for the 43-year-old business man, that the dark-purple phaeton-type auto was driven over the Valley Boulevard and then taken on a short cut to San Diego.

When the auto appeared in San Diego it was driven by a man about 42 years of age, about five feet nine inches high, weight 160 pounds, American, wearing a leather jacket, khaki trousers and riding boots. Police will concentrate their efforts today on an attempt to trace the car and locate the service station where gas was obtained, in the belief that the attendant may have information as to the occupants of the car on its mysterious trip.

NO CLEWS FOUND

Dust and handling by storage attendants had removed all impressions of fingerprints on the auto, experts found yesterday after a careful examination. They also report that there are no indications of a struggle of any kind having taken place in the auto and that only two passengers had occupied the machine. A cigar band and cigarettes found in the front compartment revealed to the investigators that the driver of the machine was not the missing man. He does not use tobacco in any form, according to police information.

Baumgarteker resided at 2320 Seventh avenue and is the owner of the Union Motor Transportation Company in Los Angeles and Wilmington, half-owner of three large ranches in San Bernardino county, a large winery at Cucamonga and another winery at Avenue 19 and Humboldt streets. A check of his financial and business affairs has found them in perfect condition and apparently offer no clews to his disappearance.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

Assessments were confirmed by the Council yesterday for the improvement of Ronan avenue from J street to K street, and the improvement of Hawaiian avenue from J to Anaheim streets.

NEW THEATERS TO SHOW ONLY NEWS-REEL FILMS

Four theaters devoted exclusively to the presentation of news-reel films will be opened shortly on the Pacific Coast by Fox West Coast Theaters, it was announced yesterday by Harold B. Franklin, executive head of the organization. One will be located in Los Angeles, the others in San Francisco, Seattle and Portland.

It is likely, Franklin said, that the local house will be established on what is known as the Fox-Norton site, Broadway and Hill street between Sixth and Seventh streets. This site is under consideration, although not yet definitely selected.

All four houses will be luxuriously appointed, Franklin declared, and conducted solely for the showing of pictorial news events accompanied by sound and talk. The programs will be made up of Fox Movietone News and Hearst Metrotone News.

The decision to inaugurate the "all news-reel" policy on the Pacific Coast is the result of the success scored by the Embassy Theater in New York City, which recently confined its programs to this form of entertainment.

Franklin stated, further, that the William Fox organization plans ultimately to open 100 "Sound News-Reel" theaters throughout the country.

PAIR IN AUTO SHADOWING MRS. SUNDAY

Identity of Couple in Car Learned Through Renting Agency

Deputy sheriffs yesterday were investigating the circumstances outlined in a report early in the day by Mrs. Harriett Sunday, wife of George Sunday, sought with his asserted sweetheart on charges of adultery, that for three days she had been trailed by an unidentified man and woman in a small automobile.

Becoming alarmed, Mrs. Sunday is asserted to have called Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman on the telephone. A check of the license number of the machine revealed that it had been rented, according to Stahlman. The identity of the persons to whom it was rented was learned, he said.

Search for Sunday and Mauryne La Salle, named in complaints issued by the office of the District Attorney, still was under way yesterday. It is not believed that Sunday is in the State at this time, according to Stahlman.

Webster Offers Resolutions to Aid His District

Four resolutions affecting his district were introduced in Council yesterday by Councilman Webster. The first asks that, because of the heavy traffic in Santa Monica Boulevard between Beverly Hills and Santa Monica, this thoroughfare be designated as a boulevard-stop street.

The second asks that because of wholesale charges of misrepresentation in the circulation of petitions, for the installation of ornamental lighting systems in Rockingham avenue, Burlingame avenue, Marlboro avenue and Bristol avenue and the filing of a majority protest, the projects be abandoned.

Council adopted one extending the time for a spot zoning permit granted for the southeast and northeast corners of Manhattan and Fifth streets.

The fourth asks that fire-zone restrictions be lifted for the construction of a building at Ingraham and Western avenues.

WHIFFEN'S RITES TO BE THURSDAY

Former Head of Council and Candidate for Mayor to be Paid Final Honors

Funeral services will be conducted in the Hollywood Cemetery chapel at 10 a.m. Thursday for Frederick J. Whiffen, former president of the City Council and one-time candidate for Mayor, who died Sunday evening at his home, 4671 Encino avenue, after a two weeks' illness of static pneumonia. He was 81 years of age.

Born in Sheboygan Falls, Wis., in 1848, Mr. Whiffen came to Los Angeles in 1892, and entered the real estate and loan brokerage business, operating from the law offices of Joseph Vickers in the Bank of Italy Building.

In 1910 he was elected a member of the City Council, remaining in office until 1915 when he ran for Mayor. By an exceedingly close margin he was defeated by Charles Sebastian. During his term on the Council he was named chairman of the Finance Committee, and became known as the "watchdog of the treasury." After his defeat for the mayoralty, he retired to private life.

Mr. Whiffen leaves a daughter, Mrs. Jenny M. Smith of Oakland, and a grand-daughter, Miss Elizabeth Fletcher of Los Angeles. His wife died about twenty years ago.

Street Project to Be Discussed

The Board of City Planning Commissioners yesterday announced that a public hearing on Map 15 of the Major Traffic Street Plan will be conducted before Commissioner Banburg at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in Room 380 City Hall.

The map includes the Venice, Mar Vista and Playa del Rey sections, and is bounded by Exposition Boulevard, Culver City and Arizona avenue, Century Boulevard and the Pacific Ocean. The hearing is to discuss the width of streets and the general plan.

SEWER COSTS CONFIRMED
